A colored man who rejoices in the cognomen of "Pete" and is employed by Messrs. Charles Walker & Co., coal merchants, was on Saturday engaged in shovelling coal beside a bulkhead which separated the small heap of coal he was working at from another and larger one, when the bulkhead gave way and the coal from the top of the high heap ran down and buried Pete up to his neck, leaving only his head out. He raised his voice in remonstrance and a party soon gathered and released him from his unpleasant predicament, uninjured.

The lobsters offered for sale in our market have been decreasing in size every year for some time past, until now they are little bigger than shrimps. A moderately hungry man, with a taste for lobster, finds no difficulty in disposing of two or three average ones at a sitting. A few large ones are caught, but the average weight is probably not more than half as much as it was five years ago. The manner in which they have been "fished down" year after year probably accounts for this deterioration in size, and the decrease in size accounts for their now being nearly all shell and legs.

William Horace Lingard's company gave a poor entertainment to a small but discriminative audience. It would be well, if Mr. Lingard comes this way again, to bring some new attractions. Alice, Dickie and Horace are "good enough," but old representations do not please a Portsmouth audience. They are a lively trio and can do much better than they did on Monday evening.

The Dover Board of Trade voted, Friday night, to call a citizens' meeting soon, to talk up the subject of celebrating the 250th anniversary of settlement.

Rev. D. P. Pike of Newburyport has asked for a year's leave of absence on account of ill health.

SEWING MACHINE SALES

FOR 1872.

BY comparison of Statistics from sworn returns of the sales of Sewing Machines for 1871 and 1872, it shows that the

"DOMESTIC"

SEWING MACHINE Co.'s sales have increased over 375 per cent. while no other Co.'s sales have increased over 36 per cent., proving the great popularity of the "DOMESTIC."

Annexed are the percentage of gain, of the leading makers:

Domestic Sewing Machine Co.,	gain	375	per cent
Wheeler & Wilson	"	36	"
Singer	"	23	"
Grover & Baker	"	5	"
Weed	"	8	"
Wilcox & Gibbs	"	12	"
Wilson	"	8	"

Other Machines Co.'s' sales show a loss over the year before.

If the increase in sales be any criterion of merit, the "DOMESTIC" bears the palm.

The "DOMESTIC" works so easy, it is working itself into every family.

The "DOMESTIC" runs so light, it is distancing all competitors. It only asks a few days trial.

The "DOMESTIC" is recommend by the Medical Faculty.

Health Regulations.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of City Ordinances No. 4 and No. 100, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in the City to aid them in the execution of their duty.

ORDINANCE NO. 4.

SEC. 3.—All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, &c. shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 11. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel, or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 14. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 17. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

ORDINANCE NO. 100.

SEC. 1. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 2. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 3. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

IRON in the BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA.DEBILITY.DROPSY. HUMORS

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes the Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested, and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills" simply by toning up, invigorating and vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing lasting vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been charged by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women: and invariably and reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

SPRING TIME.
Sonoma Wine Bitters
are the BEST to use to counteract the debilitating effects of SPRING and early SUMMER. They are MILD AND PLEASANT IN THEIR EFFECTS, and no change in diet is needed.
EVERYBODY CAN TAKE THEM:
Man, Woman or Child!
They are made with PURE, SOFT, MILD WINE, and choice Plants and Roots, are Delicious to the Taste and Delightful in Aroma, while the strong, fiery spirit, so prominent in most other Bitters, is lacking.
SONOMA WINE BITTERS
have been used for years, not only in the United States but in the British Provinces, West Coast of South America, Sandwich Islands, the East and West Indies, and Austria, and are recognised as the Most Palatable, Healthy and Appetizing Bitters in the market.
Sonoma Wine Bitters
are Medicinal and Invigorating, cleansing the blood, and giving a healthy tone to the entire system. Ladies and Children will find therein a most agreeable Tonic. Try them, and you will use no other.

WISTAR'S BALSAM
OF
THE GREAT REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION!
and acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most Reliable Preparation ever introduced for the RELIEF and CURE of all LUNG COMPLAINTS.
This well known remedy is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years, and when resorted to in season seldom fails to effect a speedy cure of Coughs, Colds, Croup, Bronchitis, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Hoarseness, Pains or Soreness in the Chest or Side, Bleeding at the Lungs, Liver Complaints, &c. &c.
CONSUMPTION
CURED
by a timely resort to this standard remedy, as is proved by hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors.
Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry does not dry up a Cough and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.
CLERGYMEN, LAWYERS, SINGERS, and all those whose occupation requires an unusual exercise of the vocal organs, will find this the ONLY PREPARATION which will effectually and instantaneously relieve their difficulties.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.
Remember that the genuine Wistar's Balsam has on the outside wrapper the signature of "I. BUTTS," and the printed name of the proprietors, "SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, BOSTON." All others are base imitations. Examine the wrapper carefully before purchasing.

The Chronicle.

—A Western newsman of the daily press thus amusingly describes the appearance of Alexander H. Stephens at a reception given in honor of him: "Alexander H. Stevens emerged from the Kimball House, wrapped up in three overcoats and a loose blanket. The bundle, with a white head sticking out, was put in a carriage right end up and propped in position. The bundle then coughed and said it was all right, and away the carriage rolled to the Capitol where it was taken out and unrolled and unrolled until Mr. Stephens was found."

—At a recent examination of candidates for the civil service, one of the questions propounded was, "What clerical service have you had, if any?" To this one aspirant had appended his written answer—"Lutheran." Another wrote, "Methodist—a little."

—An Illinois editor speaks of an "eighty-year old octogenarian in his town who has seen the snows of three score years and ten." What was the matter with his eyes the other ten years? Or didn't it snow for ten winters? This is something the public are interested in.

THURSDAY, MAY 29, 1873.

State News.

The Nashua joint committee on water supply for the city of Nashua reported in favor of purchasing the Pennichuck Water Works, the company being willing to sell for $175,000, and to take city bonds at par in payment. The report was accepted in both branches of the councils.

A bridge at Acworth recently broke under the weight of a four-horse team, the whole establishment, including two men, going down with it. Francis P Fletcher was considerably injured. It is stated that four bridges have fallen at this place in eight years.

One William Robinson of Rumney or Woodstock, says the Monitor, hired a team of C. Young of Littleton and went to Bethlehem, where he married a third wife, it is believed, the other two being still living. After a very short honeymoon he decamped, leaving team and wife behind him.

In Bow, recently, three brothers married respectively a mother, daughter, and grand-daughter. The oddest part of it, though, was that the elder should marry the grand-daughter.

A steam mill in Orange, owned by Goddard & Co., of Worcester, Mass., was burned Tuesday morning. Loss $5000; half insured.

Readables.

Jim Brady, a notorious burglar, was captured in New York on Tuesday; he was surprised in a broker's office, where he had been trying to dispose of bonds supposed to be stolen, and threw away a handful of U. S. Bonds while trying to escape. The bonds amount to $29,000, and are believed to be a portion of those said to have been in the satchel of Capt. Colvocoresses, when he was murdered in Bridgeport, Conn., about a year and a half ago. Should this report prove true it will remove much of the suspicion of suicide entertained in Capt. Colvocoresses' case.

The coroner's jury in the case of Dr. Baker, at Rockland, Me., have rendered a verdict that Miss Lucy Ann Mink murdered him.

Mrs. Daniel Littlefield, of Biddeford, Me., was thrown from a carriage and fatally injured, on Saturday.

The bill in equity in the Credit Mobilier suit was filed in the U. S. court in Hartford on Tuesday, by a government agent.

A negro named Isaac Baynard, who keeps a saloon on the corner of North and Richmond streets, Boston, on Tuesday shot two Irishmen who demurred to his exorbitant demand of fifteen cents a glass for ginger beer. One of the Irishman was shot in the arm and the other had his thigh broken. Baynard, who is said to be a dangerous character and well known to the police, was arrested. The wounded men are not dangerously hurt.

Ralph Waldo Emerson and his daughter received quite an ovation on their return to their home in Concord, Mass., on Tuesday.

Ex-Gov. Jewell accepts the Russian mission.

Concord Railroad Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad was held in Phenix Hall, Concord, on Tuesday. There were two tickets for Directors in the field, one headed "no consolidation," and bearing the names of Asa Fowler, John H. Pearson, Edson Hill, Dana Sargent, James R. Hill, Joseph W. Fellows and Edward Hardy; the other was headed simply "Concord Railroad," and bore the names of Wm. A. Tower John E. Lyon, Onslow Stearns, James W. Johnson, Frederick Smyth, Joseph P. Pitman and John A. Spaulding. There was a lively fight, and much wordy sharp-shooting between the supporters of the rival tickets; and at a quarter past six o'clock in the evening the vote was reported, electing the "Concord Railroad" ticket by about 9,000 majority, in a total stock vote of 23,103.

The Ascent of Mount Hayden.—In an article with the above title, by N. P. Langford, in Scribner's for June, the following hair-breadth escapes are recorded:

Mr. Hamp, fresh from his home in England, knew little of the properties of snow and ice, and at one of the critical points in our ascent, trusting too much to their support, slipped and fell. For a moment his destruction seemed inevitable, but with admirable dexterity he threw himself astride the icy ridge projecting from the mountain. Impelled by this movement, with one leg dangling in the crevice next the mountain side, and the other sweeping the snow outside the glacier, he slid with fearful rapidity, at an angle of forty-five degrees, for the distance of fifty feet, falling headlong into a huge pile of soft snow, which prevented his descent of a thousand feet or more down the percipitous side of the mountain. I saw him fall, and supposed he would be dashed to pieces. A moment afterwards he crawled from the friendly snow-heap and rejoined us unharmed and we all united in a round of laughter, as thankful as it was hearty. This did not quiet that tremulousness of the nerves, of which extreme and sudden danger is so frequent a cause, and underlying our joy there was still a feeling of terror which we could not shake off. Pressing carefully forward, we attained a recess in the rocks, six hundred feet below the summit, where we halted.

While resting here, far above us we heard the loud shouts of Captain Stevenson, which we answered. Soon he joined us, with the information that he had been arrested in his ascent, at a point two hundred feet above us, by an intervening rock, just too high for him to be able to scale. It was perpendicular, and surmounted by a wide sheet of ice stretching upward towards the summit, and covered with snow. He had made several ineffectual efforts to reach the overhanging edge of the rock, and at one time lost his foothold, his entire weight coming upon his hands while he hung with his face to the wall. It was impossible without a leap to reach a standing place, and by loosening his hold without one he would drop several hundred feet down the mountain. Fortunately, there was a coating of ice and snow, which reached midway from his feet to his arms, and into this, by repeated kicks with the toe of his boot, he worked an indentation that afforded a poise for one foot. This enabled him to spring on one side to a narrow bench of rock, where he was safe.

A Hawk's Attack on a "Kite."—The Baltimore American thus relates a remarkable experience which befell a well-known merchant of that city, who had manufactured a large kite for the amusement of the son of a friend whom he was visiting in a neighboring town:

After the kite had gone up nearly half a mile, a large crowd of country people collected to admire it, as such a magnificent toy had never been seen in that neighborhood before. While the spectators were admiring it, a very large hawk was seen to fly slowly out of a neighboring grove and go directly toward the kite. The hawk approached within a few feet of the strange-looking object, and then circled about under it for perhaps five minutes, when he flew just above it and again circled around several times. Suddenly he hovered directly over the kite, and after looking at it intently for a short time, darted downward, and striking the paper, passed directly through the kite, coming out on the other side. After this strange experience, which no doubt puzzled the hawk vastly, he flew off for a short distance for reflection, but still keeping the kite in view. Not being disposed to give it up so, he quickly returned to the charge, and this time fastened on the long string of rags that were used as a tail to the kite, which he tore and scattered in the air in a savage manner. Finding, however, no resistance on the part of the kite, he became disgusted or scared, and flew away towards the woods from whence he came. The gentleman says that whenever the hawk made an attack he would retreat a little, as if he expected the strange bird was going to return the assault.

A Bucking Catuse.—Among our riding-horses was a cream-colord cayuse, which after fording the stream, performed the extraordinary feat of bucking completely out of his saddle while it was fastened upon him by cinch and breast-strap.

The poor fellow who mounts a bucking cayuse without knowing how to manage it, is very sure to be thrown over its head or slipped over its haunches, at the infinite risk of breaking his neck or being kicked to death. But with a man on his back who knows how to avoid these calamities, there is something ludicrous in the wrathful leaps and vicious dodges of the animal.

The little ponies, which take their name from the Cayuse Indians, possess, as a native quality, this habit of bucking or jumping high in air, as we have seen lambs do, striking, with every joint stiffened, all four feet forcibly upon the earth. The concussion is so violent that, unless the rider is experienced, one or two efforts will be enough to dash him to the ground. The very appearance of the animal is frightful. The ears are thrown back close to its head, the eyes put on a vicious expression, it froths at the mouth, seizes the bit with its teeth, tries to bite, and in every possible manner evinces the utmost enmity for its rider. Bucking is deemed as incurable as balking—whip and spur and kind treatment being alike in vain. "The Ascent of Mount Hayden," Scribner's for June.

"The Atlantic to the Pacific."—What to see and how to see it," by Erastus Lester. A very interesting book, descriptive of a journey by the author in the Spring of 1872, first published in a series of letters to the Providence Press. As the author was General Superintendent of the Union Pacific Railroad he possessed peculiar advantages in learning of the ways of the people as well as in visiting all points of interest on the route. The book not only contains a vast amount of useful information for those who have only time and means to read of that magnificent part of our country, but is a most comprehensive guide book to those who contemplate making the journey and would like to be informed of all points of interest and the best way of seeing them. It also contains an appendix with a table of the names of the different plants and trees on the Rocky Mountains and the Yosemite Valley, and the altitude of the Table Lands and Mountain Peaks of Colorado. Published by Shepard and Gill, No. 151, Washington St., Boston. For sale by J. H. Foster—Price $1.50.

Old Time Chronicles No. 76.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

Relics of Gov. Weare.—The Governor has been dead 87 years; still, more of his papers, and articles once possessed by him are preserved, than of most public men who passed away so long ago.

On his return from a Commission to devise for the public good at Albany, N. Y., in 1754, he killed in some great forest a noble buck. He brought home the horns, which hung in one of the rooms of his dwelling. They have been removed to another place and are preserved. A pair of smoker's tongs, used by him, it is said are still in use. The table cloth used at State dinners is possessed by a lady in Portsmouth, a descendant of his.

Such is our information, but as no names are given, we have not seen any of these articles. Could they have been seen, it would have been highly gratifying, such is our reverence for greatness in men and especially for those worthies, free from selfishness, who lived and labored for the public

Now for what we have seen. Capt. E. G. Haines of Deerfield, a great lover of antiquarian things and of much research, has shown us a neatly contrived and finished hat-stretcher, once owned by the Governor. But we heard of more at Mr. A. G. Cram's, in the same town, and amid piled up snows and a piercing wind, in February last, we went up there. Nathaniel Weare, son of the Governor, lived there and built the dwelling now owned by Mr. Cram. Mr. Weare was a good public-business man. He died there. The papers of Gov. Weare fell into the hands of this son. After Nathaniel Weare died the papers were not appreciated and Mr. Cram, occupying the dwelling, purchased them at a moderate price.

These papers are various. Some are deeds; some are public documents of Revolutionary times; some are acts of the Provincial Legislature; some are old account books, etc. All are interesting and valuable in character.

Mr. Cram has in his possession the Governor's ink stand. It was no cheap thing, as some used then. The Governor did not use a sword in the Revolution, but a son of his did and fell in his country's cause. The Governor used the pen, said to be mightier than the sword. He was not a prolific writer, but in State papers, etc., he put down things in a plain, business-like manner, and with force and manifest patriotism.

Committee to receive donations of money,—J. H. Hutchinson, M. H. Bell, and J. H. Mawbey.

A Suspected Incendiary.

The author of the recent costly fire at the farm of Messrs. Charles Hayes & Son, by which a large barn was burned together with a valuable stock of cattle and horses, has been discovered, and if suspicions are correct, he is a villain deserving nothing short of a State Prison cell during the remainder of his natural life. The name of the individual who is thus suspected, is Otis Cate, aged 20 years, residing near the Plains. He has long been known as a bad fellow, insomuch that he has been a terror to the neighbors around the Plains, and many depredations known to have been committed by him have not come to the knowledge of the public through a fear that a divulgence of the secret would lead him to wreak his vengeance upon them in unimaginable deeds of wickedness.

Cate worked for Mr. Hayes, and as soon as the fire above alluded to was discovered, and before the barn had been wholly consumed, the suspicion was general among the score of hands there employed that he (Cate) was the man who committed the deed. The Messrs. Hayes, as well as Mr. Joseph O. Ham, the son-in-law and brother-in-law strongly suspected Cate to be the guilty party, yet for obvious reasons they attributed the cause of the fire to the railroad, rather than to the party in question. Messrs. Charles Hiram Hayes and Joseph O. Ham on the morning after the burning of the barn commenced a working up of the case, and after a patient trial of about a week have been rewarded by at least having their man secured for a trial. Cate was brought before the Police Court on Wednesday morning charged with firing the aforesaid barn, and while he plead guilty to having caused the fire, he asserts that it was purely accidental. Judge Page deemed that there existed a sufficient amount of evidence of malicious intent to warrant him in ordering the prisoner to recognize in the sum of $5000 for his appearance at the Supreme Judicial Court in October next.

Cate's statement is that he went into the barn on the night of the fire for the purpose of resting there that night, and thought he would take a smoke before he slept; and attempting to light his pipe, the lighted match slipped from his fingers and falling into the mow of hay on which he was lying instantly converted it into a mass of flame. He says that he did not cry "fire," because he was so frightened that he could not utter a word. There is much evidence that goes to prove that the deed was premediated and planned with malice aforethought, and as the prisoner when first arrested stoutly denied all knowledge of the origin of the fire and and afterwards plead guilty of the fact (though not admitting malicious intent) it is fair to presume that he will yet confess the whole thing, and possibly acknowledge the commission of other deeds of a like character of which, as we have stated above, he has been so strongly suspected.

Two years or more ago, this young man brought himself into public notice by reporting a story of being shot at and robbed of a watch and money while driving out of town near the Creek Bridge, the money being the proceeds of the sale of a load of wood which he had left somewhere in the city. It turned out, however, that Cate had sold the wood, pocketed the bank notes, and was intending to indulge in a bit of a spree, but was made to confess and restore the money. His ingenuity was displayed in this instance by adroitly cutting a bullet-hole through the rim of a felt hat to attest the truth of his assertion that he had been shot at. Many other instances of knavery we have heard regarding this alleged incendiary, and being vouched for by gentlemen of veracity we are obliged to give him something more than a passing notice.

Succeeded at Last.

That persistent Hibernian, John Falvey, whose rum soaked brain has clamored to be released from the clayey tenement, has at last succeeded in shuffling off this mortal coil. This much-desired end was effected on Tuesday evening by the ingenious manufacture of a rope out of the lining of his pants, he then being incarcerated in the House of Correction, and having suspended it to a grating above his head, dragged his miserable life out in that horrible manner. Falvey, it will be remembered, cut his throat last summer while on a drunken spree, on which occasion it is related that his wind-pipe was completely severed, rending his breathing very difficult and, seriously conflicting with his gustatory indulgences. Yet after weeks of suffering he recovered, and was even restored to a consciousness of the cause of the terrible ordeal through which he passed. But, like thousands of his fellows, he again attacked his old enemy—rum—and it very soon asserted the mastery.

Laconics.

Those impecunious sleight-of-hand performers, the pickpockets, were in plentiful numbers at the Circus ground on Tuesday afternoon and evening. Mr. Elbridge G. Pierce, Sen., was relieved of his wallet containing about twenty dollars, and a watch transferred from the honest pocket of an unsuspecting young farmer to the dishonest clutches of the genteel pocket lifter. The personal attendance of our city marshal, who assiduously devoted himself to these well disguised scamps, prevented them from operating here to any great extent. We are informed that in Lynn while Barnum's show was exhibiting there were nine cases of pocket-picking. So we may congratulate ourselves in the fact of having a City Marshal whose knowledge of human nature is such that he is enabled to discern a rascal through the best of clothing and rarely gets deceived in his man.

We are glad to chronicle the removal of the staging around Jefferson Hall Market, leaving as it does exposed to view the new City Building, which looks very neat and pretty and didn't cost more than $12,000 either. By the way, it was rather derelict on the part of Alderman Wilson in omitting to send out circulars announcing his intention to lift the wooden veil and expose the remodeled structure to the public gaze; adding an invitation to attend on Market Square and witness the ceremony. It would have been a good thing for the Alderman, and perchance might have secured his re-election. It was such an event, you know, and such an invitation was not without a precedent.

To-morrow, (Friday, May 30th,) is the day appointed by the Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic to be observed as Memorial Day, when flowers are to be strewn on the graves of the soldiers and sailors who perished in their country's service during the rebellion, and the glorious memories of their achievements and their sacrifices again brought freshly to the minds of those who live and enjoy the benefit of their patriotic devotion. There need not and should not be anything, in the honors paid the illustrious dead, to wound those whose position during the rebellion was one one of hostility to the Union; the war is a sad memory of years ago, the Union is safe, and the unavoidable bitterness and hate aroused by the desperate conflict are rapidly and happily fading out of men's minds; and the simple and beautiful ceremony of decorating with flowers the graves of the nation's dead is but a grateful acknowledgement of the debt due them, and not an intended reproach to their misguided opponents.

The staging was removed from the spire of the new Roman Catholic church on Wednesday. We are informed that the cross on the top of the steeple is the highest point in the city, by twenty-five feet or more.

Abednego Robinson, Esq., who was gored so badly by a bull last Fall, has so far recovered as to be able to ride from his residence in Stratham to this city. He is a used up man, however, and will be crippled for the remainder of his life.

The U. S. S. Monongahela was taken into the dry dock at the navy yard, Wednesday, to receive her propeller. She does not now look much like the battered wreck she was when she first arrived here after having been fooling around on shore in the West Indies, as she has since then been thoroughly repaired and made better than when she was new. She is a handsome vessel.

Rev. Dr. Bingham, rector of St. John's (Episcopal) church, delivered a lecture on Sunday evening, on "Christian Patriotism," with reference to Memorial Day. We hear the lecture highly commended in all quarters, as an eloquent, patriotic, finished and scholarly discourse, those who heard it expressing a strong desire to have it repeated.

In our advertising columns will be found announcements of a unique concert by Mr. Thos. P. Moses, with a double quartette and three pianos, in addition to his class of young lady singers, and a grand union concert by the Old Folks' Choir, Jubilee Chorus, Portsmouth Music Society and Harlow's Orchestra—both concerts to be given at the Temple.

There was a smart thunder shower on Wednesday afternoon, during which the house of Mr. James B. Pray, on Cabot street, was struck by lightning, though the injury was trifling, a few slates knocked off one corner of the roof being all the damage done.

Money contributions to aid the Grand Army of the Republic in defraying the expenses of Memorial Day, may be left with J. H. Hutchinson, at his jewelry store on Market Square.

The Episcopal Convention for the Diocese of New Hampshire held its annual meeting in St. John's church in this city, Wednesday, Bishop Niles presiding. There was a very full attendance of the clergy, every one belonging to this diocese being present, with the exception of two who are absent from the country on account of ill health. The services were as follows: Evening Prayer, Tuesday, at 7 o'clock; Morning Prayer, Wednesday, at 9; Business Meeting at 10; Holy Communion at 11; Adjourned Business Meeting at 3 P. M.; and the Bishop's address, at 4 o'clock.

A young fellow, about twenty years old, calling himself Warren White, of Stoughton, Mass., made a raid on Larrabee's harness store on Congress street, circus day, and stole $30 worth of riding whips. Officer Edward Underhill went to Portland in chase on Wednesday, received the hearty aid of the Portland marshal and police, found White selling his plunder on the circus grounds and brought him and a companion named Jack Dunbar back to this city, Wednesday. White acknowledges his guilt, and says he threw the whips out of a window in the back of the store and then secreted them behind an outhouse until evening.

Health Regulations.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of City Ordinances No. 4 and No. 100, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in the City to aid them in the execution of their duty.

ORDINANCE NO. 4.

SEC. 3.—All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, &c. shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 11. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel, or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 14. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 17. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

ORDINANCE NO. 100.

SEC. 1. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 2. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 3. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

IRON in the BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, DROPSY, HUMORS

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes the Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested, and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vivifying Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enfeebled and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, imparting strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an iron Constitution.

Thousands have been charged by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women, and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases at a very reasonable charge.

JOHN TAGGART."

SPRING TIME.
Sonoma Wine Bitters
are the BEST to use to counteract the debilitating effects of SPRING and early SUMMER. They are MILD AND PLEASANT IN THEIR EFFECTS, and no change in diet is needed.
EVERYBODY CAN TAKE THEM:
Man, Woman or Child!
They are made with PURE, SOFT, MILD WINE, and choice Plants and Roots, are Delicious to the Taste and Delightful in Aroma, while the strong, fiery spirit, so prominent in most other Bitters, is lacking.
SONOMA WINE BITTERS
have been used for years, not only in the United States but in the British Provinces, West Coast of South America, Sandwich Islands, the East and West Indies, and Austria, and are recognized as the Most Palatable, Healthy and Appetizing Bitters in the market.
Sonoma Wine Bitters
are Medicinal and Invigorating, cleansing the blood, and giving a healthy tone to the entire system. Ladies and Children will find therein a most agreeable Tonic. Try them, and you will use no other.

ABOUT BRAHMAS.—1. Never set a hen in a box above the ground or floor of the chicken house if possible, as the eggs dry too fast and lose their vitality. It possible to set the hens on the ground you will have much better success.

2. Never set more than fifteen eggs, no matter how large the hen. Some set only ten or twelve, but under ordinary fowls thirteen or fifteen will hatch as readily as a less number—though more are a waste.

3. Always be careful to make the eggs set with the date of setting, as other hens often lay on the same nest with a sitting hen, and when the brood is ready to come off extra unhatched eggs are left in the nest which you cannot account for and do not know how to dispose of except by waste, not knowing when they were laid.

4. Keep a memoranda of all hens set with dates when they should come off, that you may have coops and proper food prepared for them. Also take the young chicks from the hen as they dry because sometimes they may run over their time a little, or hatch earlier.

5. Better let hens come off their nests for a short time for food and water, than to confine them and feed on the nest.

Two boards nailed together at one end, with slats or lath across in the form of an A, make an excellent coop. —Prairie Farmer.

—Ruck's process for preparing illuminating gas consists in the decomposition of superheated steam, by coke and iron, at a high temperature, the removal of the sulphur produces by oxide of iron and the carbonizing of the gas by rectified petroleum.

PROPOSALS FOR MATERIALS TO BE SUPPLIED TO THE NAVY YARDS UNDER THE COGNIZANCE OF THE BUREAU OF EQUIPMENT AND RECRUITING.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF EQUIPMENT AND RECRUITING,
Washington, D. C., May 26, 1873.

SEALED PROPOSALS to furnish Materials for the Navy for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1874, will be received at this Bureau until 10 o'clock A. M., of the 22d June next, at which time the proposals will be opened.

The proposals must be addressed to the "Chief of the Bureau of Equipment and Recruiting, Navy Department, Washington," and must be indorsed "Proposals for Materials for the Navy," that they may be distinguished from ordinary business letters.

To prevent confusion and facilitate the opening of the bids, parties bidding for supplies at several yards will enclose their bids in separate envelopes, each indorsed with the name of the yard for which the bid is made.

Printed schedules for such classes as parties deal in and intend to bid for, together with instructions to bidders giving the forms of proposal, of guarantee, and of certificate of guarantors, with printed forms of offer, will be furnished to such persons as desire to bid, on application to the Commandants of the respective Navy Yards, and those of all the yards on application to the Bureau.

The Commandant of each Navy Yard, and the Purchasing Paymaster for each Station, will have a copy of the schedules of the other yards, for examination only, in order that persons who intend to bid may judge whether it is desirable to make application for any of the classes of those yards.

The proposals must be for the whole of a class, but the Department reserves the right to reduce the whole class, should the interest of the Government require it, before the execution of the contract. All applications for information, or for the examination of samples, must be made to the Commandants of the respective yards.

Bids or offers will be received only from parties who are bona fide dealers in, or manufacturers of, the articles they offer to furnish. The guarantors must be certified by the Collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which they reside.

The contract will be awarded to the person who makes the lowest bid and gives the guarantee required by law, the Navy Department, however, reserving the right to reject the lowest bid, or any which it may deem exorbitant, or which may not be to the interest of the Government.

Under the provisions of the second section of the act approved March 3, 1863, the offer of any person who, as principal or surety, has not filled any previous contract, will not be received.

Sureties in the full amount will be required to sign the contract, and their responsibility must be certified to the satisfaction of the Navy Department.

An additional security twenty per centum will be withheld from the amount of the bills until the contracts shall have been completed, and eighty per centum of the amount of each bill, approved in triplicate by the Commandants of the respective yards, will be paid by the Paymaster of the station designated in the contract, or, if none is specified, by the Paymaster of the station nearest the yard where the goods are delivered, within ten days after the warrant for the same shall have been passed by the Comptroller of the Navy.

The classes of this Bureau are numbered and designated as follows:

No. 1, Flax Canvas, &c.
No. 2, Cotton Canvas, &c.
No. 3, Cotton Hammock, Raged and Cot Stuff.
No. 4, Iron and Steel.

FRIDAY, MAY 30, 1873.

Readables.

The old man, John Hoppin, who stabbed young Crawford of Danvers, Mass., the last Sunday in April, died suddenly on Tuesday morning. It is thought by some that the old man was poisoned as the body turned black soon after death. Hoppin had just been acquitted.

Two negroes got into a fight on an excursion train in Kentucky; one shot the other, then cut his head nearly off and threw the body from the train. The murderer was arrested.

Three bodies of Chinamen who died of small-pox were found in the pump-wells of the British steamship Lord of the Isles, lying at the dock in San Francisco. The steamer was at once quarantined, but the passengers had all landed before the bodies were discovered.

The anti-Chinese movement in California seems to be gaining in strength and bitterness. The mechanics and laborers of the Caucasian type, it appears, are no longer alone in their animosity. Employers are getting to be more and more disgusted with the hapless Mongolian every day, for the reason, as before stated, that that presumptuous individual, having faithfully served out the period for which he contracted, now wishes to turn his skill to account by engaging in the manufacture of goods for his own benefit.

Fifty thousand Sabbath school children paraded in Brooklyn, New York, May 28th. It was the largest turnout of young people ever known there.

The residence of Col. Quotler, in Linden, N. J., was burned May 27th at an early hour in the morning, the family barely escaping with their lives. Soon after a fuse leading to a hay rick was found burning, with a fifteen pound can of gunpowder attached to the end under the rick.

The bonds found on Brady, the captured burglar, are recognized as the proceeds of the Glen Falls Bank robbery; consequently they could not have belonged to Capt. Colvocoresses.

At Lawrence, Mass., May 28, Henry Hale, an engineer on the Boston & Maine Railroad, had his arm badly mangled by the premature discharge of a cannon. Alfred Bradbury, who was tending the vent, had his thumb blown off.

A freight train on the Salem and Lowell Railroad and a passenger train on the Boston & Maine ran into each other at Wilmington Junction, May 28, damaging the engines to the amount of $20,000. No other harm done.

Twenty-four millions postal cards have already been called for by postmasters, but the contractors have only delivered eight million, being able to supply but 300,000 a day.

The General Committee on 4th of July celebration will meet this (Friday) evening in the Common Council Rooms at half past 7 o'clock.

A Preston Dutchman set a fine hen on fourteen egg seven weeks ago, and was puzzled that there were no indications of hatching. The hen attended strictly to business, but to no effect. An examination showed that the eggs were boiled, and the infuriated Dutchman killed the foolish hen for persisting in setting on such sterile seed.

The small-pox is raging in Mexico, 190 persons having died with it in the small village of Iguola alone.

Charles Moody, a brakeman, aged twenty-one, was horribly mangled by the cars at the East Salisbury station Saturday afternoon, and died, in terrible agony, crying, "Kill me quick; I can't live." He only commenced service on the road last week.

Bidwell, the Bank of England forger, has arrived in England.

By a boiler explosion at Brussels, Belgium, May 28, fourteen persons were killed and a large number wounded.

Buckley T. Benton, owner of the Park Theatre in Brooklyn shot himself through the head Wednesday night.

State News.

The people of Sharon think there is a bear loose in their woods. Several persons declare that they have seen it, and are ready to make affidavit to the fact. It is believed, however, that the story was started by some heads of families, who are opposed to having their daughters gadding about in the woods after arbutus, on picnics, etc.

It will be remembered that the slippers worn by Wilfred Fitts on his midnight excursion to chop up his playmate John Emerson, could not be found. On Monday night, May 26th, the slippers were found near a brook a few rods from the house from which Fitts started, with blood upon them.

BROADCLOTH AN ENEMY OF HEALTH.—Prof. Hamilton, in an able address on hygiene to the medical college, denounces broadcloth as an enemy to exercise, and therefore to health. He says:

"American gentlemen have adopted, as a national costume, broadcloth—a thin, tight-fitting black suit of broadcloth. To foreigners we seem always to be in mourning; we travel in black. The priest, the lawyer, the doctor, the literary man, the mechanic and even the day-laborer, choose always the same black broadcloth—which should never have been adopted out of the drawing-room or the pulpit, because it is a feeble and expensive fabric, because it is at the North no protection against the cold, nor is it any more suitable at the South. It is too thin to be warm in winter, and too black to be cool in summer; but especially do we object to it because the wearer is always soiling it by exposure. Young gentlemen will not play ball, pitch quoits, or wrestle or tumble, or any other similar thing, lest their broadcloth should be offended. They will not go out into the storm because the broadcloth will lose its lustre if rain falls upon it; they will not run, because they have no confidence in the strength of their broadcloth; they do not dare mount a horse or leap a fence, because broadcloth, as everybody knows, is so faithless. So these young men and these older men, these merchants, mechanics and all, learn to walk, talk and think soberly and carefully; they seldom venture even to laugh to the full extent of their sides."

TYNDALL ON MUSICAL SOUND.—The only condition necessary to the production of a musical sound is, that the air pulses should succeed each other in the same interval of time. No matter what its origin may be, if this condition be fulfilled, the sound being musical. If a watch, for example, could be caused to tick with sufficient rapidity—say one hundred times a second—the ticks would lose their individuality, and blend to a musical tone. And if the strokes of a pigeon's wings could be accomplished at the same rate, the progress of the bird through the air would be accompanied by music. In the humming-bird the necessary rapidity is attained; and when we pass on from birds to insects, where vibrations are more rapid, we have a musical note as the ordinary accompaniment of the insect's flight. The puffs of a locomotive at starting follow each other; slowly at first, but they soon increase so rapidly as to be almost incapable of being counted. If this increase could continue until the puffs numbered fifty or sixty a second, the approach of the engine would be heralded by an organ peal of tremendous power.

BE HAPPY NOW.—How old are you? Twenty-five? Thirty? Are you happy to-day? Were you happy yesterday? Are you generally happy? If so, you have reason to judge that you will be happy by and by. Are you so busy that you have no time to be happy? And are you going to be happy when you are old, and have not much to do? No; you will not. You now have a specimen of what you will be when you are old. Look in the face of to-day. That is about the average. That will tell you what you are going to be. What you are carrying along with you is what you will have by-and-by. If you are so conducting yourself that you have peace with God, and with your fellow-men, and with your faculties; if every day you insist that duty shall make you happy, and you take as much time as is needful for the culture of your social faculties, you will not be exhausting life, and it will be continually replenished. But if you are saving everything up till you get to be an old man, habit will stand like a tyrant, and say, "You would not enjoy yourself before, and you shall not now." How many men there are, who have ground and ground to make money, that they might be happy by-and-by, but who, when they have got to be fifty or sixty years old, had used up all the enjoyable nerve that was in them. During their early life they carried toil, and economy, and frugality to the excess of stinginess, and when the time came that they expected joy, there was no joy for them.—Beecher.

BRET HARTE.—Some ten years ago, Thomas Starr King, then unknowingly near the end of his short but noble and glowing life, was guiding an acquaintance through the dingy, gold-strewn recesses of the Government Mint building in San Francisco. Pausing before entering the Secretary's little office, he said: "Now I want you to meet a young man who will be heard of far and wide some of these days." The visitor went in and was introduced to Francis Bret Harte, then Secretary of the Branch Mint. We all know how the later career of the young writer has more than justified the affectionate prediction of Starr King; for, since that day, Bret Harte's fame has, to borrow the language of his admiring German translator, "extended from the coasts of the Pacific Ocean to the English coast of the North Sea." "His works have drawn hearts to him wherever the language of Shakespeare, of Milton, and Byron is spoken."—Scribner's for June.

—In Missouri, when a man kills another on Sunday, they prosecute him under the law against desecrating the Sabbath by shooting at a mark, and have him fined five dollars and costs.

A LESSON.—The trial of Albert H. Smith of Westfield Mass., for the murder of Charles G. Sackett, ended with a verdict of "guilty of murder in the first degree." As our readers will remember, the murder took place on the 20th of November last, as the murdered man was returning from a theatre in company with Miss Jennie Bates, and was incited by jealousy. Smith claimed that Miss Bates belonged to him. The defence was insanity. The Springfield Republican in commenting upon this case says:

The lesson of this sad business is a very plain and simple one. It is the old, old lesson, which has been so often taught before, of the responsibility which the person incurs who trifles with the sexual relations. One does not need to consider Jennie Bates the transgressor of any law to feel that her conduct in this whole matter has been culpably thoughtless and indiscreet. Distasteful as she claims,—and there is no reason to doubt truly,—Smith's attentions to her finally became, it is hardly possible to resist the conclusion that her treatment of him during the early period of their acquaintance was such as no woman has a right to risk toward any man except the one she intends to marry. Suppose she had nothing else in view than a harmless flirtation; that she simply enjoyed his admiration of her, and encouraged it for her own amusement without serious thought of what might be the effect upon the man she was thus feeding with hope that he might become her husband,—suppose all this, none the less does it remain true that she cannot be held blameless.

Not that Jennie Bates has been an especial sinner above the rest of her sex in Westfield—or Springfield either, for that matter. She took her chances, as hundreds of girls have done, the past twelvemonth, in a perilous game; they escaped by good luck, Jennie didn't; that's the difference. The results which followed in her case have a warning for other young women and young men as well. The lesson of it is this, that the man or woman who begins a flirtation is bound to think of the possible consequences; should reflect on the peril of being suddenly borne on some violent wave or unsuspected undertow out from the pleasant surf-bathing of compliment and sentiment into the deep ocean of passion. In other words, the man who for his own amusement encourages a woman to believe she is to be his wife, the woman who gives a lover reason to hope he may become her husband,—however thoughtlessly or heedlessly it may be done,—must understand that it is not human happiness alone that is being trifled with, but human life.

Is this rather solemn doctrine? Possibly; but it is a solemn text, as well. Sackett in his grave, Smith shivering before the gallows, Jennie Bates widowed before she is a wife—it is a rather sober spectacle.

WOMAN'S DRESS is discussed in the Independent by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, who considers the practical question, "What can be done about it?" and suggests that a union of influential women be formed to "make it fashionable to dress like rational creatures." Mrs. Grant, she says, might be president, and Madame Demorest (!) committee on design. As regards the new attire she adds—

I should like the opinion of any candid artist as to the relative beauty of the sight of a group of fresh young school girls in their gymnasium suits, and the same girls dressed for the promenade an hour later—or even of an active woman of sixty, fern hunting in her mountain dress, and the same woman in the fuss and feathers of her toilet at the hotel supper.

She thinks a great mistake has been to refuse to act because the reform could not be accomplished at once, and says—

Suppose that we begin by shortening our skirts to a regulation distance of from four to six inches from the ground; that we dispense with the biased waist and corset, and retain the plaited gamp or little jacket which has been so popular, that we hang everything from the shoulders, and that we set ourselves humbly to study the "grammar of ornament."

NOT SO BAD A BARGAIN.—"Two small, rocky islands in Behring sea," says the London Globe, "will soon have paid back to the United States Treasury the whole sum expended upon the purchase of Alaska. When the cession of this territory was granted by Russia, people smiled at the bargain made by the Americans. It was asserted that Yankee shrewdness had deserted Mr. Seward in the matter. He knew better, and did not buy with his eyes shut. St. Paul's and St. George's islands, belonging to the Aleutian chain, have since been leased to the Alaska Commercial Company for seal fishing at a yearly rent of $55,000. A tax of nearly three dollars on each fur seal skin taken and shipped from the islands is also imposed. As 100,000 skins are exported yearly to San Francisco and New York, a fruitful source of revenue is obtained from these two barren rocks. This territorial enterprise of the United States is therefore a great success and will probably help to develop the idea in America that colonial possessions are useful from many national points of view."

—A young lady at a wedding, recently, fractured her ankle by tumbling off the back of a pew, to which she had clambered to obtain a good view of the bridal party. We hope this will prove a warning to others of our gymnastic belles.

Business Notices.

WELL'S GRAND DISTRIBUTION.—The committee, after drawing nearly one hundred and fifty thousand dollars have decided to postpone the drawing until July 1st, 1873. This will positively be the last postponement W. B. Lowd, Agent.

EVERY ONE NEEDS A TONIC in the Spring, but most persons object to the fiery stimulants vended under the name of Bitters. In this respect the "SONOMA WINE BITTERS" have a decided advantage, being made from the choicest aromatic herbs and roots, in combination with pure, mild wine. They can be obtained of all our druggists and grocers.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL is the concentration of sixteen composite parts and can be manufactured only in large quantities So immediate and powerful is its action that one bottle (selling for 50 cts.) is more potent than any other carative of throat and lung diseases on sale.

For all throat diseases and especially Coughs, Colds, &c., there is no known remedy equal to Buchman's Pulmocine, and a few doses will satisfy the most skeptical of its efficacy. For sale at the Union Store.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Memorial Day.

The Post office will close at 12 o'clock, noon; but will be again open for one hour, between 5 and 6 o'clock P. M. Work is suspended on the Navy Yard for the day.

Independent Battalion Hall (Ward Two ward room) on State street will be draped with flags and open from 9 o'clock until 6.

The Portsmouth Drum Corps have volunteered their services to Kearsarge Engine Co. No. 3, and will appear with them to-day in full uniform.

The route of the procession and order of exercises will be as follows: Form on Congress street, right resting at North Church. March through Market to Deer street, through Deer to Vaughan, through Vaughan to Elm to North Cemetery. Countermarch, through Railroad Avenue to Deer street, through Deer to Vaughan, through Vaughan to Congress, through Congress and Islington to Cabot, through Cabot to Middle, through Middle to Richards Avenue to Cemetery. Returning, through South, Pleasant, State, Middle and Congress streets to Market Square.

All comrades of the order, belonging to other Posts, are cordially invited to meet at the hall of Storer Encampment and join in the procession. Citizens and all organizations intending to join in the procession, will report to the Adjutant on Congress street at 1 1-2 o'clock, when they will be assigned their places in line. The ceremonies at the Cemetery, near Soldier's Lot, Harmony Grove, will be as follows:

1. Form Hollow Square.
2. Prayer by Post Chaplain.
3. Reading of General Order.
4. Memorial Services by Comrades.
5. Address by Rev. E. C. Hardy.
6. Volley by Firing Party.
7. Decoration of Graves.
8. Re-assemble and sing "America."

G. A. R.

Storer Encampment, G. A. R., of this city, cordially invites all the ex-soldiers and sailors, whether members of the order or not, to meet at G. A. R. Hall, No. 38 Market Street, this (Friday) morning, and participate in the memorial services of to-day.

Per. order.

The Reception.

The 4th of July committee met on Wednesday evening, Wm. H. Sise in the chair.

Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, before appointed a committee to invite the survivors of the centennial ball in '53 to take part in the procession, suggested that they be invited to attend the Promenade Concert instead. The whole matter was left with Mr. Hackett, A. W. Haven, Esq., being added to the committee at Mr. Hackett's request.

Committee on Accomodations reported that Downing's Band will be lodged at the Court House, and take their meals at the Franklin House.

It was decided to secure the field where Barnum's circus was held, which can be hired for ten days for $50.

Naval Constructor Webb tendered the use of a large model of the old Constitution, which will be an interesting feature of the procession.

Adjourned to Friday evening.

All those interested in the Industrial procession on the Fourth of July are invited to meet at the Common Council Room on Monday Evening at 7 1-2 o'clock. It is desired that the various branches of business be represented, and a full attendance is requested.

Two schooners recently arrived at Doane's wharf, bringing in 520 bbls. of prime mackerel. Mackerel average very large this year, and are very fat, too.

The "Central Oyster House," opposite the Post Office, was opened to the public by Messrs. Jones & Sides on Thursday. It has been fitted up regardless of expense and presents a very attractive appearance; and being in a first-rate situation should pay a good interest on the money invested.

Eliot & Kittery M. F. Ins. Co.

At the annual meeting of the Eliot and Kittery Mutual Fire Insurance Company, Messrs. Warrington Paul and John Wentworth, of Kittery, William Hill, Samuel C. Shapleigh and Samuel Clark, of Eliot, and Alexander Thompson and Joseph H. Moody, of York, were elected as a Board of Directors for the current year. The Board of Directors, at their monthly meeting, elected Warrington Paul, President, Alexander Junkins, Secretary, and William O. Jones, Treasurer.

This company has been doing business for thirty-nine years, having been incorporated in 1844; and has made assessments, during the 39 years of its existence, of 39 1-2 per cent on the premium notes. The number of policies in force is 919, of which 223 were issued last year; the amount of property at risk is $810,446, of which $28,315 was taken last year; premium notes on the 1st day of May, $49,105.46. The annual cost of $1000 insurance in this company, from its establishment until now, has been a small fraction of a mill less than one dollar.

During the shower on Wednesday afternoon the lightning struck a tree on the premises of Henry S. Thompson, and a ledge on land belonging to Charles O. Clark, in York, Me.

The high wind of Wednesday afternoon unroofed about one fourth of the County Almshouse at Brentwood. No person injured, we believe.

Wagner was brought into court at Alfred by request of his counsel, Tuesday, and entered a protest against the further cognizance of his case on the ground of want of jurisdiction, claiming that Smutty Nose Island is not in Maine.

Quebec has the ship fever, and there is a flood in the St. Lawrence river.

Hon. Onslow Stearns has been re-elected President of the Northern Railroad. The old Board of Directors was also unanimously re-elected. Ex-Gov. Stearns has also been elected President of the Merrimac & Connecticut River Railroad.

An Interesting Report.—The Colony of Victoria has school-houses and likewise local committees of inspection. That these schools are under the most brilliant and successful superintendence these reports of the committee men attest:

Visited this school and found present 25 1-2 things in a ordley manner and to the satesfaction of all with whom I here converst with.

I —— —— on the local commity visted this school, and found present 27 children and to all appierence everything goinging on all wright and Mr. —— given satisfaction to all partis.

I have this day vistied the scholl, well conderceted, great improvment.

Vlseted the scool, roods verey hevvey, small attendance.

Visited the school, found all in good ourder and getting on weel.

Visited the school, which I found In verry efficient state.

Made a visit to school, everything in good order, but a terable storm outside.

Made a visit to school, orrganicasion very indifferent, pensills to short.

Health Regulations.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of City Ordinances No. 4 and No. 100, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in the City to aid them in the execution of her duty.

ORDINANCE NO. 4.

Sec. 3.—All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, &c. shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

Sec. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

Sec. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

Sec. 11. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel, or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

Sec. 14. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

Sec. 17. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

ORDINANCE NO. 100.

Sec. 1. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

Sec. 2. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

Sec. 3. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

IRON in the BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, DROPSY, HUMORS,

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes the Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, to say form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women: and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to commend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases at very reasonable charges.
JOHN TAGGART."

From the Portsmouth Journal.

NEW ENGLAND CHRISTIAN CONVENTION.—The annual session of this Convention well be held in the Christian Chapel on Court street in this city, commencing Tuesday morning June 3rd, at 10 o'clock, and continuing through Wednesday and Thursday. The annual sermon will be given Tuesday evening at 7½ o'clock; Prayer meetings Wednesday and Thursday morning at 8½ o'clock, preaching every evening at 7½ o'clock. The meetings day and evening are open to the public, and all are cordially invited.

—Those who would enjoy a first class concert will not fail to read the announcement made for next Monday evening, and act accordingly. Miss Anna Starbird, Soprano, and Miss Alice Fastman, contralto, have achieved wonderful success wherever they have appeared. Madame Therese Liebe is a violinist of wide repute and pronounced by many critics ahead of Camilla Ursa. The celebrated English tenor Nelson Varley created a decided sensation on his appearance before the New York public, a success which has followed him everywhere. The concert troupe will be the best that has visited this city in many months, and the Temple will doubtless be crowded.

—The new soda apparatus (Tuft's patent) which Mr. Tarlton, 6 Pleasant st. has just put up in his store is one of the attractive features of Exchange Buildings. It not only furnishes some of the nicest of cool soda water flavored with the best of syrups, but also Ottawa Beer and ginger ale.

—The jury empanelled on the death of William Nellins, in the Eastern Railroad depot, exonerated the railroad from any blame, the deceased, by his own negligence, having caused his death, while the road used more than ordinary care. The Jurors were Dr. B. W. Curtis, W. H. Sise and T. H. Odion, Coroner Rider conducting.

—The friends of Rev. G. W. Bicknell will regret to hear that he has been unable to attend to the duties of his parish at Portland with his accustomed energy, owing to sufferings caused by the wound received in the field during the rebellion. He has been under treatment in Boston.

—Miss Nellie Philbrick of Amesbury, who has temporarily but most acceptably filled the position of soprano in the fine quartette at the Unitarian church here, has been engaged permanently. This lady has received several flattering calls to other places.

—Rev. G. C. Mason, appointed by the Maine Methodist Conference to the church at Kittery Navy Yard Village, entered upon his pastoral duties on the 18th, his first sermon being from the suggestive text, "What think ye of Christ?"

—In answer to the communication published last week, we are requested to say that the third annual reunion of the class of 1854, of the Boys' High School, will be held at the Rockingham House on the afternoon of the 4th of July.

—Mr. John G. Tompson, formerly of this city, has formed a partnership with Mr. Donald Ramsay, as Lithographers and Engravers, at 485 Tremont Street, Boston, near Dover St. The firm is Tompson & Ramsay, P. O. box 3965.

—The Messrs. Moses, in Congress block, are spreading out fruits and other seasonable niceties in liberal profusion. The old stand is full of palatable delicacies, including an excellent soda fountain with all the appurtenances.

—But few strawberries have made their appearance in this market thus far, these retailing at about fifty cents a box. They came from Georgia and other southern parts.

—A pleasing Sabbath School concert was given at the Universalist church, last Sunday evening, before a good audience. The selections by the little ones were especially good.

—The annual meeting of the Portland, Saco and Portsmouth Railroad Company, is to be held at their Hall in Kittery, next Monday, the 2nd, at 11 o'clock.

—Next Sunday is also Pentecost Sunday, a day when Roman churches take up collections for the benefit of ecclesiastical students.

—The contractors of the Portsmouth & Dover R. R. intend to have the iron all laid by the time the bridges are completed, which will be in about three months.

—The Boys' High School now has only forty pupils. A few months ago, there were double that number. Why is this thus?

—Next Sunday is the great festival of Whit Sunday, in importance ranking next to Easter itself.

SATURDAY, MAY 31, 1873.

Another Great Fire

Occurred in Boston on Friday. Considerable excitement was occasioned in this city during the forenoon, by the circulation of a rumor to the effect that "Boston is all on fire again;" and the Mayor telegraphed to Mayor Peirce of Boston, to know if outside help was needed. A negative reply was promptly returned, and removed a great deal of anxiety; but though less disastrous than the conflagration of November last, this one will go in the list of great and destructive fires.

The telegraph reported that the fire broke out at about 8 o'clock in the morning, in the Furniture Manufactory 411 Washington street, and spread rapidly, the flames communicating in a few moments to a lofty building in the rear, the walls of which soon fell upon a large wooden building by its side, the latter being crushed in and set on fire in a moment. The fire soon reached across Washington street, to the warehouse of Chickering & Sons and the Globe Theatre; spreading south-easterly, it caught the steeple of the Presbyterian church on the corner of Harrison avenue and Beach street, and the church was soon blazing; and at 11 o'clock Boylston Market and the Boston & Albany Railroad depot were in flames.

The fire was checked after burning from Avery place to Boylston street, on Washington, from Hayward place to Chauncey street, and to Essex street, many buildings outside these boundaries being injured. The church on Harrison avenue and Beach street was badly injured but not wholly destroyed. Many of the business firms burned out saved all their most costly goods, and the banks their books and valuable papers; but the loss is estimated at $2,000,000, at least. The Boylston and Freeman's banks, Chauncy Hall schoolhouse and Ninth Regiment Headquarters, are burned. The militia and police mustered in great force toward the last, and by keeping back the crowd gave the firemen a better chance at the fire.

From Lewis W. Brewster, Esq., of the Portsmouth Journal, who was in Boston on Friday, we learn that there were two reports current in that city during the day as to the origin of the fire, one being that it caught in Bonney's stable, in the rear of the furniture manufactory, and the other that it was occasioned by the boiling over of a pot of varnish in the manufactory. The fire extended on both sides of Washington street, reaching to the rear of the the buildings on Tremont street on the west and bursing all the structures between Boylston street and Avery place on that side; on the east side of Washington street the flames reached to Brimmer place, and burned to Essex street on the south and Hayward place on the north.

From the Boston papers of Friday evening we gather the following particulars: Boylston Market is not burned, the cupola only having been on fire, and the fire put out by a man with an extinguisher. A post of the G. A. R. have their headquarters in the building, and were preparing to march out to decorate their comrades graves, when the fire broke out; but the danger being so great they remained, and saved the building.

The headquarters of the Dept. of Massachusetts, G. A. R., was in the Globe Theatre building, and much of the valuable property was lost. The Boston & Albany Railroad depot was not reached by the flames at all, and the Beach street church was injured only at the top of the spire.

Mr. Patrick Donahoe, the enterprising proprietor of the Boston Pilot, whose fine building was burned in the November fire and who was again burned out at Rand & Avery's, is once more a sufferer, his elegant new building on Boylston street being damaged.

Several companies of the 9th regiment were early detailed for guard duty, and two companies of U. S. marines arrived from Charlestown navy yard, bringing with them a hose carriage. Steamers and hose carriages were sent from Lowell, and assistance was rendered by neighboring towns.

The Weber Piano Agency of which Mr. H. C. Barnabee is a manager and partner, was burned out; loss $10,000.

John Hill, a member of Hook & Ladder Company No. 5, was killed by a falling wall, and Charles Allen, of Somerville, was badly injured.

The influx of sensation seekers was immense, and it is estimated that not less than a million people were in the city.

The losses are estimated at from $1,000,000 to $2,250,000: insurance from $350,000 to $500,000, by sixteen companies—total estimate of insurance not stated.

The Contested Election.

The Judges of the Supreme Judicial Court on Thursday unanimously agreed upon a decision of the questions submitted to them by the Governor and Council in regard to the evidence of the election of a member of Congress from the second district at the late election. As to the first question, viz: "Is it the duty of the Governor and Council to go behind the returns before them before giving a certificate to the candidate who appears to have been elected?" the Court answered as follows: "The Governor and Council are required, on due cause being shown, to extend their investigation so far as to require the town clerk to amend his returns, and the copy thereof returned, so that the same shall truly state the facts which it was to record." The Court held that it was the duty of the town clerk to record the declaration made by the moderator of the town meeting. The result of the decision is in favor of Mr. Pike, and it is understood that the Governor and Council will issue a certificate of his election. The opinion of the Court is a document of over a dozen pages of manuscript.

Fourth of July.

SOUTH BOSTON, May 28.

Dear Chronicle:—On Monday evening about fifty absent "Sons and Daughters of Portsmouth" met in the vestry of the E Street Congregational Church to remember their "Jerusalem" and take part in the "going up thither of the tribes of Israel." It was a hearty old-fashioned kind of family-gathering. Among those present were Mr. Hiram Bowles, one of our City Council, but apparently prouder to call himself as he did, a "Portsmouth baby;" Mr. Willis Mendum, a successful merchant in this part of the city; Mr. Geo. Tuckerman, who made a Spartan kind of speech, in its brevity and spirit; Mr. N. F. Berry, one of our enterprising builders; Mr. John N. Frost, a wide-awake Portsmouth boy; Mr. Chas. Hersey, a "son-in-law" of Portsmouth and senior partner in the firm of Hersey Bros.; Mr. Wm. Rand, who came to the front with a right good appeal; and Mr. Edwin Spinney, not born in Portsmouth, but son of the late Mr. Thomas Spinney, and trained to a high and deserved regard for the old city. The spirit of the meeting was excellent. Portsmouth was fondly spoken of, and Our Mother on the Piscataqua need not have any anxiety about the remarks made behind her back.

South Boston will send all she can to the reunion,—all who can put one foot before the other. The following persons were appointed a Committee to look after the "Sons and Daughters" in the neighborhood, and secure all for the Celebration:—Messrs. N. F. Berry, Willis Mendum, Horace Stickney, Albert Sheafe, John N. Frost, William Rand, Edward A. Rand and Edwin Spinney, and Mrs. Brannigan, Mrs. T. L. Frost, Mrs. F. Orcutt and Mrs. S. Gray. Everybody is coming.

E. A. R.

Readables.

The latest news from the Modoc expedition is that four of the Indians who surrendered recently have been provided with horses, arms and provisions and sent for Captain Jack's scalp.

Further reports from the freshet on the St. Lawrence River are received, showing great damage to log booms. Three cases of drowning occurred at Quebec, Thursday.

Several freight cars were thrown from the track of the Eastern Railroad at Kennebunk, Thursday afternoon, and a brakeman named Emery had his legs hurt.

Henry C. Bowen, Henry Ward Beecher and Theodore Tilton have buried the hatchet, voted each other the best of good fellows, and fixed everything up all nice. So one unworthy quarrel is ended.

Capt. McNeil, of the barque Mayerton, arrived at Quebec, reports that May 19, off the east end of Anticosti, he saw a heavy field of ice as far as the eye could reach, and from there to the southwest he saw very heavy icebergs. Ten miles west of this he saw the hulls of two vessels, and a tent on shore.

An investigation shows that Henry Barnes, a former Pension Agent at Detroit, who died some two years ago, was a defaulter in $21,000. His bondsmen have paid the amount in full.

A boiler explosion at East Saginaw, Mich., Thursday, killed one man and fatally injured four or five others.

Two men were killed and two injured (one fatally) by the fall of a wall in the "burnt district" at Boston, Friday.

State News.

Commencement exercises at Robinson Female Seminary will be held June 18. A class of seventeen will graduate; the valedictory to be given by Miss Ellen Smith of Kensington; the salutatory by Miss Nellie Russel of Cleveland, Ohio.

In Epping, R. H. Smith is erecting a shoe factory 40 x 75 feet, near the depot, where he intends to manufacture shoes for the market. Thompson & Randlett have commenced brick making near the depot; two large kilns are up, and matters bespeak enterprise.

DEATHS.

In Newcastle, May 28th, of cerebro-spinal meningitis, MARCUS A. TREFETHEN, aged 14 years.

In this city, at the residence of her son-in-law, A. R. Hatch, Esq., on Thursday, May 29th, MRS. ANN M. HARRIS, relict of the late Thomas A. Harris, in her eighty-fifth year.

☞ Funeral services at St. John's Church, on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

City Councils.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday Evening, the only business of real importance transacted was a remarkable ruling made by the Mayor.

A communication from Adams Perry, Jr., relative to the throwing of garbage on Rockingham street, was read and referred.

An invitation from Storer Encampment to the City Councils to take part in the services of Memorial Day was accepted.

A numerously signed remonstrance against the widening of Fleet Street, was read and accepted.

Mr. A. M. Brown, for the Mechanics' Association, appeared to demur to the amount of damages assessed two years ago by a committee of the Board of Aldermen, when the widening of Fleet street was resolved upon.

Mr. Alfred Stavers was next heard in support of the petition for widening Fleet street; after which Ald. Wilson spoke in opposition, saying that all the business of the street so far as he knew was carried on in one bar room and one bake shop, though he believed there was formerly some "business" carried on at the lower end of the street. He thought the street could not be widened for less than $10,000. Mr. Stavers replied, and there seemed a conflict of opinion as to whether or no Mr. R. H. Beacham was in favor of widening the street. The petition for widening it was finally referred to the Committee on Streets to report,—by a vote of 4 to 3.

The Common Council sent up a message that they had passed the annual appropriation bill, in which they asked the concurrence of the Board of Aldermen.

An affidavit of the men who came from Roxbury to repair steamer Dearborn, relative to the "conflict of authority" between the Mayor and City Messenger, was read. There was nothing in the affidavit which has not been published by us before. On motion of Ald. Spinney, Officer Wallace was sent to request the attendance of Asst. Engr. Betton; and while waiting his arrival, the Mayor stated that the Messenger had received no authority from the Chief Engineer, that he was not a member of the Fire Department, and that he wrongfully "assumed the powers of a fire-ward." This charge against Mr. Hidden sounded odd enough, when made by an official who not only "assumed the powers" of a chief engineer but also of the City Councils, which action led directly to the City Messenger's "assumption." The Mayor further stated that the Chief Engineer himself had no power except at a fire or immediately after a fire,—which Ald. Sise disputed, and which we consider absurd. When Mr. Betton arrived, it appeared that he knew nothing at all of the matter under discussion; but Ald. Sise, by a few questions, made it apparent that Mr. Betton was acting at the engine house by authority of the Chief Engineer, and that he delegated his authority to Mr. Hidden. Ald. Sise then moved that the Mayor's communication (previously laid before the Board) be referred to the City Councils, as he questioned the authority of the Board of Aldermen alone to deal with the matter, the City Messenger being an appointee of the Councils. The motion not being seconded, was not entertained. Silence for a good while.

It was then moved by Ald. Lefavour and seconded by Ald. Trefethren that the City Messenger be discharged, and the motion was declared carried; and the yeas and nays were called for by Alderman Wilson, who then stated that the Board had no jurisdiction, and moved that the question be referred to a joint committee to report; but objection was made, as there was another question pending. Ald. Lefavour offered to withdraw his motion, but Ald. Sise insisted on the yeas and nays, asserting that the question having been once voted on had passed from the mover's possession, and become the property of the Board. The Mayor waited a moment and then announced that as "Ald. Sise's motion was not seconded," Ald. Wilson's motion was in order! As Ald. Sise's "motion" was simply insisting for the yeas and nays on a question which had been voted on, and declared carried by the chair, this astounding ruling was earnestly protested against by him and the yeas and nays urgently demanded; but his protests only resulted in his being called to order! by the Mayor, who then put Ald. Wilson's motion, to refer, and declared it carried.

A petition from the Asst. Marshals for an increase of pay to $700 per year, was referred to committee on Police.

The appropriation bill was then read and referred to the committee on Bills on 2d Reading.

The commander of the Independent Battalion appeared and requested that the battalion be mustered in, and supported his request by several very plausible reasons. On motion of Ald. Sise, it was voted that the battalion be mustered in agreeably to the request.

In Common Council, the annual appropriation bill was passed with amendments, and the Council adjourned to the call of the Mayor.

Memorial Day

Brought lovely weather, most favorable for the ceremony of decorating the soldiers' graves,—cool and clear, with a bright sun and gentle, refreshing breeze. The following was the published programme and order of exercises, which was fully carried out except that the Independent Battalion did not appear, not having procured their uniforms:—

Platoon of Police.
U. S. Marine Band, (Harlow leader.)
Company of Marines. Lieut. L. E. Fagan Com'g.
Storer Encampment, Post No. 1, G. A. R.
Carriages containing Disabled Comrades.
Independent Battalion, Maj. E. A. Tilton Com'g.
Fire Department.
Citizens.

City Government in Carriages.

The procession will move at 2 o'clock precisely over the following route:—

Form on Congress street, right resting at North Church, march through Market to Deer street, through Deer to Vaughan and Elm to North Cemetery. Countermarch through Railroad Avenue to Deer Street, through Deer to Vaughan, through Vaughan to Congress, through Congress and Islington to Cabot, through Cabot to Middle, through Middle to Richards Avenue, through Richards Avenue to Cemetery. Returning through South, Pleasant, State, Middle and Congress streets to Market Square, where the procession will be dismissed.

CEREMONIES AT THE CEMETERY, NORTH OF HARMONY GROVE.

1 Form three sides of Hollow Square on ground.
2 Prayer by Post Chaplain.
3 Promulgation of General Order by Post Adjutant.
4 Memorial Services by Comrades.
5 Address by Rev. A. C. Hardy.
6 Volley by firing party.
7 Decoration of graves.
8 Re-assemble and close with music by Band.
9 On arrival at Market Square, the Procession will be dismissed.

The Portsmouth Drum Corps accompanied Kearsarge Engine Co., No. 3, and made a brilliant appearance in their new and showy Zouave uniforms.

Committees from Storer Encampment visited the various small cemeteries in this vicinity during the forenoon, and decorated the graves of soldiers buried in them; and wreaths and flowers were sent to the U. S. Quarantine station on Wood Island, the graves there being decorated by Mr. Anderson, the keeper of the station.

The address by Rev. Mr. Hardy was an eloquent tribute to the men who died for the Union, and to the righteousness of their cause, which he considered was not merely the narrow one of whether the government should be sustained and the rebellion crushed, but whether freedom—free flesh and blood, free speech and free thought—should triumph over the despotism of intolerance. He closed with an earnest appeal that the maimed and disabled soldiers, and the widows and children of the dead, receive the nation's tender care,—not as paupers, but as the nation's guests.

The procession was large and presented a very handsome appearance, the numerous wreaths and beautiful bouquets borne by the G. A. R. adding greatly to the pleasing effect of the handsome uniforms in the line. Notwithstanding the backwardness of the season, the show of flowers, for quantity and beauty, equalled that of previous decoration days. There was a very large concourse of visitors at the cemetery, and about every wheeled vehicle in the city seemed to be in use.

The music furnished by Harlow's Marine Band was very fine—even better than is always expected of that splendid band. One of the "strong points" of the Marine Band is the appropriate character of the music they perform—their leader always selecting street music for the street. The drum corps also played with spirit and precision.

The Reception.

All those interested in the Industrial procession on the Fourth of July are invited to meet at the Common Council Room on Monday Evening at 7 1-2 o'clock. It is desired that the various branches of business be represented, and a full attendance is requested.

E. D. COFFIN, Com.

Laconics.

Mrs. Emma E. Weston, of East Boston, will hold public Seances at Mendum's Hall to-morrow afternoon and evening, at the usual hours. An admittance fee of 25 cents will be charged at the door.

Rev. Carlos Martyn will lecture in the North Church on Sabbath evening at 7 1-2 o'clock, on the Christian Treatment of Animals. The citizens generally are invited. The lecture is given in response to the invitation of the P. S. P. C. A.

Rehearsal at Irving Hall on Sunday evening for grand union concert.

Mr. William E. Hoyt of this city, instructor in civil engineering in the Boston Institute of Technology, will sail for Europe, June 4, for the purpose of examining the most noted works of engineering in England and on the continent, to visit the various technical schools and to attend the Vienna exposition.

The Amesbury Villager, speaking of Mrs. Rhoda Fowler of Seabrook, whose sudden death and subsequent burning we chronicled some days ago, says "a singular fatality has attended Mrs. Fowler's family. Several years ago her father dropped down dead in one of the streets of Newburyport. Two years ago three sons were lost in the terrible gale at Labrador when so many vessels were lost."

Some interesting local matter will be found on the first page of this morning's issue.

It is reported "on the best authority" that the Maine Central Railroad has been leased to the Eastern; a Boston paper also announces, "on the best authority," that the Maine Central hasn't been leased to the Eastern. "You pays your money and you takes your choice."

The funeral of the late Surgeon H. M. Rundlett, U. S. N., took place in this city on Friday, the services being held at St. John's church. The naval band, a company of marines and the officers attached to this station, formed part of the cortege. Dr. Rundlett died of apoplexy, and not of yellow fever as first reported.

Health Regulations.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH of the City of Portsmouth call the attention of the public to the following sections of City Ordinances No. 4 and No. 100, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in the City to aid them in the execution of their duty.

ORDINANCE NO. 4.

SEC. 3.—All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, &c. shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low-water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners or occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 11. The health officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them, on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said health officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel, or enclosure, and cause the said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 14. The owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure shall be liable to pay the expense of the removal or destruction of any such nuisance or other thing, as aforesaid, including fees of the health officers who order or cause the same to be removed; and the same may be recovered by action to be brought in the name of the city.

SEC. 17. Any person or persons who shall violate any rule or regulation, or commit any act forbidden in any section of this ordinance, to which no special penalty is annexed, shall forfeit and pay a sum not less than one dollar nor more than twenty dollars, to be recovered by complaint before the police court of this city.

ORDINANCE NO. 100.

SEC. 1. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 2. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the Small Pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 3. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great skill and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges.

JOHN TAGGART."

SPRING TIME.
Sonoma Wine Bitters
are the BEST to use to counteract the debilitating effects of SPRING and early SUMMER. They are MILD AND PLEASANT IN THEIR EFFECTS, and no change in diet is needed.
EVERYBODY CAN TAKE THEM:
Man, Woman or Child!
They are made with PURE, SOFT, MILD WINE, and choice Plants and Roots, are Delicious to the Taste and Delightful in Aroma, while the strong, fiery spirit, so prominent in most other Bitters, is lacking.
SONOMA WINE BITTERS
have been used for years, not only in the United States but in the British Provinces, West Coast of South America, Sandwich Islands, the East and West Indies, and Austria, and are recognized as the Most Palatable, Healthy and Appetizing Bitters in the market.
Sonoma Wine Bitters
are Medicinal and Invigorating, cleansing the blood, and giving a healthy tone to the entire system. Ladies and Children will find therein a most agreeable Tonic. Try them, and you will use no other.

The Chronicle.

SOMETHING FOR J. S. C. ABBOTT.—There is said to be in New York an old umbrella used by Napoleon III. when he was in the United States. There is only one man in the country who is entitled to this relic, and that is the Rev. John S. C. Abbott. John holds the theory that when Adam fell, a few sparks of celestial purity remained with the race, and finally concentrated in the Napoleon family. If he ever obtains possession of that venerable umbrella, he will take it away to some secluded nook where he can give unrestrained expression to his feelings, and weep over it, and soak it, until the umbrella conceives that there is a storm, and involuntarily, from force of habit puts itself up. We believe Mr. Abbott would actually wear that umbrella next to his heart if it were not so long as to extend into his trousers, and interfere with the movement of his legs.—Max Adler.

AN ENGLISH DIVORCE SUIT.—A suit in the Divorce Court, differing in none of its special circumstances from the ordinary run of such cases, is yet remarkable for the curious indiscrimination of the several positions of life held by the parties. The petitioner is a gentleman of large estate and a magistrate; the lady from whom he seeks to be set free, has been a barmaid; and the corespondent was curate of the parish in which the couple had lived. There being no dispute as to the facts, that the clergyman had eloped with his neighbor's wife, and had allowed her to pass for his own, a dissolution of the marriage was decreed with costs.

THE GREAT EASTERN.—This vessel, recently lying at Sheerness, is shortly to be engaged in laying the new Atlantic cable. It was hoped she would be able to start on Saturday, 17th; but a number of the crew having refused to sign articles on the terms offered by the Telegraph Construction and Maintenance Company, and been in consequence discharged, her departure was probably deferred till about the 20th inst. Similar difficulty has been experienced in manning the Hibernia and Edinburgh, which are to accompany the Great Eastern.

—The local editor of the Little Rock Arkansas is not likely to recover. He is in a very bad way, as witness the following: "Last night the moon was a gallant one, and beaux and lissom belles wandered under Heaven's ebon vaults, studded with stars unutterably bright, through which the moon's unclouded grandeur rolled, seeming like a canopy which Love had spread to curtain her sleeping world." The same gushing youth gives information concerning the mosquito in this manner. "The gentle mosquito now sharpens his bill in shady corners and barrels by day, and makes sad havoc upon our damask cheeks and peach-bud lips by night. Not all the coal-oil smear or penny-royal oil is proof against the rapacious onslaughts of the dipterous culiciformations.

—When the smoking horse cars were first put on in New York, a few weeks ago, the gents had a fine time of it, as none but smokers were admitted to seats, and no ladies applying for accommodation there was no crowding of passengers. But now the gentlemen have come to grief, for the gentle and somewhat muscular ladies, who sell pea-nuts round the park and fish in Catherine Market, insist upon having seats in the cars, and upon smoking their black and overrank pipes, the strong fumes of which disgust and offend the gentlemen smokers, who indulge in partigas, figaros and Monte Cristos. They think it horrid for women to smoke.

—A school boy being requested to write a composition upon the subject of "Pins" produced the following: "Pins are very useful. They have saved the lives of a great many men, women and children — in fact, whole families." "How so?" asked the puzzled teacher; and the boy replied, "Why, by not swallowing them."

The London Quarterly Review (Am. reprint) for April contains: The State of English Painting; Middlemarch,—a Study of Provincial Life; Railways and the State; Autumns on the Spey; Charles, Comte de Alomberi; Greek at the Universities; Lord Lytton; Central Asia; The Irish University Bill, and the Defeat of the Ministry. Leon. Scott Pub. Co., 140 Fulton Street, New York; $4 per year.

The Burning of the Globe.

The Boston Advertiser says the Globe Theatre building took fire in earnest about a quar er to nine o'clock, despite the incessant streams of water pouring on the smoking facade. Previous to this time, and while the fire was raging on the opposite side of the street, Encampment E. W. Kinsley, Post 113, G. A. R., was assembling in its headquarters preparatory to the observance of Decoration day. Most of the valuable property of the post was saved, including portraits, regalia, books and papers. The heavy cases containing the books and blanks of the headquarters of the department of Massachusetts and of the United States could not be got out, but were forced open, and the record books and a few other valuables removed to Cobb's store on Washington street. A large amount of valuable books and blanks, however, were lost. In the handsome theatre, Mr. Cheney and nearly all the male members of his stock company and the other attaches were laboring incessantly removing the wardrobes and the portable properties. Howe was introduced through the entrance on Essex street and carried up to the windows on the second and third balconies, where another point of attack on the devouring element was established. Here the men fought long and well, having finally to beat a retreat as the flames shot across the recess between the front building and the theatre; and then the work of destroying the magnificent interior began. The flames appeared in the third balcony through the right-hand window, as viewed from the stage, at exactly two minutes past ten o'clock. The sight as seen from the stage was one of sublime scenic effect. Before the fire appeared the stage was dark and drear; the gas though lit burned low, and was subsequently extinguished. Mr. Cheney fearing an explosion. Gradually the lurid, flickering gleams shot inward, reflected from point to point on the gilded gallleries. The flames, of which the curling smoke was the precursor, after entering seemed to work slowly along till they reached the alhambra-like arches of the galleries. Then the delicate tinted tracery seemed enveloped in sheets of flame, whose lurid light lit up the entire place, brightening up the elegant theatre for the last time. The members of the company now retreated to the rooms in the rear that communicate directly with the street, plucking, as they did so, an artificial camelia or blossoming twig from the homes where the "New Magdalen" was known, taken as a hallowed memento."

All this time the fire had rapidly spread over the ceiling of the auditorium, and as they stood looking on, great cinders and flashes of flame fell in all parts of the house. A minute more and there seemed to be one storm of crimson hail-stones, while the blazing sparks were flying thick among the flies. In the midst of this wholesale destruction the walls of the proscenium arch fell with a dull sudden crash. This unloosened the fastening bands that held the "act drop," which, as it fell, unrolling, revealed its crimson folds for the last time, and lay singularly, but appropriately, covered with the green curtain as the closing scene in the burning tragedy was enacted. A second later and many of the flies fell in strange confusion, and falling lay mangled amid the statues, the gilded chains and tropical plants that graced the charming scenes of the "New Magdalen." One lingering look was taken by a venturesome few whose curiosity chained them fast, but the cracking of the walls and falling flies were shut from view by the whirling eddies of blinding smoke, and the scene was lost. The place was abandoned at seven minutes past ten, and three minutes later the great iron roof fell in and crushed what had already lost its beauty. Most of the more valuable furniture was saved, the mirrors and furniture in the rear offices and all of the wardrobe. The theatre has gone; but as one of the undaunted said while the theatre was yet in shape, though doomed, "The bricks won't be cold before we'll begin rebuilding."

The total destruction of the Globe Theatre has entailed a great æsthetic as well as a great material loss, for it was one of the most complete and beautiful structures of its class in the country,—elegantly designed and finished, richly appointed, and, so far as money and taste could make it so, an adequate and refined stage for the representation of the legitimate drama. It was projected late in the year 1866 by Mr. Arthur Cheney and Mr. Dexter H. Follett, and immediately after the selection of the site the work of construction was rapidly pushed forward. Ground was broken on the 14th day of February, 1867, and on the 28th day of the following October it was opened to the public as Selwyn's Theatre—which designation it retained until Mr. Fechter succeeded to the manag ment, at the opening of the season of 1870. The site was leased of Mr. A. C. Baldwin for twenty years, the edifice at that time to revert to the owner of the land; and one of the conditions of the lease was that in case of the destruction of the theatre by fire it should be rebuilt by the lessees. The cost of building was solely defrayed by Mr. Cheney and Mr Follett, and the original expenditures were about $200,000. In the early part of 1869, Mr. Follett began to weary of the responsibility associated with his share of the pr pretorship, and on the 19th of April Mr. Cheney paid over to his partner $100,000 and the theatre became his sole property. Since that time he has expended large sums on the remodelling and fitting of the building, so that Friday he considered his investment therein would amount to $240,000. On this sum he was insured for $100,000, and in the heavy loss he has sustained he has the warmest sympathy (abundantly expressed by its personal proffer on the part of many of the most esteemed citizens) of the best portion of the theatre-going public. Before proceeding to detail the honorable career of Selwyn's and the Globe, it may be well to state that Mr. Cheney is determined that the disaster of Friday shall only delay the plans which he and Mr. Floyd have made for the future.

To the numerous friends who called upon him after his splendid theatre was in ruins he expressed himself cheerfully and confidently, asserting that the loss he has met with would not interfere with the arrangements he has had in contemplation for the season of 1873-4, laughingly remarking that "the curtain will rise on the stage of the New Globe on the evening of the 29th of September next." As soon as practicable the present site will be cleared for building operations, and the public may rest assured that the new theatre will be completed before the close of the coming autumn. It is unnecessary to remark that Mr. Cheney has taken as much pride as pleasure in ministering to the desire of this community for amusements of the higher order, and his past record gives ample assurance that his future endeavors will be worthy of the generous support he will be sure to receive.

Three persons were killed at the English Derby races, this year.

Grave fears are entertained at the War Department of the safety of Gen. Davis, who has not been heard of since he started on a scouting expedition after Capt. Jack.

The report that General Davis has sent certain Modoc Indians to capture or kill Captain Jack is discredited by the army authorities at Washington.

A dispatch from Parsons, Kansas, says an officer arrived there on Friday from Texas, with the body of Nicholas Monin or Marion, who is supposed to be an accomplice of the Bender family, the Kansas assassins. At Denison he made some important confessions, and promised to tell all he knew about the Benders, when he reached this city; but when near Atoka Station, Indian Territory, he shot himself in the head with a revolver, inflicting a wound from which he died. It seems certain that the Benders are now in Texas, making their way to the Rio Grande River, to cross into Mexico.

Six men were killed recently in the colliery near Wigan, England, by an explosion.

Some $20,000 worth of passenger tickets on the Atlantic and Pacific railroad have been stolen within a few months.

A man named Dudley has been arrested in Boston for the theft of a check for $12,000 from J. C. Ayer & Co., over a year ago.

John McCarthy, a laborer at work on a gravel train at Martin's Ferry, was caught by a slide, pinned to the rails and killed by the cars passing over him, Friday morning.

Eighteen bodies have been found in the river at New York within two weeks.

George Francis Train, it is said, will sue New York city for false imprisonment, claiming $100,000 damages.

The play at the Globe Theatre yesterday was "Play Away!" Several fire companies were engaged. Although the support was poor, the performance was brilliant, and brought down the house.—Advertiser.

PORTLAND AND OGDENSBURG RAILROAD.—The completion of the Vermont division of the Portland and Ogdensburg Railroad more than half its entire length, at a great saving over the original estimates, and the assurance of the engineer that the remainder of the line, on which work is going forward vigorously, will show even a greater economy of construction, has greatly stimulated the sale of the first mortgage bonds. The low price at which they are offered for the present and the certainty that they will advance in price render them attractive as investments. The Messrs. Fairbanks, who are the financial agents of the road, may well be proud of their success in building and managing the affairs of this new and short trunk line from the lakes to the Atlantic.—Evening Post.

—Postal cards are flying around the country in a lively manner. They will prove a great convenience to the public—but a nuisance to the post-office clerks, who wont have time to read more than half of them.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Another "Eccentricity."

Some time ago, when a member of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen appealed from the decision of the chair on a point of order, and the vote of the Board, declining to sustain the Mayor's ruling, was vetoed by the Mayor, we thought the extreme of absurdity in that line had been reached; but we much underrated the resources of the gentleman who presides over the deliberations of the Portsmouth Board of Aldermen, as his action—or refusal to act—on Thursday evening showed.

A motion (to discharge the City Messenger) having been put to the Board was declared carried by the chair, and a member demanded the yeas and nays. The Alderman demanding the roll call then announced that he should have to vote "nay" on the question as presented, on the ground that the Aldermen alone had no authority in the premises, (the same objection having been made by another member before the question was put,) and moved that the matter be referred to a joint committee, to report, the mover of the previous resolution offering to withdraw his motion to allow the admission of the resolution to refer. Ald. Sise promptly objected to this remarkable style of doing business, urging that a motion had passed from its mover's possession when once it was formerly placed before the Board and had been voted on, and that no other business could be entertained until the pending vote was decided by a regular call of the roll, for the yeas and nays. In any any other place and with any chairman less unscrupulous as to the means used to carry his points, the yeas and nays would have at once been taken; but Ald. Wilson's statement that he should vote "nay" threw cold water on the Mayor's hope that the Board of Aldermen would possibly vote to depose Mr. Hidden, by rendering it certain the vote would stand the other way; so Mayor Marvin coolly announced that "Ald. Sise's motion [Ald. Wilson's call for the yeas and nays] has not been seconded, therefore Ald. Wilson's motion is in order?"

For the first time in our brief but happy existence we learned that a call for the yeas and nays on a disputed vote is a "motion," not to be granted unless duly "seconded!" and that after a question has been stated by the chair, acted on by a vote and declared carried by the chairman, the question is still open to debate! In this case, the Board of Aldermen voted to discharge the City Messenger—at least the Mayor announced that as the vote of the Board; and then, without rescinding or reconsidering that vote they referred the whole matter to a joint committee.

It is evident that if Mayor Marvin errs, it is not in holding too contracted an idea of the extent of his proper authority. He vetoes a declination to sustain his ruling on a point of order; claims the right to veto a resolution as long after it passes as he likes,—for if he has a legal right to withhold his veto one week he can withhold it one year as well, and then veto the whole year's proceedings in a lump; asserts that the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department "has no authority (over his department) except in case of fire or immediately after a fire,"—though the law of the State says the Chief Engineer has authority, and does not say the Mayor or any other one man may presume to interfere with it; orders the City Messenger to "go to breakfast," evidently thinking his position as Mayor gives him supreme authority over all the affairs of other officials, and then complains to the Board of Aldermen that the Messenger "wrongfully assumed the authority of a fireward,"—the very authority the Mayor "wrongfully assumed" when he undertook to be Chief Engineer of the Fire Department without waiting for an election to that office; and at last has refused to allow the yeas and nays to be taken in the Board of Aldermen, and called an Alderman to order because he insisted that the business of the Board should be conducted regularly and formally!

If a judge is determined to rule in violation of law, the bar and jury cannot well prevent him; and if Mayor Marvin is determined to ignore all special rules and general customs, and even common courtesy, in his dealings with the Board of Aldermen, he may carry (and has carried) out some of his pet schemes by such means. How for his ridiculous (tho' at present successful) assumption of supreme authority will carry him it is impossible as yet to predict; but we are in daily expectation that he will "veto" the further publication of the CHRONICLE, and rule that we are "out of order" in questioning his right to make the City Government ridiculous by the ludicrous eccentricity of his proceedings as chairman of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen.

The Starbird Concert,

At the Temple this (Monday) evening, will pay all who go for the time and money they expend, if the commendatory notices of the company in our exchanges can be relied upon; the following, from the Portland Press, is a fair sample of the way the company's members and entertainments are spoken of:

"Miss Starbird's strong, clear, carefully trained soprano showed itself to marked advantage in the cavatina from Meyerbeer, as well as in the opening trio. Miss Alice Fairman's rich, liquid contralto won great favor with the audience. Miss Teresa Liebe, the violinist, completely surprised those present by the ease and breadth of her bowing, her mastery of the fingering board, the brilliancy of her playing, and the grace and tenderness which showed itself in the minor strains. Opinions differed as to Mr. Varley. He had so much the matter of "cad," that many were prejudiced against him at the start. He is really a great singer, and his strong dashing tenor is probably the best ever heard in Portland. Mr. Beckett's fine qualities of voice are too well known to Portlanders to require mention here. He did admirably last evening, and was enthusiastically received. The troupe as a whole is an excellent one, and deserves all the success which attends it."

The Reception.

All those interested in the Industrial procession on the Fourth of July are invited to meet at the Common Council Room on Monday Evening at 7 1-2 o'clock. It is desired that the various branches of business be represented, and a full attendance is requested.

E. D. COFFIN, Com.

Laconics.

A man got under the wheels of the Portsmouth bound Eastern Railroad train at Ipswich, Saturday evening, and had the lower part of one leg broken short off. He refused to give his name, and made no outcry when his leg snapped; he only picked up the broken piece, tried how it would fit the stump, and then remarked, "Twon't do, there's two dollars and a half gone to the devil!" So a passenger on that train informs us.

The losses of Barnabee & Winch, agents for the Webef pianos, at the recent fire on Washington street, Boston, was $4000. Mr. Fred. A. Fernald, formerly of Portsmouth, who was burned out at the November fire, was also a sufferer to the extent of $15,000. The loss of Chickering & Sons is $98,500, Rhodes, Rifley & Co. $125,000, Haley, Morse & Co. $113,500, Hawley, Folsom & Martin $175,000, Leland, Wheelock & Co. $80,000, James Parker $90,000, James Paul $80,000, Arthur Cheney (Globe Theatre) $240,000, A. T. Brown & Co. $50,000.

NEW YORK AND NEW ENGLAND RAILROAD.—The organization of the New York and New England Railroad Company is now ratified by the four States in which the road is located, the Rhode Island legislature having passed the act of ratification. As soon as the preliminary arrangements are made to relieve the trustees of the bond holders from the charge of the property, a conveyance will be made to the new company. The lines owned and leased by the New York and New England Railroad Company will be, from Boston to Willimantic, 86 miles; Brookline to Woonsocket, 33 miles; Southbridge Branch, 18 miles; Dedham Branch, 2 miles; Providence to Waterbury, 123 miles; total now in operation, 262 miles. Unfinished—Waterbury to Hudson River, 72 miles: land line, Norwich and Worcester, 67 miles; total when completed, 404 miles. The new company starts with a debt of but $8,000,000 on the whole property. It will immediately create a new mortgage for $10,000,000, with which to pay this debt and finish and equip the line. The new mortgage will thus be for about $33,000 per mile of completed road.

DIED OF A BROKEN HEART.—In Fulton county, N. Y., some time last year Miss Johanna Davis was engaged to be married to a man named Swartwout, who married another woman during the winter. Miss Davis' grief at this disappointment caused serious mental and physical affliction. Last Sunday evening her mother and herself saw the jilting lover and his wife pass by the window. The sight seemed to affect Miss Davis, and her appearance attracted her mother's attention. The young lady, in response to questions and tears, said, "Don't cry for me, mother; I shall die to-night." At 10 P. M. the girl was a corpse. Her death was caused by a broken heart.

SEWING MACHINE SALES

BY comparison of Statistics from sworn returns of the sales of sewing Machines for 1871 and 1872, it shows that the

"DOMESTIC"

SEWING MACHINE Co.'s sales have increased over 375 per cent. while no other Co.'s sales have increased over 36 per cent., proving the great popularity of the "DOMESTIC."

Annexed are the percentage of gain, of the leading makers:

Domestic Sewing Machine Co.,	gain	375	per cent
Wheeler & Wilson "	"	36	"
Singer "	"	23	"
Grover & Baker "	"	5	"
Weed "	"	8	"
Wilcox & Gibbs "	"	12	"
Wilson "	"	8	"

Other Machines Co.'s' sales show a loss over the year before.

If the increase in sales be any criterion of merit, the "DOMESTIC" bears the palm.

The "DOMESTIC" works so easy, it is working itself into every family.

The "DOMESTIC" runs so light, it is distancing all competitors. It only asks a few days trial.

The "DOMESTIC" is recommend by the Medical Faculty.

IRON in the BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, DROPSY, HUMORS

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes the Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested, and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills" simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women: and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished on remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in such form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in nearly every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges.
JOHN TAGGART."

No. 15 FLEET St. (up stairs), Portsmouth,
House, Sign and Carriage Painter, GLAZIER AND PAPER HANGER.

The Chronicle.

—The young men are becoming every day more discourteous, so the girls say. They take their dogs instead of their lady friends out riding now-a-days. There are advantages about a dog as a riding companion, we must admit. He doesn't take up much room. He doesn't make remarks when horses are acting in a manner which requires your whole attention, and get enraged because you don't answer him. He don't wear long veils and streaming ribbons to get into your eyes every time the wind blows. He doesn't grab at the reins every time your horse shies or stumbles, and moreover, "ma" don't expect him home at half-past five.

—A correspondent, writing from Martha's Vineyard says, "The extent to which Gothic architecture has been employed in the styles of most of the cottages built the past two years has been the subject of much remark. Nearly all the new cottages put up this season are to have square doors and windows, and already we have some very elegant ones, in fact far eclipsing any of the former in the Gothic style. A few have been modelled after the Swiss architecture, and in making up the variety mingle in nice order." The season at this famous place will begin at an early day.

—Of all the amusements that can possibly be imagined for a workingman after daily toils, or in the intervals, there is nothing like reading a newspaper or a book. It calls for no bodily exertion, of which already he has had enough—perhaps too much. It relieves his home of dullness and sameness. Nay, it accompanies him to the next day's work, and gives him something to think of besides the mechanical drudgery of his every-day occupation; something he can enjoy while absent, and look forward to with much pleasure.

—A gentleman saw his little daughter dipping her doll-baby's dress into a cup, and inquired, "What are you doing, my daughter?" "I'm coloring my doll's dress red." "What with?" "With beer!" "What put such a foolish notion into your head, child? You can't color red with beer" "Yes, I can, pa; because ma said it was beer that colored your nose so red!" And the gentleman had business that required him to be down town immediately.

—Judy hears, from a fashionable contemporary, that "The practice in America of wearing cashmere shawls wrong side out, to show that they are genuine, again prevails." Gracious powers! what next? By-and-by people will be going about heels upwards, to show that their boots are soled.

—A retired sea captain, who had made the tour of continental Europe and the Holy Land, was asked how he was impressed by his visit to Jerusalem. "Jerusalem," said he, "is the meanest place I ever visited! There is not a drop of liquor in the whole town fit to drink."

—A gentleman upon a jury in Pulaski, Tennessee, was forced to accompany that body to a prayer meeting the other evening, and it was the first time he had been inside a church since the war. Even the much-berated jury system has some redeeming features.

—John raised a thunder storm by suggesting to his landlady that she should put more lightning into her bread. He was electrified by a discharge which immediately ensued, and is now looking for a new boarding house.

—A young doctor in Norwalk spends his leisure hours in practising on the corner, and passers-by thinking that an amputation is going on inside, are deluded as to the number of the man's patients.

—"James," said a young wife to her husband a few days after marriage, "you were honest enough to tell me that your chimney smoked, but why didn't you tell me that you smoked yourself?"

—A negro boy was driving a mule when the animal stopped and refused to budge. "Won't you go, eh?" said the boy. "Feel grand do you? I s'pose you forgot your fadder was a little jackass?"

—When a young man or a young woman first breaks out into verse, it is almost invariably to express a longing for an early grave, and a desire to be buried anywhere except in a graveyard.

—A Seneca Falls clergyman is said to have called at a millinery store on opening day "in order to anticipate what he should see on the following Sunday."

—A Troy woman says that if death really loves a shing mark, it is singular that he has not aimed at her husband's nose before this.

—A lady, speaking of one of her aversions, said the severest thing on record: "He's almost a perfect brute—he only lacks instinct."

—The wild man in the woods is in Georgia now. He has got to be eight feet high, and he tore off the tail of a horse the other day.

The Daily Chronicle,

TUESDAY, JUNE 3, 1873.

Readabits.

The new opera of "Adam and Eve," it is thought, will be given up, the only manager who has yet attempted to produce it having had a difficulty with the prima donna, in the matter of costume. The lady declines to take the character of "Eve" unless allowed to appear in a yellow satin train and a diamond necklace. Adam, also, exhibits a marked preference for a velvet tunic and a rapier. The great moral work will probably be handed over to the ballet people.

While a family were out watching a circus procession at Windsor, Ont., three burglars entered the house. Being discovered, one of them jumped through a window, cutting an artery of his leg. He ran about a block and then fell and died in five minutes, from loss of blood. The other two escaped.

France is to rebuild the Column Vendome.

A boy while under the painful hallucination that he was a Modoc buried a pin-head in his father's leg, very much to the surprise of that individual. The old gentleman recovered sufficiently, however, to impress that scion with the belief that he had actually sat on a lava bed.

James H. Allen, a messenger for the Boston National Revere Bank, did not close his accounts on Thursday, and has not been seen since. He is supposed to have realized about $6000 from the drafts entrusted to him for collection on that day.

Robert L. Dudley, a man who is believed to have robbed postal cars all over the country of valuable letters to the amount of $50,000, was arrested in Boston on Saturday, after a search of several months.

Mr. Barnum offered Portland carpenters five dollars a day to put up his reserved seats; but he could not get them, and so carpenters were imported from Lynn, Mass.

The New England Fair will be held at Mystic Park, Medford, four miles from Boston.

Miss Virginia Cunningham, of Shelbyville, Tenn., was badly burned last week, her dress catching fire as she kneeled to say her prayers. Moral obvious.

Messrs. Paine, Goodwin & Nowell having leased the prominently situated store on the corner of Church and Worth Sts., opposite H. B. Claflin & Co., now occupied by Messrs. Garner & Co., will remove thence on or about June 1st. This is undoubtedly one of the most eligible situations in the dry goods market, and must bring them more conspicuously than ever before to the purchasing public.—New York Economist.

It is said that an Indiana preacher declared in a recent sermon that "no woman who wears false hair is a fit person to sit in the house of the Lord." But as all the woman in his congregation wore jute instead of false hair, they thought he was going for the women of the other church.

The annual excursion of the Massachusetts Press Association will start on the morning of June 17. Among other places the excursion will include the Hoosac Tunnel, Lake George, Lake Champlain and Burlington, with the choice of returning home via the Vermont Central Railroad, or adding a supplementary trip to Saratoga Springs, thence down the Hudson by boat and home via the Sound steamers.

A Chinese theatrical company is performing in Paris, and the theatre is inadequate in size to hold all who desire to see them.

The three military companies of Worcester, while having their street parade, Wednesday, were charged upon by a pair of frightened bulls, which scattered the music, carried consternation to the hearts of the blue coats, and had everything their own way generally.

President Grant goes to Augusta in July, where he will be the guest of Speaker Blaine.

Six miners were killed and much property destroyed by an explosion in an English colliery, Friday.

Hon. Joseph Howe, lieutenant-governor of Nova Scotia, died on Sunday.

George Francis train has sailed for Europe.

Another attempt to capture and destroy Captain Jack's band was made on Friday last, and the Modocs were surprised, at their retreat on White Creeks, but through the failure of a part of the attacking force to come up in season the Modocs, who made no show of fighting, escaped. Boston Charley, the reputed murderer of Lieut. Thomas, surrendered, however, and soon afterward, on promising to "put up a job" on Captain Jack was sent off on a "mission." The retreating Modocs were closely pursued, overtaken and attacked, and Scarfaced Charley, Old Schonchin and ten others surrendered. Captain Jack and the rest of the band decamped in the night and again escaped.

An important case has gone to the supreme court, at Portland, from the town of Oxford. The firm of E. Andrews & Co. have sued the town of Oxford to recover the amount of a tax paid by them under protest, on property which they claimed is exempt under the act of the town. The defence of the town is, that the act of the legislature authorizing such exemption is unconstitutional. On this single question, of the constitutionality of the law, the case has been made up by agreement and referred to the court for decision. The correspondence shows that by offers to exempt from taxation, manufacturing at Welchville, Oxford, has largely increased.

The story that a Boston florist sold 10,000 rose buds for Easter Sunday has aroused the indignation of some strict sabbatarians, who protest against such buddist tendencies.

Fine old farms on the eastern shore of Maryland are selling dirt cheap. Places which, in 1866, sold quickly at $100 per acre, will not bring half that sum now.

The local freight train on the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth Railroad that left Portland about 1 o'clock, Thursday afternoon, met with an accident two miles east of Kennebunk depot. The drawbolt connecting two of the cars pulled out and dropped down the road bed. Of course the rear cars five in number were tipped up, piled upon each other and pretty well smashed. A brakeman named Emery had his leg badly smashed. No one else was hurt. The passage of other trains was impeded for a long time, and a train had to be sent out from the city to take passengers from the down trains.

The public debt was decreased $3,525,382 during the past month.

Henry Ward Beecher delivered a sermon on Sunday, favoring universal salvation.

The President has appointed Hon. John A. Bingham, of Ohio, Minister to Japan.

State News.

Frederick Goss, 18 years old, was drowned at Laconia, Saturday, by the upsetting of a boat.

As Daniel and Edward Curtis, brothers, were out shooting rabbits in Strafford a few days since, Edward was accidentally shot by his brother, who did not suppose he was in the bushes when he discharged his gun. The injury is regarded as serious.

Mrs. Lowell Kenny, the mother of the wife of Captain Hall, the Arctic explorer, died in Rochester recently aged 93.

The Mount Washington Railroad began running freight and construction trains last week from the base to the summit of the mountain. In one place a snow drift eight feet deep on the track, and fifty rods in length, had to be shovelled through. The same drift was seven feet deep beneath the track.

The Tip-Top and the new summit houses at the White Mountains are being rapidly prepared for summer travel. The Montreal Railroad will be finished to the Twin Mountain House on the first of next month. All the rooms at the Profile House are already engaged.

The Dover board of education have employed a music teacher to give lessons once a week in the schools.

The Dover board of education have employed a music teacher to give lessons once a week in the schools.

On Saturday afternoon a sensation was caused at Lebanon by the report that a little boy was missing. The alarm was sounded, bells rung and a general search was commenced, it being supposed that the little fellow had fallen into the river. At a late hour in the evening, however, the cry of the child was heard in the house where the family resided, and he was found in a closet, where he had shut himself in and slept soundly for six or seven hours.

The bodies of three infants have been found in Manchester within a week. Supposed to have been murdered by their parents.

The Boston Board of Alderman have appropriated three thousand dollars to aid in fitting out the balloon expedition of the aeronauts, Wise and Donaldson, who propose to journey through the air from the "Hub" to Europe. The Fourth of July is set apart as the day of departure.

P. S. & P. R. R. Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the P. S. & P. R. R. was held at Kittery at 11 o'clock A. M., Monday. Thornton K. Lothrop, Nathaniel Hooper, Stephen H. Bullard of Boston, S. Lothrop Thorndike of Beverly, John B. Brown and Charles E. Barrett of Portland, and Ichabod Goodwin of Portsmouth, were re-elected Directors.

The report of the receipts and expenditures of the road showed a falling off of between three and four per cent. of the income, since its lease to the Eastern. Mr. Russ of Boston made some remarks relative to the legality of the lease of the P. S. & P. to the Eastern and moved that the contract be published in the annual report. Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett moved that Mr. Russ' motion be laid on the table, but subsequently withdrew the motion. President Lothrop and Directors Goodwin and Williams sustained the action of the Road, remarking that the contract should not be made public any more than a private contract made by Mr. Russ, which he would not have known to the world. Mr. Russ replied that any honest contract would bear publication.

A vote on Mr. Russ' motion resulted in 288 yeas and 1314 nays.

President Lothrop read the act passed by the last legislature of Maine relative to the extension of and depot accommodations of the P. S. & P. in Portland. On a motion of George W. Kittredge of Newmarket, it was accepted.

A MIGHTY ENTERPRISE.—A scheme is now on foot for running a tunnel through the Rocky Mountains. This may seem a prodigious enterprise at first to the casual reader, but the parties who have the matter in hand are sanguine of the most complete success. The idea is to tunnel the mountains from a point about one mile below Black Hawk to the Middle Park, running in a northwesterly direction. The tunnel to be run will, it is presumed, cut many rich veins of gold and silver, and thus a great mining interest be developed. Money for the prosecution of the work is furnished by English capitalists, who are sanguine of the ultimate success of the enterprise. Some idea of the magnitude of the task may be gathered from the fact that the tunnel, if completed, will be 12 miles in length. It is intended to make it large, to be used for railway purposes, and so, if a road is ever to be constructed to the Middle Park, it will find its most convenient route through the tunnel. It will be called the Sierra Madre Tunnel Company, and the incorporation papers for its organization have been filed.

MYSTERIOUS FATE OF A SCHOONER'S CREW.—On the 28th of March a vessel, apparently an American fishing schooner, bottom up, drifted into Dunfsic Cove, N. F., sixteen miles from Fortune; all of the upper works were destroyed. In the forecastle the body of a man, much decomposed, was found. There were no masks on the remains, and there were no traces of the crew. On a finkin was the following, written with a lead pencil: "Schooner Thorwalsden, Capt. G. Phillips, Gloucester, Mass.; finished sixth of February with herring; went into Jacks the same evening; bound home; all well; A. E. M. McEachen; Joseph Fritz, Gloucester, Mass."

FORTUNE IN MISFORTUNE.—On one occasion, Charles Dickens was upholding the theory that whatever trials and difficulties might stand in a man's path, there is always something to be thankful for. "Let me, in proof thereof," said Dickens, "relate a story. Two men were to be hanged at Newgate for murder. The morning arrived; the hour approached; the bells of St. Sepulchre's began to toll; the convicts were pinioned; the procession was formed; it advanced to the fatal beam; the ropes were adjusted around the poor men's necks; there were thousands of motley sight-seers of both sexes, of all ages, men, women and children, in front of the scaffold—when, just at that second of time, a bull, which was driven to Smithfield, broke its rope and charged the mob right and left, scattering people right and left with its horns. Whereupon one of the condemned men turned to his equally unfortunate companion, and quietly observed, 'I say, Jack, it's a good thing we ain't in that crowd!'"

HOW BOYS ARE LOST.—A five-year-old boy, who attends the primary school, one day failed to come home at the usual hour, much to the alarm of the household, and after a long search he was found, some time after dark, at the depot. And this was his explanation of the circumstance: "I'll tell you, mamma, how it happened. After school I went part way home with Mary —, and at the corner of a street where she left me, I kissed her, and she kissed me, and then I found I was lost." It is suspected that this is not the first young gentleman who has been lost under similar circumstances but they do not always go straight home and tell mother all about it.

—A nicely-dressed gentleman applied for a marriage license at Dover, Tenn., last week, but, when he spoke the lady's name, the polite county clerk suggested that if it was all the same to him, he would prefer that he should name some other party, as the one mentioned had become his wife the previous evening.

Tarrant's Seltzer Aperient.

THREE WARNINGS.—A Sick Stomach—an Aching Head—and considerable general debility, are three warnings which it is madness to disregard. Dangerous diseases may be expected to follow them if not arrested without delay. Tone the relaxed stomach, calm the excited brain, invigorate the Nervous system, and regulate the bowels, with

Tarrant's Effervescent Seltzer Aperient

If you wish to escape the evils which the premonitory symptoms indicate. How many consuming fevers, violent bilious attacks, nervous paroxysms, and other terrible ailments might be prevented if the agreeable and incomparable Saline Tonic and Alterative were always taken in time! MARSTON & FREEMAN.

Strawberry Bank.

Mr. Thomas J. Lasier, the genial editor of the Claremont Eagle, has been visiting hereabouts and says:—

Portsmouth, splendid and grand in its old age, does not show much change from what it was ten years ago. The residences of the Wentworths, Langdons and other historic New Hampshire families always have and always must create the spirit of envy and desire of possession. Every visitor to Portsmouth naturally wishes he had one of "those places." The "Rambles about Portsmouth," by the way, is a highly interesting description of all important places and historical incidents in ancient Portsmouth. The drive to Rye Beach is a delightful ride, and particular interesting if you don't know the way, but have a "honnery" now and then as a guide-post. A saw-mill here and there helps the traveller some. The destruction of the Ocean House, last winter, creates a vacancy at Rye which the present season's visitors will wait filled. The hotel was situated very close to the roaring billows, and was very popular. The former proprietor, Mr. Jenness, does not intend to rebuild.

Laconics.

Dr. C. A. Norton, who will be absent from the city this week, in attendance on the homeopathic national convention at Cleveland, Ohio, has made arrangements with Dr. Cummings of Newburyport to attend to his patients until his return, and orders may be left at his office on Congress street, as usual.

The concert advertised to be given by Mr. Moses, Wednesday evening, June 4th, is unavoidably postponed to Thursday evening, June 12th. Programmes will be circulated a few days previous.

There never was a larger Sunday business done by our stable keepers than is being transacted this year. In connection with this statement we may mention as a singular fact, well vouched for by a business man, that business in Portsmouth has been 25 per cent. less this year than it was last year. This refers to the matter of trading alone, however, for mechanics were never in greater demand nor harder to get, than they have been during the last two months.

The legislature meets to-morrow. The Franklin Journal is of the opinion that Hon. James W. Emery of this city will be chosen Speaker of the House.

We thought the editor of Foster's (Dover) Democrat had improved since he left Portsmouth and had become a roaring advocate of the enforcement of the prohibitory law; but just listen to him in the Democrat of May 31, in reference to the deepening of the Cocheco river. He complains that the sum ($10,000) appropriated only allows the contractors to "get ready" to do anything, and concludes by saying:—

What is wanted is the necessary round rum all at once and make an end of this business sometime before the final crash of worlds.

Rev. I. F. Waterhouse of Clinton, Mass., has finally decided to accept the call to labor in the interests of the Children's Mission in Boston, at No. 277 Tremont street.

The season is just about ten days behind that of last spring. The apple blossoms commenced to fall last year on the 24th or 25th of May. Now they are not fully blown. On Friday night of last week a heavy frost appeared in the low lands in this vicinity, not encroaching sufficiently upon the high lands to cause any damage to vegetation, however.

Among the graduating class at the Naval Academy is W. W. Winder of this city, a grandson of Hon. Ichabod Goodwin.

The loss of Messrs. Barnabee & Winch at the Boston fire was but $4500. They have secured elegant new rooms at 296 Washington street.

The trial of Wagner will commence next Monday.

The Advertiser says 29,200 tickets to Barnum's show were sold in Portland, and Barnum cleared $13,000 in one day. He cleared $2500 in Portsmouth.

White linen suits promise to be fashionable among ladies at the seaside and in the country this Summer. They are trimmed with lace or embroidery, the latter stamped on the waist and skirt.

Hon. Ezra A. Stevens and Col. John H. Jackson, of the Boston committee of Sons, were in town on Monday, arranging with Chief Marshal Sise the preliminaries for the reception on the Fourth of July.

Meeting of the citizens' general committee on Reception of the Sons, this evening, at the Common Council Rooms.

While driving a double team up Islington street, Monday afternoon, Mr. John Bristroff alarmed the horses quickly, at Union street, and the carriage was upset, spilling Mr. Bristroff and a companion out. Mr. Bristroff held on to the reins and was dragged swiftly through the dust until the horses were stopped at Dover street. Both men were considerably hurt.

Owing to an accident, the Starbird concert, advertised for Monday evening, did not come off.

Mrs. S. C. Jewell, the clairvoyant physician, may be found at No. 13 Court street on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Rev. Alva H. Morrill pastor of the Christian Church of Rye, baptized six persons last sabbath at the beach.

Houses in the Street.

Messrs. Editors:—On the night of the fire at the Hayes farm I was driving into town at a brisk pace, and on reaching the foot of the hill at the Creek was surprised to find a house in the middle of the road, with no light up to warn travellers of its position. I barely managed to check my horse in time to prevent a collision, and crept safely around beside the obstruction. On Sunday last I found another building, or part of a building, blocking the sidewalk and partially blocking the road, near Alton's store at the Creek; and I was told that it had been there several days, and occasioned a collision and the throwing of a man and his wife from a wagon, on the Friday preceding. If our city fathers give permission to any parties to block the streets by moving houses into them, they should at least insist that such buildings be lighted by lanterns when left out of doors all night, and that all reasonable haste be made in clearing the streets for the public.

DEATHS.

In this city May 29, MARCELLUS W. TRETHEWEY, aged 3 years, 7 months, 16 days, son of Dennis H & Ellen W. Trethewey.

Marcie is gone; that flower so dear
Now blossoms here no more;
No more his pleasant voice we hear
Around our cottage door.

Though here he cheered our social band,
Bound with the cords of love,
No more we take him by the hand
Until we meet above.

Let bending willows gently wave,
In shades of mourning dressed,
And flowers bloom around the grave
Where Marcie lies at rest.

His gentle spirit in its flight,
Borne on the wings of love,
Has passed to scenes of new delight
In purer climes above.

Transplanted to that sunny shore,
Beyond the darksome tomb,
Where youth and beauty fade no more,
Dressed in immortal bloom;

Encircled in the Saviour's arms,
In bliss divinely given,
Forever free from all alarms,
Now Marcie lives in heaven.

Portsmouth Savings Bank.

President, WILLIAM SIMES,

Treasurer, J. F. SHORES.

Deposits, $1,930,378.46.

The Treasurer would ask the attention of the Depositors to these notices.

1st, In July next, the regular Five Years Extra Dividend will be declared.

2, From the 3d day of July to the 20th day of August, the books will be in the hands of a committee to examine the accounts and cast the Dividends thereon, during which time no Withdrawals can be made; therefore, the treasurer requests all depositors needing money during that interval to withdraw it on the 1st, 2nd, or 3d of July, as they can do it on those days without affecting the dividends.

3d. Deposits will be received as usual, while the books are in the hands of the Committee.

4th, The regular and extra dividends can be added to the Depositors' books after the 20th day of August and can then be withdrawn, if so desired; but if allowed to remain, the interest on those dividends will be cast from the 1st day of July.

5th, This bank pays to its Depositors interest semi-annually at the rate of Five per cent. per annum free of all taxes, and that interest compounds every six months.

6th, Interest on new deposits commences on the first day of each and every month, and all deposits made on the first three days of each month draw interest from the first day of that month.

SEWING MACHINE SALES

FOR 1872.

BY comparison of Statistics from sworn returns of the sales of Sewing Machines for 1871 and 1872, it appears that

THE "DOMESTIC"

SEWING MACHINE CO.'s sales have increased over 375 per cent., while no other Co.'s sales have increased over 36 per cent., proving the great popularity of the "DOMESTIC."

Annexed are the percentage of gain, of the leading makers:

Domestic Sewing Machine Co.,	gain 375	per cent
Wheeler & Wilson "	" 36	"
Singer "	" 33	"
Grover & Baker "	" 5	"
Weed "	" 6	"
Wilcox & Gibbs "	" 12	"
Wilson "	" 8	"

Other Machines Co.'s sales show a loss over the year before.

If the increase in sales be any criterion of merit, the "DOMESTIC" bears the palm.

The "DOMESTIC" works so easy, it is working itself into every family.

The "DOMESTIC" runs so light, it is distancing all competitors. It only asks a few days trial.

The "DOMESTIC" is recommend by the Medical Faculty.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commr. of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

IRON in the BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, DROPSY, HUMORS,

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes the Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an alimental, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been charged by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women: and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

Sonoma Wine Bitters

are the BEST to use to counteract the debilitating effects of SPRING and yearly SUMMER. They are MILD AND PLEASANT IN THEIR EFFECTS, and no change in diet is needed.

EVERYBODY CAN TAKE THEM:

Man, Woman or Child!

They are made with PURE, SOFT, MILD WINE, and choice Plants and Roots, are Delicious to the Taste and Delightful in Aroma, while the strong, fiery spirit, so prominent in most other Bitters, is lacking.

SONOMA WINE BITTERS

have been used for years, not only in the United States but in the British Provinces, West Coast of South America, Sandwich Islands, the East and West Indies, and Austria, and are recognized as the Best Painkiller, Healthy and Appetizing Bitters in the market.

Sonoma Wine Bitters

are Medicinal and Invigorating, cleansing the blood, and giving a healthy tone to the entire system. Ladies and Children will find therein a most agreeable Tonic. Try them, and you will use no other.

A CORNERED LEGISLATOR.—A gentleman who now occupies a seat in the upper branch of the New York legislature, but at the time was a member of the Assembly, relates the following:

"Perkins was as honest a man as ever set foot in Albany. Money wouldn't buy him, and I knew it, but I thought I would have a little fun with him, so I went down to his room one evening and said 'Perkins, what do you think of that underground railroad bill? Are you going to vote for it?'

'Well,' said Perkins, 'I haven't made up my mind yet, exactly. I am inclined to think it is a good bill; but why do you ask?'

'I thought you were in favor of it,' said I, 'and as long as you have concluded to vote for it, I just wanted to say to you that the men interested in it are paying five hundred dollars for votes, and as it comes up on its final passage to-morrow, you can just as well have the money as not; you'll vote for the bill, anyway.'

'Vote for the bill! I'll be hanged first,' cried the irate Perkins. 'No, sir. If improper means are being taken to pass this thing, as you say, I for one will vote against it every time. You can put me down 'no.'

'O, I don't care anything about the bill,' said I. 'I was only trying to do you a favor, and I think I can yet, for to tell the truth the rival companies are here in full force and are moving heaven and earth to defeat it. They are paying the same amount for 'noes' and as long as you are bound to vote that way, I'll get you the five hundred dollars all the same.'

'Can such things be,' exclaimed Perkins, rising from his seat and tearing up and down the room in a whirlwind of righteous wrath and virtuous indignation. 'What a state of things this is! A plague on both of your houses, I won't vote at all!'

'All right,' said I as I laid my hand on the door, 'I'll get you five hundred dollars for being absent.'"

And as the jolly Senator brought to mind the horror of perplexity in which this last proposition involved old Perkins, he roared with laughter.—Albany (N. Y.) Times.

COURTING AMONG ENGLISH EMIGRANTS IN AUSTRALIA.—"How did you manage to win her affections so quickly, Dan? The recipe's worth knowing." "Oh, that was simple enough," replied he; "the first night I arrived at the lodging house in Auckland I found myself sitting next to a young lady at supper, who I soon found to be one of the newly arrived emigrants. I looked her over, and saw she was a round, strong, chery-looking lass, with a laughing face, and thought she'd do. I didn't know how to go foolin' round her—as I am certain you would have done, sir, no offense to you—but just spoke a word or two with her, and when we came into the passage gave her a squeeze and a kiss. She says, 'How dare you?' Says I, 'I want to marry you, my dear.' 'Marry me?' cries she, laughing; 'why, I don't know you!' 'No more do I know you, my dear,' says I, 'so that makes it all fair and equal.' She didn't know how to put a clapper on that, so she laughed, and said she couldn't think of it. 'Not think of it,' says I, artful like, 'not when you have come all these thousands of miles for the purpose?' 'What do you mean?' says she, staring. 'Come now,' says I, 'don't tell me; I know what's what. When a man emigrationizes it's to get married. You may as do it at once.' Well, she giggled a bit, and we were spliced two days afterwards."

IMPURITY OF DRINKING WATER. Set a pitcher of iced water in a room inhabited, says a writer in To-Day, and in a few hours it will have absorbed nearly all the perspired gases of the room, the air of which will have become purer, but the water utterly filthy. This depends on the fact that water has the faculty of condensing and thereby absorbing nearly all the gases, which it does without increasing its own bulk. The colder the water is, the greater its capacity to contain these gases. At ordinary temperature, a pint of water will contain a pint of carbonic acid gas and several pints of ammonia. This capacity is nearly doubled by reducing the temperature to that of ice. Hence water kept in the room awhile is always unfit for use and should be often removed, whether it has become warm or not. And for the same reason water in a pump should all be pumped out in the morning before any is used. That which has stood in a pitcher over night is not fit for coffee water in the morning. Impure water is more injurious to health than impure air, and every person should provide the means of obtaining fresh and pure water for all domestic uses.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 4, 1873.

End of the Modoc War.

On Sunday morning, the Warm Spring scouts struck a trail and after a brief search the Modocs were discovered. Suddenly a Modoc shot out from the rocks with a white flag. He met a Warm Spring and said Captain Jack wanted to surrender. Three scouts were sent to meet Jack. He came out cautiously, glanced about him a moment, and then, as if giving up all hopes, came forward and held out his hand to his visitors. Then two of his warriors, five squaws and seven children, darted forth and joined him in the surrender. The command that made this famous scout was the squadron of first cavalry, Colonel D. Perry, composed of troop F, Lieutenant Miller, and troop H, Major Trumbull, and medical officer Assistant Surgeon Dewitt. The guides were C. Pullman and H. A. Applegate.

Captain Jack is about 40 years old. He is five feet eight inches high, and is compactly built. He has a large and well-formed face, full of individuality. Spectators peer into his face with eager interest, but he heeds them not.

The Texas legislature has at last overthrown the common school system of that State, in spite of Governor Davis.

Tweed's trial is postponed until October on account of the sickness of Mr. Graham, one of his counsel.

A somnambulist in Haverhill, Mass., gets up and does the week's washing, returning to bed by 5 A. M.; but last Tuesday he rather overdid the the business by washing again the clothes which he had washed on Monday, so that his wife, finding him too useful by half, has taken precaution to check his propensity.

On Saturday afternoon, while a freight train on the Dedham Branch Railroad was stopping at Readville, Mass., an insane Indian, with open knife in hand, sprang upon the engine, from which the engineer and fireman, who had been observing his motions, speedily leaped, leaving him master of the situation. The Indian seized the long poker used by the fireman and drove the conductor and brakeman from the train. This done he made frantic efforts to start the locomotive, but did not succeed. Finally he was coaxed to leave the engine, and another Indian was obtained from a small band encamping in the vicinity, who, leaping upon the back of the lunatic, secured him.

The mother of McCarthy, who killed Mordecai in the late duel at Richmond, is called a "Spartan mother" by the correspondents because she urged her son to challenge Mordecai, offering to carry the cartel herself if no one else would.

The humorist of the Danbury News sensibly declines an invitation, backed up by abundant shekels, to go to Gotham. He says New York likes fresh oranges, but it very quickly sucks them dry and throws them away.

Mr. Bonner challenged the world to produce a horse that would beat Dexter, and then went to work and produced the animal himself. His mare Pocahontas made a half mile in one minute seven and a quarter seconds, on Tuesday—it being the fastest half mile ever trotted.

The Princess of Wales' last infant lived only a few minutes, and yet was called Alexander John Charles Albert.

The late Mr. Hampton Elliot, of New Orleans, was a very jolly person through life, and dying he wanted his little joke. He was worth $100,000, but as he had separated from his wife and was without heirs, he was at liberty to do what he pleased with the property. So he made three wills, one in favor of his bosom friend of the male sex, and the others in favor of two widows of his acquaintance. The consequence is that there are now four contestants in the field, one being the slighted wife. It is regretted that the testamentary joker is debarred enjoying the row.

It appears that Colonel MacKenzie was specially chosen for duty on the Texas frontier, and that his orders were substantially to punish maranders from Mexico even if he had to cross the line to do it. He will, therefore, be upheld in his recent raid, and any similar expeditions which may be found necessary in future.

Alfred Poor was run over and killed at East Somerville, Mass., on Tuesday, while trying to get on a train after it started.

Mansfield Tracy Walworth, son of Chancellor Walworth, was shot dead on Tuesday, at the Sturtevant House, New York, by his own son, Frank H. Walworth, who is but 19 years old. Domestic trouble was the cause of the tragedy, and Mr. Walworth had been separated three years from his wife. Frank Walworth went to New York from Saratoga evidently for the express purpose of murdering his father, and after firing four shots went to the police station and gave himself up.

A dispatch from Shanghae gives some particulars of the capture by the Imperial Chinese forces of the city of Taleefoo, the capital of a Mohammedan State in the province of Yunnan, in the southwestern part of China. The victorious forces fell upon their captives and massacred 30,000 of them. The Sultan poisoned himself, preferring death by his own hands to falling into the power of his enemies.

WHAT IS AN HONORABLE PHYSICIAN? The New York Evening Post comments upon the decision of the board of trial of the Massachusetts Medical Society, recommending the expulsion of certain members "for conduct unbecoming and unworthy an honorable physician, by practising Homœopathy," and wants to know what constitutes an honorable physician. Upon this thing it remarks:

"If this judgment is to be law in medicine, why may not the lines be drawn still straighter, demanding a return to the old practice of emetics and starvation? Why not banish cold water, air and exercise for patients? May we also suggest that it would do well to have a standard measure for doses of medicine, for fear that tender-hearted doctors may treat their patients homœopathically even in allopathic medicine? While we are about it, let us fix the standard of 'honorable' orthodoxy in dress so acutely that no wretch of a physician who has a mind or a theory of his own can endanger the profession for the sake of his patient. Let us establish the fact beyond doubt that a man who may be cured by an heretical or 'dishonorable' treatment is not cured, though he may live to the age of Methuselah, and that the man who dies under the schedule treatment, by weight and measure, will live in spite of natural appearances."

THE POSTAL CARD is a greater blessing than most people are aware of. In an economical point of view there is nothing like it. For example, consider the following points: The cost of a good sheet of paper and a respectable envelope is at least two cents; time expended in writing, one cent; stamp, three cents; making in all six cents. Now, three-fourths of the letters that are written may as well be sent in the post card shape as in a sealed form, and in a great city where ten thousand, or more, are mailed every day, there may be a saving on one thousand, of twenty dollars or more, or $1,500 per week. To be within limits, we will say it is a saving of $75,000 a year. Then, again, if four thousand out of five thousand letters sent are postal cards, there are four thousand human tongues exempted from the vulgar performance of licking the mucilage on an envelope, and following that up by taking in the gum of the stamp. The double process of licking makes eight thousand laps for four thousand tongues, which is an item sure enough. If one tongue had it all to do—and it would be a good way to employ some tongues—not over ten letters a minute could be gummed and got ready for mailing. That would be six hundred an hour, and it would take nearly twelve hours to finish up eight thousand. Under such circumstances one might well exclaim with the poet:

"Oh, for a thousand tongues!"

Now all this labor we have mentioned may be saved, and people can, if they choose, send just as many letters, have more time and money, and if they like take their mucilage in gum-drops by the quantity, and use their tongues for other purposes.

RAILROAD MATTERS.—The Portland correspondent of the New York Tribune sends that paper the following in relation to the Maine Central and other railroads connected with it:—

One of the most important railroad transactions that has lately, or, perhaps, ever occurred in New England, has been begun here by the lease of the Maine Central and its branches, comprising more than 300 miles of track, to the Eastern Railroad. The next step will be the narrowing of the gauge of the European and North American Railroad, and the leasing of the road by the same parties; this, it is predicted, will take place within the next 60 days.

This lease is upon a basis more satisfactory to the Eastern road than any former arrangements as to rates of freight and fares, and also gives a large return to the owners of the road, each of whom, from the time of their purchase, made a fortune out of it. This single transaction is but one link in a great plan for a through route from Halifax to New York.

The lease of the European & North American Road is not yet executed, but beyond all doubt, it is definitely settled. The extension of the consolidated line beyond St. John, N. B., will be readily accomplished when the required consent of the Dominion Government is obtained. One or two Massachusetts roads are in the movement and the Boston, Hartford & Erie (the new ownership) is understood to be fully committed to the scheme. The best railroad men in this section declared today, that within twelve months, passengers will ride from Halifax to New York without change of cars. This action is the culmination of a great deal of scheming which has been a mystery to the average members of the Maine Legislature, and about which railroad men have felt very sure. It settles for years to come all questions of any more free competition between the Boston roads for the business of Middle and Eastern Maine, and sweeps everything into the channel indicated, and the movement is supported by capital sufficient to crush out any opposition that can at present threaten. The whole Eastern public await with deep interest, and not without solicitude and forebodings to see what the business policy of the new consolidated power shall be.

THE ART OF APOLOGIZING.—Apologies for poor dinners are generally out of place. But when a lady has a forgetful husband, who without warning, brings home a dozen guests to sit down to a plain family dinner for three or four, it is not in human nature to keep absolute silence. What to say and how to say it, form the problem. Mrs. Tucker, the wife of Judge Tucker, of Williamsburg, solved this problem many years ago. She was the daughter or niece, (I am uncertain which) of Sir Peyton Skipwith, and celebrated for her beauty, ease and grace of manner. Her temper and tact were put to proof one court day, when the judge brought with him the accustomed half score of lawyers, for whom not the slightest preparation had been made, the judge having quite forgotten to remind his wife that it was court day, and she herself, strange to tell, having overlooked the fact. The dinner was served with elegance, and Mrs. Tucker made herself very charming. Upon rising to leave the guests to their wine she said: "Gentlemen, you have dined, to-day, with Judge Tucker; promise me now you will all dine, to-morrow, with me." This was all her apology, whereupon the gentlemen swore that such a wife was beyond price. The judge then explained the situation, and the next day there was a noble banquet.

A CARD FROM BEECHER.—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher issues the following card to a Brooklyn paper:—

Dear Sir:—I have maintained silence respecting the slanders which have for some time past followed me. I should not speak now but for the sake of relieving another of unjust imputation. The document which was recently published, bearing my name with others, was published without consultation either with me or with Mr. Tilton, nor with any authorization from us. If that document should lead the public to regard Mr. Tilton as the author of the calumnies to which it alludes, it will do him great injustice. I am unwilling that he should even seem to be responsible for injurious statements whose force was derived wholly from others.

FOREIGN INDORSEMENT OF THE STANDARD TONIC OF AMERICA.—There seems to be no limit to the celebrity of Hostetter's Bitters. Every year the demand for it increases and the territorial area of its popularity expands. It has long been the standard tonic, and an approved remedy for epidemic disease in the Republics of South and Central America, in Brazil and the West Indies and the British Colonies on this continent. More recently its merits have been appreciated at the antipodes, and it is now shipped in large quantities to Australia and Tasmania. The reason why it is so king such extraordinary headway in remote regions as well as in America, are very simple and lie in a nutshell. It is a medicine suited to all peoples, all climates and all ordinary disorders and disabilities. It prevents and cures malarious diseases, relieves indigestion, braces the nerves, improves the appetite, clears the brain, regulates the liver, arrests intermittent fever, strengthens the physique and invigorates the constitution.

NERVOUS AND SICK HEADACHE AND NEURALGIA — In almost every instance these diseases are produced by derangement of the digestive organs, and liver disease. Rarely, indeed, would any one suffer from these diseases, if they kept their bowels regular and digestion good by proper attention to the liver, which is the great governor of these functions. This can be done by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Discovery, with small daily doses of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets; they re-establish the action of the liver, thereby purifying and enriching the blood, and effectually removing the cause of those diseases. 683

HOMŒPATHIC COCOA, prepared under the most able homœopathic chemical advice, is freely allowed by physicians of that school, when a strict embargo is laid upon tea and coffee. Few who have tested the purity and exquisite aroma of this choice preparation will ever wish to resume the interdicted articles. Made by Walter Baker & Co., Boston, and for sale throughout the land.

Boys' S, P. C. A.

A small boy living on or near Cass street one day last week climbed a shade tree in which a pair of robins had built their nest, and threw two young birds he found therein to the ground. The outcry raised by the parent birds caused a rapid gathering of all the urchins in the neighborhood, and before the small robber could escape with his plunder he was surrounded by about the hottest kind of an indignation meeting, and numerous and vigorous denunciations and much contumely heaped upon his tow-head. Terrified at the unexpected storm he had raised, the nest-robber incontinently fled, but was pursued and brought back to the scene of his misdeed, and threatened with a variety of punishments, of which instant death was the least, if he did not restore the young birds to their nest and promise on his sacred honor never to steal young birds again. Eager to do anything and promise anything to save his scalp, the unhappy juvenile essayed to climb the tree and do the bidding of the vigilance commitee; but his tears and his terror, with the violent exercise of running away, had incapacitated him for gymnastic performances, so one of the other boys at length restored the little robins to their parents and the crowd dispersed. Whether this boys' society for the prevention of cruelty to animals was actuated by lofty motives, or its members were merely angry that the other boy had robbed the nest they intended to rob, we cannot say; but we prefer to entertain the former belief, and to regard this incident as a proof that even boys are not always wholly depraved.

Laconics.

The New England Christian convention met here on Tuesday and continues in session through to-day and tomorrow.

Rev. I. H. Coe of New Bedford, a member of the Senate of Massachusetts, will speak at the Sons of Temperance Hall, corner Market and Ladd streets, this (Wednesday) evening at 8 o'clock.

"Ye old music" of "lang syne," as rehearsed by the "old folks choir," stirs the pulses of all who hear it. Of course, everybody will go to the grand union concert next Monday evening.

The Republican Caucus

At Concord, Tuesday evening, nominated by acclamation for Speaker of the House Hon. James W. Emery of this city,—John Albin of Concord and Sulloway of Manchester withdrawing. Samuel C. Clark of Lake Village was nominated for Clerk, Charles C. Danforth of Concord for Assistant Clerk, and Charles H. Roberts for Sergeant-at-Arms.

A CONSCIENTIOUS THIEF.—The thief who penned the following, shows so much conscience and withal such a delicate kind of humor in his way of looking at his professional exploits, that we must do him the justice to print his letter:

NEW YORK CITY, May 22, 1873.

Rev. Edward Everett Hale, "Old and New:"

My Dear Sir,—Having just been released from a Short period of Confinement, I drop this to inform you if you want that nice overcoat ($50) which was Professionally abstracted from that noble Edifice the Boston Public Library last Feby you can find it at the first "Woodbinery" on Broadway in that part of the "Hub" known as So. Boston where it is "Up the Spout" for the trifling sum of $7.00—Just enough to enable me to reach my home in "America's great Metropolis," where they "wanted" me for three months. Just got out. Pray for me.

"METROPOLITAN."

BEECHER, BOWEN, TILTON.—Something more than a year ago, this trio entered into a solemn compact of reconciliation, concord, and silence. The custodian of this tripartite treaty now gives it to the world, but still leaves to be asked, What was this covenant all about? The publication simply piques curiosity.

Of course there are rumors in plenty. And there are certain unquestioned facts also. For instance: Once on a time, a paper called the Independent, ostensibly religious, with strong political and worldly proclivities, was published by Mr. Bowen, and edited by Mr. Beecher, with the aid of a sprightly, long-haired youth named Theodore Tilton. This Theodore, an impecunious lad, had been a protege and favorite young hopeful of Plymouth Church, by whose aid he was reared and educated with the view of employing his cultivated talents wherever they would do the most good—presumably, at the first, in the pulpit. He developed a talent for journalism of the peculiar type exhibited in the Independent. Hence his consecration to that work, and on that paper. Here it was that he first came into notice, outside of Plymouth Church.

Tilton married. He prospered. He succeeded Beecher as editor-in-chief. Bowen made much of him. It was not enough to give him control of the Independent, with a hand some salary, but he was installed as editor of the Brooklyn Union, Bowen's other paper, professedly secular and political, with another good salary. Tilton was now at the very zenith of success. But this good fortune was of brief duration. A sudden reverse of the wheel brought him from the zenith to the nadir. He was abruptly retired from the Independent. He was dropped from the Union. And yet Bowen bowed out the discharged Theodore with courtly compliments, and left the universe all in doubt about the cause of this sudden downfall.

Then Tilton started the Golden Age—a free-thinking weekly, with surprisingly radical proclivities on social and religious questions, and poor pecuniary outlook. He extended his acquaintance into free-love circles, and wrote the biography of the Woman with Two Husbands—the spiritual female who likewise mused on the housetops with the shade of Demosthenes. And scandals arose. Hidden griefs alleged to have been confidentially unfolded to the aforesaid female by the admiring Theodore were the simple of unbecoming reports concerning the chief man of the trio, to which an incredulous world turns a deaf ear—the accused remaining dumb.

And this brings us somewhere about to the date of the aforesaid tripartite compact—April 2, 1872. No more satisfactory reason is given for its publication now than for its execution at first. True, we are told that Bowen has not carried out, in good faith, his stipulation of silence. But what he has said, coming within the limits of prohibition, we do not know. Certainly he has made no public statement in violation of the obligation which "we three men, earnestly desiring to remove all causes of offense existing between us, real or fancied, and to make Christian reparation for injuries done or supposed to be done, and to efface the disturbed past, and provide concord, good-will, and love for the future," so solemnly entered into. Unless as preparatory to some real disclosures—an excuse for one of the three who has something burning on his mind that he now means to say—this revelation of the great covenant of concord and silence would seem to be without any adequate motive. People can only keep on asking, What was this all about?—with an occasional wonder what comes next.—Cin. Chron.

GRANGE WORK.—In a town out in Kansas, a farmer was taken seriously ill, unable to do his farm work. Seventeen of the "grangers" rigged their teams and broke up twenty-seven acres of ground, and left it for planting. There is something practical in that kind of grange-work, and it has a smack of brotherly kindness in it that would make most any half decent man want to become a farmer and a granger.—Globe.

RYE COFFEE.—A stranger, named Beckmann-Olofien, has prepared a substitute for coffee by taking pulverized and roasted rye malt, mixing with it one-twentieth its weight of barely malt and some caramel, and exposing it to the vapor from roasting genuine coffee. In this manner part of the aroma always lost in roasting coffee is made use of to flavor the rye coffee. If we accept the conclusions of Aubert, that no caffeine is lost in roasting, the rye coffee has none of the poisonous properties of this alkaloid, and is preferable to the genuine. The discovery is said to have been already patented in England.

—"The times demand," says the report of the Labor Bureau, "the introduction into our methods of education of systematic technical education, so that when we send out of our schools, at the age of fourteen years, boys and girls with a fair mental education, they shall have been likewise educated for some of the practical business of life instead of being, as they now are, additions to the large army already existing of apprentice students, so to speak, preparing for some life-supporting employment. This work we should begin at once, for it will take a quarter of a century to get the system under good headway."

There are two of them, Messrs. Wise and Donaldson, who will do the Atlantic in their balloons on the Fourth of July. They will travel on the "air current" basis, but as they have not yet discovered a means of elevating and depressing the balloon without loss of gas and ballast, they have every reasonable expectation of being drowned. By the way, if they would take along Sergeant Bates to carry the flag, and O'Kelley to write the trip up, and would deserve well of their country.—Cin. Chron.

—A noted horse jockey "Down East," was awakened one night by a violent thunder storm. Being somewhat timid, he awoke his wife with: "Wife! Wife! do you suppose the Day of Judgment has come?" "Shut up, you fool!" was the affectionate reply. "How can the Day of Judgment come in the night?"

—The Texas Advertiser sharply criticised a public lecturer, and the man called and performed a kicking operation, although he was eventually jammed over a keg of lak and dragged off insensible.

—Lydia Thompson made more than $100,000 by her last season in this country.—a London newspaper asserts.

—An insane woman in Iowa had all her teeth pulled out and told the dentist to send his bill to General Grant.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Portsmouth Savings Bank.

President, WILLIAM SIMES,

Treasurer, J. F. SHORES.

Deposits, $1,930,378.46.

The Treasurer would ask the attention of the Depositors to these notices.

1st, In July next, the regular Five Years Extra Dividend will be declared.

2, From the 31 day of July to the 20th day of August, the books will be in the hands of a committee to examine the accounts and cast the Dividends thereon, during which time no Withdrawals can be made; therefore, the treasurer requests all depositors needing money during that interval to withdraw it on the 1st, 2nd, or 3d of July, as they can do it on those days without affecting the dividends.

3d. Deposits will be received as usual, while the books are in the hands of the Committee.

4th, The regular and extra dividends can be added to the Depositors' books after the 20th day of August and can then be withdrawn, if so desired; but if allowed to remain, the interest on those dividends will be cast from the 1st day of July.

5th, This bank pays to its Depositors interest semi-annually at the rate of Five per cent. per annum free of all taxes, and that interest compounds every six months.

6th, Interest on new deposits commences on the first day of each and every month, and all deposits made on the first three days of each month draw interest from the first day of that month.

SEWING MACHINE SALES

FOR 1872.

BY comparison of Statistics from sworn returns of the sales of Sewing Machines for 1871 and 1872, it shows that the

"DOMESTIC"

SEWING MACHINE CO.'s sales have increased over 375 per cent., while no other Co.'s sales have increased over 36 per cent., proving the great popularity of the "DOMESTIC."

Annexed are the percentage of gain, of the leading makers:

Domestic Sewing Machine Co.,	gain	375	per cent
Wheeler & Wilson	"	" 36	"
Singer	"	" 22	"
Grover & Baker	"	" 5	"
Weed	"	" 8	"
Wilcox & Gibbs	"	" 12	"
Wilson	"	" 8	"

Other Machines Co.'s' raise show a loss over the year before.

If the increase in sales be any criterion of merit, the "DOMESTIC" bears the palm.

The "DOMESTIC" works so easy, it is working itself into every family.

The "DOMESTIC" runs so light, it is distancing all competitors. It only asks a few days trial.

The "DOMESTIC" is recommend by the Medical Faculty.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. S. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine or cons. Validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

IRON in the BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, DROPSY, HUMORS,

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes the Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested, and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, reaching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women: and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

ORCHARDS.—We are gradually progressing and yearly learning to better and better understand our climates and soils, our trees and vines; and as we progress and come to a right knowledge we throw away much of our early-day teachings that were brought to us from across the broad ocean. Our vine-growers commencing with their vines at three to four feet, have gradually expanded them, until now the majority of planters give to them eight by ten or twelve, and some even more, according to the soil and the habit of the sort. So, also, beginning with severe winter and summer pruning, from which they obtained a little fruit, sunburnt and half ripened, and produced various diseases in the system of the vine, they have come to a knowledge of the vine's nature, and by almost leaving it alone are rewarded with luscious fruit and healthy foliage. In the apple and pear orchard we have been brought to place the first from thirty-five to forty feet apart, and the latter twenty-five to thirty, thus subjecting them to all the terrible heat of the sun's rays, in a long, hot, summer's drought, and to stand as if it were alone, and brave singly the storms of wind that winter and spring bend their tops, and crack and tear loose by leverage their roots.

We have long been impressed with the view that these old advices of distance were erroneous, and our readers will bear us witness that we have before now advised a closer planting, and as a break, also, and aid toward shielding our fruit trees, the intermingling more of trees in the orchard of evergreens.

Our own practice has been most successful in apple orchards at twelve by sixteen feet, and we have known the best results from a like distance by some extensive orchards in the west. For two years we have doubted if even this distance had not better be reduced, and in exposed, bleak, wintry situations, on prairies or bluffs, we are satisfied it had. The closer trees are planted to each other, the more do they assist each other in breaking the force of the wind, and in gradually ameliorating the climate. They will sooner shield and shade the ground and their roots; retaining thereby a greater relative proportion of moisture and food, they will come sooner into maturing and fruiting their blossoms; and as they increase in size will require the rough bark that comes with maturity and belongs to them in health, so that as they become too thick for the light to keep them round and full in contour and extension of branch, they will be the better enabled to stand alone, while the fruit that has been gathered from the trees requiring removal will be found to have more than repaid the first cost of the whole orchard.

Were we to plant an apple orchard to-day, we think we should set our trees ten by fifteen feet, and if of standard pears ten by ten feet, if of dwarf pears or apples six by eight, and we would use occasionally an evergreen tree of some hardy variety in the place of a fruit tree.—Horticulturist.

THE BATTLE OF WINCHESTER.—The Indianapolis Journal says: During General Sheridan's stay here he was conversing with a few friends touching his military experiences and campaigns, when he said: "There is a mighty sight of romance and a great many interesting episodes connected with the war that the historians never got hold of. For instance, there has been a great deal said about the battle of Winchester, a little affair in which I had a hand. Well, it was a pretty square fight, but do you know that battle was fought on the strength of information which I obtained from a young lady in the town of Winchester, and if the rebels had known she was giving it to me they would have hung her in a minute? I was very anxious to get information of the rebel strength and movements, so as to know just when and where to strike them, but I did not know how to get it. Finally I heard of a Union young lady in Winchester who could be relied upon if I could get word to her. Her name was Miss Wright. I think she is in the Treasury Department at Washington. But the trouble was to communicate with her. One day I heard of an old colored man, living outside of my lines, who had a pass to go into Winchester to sell vegetables. I sent for the old man, and on talking with him found him loyal, as all the colored folks were, you know. Finding he could keep a secret, I asked him if he would undertake to deliver a letter to a young lady in Winchester. The old fellow said he would; so I wrote a letter on thin tissue paper, and rolled it up in tin foil. It made a ball about as big as the end of your thumb, and I told the old man to put it in his mouth and deliver to Miss Wright in Winchester. He went off, and in about two days came back with an answer rolled up in the same piece of tin foil. I found I struck a mighty good lead, and I followed it carefully till I got all the information I wanted. She gave me more important information than I got from all other sources, and I planned the battle of Winchester almost entirely on what I got from her. She was a nice girl, and true as steel."

THURSDAY, JUNE 5, 1873.

The Barry Divorce Case.

Public singers like actors and actresses often come to grief, and, entering public life with high hopes, are liable to achieve notoriety rather than fame. A few months since, Mr. Chas. A. Barry, a Boston artist, husband of Mrs. Flora E. Barry, entered a suit against his wife, in the Massachusetts courts, for a divorce, charging adultery on her part with her first husband, Joseph Stockton Cary, and a Mr. Torrens. Mrs. Barry is the well known popular singer who delighted Portsmouth audiences with her renderings of Scotch ballads several years ago, before her divorce from Capt. Cary, and our readers can but hear with regret the course matters have taken.

In 1868 Mrs. Cary was divorced from her first husband, and eight weeks afterward married Mr. Barry. Last November, a separation took place. Mr. Barry leaving her on the plea that the expenses of living with her were too great, although she paid most of them. She appeared in the Supreme Court on Tuesday asking for means to defend herself, her counsel being Gen. B. F. Butler and E. L. Barney, while G. A. Somerby represented Mr. Barry.

Mrs. Barry testified that Mr. Barry made no charge of misconduct when he left her. He told her before they were married, he could earn $250 per week. She was earning $2500 per year. Of late he had persecuted her. She made an engagement to sing at the Old South church and Mr. Barry went to the committee, told false stories about her and she lost the place. Again, she was engaged with a quartette and he told the head of the so-called singer that Mrs. Barry was insane to him. That gentleman then refused to allow his wife to sing with her and she lost several engagements thereby. Mr. Barry also wrote to Dr. Potter of Grace church, New York, telling his story. On the 14th of March last, after Mr. Barry had left her, she went to hear Mr. Bellew read at Music Hall, having a lady companion with her. Seeing Mr. Barry as they came out, and being afraid of him, they walked up Park street; he followed, and her friend called to Capt. Cary, who was near, to protect them. He then escorted them home. On reaching Chandler street, where she lives, Mr. Barry struck Capt. Cary and also struck her. She declared that she could not live with him as he interferes with her business and has made public statements charging her with infidelity.

Mr. Barry testified that he paid most of the bills before the separation; that his income was $2300 per annum; that he complained to her six months before he left her, for kissing other men; that he had nothing to do with her discharge from the Old South choir and had never made any accusations as to her infidelity. He had told several people that his wife was going with Capt. Cary, and he began to believe in June last that she was committing adultery. He did not know the charge to be true.

Gen. Butler then addressed the court on the question of alimony. Mrs. Barry, he said, was making $2500 a year, and the fact cannot be sworn out of sight that her husband went to places where she had engagements and told that she was lying in adultery (which was utterly false,) causing her to lose her engagements. The effect of his action has been that she is entirely deprived of her means of support.

The court decided that the husband should make weekly payments at the rate of $1000 a year for the support of Mrs. Barry, and should also pay her $150 for counsel fees.

It is evident that in this deplorable affair both parties may be blamable. If Mrs. Cary had sufficient reason for being divorced from her first husband, she certainly made a mistake in her second selection. However careless her actions may have been, her present husband should not have given her cause to compare him unfavorably with Mr. Cary, and in no case does the law, custom or common sense justify any man in striking a woman, more especially one whom he is bound by the marriage tie to love and honor. In this unfortunate matrimonial quarrel, Mrs. Barry will naturally have the sympathy of all who do not believe that woman's sole duty is to "obey," and who disbelieve in the idea that a husband's chief duty is to chastise.

The New York Tragedy.

A special dispatch from Saratoga says: The announcement of the shooting of Mansfield T. Walworth by his son Frank causes great excitement. Sympathy is felt here for Mrs. Walworth, who has been greatly wronged by her husband. Not satisfied with publishing a novel in which he claimed to have portrayed himself and wife, slandering her, he has been writing letters of a vile character to her. Some of these letters came to the hands of her son, who left suddenly without notice to his mother. The son has always maintained a high reputation.

The Legislature.

Both Houses were organized promptly on Wednesday. The Senate chose Hon. David A. Warde, of Concord, President; Luther S. Morrill, Concord, Clerk; Tyler Westgate, Haverhill, Asst. Clerk; and Zelot Stevens, Concord, Doorkeeper.

The House balloted for Speaker with the following result:—

Joseph Burroughs (dem.) of Plymouth had	147
James W. Emery (repub.) of Portsmouth	202

and Mr. Emery was elected.

On taking the chair, Speaker Emery made a short address, thanking the members for the honor.

The House completed its organization by choosing Samuel C. Clarke of Lake Village, Clerk; Chas. C. Danforth, Concord, Assistant Clerk; Col. Charles H. Roberts, Concord, Sergeant-at-Arms; Col. Charles H. Long, Claremont, Franklin G. Moody, Concord, and A. B. Farmer, Bow, Doorkeepers.

A committee of ten, of which Mr. Woodward of Keene was chairman, was appointed to select a chaplain. By authority of a resolution passed, the speaker appointed Henry P. Crowell of Londonderry and Sumner Keyes of Concord pages.

Mr. Kent of Portsmouth offered a resolution authorizing the clerk to procure for the use of the members any three daily papers published in New England that they might select. An amendment confining the choice to the three papers published in Concord was rejected, and the resolution of Mr. Kent was passed.

Fire at Newburyport.

Fire was discovered in the grist mill of J. B. & E. Knight, on Water street, Newburyport, Wednesday morning. The building and contents, including 10,000 bushels of grain and several hundred bags of meal, were destroyed. No insurance. In another building, N. D. Dodge & Bro., shoe manufacturers, suffered a loss of $3000 to $5000; fully insured. The total loss by the fire was between $25,000 and $30,000.

Mrs. General Robert E. Lee has visited Arlington. She is an invalid, and expressed a desire to visit the spot for the last time. She rode out from Alexandria, was helped out of her carriage, and walked through the house and about a portion of the grounds and through a portion of the cemetery. She was accompanied by a friend and a single servant.

A dispatch from Shanghae says that no lives were lost by the wreck of the steamship Drummond Castle on Chusan Island.

Every one has seen a little snake swallow a big frog, and observed what a lump it makes in its sleek rotundity. Well, a snake in the Pulaski Citizen swallowed a rabbit and then commenced crawling through a rail fence; and just as its head got fairly through it met another rabbit, and swallowed that. But neither of the rabbits could get through the rails, and there the snake rests to this day, as Mr. Macaulay would say—

"To witness if I lie."

The French, although not much given to exhibitions of grief, will wish one of these days, that they had never shed Thiers at all.

A THIEF KILLED.—In Windsor, Ontario, a criminal met with a sudden and awful death while endeavoring to escape the consequences of a crime he had just committed. The following are the circumstances:

Shortly after dinner Major Perkins, an old resident of Windsor, and for a long time past connected with the Custom-house, left his residence, which is a short distance back of the Town Hall, and, in company with his wife, started down-town, leaving the house securely locked. Major Perkins, between 3 and 4 o'clock, went home, expecting that his wife had returned, but found that she was still absent. He unlocked the front door, and upon walking into the dining-room was confronted by two men, who had, as it appeared from subsequent developments, effected an entrance through the back way for the purpose of robbing the house. One of the thieves made a dash for the back door, and effected his escape, but the Major, who is still a vigorous, powerful man, although advanced in years, was too quick for the other fellow, and seized him by the collar. The thief turned upon his adversary, and a fierce struggle took place. The Major used a heavy cane which he carried, with good effect, and the thief, although a young and active man, saw that he was becoming rapidly worsted. Summoning all his strength he broke away from his captor's grasp, and sprang through a large window opening out into the garden, smashing the glass and carrying the sash with him. He failed to clear the window, however, and Mr. Perkins grasped him by his right leg, the victim hanging head downward, with the upper portion of his body outside the window, utterly unable to extricate himself. It was two or three minutes before Major Perkins succeeded in pulling him back into the room, and then he discovered that his prisoner had been horribly cut in the right thigh by a sharp fragment of glass, which had severed the femoral artery. The blood spurted from the wound in great quantities, and it was evident that the thief had received a fatal hurt. Major Perkins ran into the street and called several persons who chanced to be passing, and also dispatched a messenger for a physician. Everything possible was done for the wounded man, but to no avail, as he bled to death in about twenty minutes from the time that he received his injury.

Before he died, however, he stated that his name was Philip Henley, and that he was from Dundas, Ontario, where his parents still reside. He frankly acknowledged that he and his "pal" took advantage of the absence of the family to rob the house. In a side pocket of his coat were found a valuable gold watch and chain, belonging to Mrs. Perkins, and also a quantity of silver forks and spoons, all of which he had secured before the unexpected return of Major Perkins. The body was taken to the Town Hall, where it was visited by hundreds of people. It will probably be sent to the dead man's friends in Dundas, if they can be found.

A CUTE LADY.—Lady Browne and I were as usual going to the Duchess of Munroe's at 7 o'clock. The evening was dark. In the close lane, under the park pale, and within twenty yards of the gate, a black figure pushed by between the chaise and the hedge on my side. I suspected it was a highwayman, and so I found did Browne, for she was speaking, and stopped. To divert her fears I was going to say, "Is not that the apothecary going to the Duchess?" when I heard a voice cry "Stop!" and then the figure came back to the chaise. I had the presence of mind, before I let down the glass, to take out my watch and stuff it within my dress under the arm. He said "Your purse and watches?" "I have no watch," I replied. "Then your purse." I gave it to him; it had nine guineas in it. It was so dark that I could not see his hand, but I felt him take it. He then asked for Lady Browne's purse, and said "Don't be frightened; I will not hurt you" "No, you won't frighten the lady," I said. "No, I give you my word I will not hurt you," he replied, Lady Browne gave him her purse, and was going to add her watch, but he said. "I am much obliged to you; I wish you good night," pulled off his hat and rode away. "Well," said I, "you will not be afraid of being robbed another time, for you see there is nothing in it." "Oh, but I am," she said; "and now I am in terror lest he return, for I have given him a purse with bad money that I carry on purpose."—Lady Walpole.

—The annual crop of caterpillars has appeared in Tennessee, and they have already begun their favorite amusement of blocking up the railroad trains until it is difficult for the cars to proceed on their way. The caterpillars may think this a very good joke, but we cannot see where the laugh comes in, as far as they are concerned. They may possibly be tickled to death at the idea of being run over by the heavy wheels of the cars, but we think they might find some more rational way of amusing themselves. Tennessee has enjoyed the exclusive right to these facetious caterpillars for some time, but Wisconsin is after her with a sharp stick in the shape of some thousands of snakes, which "crawl from their retreats in the swamps and lie in the sun across the warm rails until some passing train cuts them to pieces." We presume Wisconsin will wear the champion belt now until some other State, proud of distinction, will impede the railway trains with boa constrictors, which will put an end to all rivalry in this direction.

—"Boy, why did you take an armful of my shingles on Sunday?" "Why, sir, mother wanted some kindling wood, and I didn't want to split wood on Sunday."

FOREIGN INDORSEMENT OF THE STANDARD TONIC OF AMERICA.—There seems to be no limit to the celebrity of Hostetter's Bitters. Every year the demand for it increases and the territorial area of its popularity expands. It has long been the standard tonic, and an approved remedy for epidemic disease in the Republics of South and Central America, in Brazil and the West Indies and the British Colonies on this continent. More recently its merits have been appreciated at the antipodes, and it is now shipped in large quantities to Australia and Tasmania. The reason why it is making such extraordinary headway in remote regions as well as in America, are very simple and lie in a nutshell. It is a medicine suited to all peoples, all climates and all ordinary disorders and disabilities. It prevents and cures malarious diseases, relieves indigestion, braces the nerves, improves the appetite, clears the brain, regulates the liver, arrests intermittent fever, strengthens the physique and invigorates the constitution.

DON'T SLIGHT YOUR TEETH.—Remember that upon their labor, the health of the stomach depends. Keep them perfect, and, in order to do so, manipulate them with a brush dipped in the fragrant SOZODONT, once or twice a day.

BITTERS are all very well in their way, but it is a bad way if consumers purchase the fiery, spirituous beverages so generally vended as a harmless tonic. For many years past, the "SONOMA WINE BITTERS" have been thoroughly tested, and the proprietors—Jas. Dingley & Co., Boston—now offer them as not only free from the above objectionable traits, but as positively the most beneficial Tonic stimulant for spring and summer use.

Spring Cleaning.

The weather for the past week has been as cold as April. Some tell us that it is caused by the large quantity of snow "up back;" others attribute it to the failure of the "aurora borealis" to discount its peculiar rays so frequently, as he, she or it has been wont to do in former times, but we believe that as good a reason for this disagreeable weather as any that has been imparted to us, is, the absence of a sufficient amount of heat to dispel the cold. There! meteorological theorists and weather prognosticators, retire to the back seats of the arena of life and await your speedy dissolution. There remains no problem in this direction for you to solve, the ever-vexing question of the weather being thus effectually disposed of.

But this unusual degree of cold in the month of June has a serious aspect, in the presence of which a joke or an attempt to be funny seems as ill-timed as a merry laugh over the dead body of a loved friend. We allude to the matter of spring cleaning. It is not a mere idle assertion to say that this business of house cleaning has cleaned many a person out of this world,—unwilling martyrs to a foolish New England custom. Not that a dwelling house should go uncleaned. In fact, it should be renovated and thoroughly cleansed oftener than is commonly done. But we protest against the senseless habit of making a wholesale raid upon household arrangements regardless of wind or weather; and never cease the strife until the domicile is turned topsy-turvy and cleaned from cellar to attic. Why not wait until the weather will admit of open doors and windows; when the child or invalid, (should there chance to be either or both) will incur no risk thereby? And then, having commenced the siege, why not abandon it when circumstances fail to favor the prosecution of the work, and when a favorable opportunity offers, renew the attack?

This may seem to be small talk. But it must be borne in mind that the woof of our lives is made up of the small events of life, and of these little incidents, none is so damaging to religious prosperity as this matter of which we are writing. Women scold while they are about the disagreeable task; men swear because it is being performed. They may not break out in audible imprecations, but they fret and fume, which is mental swearing, and fully as disastrous as the less cowardly method of giving vent to the feelings.

When it can be made plain to us how or why it is necessary on a certain day or week in Spring, (let it be cold or hot, rain or sun) that a woman should open the doors and windows of her usually quiet and peaceful home, and as if admitting some evil spirit, commence a system of whitewashing, scouring, scrubbing, cleansing, dusting, carpet-ripping, and general overhauling, imperilling the health and perchance the lives of every innocent inmate—we say, when it can be shown to us how the end justifies the means, then we will abandon our present position and endeavor to be reconciled to it. Until then, never.

Fourth of July.

A special meeting of the committee of arrangements was presided over by Ex-Gov. Goodwin, Tuesday evening.

Mr. Thos. S. Nowell reported the engagement of the Drum Corps for the 4th.

The chairmen of the various committees were requested to present estimates to the auditing committee by June 10th.

Mrs. J. P. Morse and Mrs. C. H. Mendum were added to the committee on promenade concert.

The Chief Marshal was authorized to appoint a committee of twenty to receive the New York and Boston Sons.

Adjourned to Friday evening at eight o'clock, when all members of the committee are requested to be present.

Persons intending to take part in the Industrial Procession are requested to report to Mr. E. D. Coffin.

We understand that prominent merchants are considering the matter of arching Market street at a cost of $800.

The sons of Portsmouth resident in East Boston, hold a meeting Tuesday evening at the Maverick House, to take action concerning the Fourth of July gathering at Portsmouth, which was well attended. B. F. Butler was chosen chairman and J. H. S. Pearson secretary. The meeting was addressed by Frank Goodwin, the president of the general organization, Ezra A. Stevens, the marshal of the organization, Woodward Emery, Theodore S. Harris, Captain W. A. Parker, United States navy, and others. A committee was appointed to aid in the work of the organization in East Boston, consisting of Captain W. A. Parker, U. S. Navy, J. S. Knowlton, Horace Butler, J. M. Prior, C. W. Odiorne, Walter B. Hill and J. H. S. Pearson.

The very significant and beautiful celebration intended by the natives and former residents of Portsmouth on the twentieth anniversary of their remarkable "return" in 1853, was considered by an eminently respectable and substantial meeting at the Maverick House in East Boston, last evening. The coming Fourth is to them not Independence day only, but is the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the landing at Portsmouth of the settlers of New Hampshire, and is the day of the great family party to be given by that beautiful city, invitations to which have been issued half over the world, during the past six months. The gathering last night, if a thermometer of the general tone, augurs a more earnest interest and a consequently larger gathering than the surprising meeting of 1853.—Globe.

Congratulatory.

The old custom of surrounding beautiful gardens with high fences has become obsolete, and even the old prison yard enclosures in this city are gradually yielding to the march of improvement, and the sight of the rich flowers and shrubbery hitherto hidden from plebian eyes, now gladden the sight of the poor and rich alike. We are also glad to observe a similar spirit of reform in the direction of opening houses hitherto sealed by shutters and blinds, inviting only bats and dreaded vermin to enter.

There are quite a number of palatial tombs in our city yet remaining to be unsealed and we feel confident that the time is at hand when it will be regarded as sinful to shut out the light of the sun from our habitations. You who do not prefer darkness to light on account of your evil deeds, throw back your shutters, fling open your blinds, draw up your curtains, and expose yourselves to view and get the full benefit of Nature's health-giving light.

Laconics.

The Independent Battalion, Maj. E. A. Tilton commanding, and the company of State militia under command of Lieut. Jacob Haddock, had a street parade, Tuesday evening, the drum corps furnishing music. After marching about town, and a dress parade on Middle street, near Cass, the battalions returned to the State street ward room, where a bountiful collation was spread and stirring speeches were made by Mayor Marvin, Aldermen Wilson and Sise, and Capt. J. Albert Sanborn.

Harry Bloodgood returns again Saturday evening, after which he and his company are engaged for ten days at Portland, during the session of the Maine Hospital State Fair.

The ladies and gentlemen of the committee on promenade concert are requested to meet at the Common Council room on Friday afternoon at four o'clock.

The stay-at-home sons of Portsmouth are making the city look as bright as possible by the liberal use of the paint brush.

PROPOSALS FOR MATERIALS TO RESUPPLY THE NAVY YARDS UNDER THE COGNIZANCE OF THE BUREAU OF EQUIPMENT AND RECRUITING.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF EQUIPMENT AND RECRUITING,
Washington, D. C., May 26, 1873.

SEALED PROPOSALS to furnish Materials for the Navy for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1874, will be received at this Bureau until 10 o'clock A. M., of the 23d June next, at which time the proposals will be opened.

The proposals must be addressed to the "Chief of the Bureau of Equipment and Recruiting, Navy Department, Washington," and must be indorsed "Proposals for Materials for the Navy," that they may be distinguished from ordinary business letters.

To prevent confusion and facilitate the opening of the bids, parties bidding for more than one yard will enclose their bids in separate envelopes, each indorsed with the name of the yard for which the bid is made.

Printed schedules for such classes as parties deal in and intend to bid for, together with instructions to bidders, giving the forms of proposal, of guarantee, and of certificate of guarantors, with printed forms of offer, will be furnished to such persons as desire to bid, on application to the Commandants of the respective Navy Yards, and those of all the yards on application to the Bureau.

The Commandant of each Navy Yard, and the Purchasing Paymaster for each Station, will have a copy of the schedules of the other yards, for examination only, in order that persons who intend to bid may judge whether it is desirable to make application for any of the classes of those yards.

The proposals must be for the whole of a class, but the Department reserves the right to reduce the whole class, should the interest of the Government require it, before the execution of the contract. All applications for information, or for the examination of samples, must be made to the Commandants of the respective yards.

Bids or offers will be received only from parties who are bona fide dealers in, or manufacturers of, the articles they offer to furnish. The guarantors must be certified by the Collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which they reside.

The contract will be awarded to the person who makes the lowest bid and gives the guarantee required by law, the Navy Department, however, reserving the right to reject the lowest bid, or any which it may deem exorbitant, or which may not be to the interest of the Government.

Under the provisions of the second section of the act approved March 3, 1863, the offer of any person who, as principal or surety, has not filled any previous contract, will not be received.

Sureties in the full amount will be required to sign the contract, and their responsibility must be certified to the satisfaction of the Navy Department.

As additional security twenty per centum will be withheld from the amount of the bills until the contracts shall have been completed, and eighty per centum of the amount of each bill, approved in triplicate by the Commandants of the respective yards, will be paid by the Paymaster of the station designated in the contract, or, if none is specified, by the Paymaster of the station nearest the yard where the goods are delivered, within ten days after the warrant for the same shall have been passed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The classes of this Bureau are numbered and designated as follows:

No. 1, Flax Canvas, &c.	No. 12, Leather.
No. 2, Cotton Canvas, &c.	No. 13, Soap & Tallow.
No. 3, Cotton Hammock, Bag and Cot Stuff.	No. 14, Ox-hides for rope.

SINGER

SEWING MACHINE

Still Triumphant.

SOLD IN 1872

219,758.

These celebrated Machines are sold by

J. J. FESSENDEN,

No. 19 VAUGHAN ST.

The only authorized agent for Portsmouth and vicinity.

Purchasers will find it to their advantage to call and examine this machine that has stood the test for years and has constantly outstripped all its competitors, before buying the machines which are crowded into their houses. By so doing they can understand the reason why the Singer Co., have sold over

1,000,000 Machines.

Morning Chronicle.

AN ANCIENT HUMORIST.—Hierocles, who lived in the sixth century, collected twenty-one jests under the general title of "Peddant," and in this fossil jest-book we find jokes that have been handed down through succeeding collections, and have become old and familiar friends. Among those ancient jests is an account of a man who, for fear of drowning, determined not to enter the water until he had become master of the art of swimming; of the man who complained that his horse died just as he had taught it to live without food; of the philosopher who carried a stone about with him as a specimen of his house; of one who stood before a glass with his eyes shut to see how he looked when he was asleep; of a man who bought a crow to see whether it would live two hundred years or not; and of one who went into a boat lorseback because he was in a hurry. Here we find the ever new story of a man who, meeting a friend, asked whether it was he or his brother who was buried; and the blundering excuse of the person who, not having attended to the request of a friend, said, when he met him, "I am sorry I never received the letter which you wrote to me about those books."

—The following advertisements are printed in the Waverley (Iowa) papers, just as we print them, one immediately after the other:

All persons are hereby notified not to trust any person, my wife included, on my account, as I shall pay no debt of other's contracting. JOHN BOYER.

All persons are hereby notified not to trust my husband, John Boyer, on my account, as I claim no debt of his contracting.

The said John Boyer left my bed and board because I refused to give him a deed of my property. I shall try and get along without using his credit. After he has wasted his substance in riotous living, we may sing—

"We'll all drink stone blind,
When Johnny comes marching home."

SARAH BOYER.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Portsmouth Savings Bank.

President, WILLIAM SIMES,

Treasurer, J. F. SHORES.

Deposits, $1,930,378.46.

The Treasurer would ask the attention of the Depositors to these notices.

1st, In July next, the regular Five Years Extra Dividend will be declared.

2, From the 1d day of July to the 20th day of August, the books will be in the hands of a committee to examine the accounts and cast the Dividends thereon, during which time no Withdrawals can be made; therefore, the treasurer requests all depositors needing money during that interval to withdraw it on the 1st, 2nd, or 3d of July, as they can do it on those days without affecting the dividends.

3d. Deposits will be received as usual, while the books are in the hands of the Committee.

4th, The regular and extra dividends can be added to the Depositors' books after the 20th day of August and can then be withdrawn, if so desired; but if allowed to remain, the interest on those dividends will be cast from the 1st day of July.

5th, This bank pays to its Depositors interest semi-annually at the rate of Five per cent. per annum free of all taxes, and that interest compounds every six months.

6th, Interest on new deposits commences on the first day of each and every month, and all deposits made on the first three days of each month draw interest from the first day of that month.

SEWING MACHINE SALES

FOR 1872.

BY comparison of Statistics from sworn returns of the sales of Sewing Machines for 1871 and 1872, it shows that the

"DOMESTIC"

SEWING MACHINE Co.'s sales have increased over 375 per cent., while no other Co.'s sales have increased over 50 per cent., proving the great popularity of the "DOMESTIC."

Annexed are the percentage of gain, of the leading makers:

Domestic Sewing Machine Co.,	gain	375	per cent
Wheeler & Wilson	"	98	"
Singer	"	33	"
Grover & Baker	"	8	"
Weed	"	6	"
Wilcox & Gibbs	"	13	"
Wilson	"	8	"

Other Machines Co.'s sales show a loss over the year before.

If the increase in sales be any criterion of merit, the "DOMESTIC" bears the palm.

The "DOMESTIC" works so easy, it is working itself into every family.

The "DOMESTIC" runs so light, it is distancing, all competitors. It only asks a few days trial.

The "DOMESTIC" is recommend by the Medical Faculty.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

NO. 7 6 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and reliable gentlemen with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases at very reasonable charges. J. JOHN TAGGART."

IRON in the BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, DROPSY, HUMORS,

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes the Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested, and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed up on.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

House, Sign and Carriage Painter,

GLAZIER AND PAPER HANGER.

The Chronicle.

Old Time Chronicles, No. 77.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

THE GOV. WEARE HOUSE was built some time during Mr. Weare's life, more than one hundred years ago, but the exact date cannot be given. It is at what is called the Hill in the easterly part of Hampton Falls, two or three miles from the sea. That is the most compact part of the town as to settlements. The house is on the north side of the road that leads west of the dominion, and but a few rods from the Gov. Weare monument, erected by the State. Just above the house is a cemetery in which the Governor was buried and where a monument to his memory is seen.

The house is a large two story building, facing the south and painted white. It is a little quaint as to its form, there being two stacks of chimneys in the large part, the easterly one being a little forward of the other, consequently the east front room is small.

In the west front chamber is seen paper on the walls fastened with nails instead of paste as now. The paper is not showy but appears substantial and was imported from England. The pictures represent hunting scenes. The stair railing is of carved oak and polished. The house was evidently substantially built, much oak timber being used. Bricks were used freely, as was common then, and the chimneys are large. It is said no paint was put on till some years after its erection.

A statement has been made in several papers of late that in the Gov. Weare mansion is a bedstead on which President Washington slept on his visit to New England in 1789. We saw the bedstead alluded to. It is in the west chamber, high posted, is of maple wood color and appears ancient as to its form. At the time, we supposed we were seeing where that great man with noble form, placid and benignant countenance, slept. But since, on examining dates, we doubt. From Coffin's History of Newbury, page 263, it appears that the President's reception in that town was on Friday, Oct. 29, 1789, and that on Saturday morning, 30th, he left for Portsmouth under escort to the State line. From Adams' Annals of Portsmouth it appears, he arrived in Portsmouth the same day. The distance from Newbury Port to Portsmouth is but 25 miles. The President might have stopped at the Gov. Weare house for dinner. Probably he did, as we recollect a statement that a daughter of Gov. Weare received him. Gov. Weare was not living then, but had been dead three years. And the President did not pass that way on his return, but went from Portsmouth to Exeter and then to Haverhill, Mass. So it seems if Washington slept there at all, it must have been a short sleep at noon, which is not probable.

Our visit at the Gov. Weare house was March 12th, the day after the late election. Passing that morning from North Hampton through Hampton Falls, the quiet after an exciting election began to appear, yet indescribable sadness on the part of a few disappointed at the results, was seen. In going through the principal rooms of the Gov. Weare house, we cast back in mind 89 years. Gov. Weare was then the Chief Magistrate of New Hampshire. He was not only the moving genius of the home circle, but of the community, and in the affairs of the State. The Constitution had just gone into operation. Were there office seekers in those days? Did men come favoring and flattering to Gov. Weare's dwelling? Did these rooms witness the operations of wire-pullers, cabals and cliques? We trust not. Then was patriotism. Then sincerity sacrifice and labor for the public good.

—The Coroner of Cleveland, O., while sitting on a drowned man, trying to identify him, was informed by one of the jurors that "if the corpse had an impediment in his speech, he should say it was one of his neighbors, named Kelsey." A vigilant search failed to discover any impediment.

—Man proposes. Fifteen years ago, it is said, a Kentucky man bought a coffin for himself, considering it a handy thing to have in the house. Last week he was totally consumed in a lime-kiln, and the coffin is a dead loss, with the interest on the original cost included.

FRIDAY, JUNE 6, 1873.

The Governor's Message

Was delivered on Thursday at noon, after the inauguration ceremonies were completed. It is a plain, business-like document, and contains sensible suggestions and recommendations. At the commencement, he reminds the legislators that their time is valuable and that every day's session necessarily costs the State a large sum. There are no matters of general interest likely to consume much time, and the money of the State should not be spent in settling the private quarrels of individuals or corporations in which the State can have but little general interest. He hopes the regular business of the session will not be impeded or the session prolonged by any such controversies, "no matter how great the pressure by interested parties or how numerous and persistent the Lobby."

Although the State debt has been reduced but $5,963.82, the past year, our financial affairs are in a sound and satisfactory condition. The unusually small reduction of the debt was due to the reduction of the State tax one-half, and the payment of interest on the municipal war loan, made by the legislature, thus reducing the net income $432,000. The total revenue for the year ending May 1, 1873, was $421,-412.51. The State expenses were $163,545.36; interest paid, $251,903.33. The debt of the State is $1,191,965.48, old liabilities amounting to $1,760,-220.04, the Municipal War Loan being $2,205,695.44, and the Temporary Loan $226,950, there being $59,805.04 assets in the treasury. It is nearly thirty-two years before the last State bond matures and an average payment of $125,-000 per annum on the principal will cancel this debt at maturity. Governor Straw does not consider it desirable to do more than that, but believes every tax-payer will desire to do as much. He estimates that an average annual tax of $400,000 will enable the State to do this and pay the current expenses—but as there is now a temporary loan of $226,000 and about $700,000 of the State debt matures this year and next, in order to meet these with so small a tax, it will be necessary to authorize a loan not exceeding $500,000, to be carried in part through the next six years. After the State debt is paid, he thinks the annual expenses may be paid without recourse to a State tax. We now fall but $42,008 short of this.

There are sixty-one savings banks in the State and but one discount bank with a State charter. Seven new savings banks commenced business the past year. The aggregate deposits are $28,462,539.98; aggregate surplus, $1,-296,242.29. Total assets of depositors, $29,758,782.27, an actual increase the past year of $4,019,413.79, about fourteen per cent. During the year, the number of depositors has increased 7,875, the total number being 94,665, nearly one-third of the entire population of the State. Legislation for the protection of depositors against such defalcations as that at Exeter is recommended.

He suggests the appointment of a Board of Education to perform duties now devolving upon the Governor and Council, and an increase of the salary of Superintendent of Public Instruction. The patronage of the State has been well bestowed on the Normal School located at Plymouth. No parsimonious feeling should be allowed to stand in the way of the advancement of education.

A junior class of twenty-three young men has been admitted to the Agricultural college, which is destined to become a favorite institution of learning with the people. "Culver Hall" will be finished in the autumn. No appropriation is needed this year.

The sum of $5000 will be needed to pay bills already due for the support of indigent deaf and dumb persons at the American Asylum, Hartford, and for the indigent blind at the Perkins Institute, South Boston. The cost of supporting a person at the Asylum is $175, and at the institute, $300, per annum. But $5500 were appropriated by the last legislature for the education of the deaf, dumb and blind. A larger amount will be necessary to answer calls on our charity. This State has seventeen persons at the Asylum and nine at the Institute. The Governor has declined making additions to the number on account of the small appropriation.

An appropriation will be needed to enlarge the capacity of the Insane Asylum at Concord and improve its accommodations for patients. A commission appointed by the legislature reports three hundred insane paupers in the State, only seventy-nine being treated at the Asylum.

The Reform School is in a flourishing condition and shows very successful management. The boys have earned about $6000 during the year. Although the institution is expensive, in the end it saves great expense to the State. The Governor suggests that the abolition of charges made against towns for board of inmates might tend to increase the popularity and benefits of the school.

The State Prison report shows a more satisfactory result than ever. There is a balance of $20,000 on the books of the Treasurer and the profit from the labor of prisoners during the year past is about $8000. With continued prosperity and good management for a few years, the profits will furnish a fund for rebuilding the Prison in whole or in part.

The geological survey of the State is nearly finished, and will be completed this year. The triangulation of the State for valuable data to aid in preparing a map is progressing under the charge of Prof. Quimby.

The Board of Agriculture has held meetings in various places, which are largely attended. This has stimulated the interest in agriculture and awakened interest in farming. Manufacturing establishments are thriving throughout the State, and the railroads are prosperous, as are the business interests generally. The militia has nearly reached the maximum allowed by law. Action will probably be recommended at this session in co-operating with the National Commission in celebrating the one-hundredth anniversary of American Independence at Philadelphia in 1876. We copy verbatim the Governor's suggestions in behalf of temperance. They will commend themselves to every thoughtful mind unbiased by prejudice or obscured by fanaticism. He says:—

The subject of Temperance, and the laws regulating and restricting the sale of ardent spirits is one of vital interest to all who have the welfare of the State and its people at heart. All will admit that there is no evil productive of so much crime, pauperism, and expense to the State, as the excessive use of spirituous liquors. Tipling shops are the great evil of our larger towns and cities; from those who frequent them we fill our almshouses, jails and prisons; and although we have been for years constantly lamenting the evil, and as constantly attempting to legislate to prevent it, still it goes on, apparently worse with every attempt to restrain it.

Our present liquor law, in its terms absolutely prohibitory, has been upon our statute book, substantially the same as now, for years. It is now your duty to inquire if the effect of that law has, upon the whole, been such as to diminish the sale and use of intoxicating liquors. Each one of you will probably be able to answer that question for himself; so far, at least, as his own constituency is concerned.

If, upon a careful investigation of the matter regarding the whole State, you come to the conclusion that our present prohibitory laws have had the effect to stay intemperance and reduce the sale of intoxicating liquors, then you should further inquire if by any additional legislation they can be made more effective, and be more thoroughly enforced.

Should your inquiry lead you to the belief that upon the whole our existing laws have not had the effect to reduce the sale and use of intoxicating liquors, notwithstanding all the efforts hitherto made to enforce them; then it seems you should seek for some other remedy for the present free and undisguised sale and use of intoxicating liquors, carried on in open violation of the laws, and the direct cause of so much poverty and crime.

Our liquor laws are of such a character that it is hardly possible that they should be enforced unless they are very strongly supported by public opinion in the particular locality where they are to be tested. No doubt in some of our smaller towns they may be, and I think are, strictly enforced; but I have never seen or heard any evidence that has led me to believe that any great regard has been paid to them, at least for any length of time, in any of our larger towns or cities. However strongly public opinion may be in favor of the law in one town or locality, it is of little service in enforcing it in another where a different sentiment prevails.

In this view is it not proper for you to consider whether or not the feature of allowing or granting a license for the sale of liquor might not be grafted upon our present law with good effect, and tend in its operation greatly to restrain the sale and use of liquor in certain localities; leaving it entirely to the towns and cities whether they will grant this license or not, the question to be determined by a major vote of the cities in that locality; strictly limiting each to a specified number of licenses according to the population, and fixing the price of license at such a sum as will at least do something towards compensating for the public loss entailed by the use of liquor.

This is a grave and important question, and deserves the most careful and considerate attention which you can give it. It is my belief that among the best and most prudent temperance men in the country, who are active in the cause, the opinion is gaining ground that this local option law is, upon the whole, the best method of preventing the spread of intemperance. As for myself, with a sincere and heartfelt desire to root out the evil of intemperance, and to restrain the sale and use of intoxicating liquor within the narrowest limits, to the extent of entire prohibition if possible, I believe that in the present state of public opinion here, and with our past experience in enforcing our present law, this experiment is well worthy of trial.

The State Constitution is more than eighty years old and has been amended but once, twenty years ago. The present seems to be a favorable time to consider further amendments. The people have heretofore disapproved of propositions for the call of Constitutional conventions, but it is to be hoped a vote at this time would be carried by a large majority. Our population has doubled since the Constitution was framed, cities and towns have grown larger, and the basis of representation remaining the same, the House of Representatives is now expensive and unwieldy, having grown entirely out of proportion with the Senate, which consists of the same number of members (twelve) it had eighty years ago. Other States much larger than New Hampshire have adopted the rule of biennial elections and find biennial sessions of the legislature amply sufficient for their needs. The adoption of this plan with a change of the day of election to the same day of the year that Presidential elections are held, would be a great saving of money to the State and an immense saving of time and money to the people. Changes might be made in levying taxes, to equalize and lessen the burden. A minor system of courts to try, without appeal, unimportant civil and criminal cases, with juries of a smaller number than twelve, would expedite the dispensing of justice and greatly lessen the expense. The sooner the power of running in debt beyond the fair means of paying is taken from our counties and towns, the better for all concerned. With these advantages in view, the Governor trusts the legislature will give the people an opportunity to approve of a convention to revise the constitution.

The Governor closes with a hint at economy in legislation, touches lightly on national affairs, confident of years of unexampled prosperity, cautions the legislature against wasting time, suggests entering at once upon the discussion and settlement of the most important matters coming before it, reminds the members of the responsibility they owe the people whose interests they are to study, and trusts they will at least endeavor to merit the trust placed in them. We deem the message a model document, second in interest to none emanating from any executive of New Hampshire for a score of years, and we shall look upon the action of the people's representatives with a lively appreciation of the timely suggestions he has chosen to recommend to their attention.

HENRY WARD BEECHER A UNIVERSALIST.—Orthodox Calvinism is not pleased at the opinions expressed by Henry Ward Beecher, in his sermon of last Sunday, on the illimitable mercy of the Creator, and he, and what they call his Universalist notions, are most piously condensed—as if poor frail humanity could put bounds to the greatest of the Divine qualities, or judge of its nature by their own prescribed standards. Mr. Beecher said that Sunday last was a good day to talk of heaven, and of how the transition thence from earth was made. He declared his belief to be that the soul entered happiness immediately after leaving the body, without enduring any immediate purgatorial process; that there was no unconscious vacation, but that it would begin eternal life and upward with such moral developement as it had in this life, and that all would be just as happy as their soul-natures could bear.

He said he could not see, if the best man went into heaven, not because he had earned it, but by the great act of merciful love, why a bottom man could not also have room—at least a starting place. The sermon naturally caused a profound excitement, and at the end of the service, one lady stood up with streaming eyes and said aloud: "God bless you sir, for that noble sermon."

DEATH OF A CENTENARIAN.—Stephen Philbrick, of Tamworth, died in that town on Tuesday aged 102 years, one month and twenty days. He has resided in Tamworth since he was a year old. He had attended all the town meetings in Tamworth since its incorporation. He had also voted at every Presidential election, first for Washington and last for Grant. He was reared as a farmer and followed that business for ninety years on the old homestead. He had always been in good health and never employed a physician. He was very regular in his habits, retiring early and rising with the lark. He partook moderately of spirits and tobacco. His wife died some years since. He passed away peacefully and without a struggle.

STOKES' CASE. — Stokes says that first-class lawyers outside of his own counsel have informed him that the court of appeals would decide in his favor at least twelve of the thirty-four exceptions, either of which would secure him a new trial. He says he is full of hope. It is rumored that the Court of Appeals have decided adversely to granting him a new trial.

FOREIGN INDORSEMENT OF THE STANDARD TONIC OF AMERICA.—There seems to be no limit to the celebrity of Hostetter's Bitters. Every year the demand for it increases and the territorial area of its popularity expands. It has long been the standard tonic, and an approved remedy for epidemic disease in the Republics of South and Central America, in Brazil and the West Indies and the British Colonies on this continent. More recently its merits have been appreciated at the antipodes, and it is now shipped in large quantities to Australia and Tasmania. The reason why it is making such extraordinary headway in remote regions as well as in America, are very simple and lie in a nutshell. It is a medicine suited to all peoples, all climates and all ordinary disorders and disabilities. It prevents and cures malarious diseases, relieves indigestion, braces the nerves, improves the appetite, clears the brain, regulates the liver, arrests intermittent fever, strengthens the physique and invigorates the constitution.

DON'T SLIGHT YOUR TEETH.—Remember that upon their labor, the health of the stomach depends. Keep them perfect, and, in order to do so, manipulate them with a brush dipped in the fragrant SOZODONT, once or twice a day.

Sudden and Singular Death.

On the 26th of May, while Mrs. Elizabeth S. Emery of this city was washing, she felt a sensation in her left eye sounding like a watch running down. In a short time, the eye, eye-lids and the left cheek began to swell, continuing to do so until the eye-lids were out beyond the eye-brow and the eye beyond the lid. On Wednesday, a physician treated her for erysipelas, and on Friday, Dr. Folsom was called, the eye beginning to slough and being very offensive. Dr. Folsom removed it, and it bled profusely. He applied a compresser with styptics, and the circulation beneath throbbed so violently that it lifted his three fingers while he was holding the compresser quite hard. Mortification spread into both lids under the compress, and the throbbing continued.

On Wednesday noon, 4th inst., Mrs. Emery called her son, saying she was dying, and expired a few minutes afterward. Dr. Folsom pronounced it a case of apoplexy of the eye, caused by a breaking of the blood vessel in and around the eye, the pressure being so great in the eye that the tissues were distended and hard, from an effusion of serum, mortification ensuing, and ultimately apoplexy of the brain, and death. Mrs. Emery complained of pain in the head several months previous to her death. There are other matters connected with the case which are especially interesting to physicians.

Robbery in South Kingston.

At about 2 o'clock, Tuesday morning, a house on the Haverhill road, near Plaistow, occupied by two aged women, was broken into. One of the occupants who heard the noise in another room and was dressing herself, was knocked down and robbed of the gold beads she wore, and then compelled to give up what money she had in the house, being about $15.

She afterward escaped from the house, to warn the neighbors, when the two robbers, leaving the other woman, an aged cripple, unharmed in bed, made their escape. A bottle with some rum in it was found under the window, where they entered the house. J. C.

State News.

The damage to the Court House at Brentwood, by the tornado from the northwest a few days since, consisted of ripping off about one fourth of the tin roofing, and cutting one of the chimneys off at the roof—which, but for the strengthening of the roof last year, would doubtless have broken through. The wind found entrance by an opening which was left under the eaves for ventilation. The damage was speedily repaired, at a cost probably of $400 or $500. No person was injured, though bricks and tin fell thick and fast for a while in front of the house, as the deluge of rain had driven all in doors.

Lyford Shory, the oldest man in Wolfeborough, can do all his reading, and calculates to keep posted up in all the movements of our day. Years ago when his eyesight failed him partially he used glasses. But now they are uncalled for, and he is cutting a new set of teeth.

The dwelling-house of James Couch, in Warner, was burned on Monday. None of the effects were saved. Loss about $500. No insurance.

A young lady at Dover had a narrow escape while passing by the cages, inside the lines, at Barnum's exhibition. She had been cautioned, and thought she was at a safe distance, but as she passed the cage of a leopard he thrust out his paw, and tearing through shawl and dress, badly lacerated the arm. The wound bled very freely before it was dressed.

LOCAL OPTION.—The House yesterday gave evidence of a level head in passing the newspaper resolution of Mr. Kent of Portsmouth, allowing the members of the Legislature to select their own reading matter. The idea of compelling each and every member to lug home each night three copies of the Concord Dailies, simply for the sake of allowing the Concord publishers to receive pay therefor, is manifestly absurd. If the Legislature wants an official reporter, let it appoint one and pay him. If it is necessary to support the Concord papers on "State aid," let it be done squarely and openly, but if the object be to supply the members with newspapers, the resolution of yesterday is the proper one.—Manchester Mirror, June 5th.

PROPOSALS FOR MATERIALS TO BE SUPPLIED TO THE NAVY YARDS UNDER THE COGNIZANCE OF THE BUREAU OF EQUIPMENT AND RECRUITING.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF EQUIPMENT AND RECRUITING,
Washington, D. C., May 26, 1873.

SEALED PROPOSALS to furnish Materials for the Navy for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1874, will be received at this Bureau until 10 o'clock A. M., of the 23d June next, at which time the proposals will be opened.

The proposals must be addressed to the "Chief of the Bureau of Equipment and Recruiting, Navy Department, Washington," and must be indorsed "Proposals for Materials for the Navy," that they may be distinguished from ordinary business letters.

To prevent confusion and facilitate the opening of the bids, parties bidding for supplies at several yards will enclose their bids in separate envelopes, each indorsed with the name of the yard for which the bid is made.

Printed schedules for such classes as parties deal in and intend to bid for, together with instructions to bidders, giving the forms of proposal, of guarantee, and of certificate of guarantors, with printed forms of offer, will be furnished to such persons as desire to bid, on application to the Commandants of the respective Navy Yards, and those of all the yards on application to the Bureau.

The Commandant of each Navy Yard, and the Purchasing Paymaster for each Station, will have a copy of the schedules of the other yards, for examination only, in order that persons who intend to bid may judge whether it is desirable to make application for any of the classes of those yards.

The proposals must be for the whole of a class, but the Department reserves the right to reduce the whole class, should the interest of the Government require it, before the execution of the contract. All applications for information, or for the examination of samples, must be made to the Commandants of the respective yards.

Bids or offers will be received only from parties who are bona fide dealers in, or manufacturers of, the articles they offer to furnish. The guarantors must be certified by the Collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which they reside.

The contract will be awarded to the person who makes the lowest bid and gives the guarantee required by law, the Navy Department, however, reserving the right to reject the lowest bid, or any which it may deem exorbitant, or which may not be to the interest of the Government.

Under the provisions of the second section of the act approved March 3, 1863, the offer of any person who, as principal or surety, has not filled any previous contract, will not be received.

Sureties in the full amount will be required to sign the contract, and their responsibility must be certified to the satisfaction of the Navy Department.

An additional security twenty per centum will be withheld from the amount of the bills until the contracts shall have been completed, and eighty per centum of the amount of each bill, approved in triplicate by the Commandants of the respective yards, will be paid by the Paymaster of the station designated in the contract, or, if none is specified, by the Paymaster of the station nearest the yard where the goods are delivered, within ten days after the warrant for the same shall have been passed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The classes of this Bureau are numbered and designated as follows:

No. 1, Flax Canvas, &c.	No. 13, Leather.
No. 2, Cotton Canvas, &c.	No. 13, Soap & Tallow.
No. 3, Cotton Hammock, Bag and Cot Stuff.	No. 14, Ox-hides for rope.
No. 4, Iron and Steel.	No. 15, Brushes.
No. 5, Bailey Iron.	No. 16, Ship Chandlery.

...rning Chronicle.

TRANSFIXED.—The following rare bit is from the Saturday Evening Post: We shall never forget that evening we spent at Magruder's, years ago. We admired Miss Magruder, and we went around to see her. It was summer time, and moonlight, and she sat upon the piazza. The carpenter had been there that day, glueing up the rustic chairs on the porch, so we took a seat on the step in front of Miss Magruder, where we could gaze into her eyes and drink in her smiles. It seems probable that the carpenter must have upset his glue-pot on the spot where we sat, for after enjoying Miss Magruder's remarks for a couple of hours, and drinking several of her smiles, we tried to rise for the purpose of going home, but found that we were immovably fixed to the step. "Don't be in a hurry," and we told her we believed we wouldn't. The conversation had a sadder tone after that, and we sat there thinking whether it would be better to ask Miss Magruder to withdraw while we disrobed and went home in Highland costume, or whether we should urge her to warm up the poker, or whether we should give one terrific wrench and then ramble down the yard backward. About midnight Miss Magruder yawned, and said she believed she would go to bed. Then we suddenly asked her if she thought her father would have any objection to lending us his front steps for a few days, because we wanted to take them home for a pattern. We think Miss Magruder must have entertained doubts of our sanity, for she rushed in, called her father, and screamed. Magruder came down with a double-barrelled gun. Then we explained the situation in a whisper, and he procured a saw and cut out the piece of step to which we were attached. Then we went home wearing the patch, and before two o'clock crushed out our love for Miss Magruder. We never called again, and she threw herself away on a dry goods man. There is a melancholy satisfaction in recalling these memories of youth, and reflecting upon the influence of glue upon the emotions of the human heart.

THE COMING WOMAN.—Since my introduction to Barnum's female gymnast—a good-looking, well formed mother of a family, who walks about unflinchingly with men and boys on her shoulders, and carries a 300 pound gun as easily as the ordinary woman carries a clothes basket—I am persuaded that "the coming woman," like Brother Jonathan will "lick all creation." In that good time woman will have her rights because she will have her muscle. Then if there are murders and playful beatings between husbands and wives, the wives will enjoy all the glory of crime. What an outlook. And what a sublime consolation to the present enfeebled race of wives that are having their throats cut and their eyes carved out merely because their biceps have not gone into training. Barnum's female gymnast is an example to her sex. What woman has done, woman may do again. Mothers, train up your daughters in the way they should fight, and when they are married, they will not depart this life. God is on the side of the stoutest muscle as well as of the bravest battalions. It is perfectly useless for Miss Anthony to talk about the equality of the sexes as long as a man can strangle his own mother-in-law.—Kate Field's Critique on Barnum.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Portsmouth Savings Bank.

President, WILLIAM SIMES,

Treasurer, J. F. SHORES.

Deposits, $1,930,378.46.

The Treasurer would ask the attention of the Depositors to these notices.

1st, In July next, the regular Five Years Extra Dividend will be declared.

2. From the 3d day of July to the 20th day of August, the books will be in the hands of a committee to examine the accounts and cast the Dividends thereon, during which time no Withdrawals can be made; therefore, the treasurer requests all depositors needing money during that interval to withdraw it on the 1st, 2nd, or 3d of July, as they can do it on those days without affecting the dividends.

3d. Deposits will be received as usual, while the books are in the hands of the Committee.

4th. The regular and extra dividends can be added to the Depositors' books after the 20th day of August and can then be withdrawn, if so desired; but if allowed to remain, the interest on those dividends will be cast from the 1st day of July.

5 th. This bank pays to its Depositors interest semi-annually at the rate of Five per cent. per annum free of all taxes, and that interest compounds every six months.

6th. Interest on new deposits commences on the first day of each and every month, and all deposits made on the first three days of each month draw interest from the first day of that month.

SEWING MACHINE SALES

FOR 1872.

BY comparison of Statistics from sworn returns of the sales of Sewing Machines for 1871 and 1872, it is found that the

"DOMESTIC"

SEWING MACHINE Co.'s sales have increased over 375 per cent., while no other Co.'s sales have increased over 36 per cent., proving the great popularity of the "DOMESTIC."

Annexed are the percentage of gain, of the leading makers:

Domestic Sewing Machine Co.,	gain 375	per cent
Wheeler & Wilson "	" 36	"
Singer "	" 23	"
Grover & Baker "	" 5	"
Weed "	" 8	"
Wilcox & Gibbs "	" 12	"
Wilson "	" 8	"

Other Machines Co.'s' sales show a loss over the year before.

If the increase in sales be any criterion of merit, the "DOMESTIC" bears the palm.

The "DOMESTIC" works so easy, it is working itself into every family.

The "DOMESTIC" runs so light, it is distancing all competitors. It only asks a few days trial.

The "DOMESTIC" is recommend by the Medical Faculty.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Creates, Special Agreements, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Reserves made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

We Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in all cases. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure a Patent, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases at very reasonable charges. F. G. JOHN TAGGART."

IRON in the BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, DROPSY, HUMORS.

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes the Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damage and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women: and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

The Chronicle.

Sensible Talk.

The widely-extending prevalence and gross abuses of "dead-headism" in this country are producing the natural result of a grand re-action, and the whole system is being fast swept away. The last Congress cut it wholly out of the Post office. From and after the 1st of July, neither paper nor letter, nor package of any kind, is to be carried in the mails without pay. This abolition of the free privileges of the newspapers is not a very great thing in itself. At the outside it will not bring a half-million dollars into the public treasury, but it enforces a principle which is altogether right, and we regret to see any portion of the press deprecating and denouncing it.

The free circulation in the counties was an especial demand of and boon to the country press; but we do not believe its loss will be found to harm any real good local paper. No man will give up his country paper, if it is made of any value to him, for the matter of 20 cents postage. If it is not worth that sum additional to the old price, it is not worth an existence. The payment of postage on their exchanges will generally be regarded at first a greater burden to the newspapers; but in the end it will prove greatly economical to the press, by reducing the number of exchanges which they send and receive. Nearly every paper has twice or thrice as many exchanges as it really needs, many of them twice as many as they want.

SHOOTING THE ST. LAWRENCE RAPIDS.—Up to tee time of the completion of the St. Lawrence canals, the navigation of the rapids was considered dangerous to large crafts, for the simple reason that none tried it. There being no way to get back after going down, those which were below them had to remain there, while those which were above could not be spared from the places they supplied. The opening of the canals revolutionized navigation, and the rapids, which before were considered dangerous, have proved to be as safe as any other part of the river. Of the many hundred thousands of tourists who have taken the "shoot" we cannot now recall any serious loss of life. Several steamers have struck the bottom or sunken rocks, and in three or four instances have sunk, but as in the Renaud accident, which appears to be the most serious of the whole, were unattended by the loss of life, and in but two by the loss of the boat. If we take the trouble to look up the record we will find that in no other 40 miles of navigation of the lakes and St. Lawrence, stretching from the head of Lake Michigan to the Gulf, has there been greater immunity from accident or less loss of life, and if this proves anything, it proves that "shooting the rapids" is conducted with more care and attended with less liability to accident. In 1859 the Canada and America, 1,500 ton steamers, which were afterward employed by the United States Government in the Paraguay expedition, "shot" the rapids of the St. Lawrence in perfect safety. In 1861, the New York, the famous "flag of truce boat" of the James River, the Northerner and Niagara also "shot" them in safety. All of these boats named were leviathans compared with the class of boats now used, and where they went in safety the others should navigate without danger. In the extreme low water era of 1872 there was some risk in making the trip in iron boats, because a strike was certain to sink them, while wooden boats could strike and proceed without ill effects. With the present stage of water no accident can be apprehended from striking the bottom, and such an accident will only occur from recklessness or imbecility of captain and pilot.

Of course the "shoot" is attended with a good deal of excitement on the part of the tourist who takes it for the first time, on account of the peculiar and charming sensation it produces, but the crews of the boats which go down daily regard it with no more concern than a spurt through smooth water. Because the Renaud was mismanaged, or failed to obey her helm, will and should no more defer other steamers from running the Lachine rapids than should the loss of the Atlantic put an end to ocean navigation.—Ogdensburg Journal.

—Senator Scott, talking to a Pennsylvania Sunday School, recently, asked the scholars why Simon was kept in prison. One of the teachers quietly prompted a boy to say that it was for hostage, and the youth, not quite catching the words, piped out: "He was detained for postage."

—He is a true philanthropist who kicks into the gutter the banana skins and orange peels he finds on the sidewalk. But he is a true philanthropist who also kicks into the gutter the wretch who threw them there.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, JUNE 7, 1873.

The Legislature.

In the House on Thursday, Mr. Kent of Portsmouth gave notice that he would introduce a bill in amendment of the charter of the city of Portsmouth, relative to the time of closing the polls.

The House voted to meet the Senate in convention for the choice of State officers, on Wednesday of next week.

In convention, the official vote for Governor was announced, as follows:—

Whole No. Votes	67,821
Necessary for choice	33,912
Scattering	8
Samuel K. Mason, lib. repub.	696
John Blackmer, temp.	1,078
James A. Weston, dem.	32,016
Ezekiel A. Straw	34,023

Straw's majority 223; plurality 2007.

The vote for Councillor in this district was as follows:—

Whole No.	15,537
Necessary	7,769
Scattering	9
Josiah S. James, lib. repub.	188
William Taylor, temp.	192
Josiah C. Eastman, dem.	7,084
Samuel P. Dow, repub.	8,064

Dow's majority 591; plurality, 980.

The Senatorial vacancies were filled as follows:

James Ayer, dem. had	140
Charles Sanborn, repub.	182

and Mr. Sanborn was elected for the 2d district.

For the 6th district,

John W. Sanborn, dem., had	142
Otis G. Hatch, repub.	184

and Mr. Hatch was elected.

For Councillor in the 2d district

John C. Moulton, dem., had	141
John J. Morrill, repub.	182

and Mr. Morrill was elected,

Speaker Emery announced the House committees on Friday. Mr. Sulloway of Manchester is chairman of the Judiciary, and Mr. Albin of Concord is chairmain of the committee on Railroads.

Readables.

A Fairchild, Vermont, mother learned of her daughter's contemplated elopement, and on the night appointed for the flight put some laudanum in the girl's tea. The latter fell asleep and did not wake up till morning, and in the meantime Romeo got tired of waiting and went home disgusted. He goes with another girl now.

An engineer on the Toledo, Peoria and Warsaw railroad, in approaching the trestle work just across the river, saw what he took to be a cow on the on the track. He shut off steam and whistled lustily, and just as he came up to the animal it sprang over the fence and disappeared in the water. It proved to be a fair specimen of the Illinois river bull-frog. This is the engineer's story.

An Iowa Justice of the Peace refused to fine a man for kissing a girl against her will, because when the lass came into Court he was obliged to hold on to the arms of his chair to keep from kissing her himself.

Covington, Ky., is wondering at the antics of an old couple in its streets. Every day a venerable dame appears with hammer and nails, and securely fastens up the gates in her locality. In her wake follows her aged consort with a crowbar, who patiently undoes the work of his predecessor, keeping about three gates behind her.

The prosecution in the trial of the Tichborne claimant for perjury, are endeavoring to show that he is Arthur Orton, the Wapping butcher. Recently they succeeded in bringing several important witnesses from South America and Australia, among whom was a wife of an Irish physician in whose house Orton formerly lived, another woman whose brother married Orton's sister, and who had known him in Australia, and an Australian farmer who had been acquainted with Orton for nine or ten years. All these witnesses identified the claimant as Arthur Orton, and it is difficult to see how this direct and positive testimony is to be overcome.

Several cadets at the naval academy who failed in the recent examinations are under arrest and will be dismissed for assaulting Conyers, a colored student.

The survivors of the Polaris have arrived at Washington, on the steamer Frolic. Capt. Tyson thinks the Polaris will return in the Fall.

During the second day's session of the national convention of homeopathic physicians at Cleveland, "the announcement of the expulsion of seven homeopathists from the Massachusetts Medical Society was received with shouts of derisive laughter and applause." No wonder the homepathists are hilarious over the ludicrous attempt of the self styled "regular" practitioners to make the public bow in humble adoration when they shout "great is medicine, and we are its prophets." The day for cringing to close corporations has gone by; men will think for themselves, however much religious, medical or other cliques may oppose free thought; and the contemptibly narrow views of the Massachusetts "regulars," and their insolent assumption that they alone are "worthy" and "honorable physicians" will do more to advance the cause they oppose than anything else that could have been named.

The revivalist Hammond writes that he has sailed down 3,000 converts during his Western tour. Of this number it is estimated by competent judges that about nineteen will "stick."

A horse attached to a Springfield milk-team ran away recently, but the driver was a metaphysician, and believed in the force of habit, so he restrained from lacerating his hands by pulling the reins, waited until they came near a house at which the horse was accustomed to stop, and shouted "milk!" whereupon the faithful steed paused, and there was quiet in Springfield.

Tom Wright was hanged at Washington, Friday.

The beard of a dead man, who was clean shaved at the time of his burial six years ago, in San Francisco, was found to be eighteen inches long, says the Chronicle, when his coffin was opened a few weeks ago.

People who are always wishing for something new should try neuralgia.

When a man is able to leave his bed he is, in common parlance, doing nicely. But it is different with Captain Jack. He is fearful that the exposure will bring about a severe affection of the throat.

Gen. Davis won the game with the Modocs by capturing their Jack.

It is rumored in Boston that, as soon as the legislature adjourns, General Butler will take the field as a candidate for governor and begin speech-making at Milford, Springfield, Worcester, North Adams, etc., two months earlier in the season than he did two years ago.

See advertisement of Bank Stock at auction to-day.

President Grant will probably organize a military commission to try the Modocs.

State News.

Exeter has an undiscovered incendiary who needs a hanging badly.

At North Londonderry, on Tuesday, while Mr. Nathaniel Alexander was engaged in taking down a barn, the whole side of the building fell upon him, injuring him so severely that he is not expected to recover.

Postal cards won't do. They are too open, and are calculated to expose private business affairs. For example, one reached the Concord Patriot, bearing the following confidential message: "Dear Sir: Y ou reh e reb yi nf or me dtha ty o urgra n dmo the rrece ntl yd ie dan dle ly o ual ar geam o un to fm o ne y, onc ond i ti ont ha tyo ul e av eof fu sin gtob acc o."

MONTGOMERY BAILEY, the Danbury News man, has had a number of very tempting offers to change his place of residence to New York. He does not attach much importance to them, however, and writes the following letter, full of sensible advice, on the subject:—"I like this town, where I have lived most of my life, and the town likes me. My small paper is only a weekly, but I owa it and am content with the little but satisfactory independence that I enjoy. I know I've gotten a good deal of reputation lately; it won't be any less if I stay here; and if I go to New York, I'm dreadfully afraid I should soon be an old story, and dwindle down to an imperceptible point. Your big cities like fresh oranges; but it very quickly sucks them dry, and throws them away. I don't want to be sucked dry right off; so I think I'll remain where I am. I've seen, from my country home how clever fellows turn out who go to New York with grand expectations. They gave up something, and in the end found nothing. I am glad you want to have me come, and I'm gladder that I don't want to come. Danbury, insignificant village as it is, is good enough for me; and as I don't want to steal anything, or get murdered, or get up a reputation for genius, I respectfully but firmly decline to pitch my tent in Gotham."

Business Notices.

WELL'S GRAND DISTRIBUTION.—The committee, after drawing nearly one hundred and fifty thousand dollars have decided to postpone the drawing until July 1st, 1873. This will positively be the last postponement W. B. Lowd, Agent.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets, or Concentrated Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules—the "Little Giant" Cathartic or multum in parvo, physic. No use of any longer taking the huge, repulsive, nauseous and griping pills, composed of cheap, crude, bulky ingredients, when, by a careful application of chemical science, we can extract all the cathartic and medical qualities from the most valuable roots and herbs and concentrate them into a minute Pellet or Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes; 25 cents, by all druggists. 634

ALL PERSONS desiring a delightfully stimulating tonic, and still at the same time wishing to avoid the strong beverages prepared with fiery spirits, should try the well-known "Sonoma Wine Bitters." They are prepared only by Jas. Dingley and Co., Boston, but are sold by druggists and grocers everywhere.

THE ADULTERATION of COCOA in England, by admixture of starch and similar articles, has brought forth commendation from eminent English medical authority of the Cocoa and Chocolate prepared in foreign lands. City Councils.

On Thursday evening, the Board of Mayor and Aldermen granted the use of the State street ward room for the Odd Fellows at times when not otherwise occupied.

Mystic street, leading from Woodbury street to the North Mill pond, was accepted.

A request from. Col. William Beals & Son to contract for decorating the city buildings on the Fourth of July, was referred to the citizens' committee.

The appropriation bill was passed as it came from the Common Council, with amendments as follows:—

The appropriation of $10,000 for Streets was reduced to $6000; the appropriation for repairs of buildings at the city farm reduced from $500 to $250; the appropriation of $500 for the City Guards was stricken out.

The Board voted to recommend to the citizens' committee that $500 of the $9500 appropriated for the reception of the Sons, be given to the City Guards.

The Railroad and Savings Bank taxes were appropriated to pay salaries and contingent expenses.

The bill as passed appropriates the following sums:—

For State Tax,	$29,708.00
County Tax,	19 687.75
City Debt,	1,700.00
Interest,	10,000.00
Streets,	8,000.00
Fire Department	9,000.00
for Pay $5145
" Contingent 3635
" Repairs 200
Support of Poor,	6,000.00
Police,	1,600.00
Street Lights,	1,700.00
Repairs and rents of School Houses,	2,000.00
Watch,	3,900.00
Printing,	880.00
Roads,	3 000.00
Schools, in addition to Literary Fund,	22,000.00
Collector's Commissions,	1,200.00
Sidewalks,	1,000.00
Sewers,	1,000.00
Repairs Alms House building,	250.00
Street Sprinkler,	250.00
Health Committee,	5,500.00
Expenses Prior,	1,000.00
Damages to John Stack,	1,052.38
Reception of Sons,	9,500.00
Independent Battalion,	500.00
Deficiency in 1872,	6,223.60
Total	$147,969.73

The Chief Engineer was instructed to use Steamer Dearborn at his discretion only at large fires.

The Street Commissioner was instructed to widen Pleasant street agreeable to last year's vote.

The committee on Streets was authorized to lay out road on Noble's Island.

The Mayor was appointed a committee to confer with the Representatives to the legislature relative to the passage of a bill to suppress vagrancy and truancy.

In Common Council, (meeting called by Mayor,) the President being absent, Councilman Sears of Ward One was chosen to preside.

The usual joint vote abating 6 per cent. on taxes paid within 30 days, and 4 per cent.on taxes paid within 60 days, of the date of the issuing of the tax bills, was passed by the Council.

A message from the Mayor to the Board of Aldermen, preferring charges against the City Messenger and recommending his discharge, with a message from the Aldermen announcing that they had voted to refer the matter to a joint committee of the Councils and asking the concurrence of the Common Council, and other documents, were received and read, and the request for a joint committee was agreed to; and Messrs. Lovell, Pryor and George were appointed a committee on behalf of the Council.

The President arrived and took the chair, but no other business coming before the Council, they notified the Board of Aldermen of their intention to adjourn. The clerk of the Council returned with the information from the Mayor that "a committee of conference would probably be appointed"—which information rather puzzled the Council, as they couldn't tell where in the world the Mayor got his information on that point. After waiting nearly half an hour and no "committee of conference" appearing, the Council adjourned for one week.

The Regatta.

In no other feature of the Fourth of July festivities is there shown more lively interest than in the regatta. Coming as it will at the close of the day, when the tide serves best and the temperature will be the coolest, thousands will throng the wharves of the city, eager to witness the races. Messrs. Plumer D. Norton, James H. Dow and John H. Locke, of the regatta committee, have been busily engaged in securing boats and crews to enter for the prizes, and the sturdy oarsmen of Eliot, Kittery, Portsmouth and Newcastle are already training for the eventful occasion, while the "tars" of the Navy are preparing to put in an appearance. It is evident that the regatta will be one of the most pleasing and successful features of the programme adopted by the general committee of citizens. Amateur "brushes" between the crews of the Navy Yard boats are of daily occurrence, and as the "glorious Fourth" approaches, the interest in the regatta increases.

A Cow to Retail.

On Friday a valuable cow belonging to Civil Engineer B. F. Chandler, of this naval station, was accidentally curtailed of her fair proportions in a remarkable manner. The man who takes care of the cow turned her out to pasture as usual, Friday morning, and some hours later saw her standing under a crotched tree (and thereby hangs a tale) with an odd look about her which especially attracted his attention. Looking closer he saw that mooley had no tail, and soliloquized thusly: "Where's that cow's tail gone? I'm certain she had a tail on when I turned her out this morning—or if she didn't have any it's mighty odd that I've never noticed it till now. I'll look." He did look, and discovered that the tail had been whisked around the crotched tree and its end caught in the fork, and that the cow, in her endeavors to escape, had broken the tail off within six inches of her body and left it twisted around the tree. We never heard of such an amputation before.

High School Association.

SOUTH BOSTON, June 5th.

Dear Chronicle: Having understood that there was a project being considered to form an association of the past and present, as well as the future, members of the Boys' and Girls' High school, as a daughter of old Portsmouth I felt highly interested that such an undertaking should meet with a hearty response, and that it may be a permanent institution. The memories of school days still hover around us, the early as well as the more advanced years, and when we revisit our dear old Portsmouth let us have this "association," as one of the pleasant things to be thought of. We would have it mutual, both sexes included.

Hoping this will meet with your hearty approval,

I remain truly yours, a daughter of old Portsmouth. F. S. O.

The Advance Guard.

Mr. William H. Fernald of Pleasant Valley, Iowa, arrived here on Friday, the first of the absent Sons to respond in person to the invitation to once more nestle in the maternal bosom. Mr. Robert B. Palfrey, an adopted Son, arrived on Thursday evening from South Carolina, where he has been since November last with the U. S. coast survey.

Laconics.

The appropriation for the reception of the Sons was passed without a dissenting voice.

Professor Lister, the most eminent astrologer in America, who for twenty-six years was located at Boston, announces in our advertising columns that he is prepared to cast horoscopes and write nativities. The Professor has thorough confidence in his favorite study and professes to select the most fortunate days for commencing business and for all other matters, judging by the position of the planets at the time of birth. Astrology is but little known in this country, but has engaged the attention of scientists for centuries, and Prof. Lister is at present its chief apostle.

"Ye Local" sighs when he is requested by agents of shows to "write us up; give us a good one; we depend on you, you know." His sighs and laments that for the five hundred and thirty-second time, a "puff" must be given, and he must write it, travel over the same old ground and clothe the venerable words of eulogy in new language. That is the most difficult thing in editorial life—but he does it, and wonders, if the showman is pleased, how the readers like it. Now, Bloodgood is to be here this evening, and Harry expects a good notice, when there is really no need of it, for the simple announcement of his return is sufficient to ensure a large audience. We can't write another "notice" for Harry, and so we content ourself and him with the statement that, as usual, he has a first-class variety company, and this evening's entertainment will be "chuck full of fun." The programme is varied. Charles Matthews and LaBelle Celeste will do some remarkable trapeze business; Moore and Kitty Henderson will give German songs; Andy Leavitt has fresh banjo solos, the Daly Brothers will make the clogs rattle, and other noted performers fill up the evening. If you don't want to laugh, don't go!

Twenty thousand dollars a year is a goodly sum to be expended for "contingent" expenses in a small city like this, and during a year when (if we except the small-pox business) there was no call for unusual expenditure in any direction; yet $20,000 and more were paid out for "contingent" last year, besides which there is a "deficiency" of the trifling sum of $6223.60, which has to be made up this year. This deficiency, however, is perhaps to be accounted for by the extension of the municipal year from January to April, by which several months were left without appropriations for salaries or other regular expenses.

There is to be a temperance praise meeting, next Sunday evening, at 7 1-2 o'clock, at the Temple. Rev. Mr. Adams of Great Falls is to lead. Admittance 10 cents.

A dispatch to the Boston News from Newburyport says at 11 o'clock, Thursday, the wedding of Capt. Edward Sise and Miss Carrie J. Pettingell took place at St. Paul's Church, the Rector, Rev. Geo. J. Johnson officiating. Capt. Sise is a resident of Portland; Miss Pettingell is a native of Newburyport and daughter of the late Mr. Warren Pettingell. The arrangements at the church were well carried out and the ceremony was witnessed by a large company of friends, with great interest. The bride's dress was of white muslin, with long veil, gracefully draped with orange flowers. After the ceremony, there was a grand reception at the residence of Mrs. Nicholas Johnson on Federal street.

Charlestown, Mass., will send home to Portsmouth one hundred sons on the 4th of July.

Two prominent citizens have recently left Portsmouth to locate elsewhere. Mr. E. A. Joy is in business in Portland, and Mr. T. F. Burtt has accepted a lucrative position at the Waltham Watch Factory. May the best of success attend both.

Mrs. John P. Hart and Mr. Samuel Dodge have been added to the committee on promenade concert.

Clippings.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

—Late advices from the Indian country state that Lieut. Fred. L. Dodge of this city 23d Regiment Infantry, had been temporarily assigned to Co. "A," 5th Cavalry, and left Camp Verde, Arizona, on May 8th on an expedition 18 miles to establish and take command of a temporary camp, where there will be about 2000 Apache Indians who have given themselves up, having been thoroughly whipped by Gen. Crook. At Camp Verde there were 1600 more "subdued" Apaches. The letter says "there need be no more fears of fighting in Arizona for a long time, as the Indians are terribly frightened, a large number having been killed in the severe encounters with U. S. troops."

—The daily calls by mail for rooms at the Appledore House shows that people do appreciate the balm-laden atmosphere, which, as a correspondent says, floats over the peaceful Isles of Shoals; the brilliant flowers that dot their sterile surface; wild rocks and cavernous retreats which woo the musical surges; old legends which throw their weird influence over the melancholy shores; while sky, rocks and sea paint magnificent pictures, daily renewed, and daily developing new beauties.

—The New England Christian Convention held its annual session at the Court street Christian Church in this city on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. About 150 ministers and delegates were present. Rev. J. P. Nelson of Bangor presided. Rev. A. M. Eaton preached a sermon before the convention Tuesday evening. Rev. A. W. Coan, of Providence, R. I. delivered the lecture Wednesday evening. The exercises throughout were of interest, and well attended.

—The ladies of the Unitarian society have surprised their beloved pastor, Rev. Mr. DeNormandie, with an elegant black silk surplice, which was worn for the first time at the morning service on Sunday last. Surely, is the heart of their spiritual adviser frequently cheered in good words and works.

—The following are the wardens of the Unitarian Church for the ensuing year. W. H. Sise, W. W. Cotton, W. R. Preston, J. A. Grace, J. R. May. At the Episcopal Church, George Henderson, John Christie.

—Mr. Moses' splendid Concert, so long in preparation, will take place next Thursday Evening, the 12th inst. It will be a very artistic and enjoyable entertainment, and merits a full house.

—Wentworth Encampment, G. A. R., of Kittery, surrendered their charter a few weeks ago, consequently there were no public memorial exercises this year at that place.

—If Summer has not come, that is not the fault of Messrs. C. H. Mendum & Co., who have laid in their stock of summer goods, and are all ready to lay them out again.

—The Rockingham Conference of Congregational and Presbyterian churches holds its session at Greenland next Tuesday the 10th, commencing at 10 o'clock.

—There has been a change of running time on the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad. Trains now leave Portsmouth at 7:55 A.M. and 5:10 P.M.

—Mrs. Levi Woodbury, widow of ex-Governor Woodbury, is seriously ill at her summer residence in this city.

On account of other occupancy of the Temple, the Rehearsal for the Grand Union Concert will be held at Irving Hall, Market street, on Sunday evening, June 8th, at half past seven o'clock. Singers having the Jubilee Collection, are requested to bring them.

DEATHS.

In this city, June 5, Miss MARTHA NELLIE WENDELL, daughter of Mr. John S. Wendell, aged 24 years and 7 months.

☞ Funeral will take place from the family residence on Pleasant Street at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

In this city, June 6, of cerebro-spinal-meningitis, after five hours' illness, GRACIE EVERETT MCINTIRE, child of Edward E. and Harriet Octavia McIntire, aged 5 months and 10 days.

In this city, May 24th, Mrs. HARRIET N. FOLSOM, wife of Mr. James W. Folsom.

In this city, May 24th, Mr. CHARLES HODGDON, aged 85 years and 11 months, formerly of Greenland.

In Hampton Falls, May 23, Mr. ZEBULON DOW, aged 72 years, 10 months.

In Hampton, June 3, ALIN S. PERKINS, aged 9 months, 21 days.

In South New Market, June 1, HANNAH F. GLIDDEN, aged 37 years.

In Fremont, June 4, Mr. MOSES W. SANBORN, aged 67 years, 5 months.

In Northwood, Mr. WILLIAM SMALL, aged 84 years, 5 months.

SINGER
SEWING MACHINE
Still Triumphant.

219,758.

These celebrated Machines are sold by

J. F. FESSENDEN,

No. 12 VAUGHAN ST.

The only authorized agent for Portsmouth and vicinity.

Purchasers will find it to their advantage to call and examine this machine that has stood the test for years and has constantly outstripped all its competitors, before buying the machines which are crowded into their houses. By so doing they can understand the reason why the Singer Co. have sold over

1,000,000 Machines.

Morning Chronicle.

WELL DONE, TUCKER.—Yesterday, as Conductor Tucker came along through his train, (the middle train from the east) he held out his hand to a young miss of sixteen summers—of course expecting her to give him a ticket.

Now she and "her feller" had started for Barnum's great show in this city, and both being rather unsophisticated they were careless about matters of etiquette, even to conductors. Consequently, when the young gent and lady took the train at Newton for Haverhill, he seated her, and then wandered off to some other part of the train. She, however, supposed he would see to the tickets, the conductor and the "great moral exhibition."

The result of this very natural state of things and chain of circumstances was that when Mr. Tucker put out his palm for a ticket, she dropped into it a checkerberry lozenge, smiling at the same time.

"I want your ticket, miss," said Mr. T.

"I don't know anything about a ticket," said she; that feller's got it, I s'pose."

"What feller?" says Tucker.

"The one who come with me and had light pants on."

"Well, where is he?" said Tucker.

"Don't know," said she; "guess he went that way," pointing to the door.

Mr. Tucker "moved on," and the girl continuing to eat lozenges. Finally back came Mr. Tucker and again inquired for "the feller with the light pants on." The girl told him "she hadn't seen him." Mr. T. now gave her a word or two of advice, couched in respectful language and appropriate to the occasion, or any occasion when "a feller" leaves you in the cars.

After he had left her a second time, she turned to the lady sitting behind her and said,

"What shall I do? I hain't got no ticket; do you suppose he would take money?"

The lady, wishing to see the denouement, told her "it was doubtful; that conductors generally were averse to taking money, and she had better keep quiet."

The final result was that Tucker found the "feller with the light pants on," and got the fare, while the happy couple went on their way rejoicing and to the great show, with light hearts and pockets full of peanuts and lozenges.

Tucker thinks the girl is naturally of a generous disposition.—Haverhill Bulletin.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Portsmouth Savings Bank.

President, WILLIAM SIMES,

Treasurer, J. F. SHORES.

Deposits, $1,930,378.46.

The Treasurer would ask the attention of the Depositors to these notices.

1st, In July next, the regular Five Years Extra Dividend will be declared.

2. From the 3d day of July to the 20th day of August, the books will be in the hands of a committee to examine the accounts and cast the Dividends thereon, during which time no Withdrawals can be made; therefore, the treasurer requests all depositors needing money during that interval to withdraw it on the 1st, 2nd, or 3d of July, as they can do it on those days without affecting the dividends.

3d. Deposits will be received as usual, while the books are in the hands of the Committee.

4th, The regular and extra dividends can be added to the Depositors' books after the 20th day of August and can then be withdrawn, if so desired; but if allowed to remain, the interest on those dividends will be cast from the 1st day of July.

5th. This bank pays to its Depositors interest semi-annually at the rate of Five per cent. per annum free of all taxes, and that interest compounds every six months.

6th, Interest on new deposits commences on the first day of each and every month, and all deposits made on the first three days of each month draw interest from the first day of that month.

GETTYSBURG, SPRING CO.

SEWING MACHINE SALES

FOR 1872.

BY comparison of Statistics from sworn returns of the sales of Sewing Machines for 1871 and 1872, it shows that the

"DOMESTIC"

SEWING MACHINE CO.'s sales have increased over 375 per cent., while other Co.'s sales have increased over 36 per cent., proving the great popularity of the "DOMESTIC."

Annexed are the percentage of gain, of the leading makers:

Domestic Sewing Machine Co.,	gain	375	per cent
Wheeler & Wilson	"	36	"
Singer	"	23	"
Grover & Baker	"	3	"
Weed	"	8	"
Wilcox & Gibbs	"	12	"
Union	"	8	"

Other Machines Co.'s' sales show a loss over the year before.

If the increase in sales be any criterion of merit, the "DOMESTIC" bears the palm.

The "DOMESTIC" works so easy, it is working itself into every family.

The "DOMESTIC" runs so light, it is distancing, all competitors. It only asks a few days trial.

The "DOMESTIC" is recommend by the Medical Faculty.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

Alter an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases at as very reasonable charges. ☞ JOHN TAGGART."

IRON in the BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, DROPSY, HUMORS,

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes the Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills" simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, imparting strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women: such invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

SPRING TIME.

Sonoma Wine Bitters

are the BEST, to use to counteract the debilitating effects of SPRING and early SUMMER. They are MILD AND PLEASANT IN THEIR EFFECTS, and no change in diet is needed.

EVERYBODY CAN TAKE THEM:

Man, Woman or Child!

They are made with PURE, SOFT, MILD WINE, and choice Plants and Roots, are Delicious to the Taste and Delightful in Aroma, while the strong, fiery spirit, so prominent in most other Bitters, is lacking.

SONOMA WINE BITTERS

have been used for years, not only in the United States but in the British Provinces, West Coast of South America, Sandwich Islands, the East and West Indies, and Austria, and are recognized as the Most Palatable, Healthy and Appetizing Bitters in the market.

Sonoma Wine Bitters

are Medicinal and Invigorating, cleansing the blood, and giving a healthy tone to the entire system. Ladies and Children will find therein a most agreeable Tonic. Try them, and you will use no other.

BED CORDS.—Many of our readers will recognize the truthfulness of the following narrative as told by the funny man of the Danbury News:

It is a little singular why your wife's mother will persist in sleeping on a cord bedstead. But she does. You don't think so much of this until you are called upon to put it up, which event generally takes place in the evening. The bedstead has been cleaned in the afternoon, and having been soaked through with hot water, is now ready for putting up. Your wife holds the lamp and takes charge of the conversation. The rope has been under water several times in the course of the cleaning, and having swollen to a diameter greater than the holes in the rails, has also got into a fit of coiling up into mysterious and very intricate forms. You at first wonder at this, but pretty soon wonder ceases to be virtue, and you then scold. The thread which has been wound around the end of the rope to facilitate its introduction in the holes has come off, and you have to roll it up again. Then, after you have pulled it through eight holes, your wife makes the discovery that you have started wrong. The way that rope comes out of those holes again makes your wife get closer to the door.

Then you try again, and get it tangled in your legs. By this time you notice that this is the smallest bedroom in the house, and you call the attention of your wife to the fact by observing: "Why on earth don't you open the door? Do you want to smother me?" She opens the door and you start again, and she helps you with the lamp. First she puts it on the wrong side of the rail, then she moves it so the heat comes up from the chimney and scorches your nose. Just as you need it the most, you lose sight of it entirely, and turning around, find her examining the wall to see how that man has put on the whitewash. This excites you and brings out the perspiration in greater profusion, and you declare you will kick the bedstead out of doors if she doesn't come around with that light. Then she comes around. Finally the cord is laid all right, and you proceed to execute the very delicate job of tightening it. The lower ropes are first walked over. This is done by stepping on the first one and sinking it down, hanging to the head-board with the clutch of death. Then you step with the other foot on the next line, spring that down, lose your balance, grab for the head-board, miss it, and come down in a heap. This is repeated more or less times across the length of the bed, the only variety being the new places you bruise.

The top cords are tightened in another way, and you now proceed to that. You first put one foot on each rail, which spreads you some, and as you do it the frightful thought strikes you that if one of these feet should slip over, nothing on earth would prevent your being split through to the chin. Then you put up the first rope until your eyes seem to be on the point of rolling out of their sockets, and the blood in your veins fairly groans, and on being convinced that you can't pull it any further without crippling yourself for life, you catch hold of the next rope and draw that up, and grunt. Then you move along to the next, and pull that up, and grunt again. Just as you have got to the middle and commenced to think you are about through, even if your joints will never again set as they did before, you some way or other mies the connection, and find that you have got to go back and do it all over. Here you pause for a few minutes of oracular refreshment, then slowly and carefully work your way back. You don't jump down and walk back, because you are afraid to spread out in that way again. You sort of waddle back, working the way inch by inch, and with consummate patience. A man thus stretched across a bedstead never becomes so excited as to lose his presence of mind. It would be instant death to him if he did. Then he goes over it again, waddling and pulling, groaning and grunting, while his wife moves around with the lamp and tells him to take it easy and not scratch the bedstead any more than he can help, and she can't tell which creaks the most, he or the bedstead. And after he gets through she has the audacity to ask him to bring in the feather beds. In the dead of night that man will steal up to that room and look at the bedstead and swear.

—Viall (Jasper) of Keokuk, Iowa, reformed, joined the church, attracted the notice of Brothers Harlan and Newman, got an Indian agency in Montana, made money, blundered an irregularity so grossly the administration had to ship him, backslid, and at last accounts was looking for a first-class game rooster to represent him in an approaching "chicken unpleasantness."

—During his recent visit to this city General Sheridan, speaking of the late raid into Mexico said, "The Rio Grande is such a crooked river, you know, that McKenzie probably couldn't tell which side of it he was on." The merry twinkle of his eye as he said this showed that he did not disapprove of McKenzie's action.—Philadelphia Press.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

MONDAY, JUNE 9, 1873.

The Polaris Survivors.

The formal and severely secret examination of the survivors of the Polaris was on Friday commenced in the cabins of the Talapoosa off the Washington Navy Yard. This strict secrecy is maintained because Secretary Robeson regards the examination partly in the light of a naval criminal investigation. Captain Tyson was rigidly cross-examined for several hours. The examination of Sergeant Meyers of the Army Signal Corps, who was one of the Polaris crew, next followed that of Captain Tyson.

An analysis of the testimony thus far taken discloses no evidence of the poisoning of Capt. Hall, or of mutiny or heartless desertion on the part of the crew. From the present evidence it is the opinion of the officials that Esquimaux Joe never in fact told the story which has been attributed to him concerning the death of Capt. Hall by poison. The original published statement that Capt. Hall's death was caused by apoplexy is confirmed by minute details. The evidence strengthens the statement of Capt. Tyson that the separation of the Polaris from the ice floe was entirely accidental, and shows that there is much hope for the safety of the ship.

The action of the remaining crew of the Polaris will depend upon two contingencies. If Captain Buddington and Dr. Bessels were united in their determination to proceed northward, under the orders of the Department, they would have continued their voyage toward the North Pole. In the event of disagreement the Polaris would immediately return. It is presumed that those remaining on the ship, thus crippled in help, would be disheartened by what to them must have been the dreadful fate of their lost comrades, and that consequently the Polaris may be expected in American waters before December.

Sergeant Meyers is the only scientific member of the expedition left upon the ice floe. It is represented that the records of the Polaris were more valuable contributions to natural history and science than those of any previous polar expedition. Sergeant Meyers and Capt. Tyson both state that Dr. Bessels had secured a large and rare collection in natural history, and that complete records were made of the temperatures of air and water, of deep sea soundings, currents, winds, storms, and ice.

The statements made before the Secretary show that Captain Hall had substantially accomplished the objects of his voyage at the time of his death, inasmuch as the scientific information and not the mere fact of reaching the Polar sea is claimed to have been the chief object of the expedition. Among the Esquimaux survivors is a babe, which was born at the furthest northern point which the Polaris reached.

An Old Newspaper Man Gone.

Hon. John Prentiss, founder of the New Hampshire Sentinel, and for forty-eight years its editor and proprietor, died at his residence in Keene, on Friday, in the ninety-sixth year of his age. He had been in his usual health until within a few days, and his death was the cause of no particular disease, but was rather the breaking up of old age. His mind was bright and clear to the last, and he passed away quietly and peacefully, surrounded by his children and grandchildren. The funeral took place on Sunday from the late residence of the deceased.

The deceased for 49 years was town clerk, town treasurer, Representative to the Legislature and a member of the State Senate. He was for many years a member and also President of the New Hampshire Historical Society. For more than half a century Mr. Prentiss was prominently identified with religious and educational associations. He was made a Master Mason in 1806, Royal Arch Mason in 1813 and a Knight Templar in 1817. He was the Nestor of the New Hampshire press. Up to within a few weeks he enjoyed wonderfully preserved health, and before his last brief sickness he was often seen in the streets of Keene on his way to the Post Office to get the Boston Daily Journal, of which he had been a subscriber since 1848. Mr. Prentiss was a gentleman of the old school, agreeable in his manners, a friend of his country at all times, a supporter of all good organizations, a kind neighbor and a true friend. His death is a great loss to his town and State.

A Lady in Huntington, Mass, attended church in the morning and died in the afternoon. If it had been the theatre instead of the church the pastor would have taken the matter as a text, but now he doesn't exactly think that her death implies anything.

Toledo, Ohio, had a $250,000 fire on the night of the 6th. Insurance about $150,000.

The coroner's jury in the Walworth murder case returned a verdict to the effect that Frank H. Walworth fired the shot that killed his father, but discreetly refrained from expressing any opinion whatever as to what crime if any had been committed. Josiah Moorhead, who occupied the room next to that in which Walworth was murdered, testified that he heard shots soon after the man was admitted to his son's room but did not hear any conversation between the men. He heard shouts of "murder" quite loud after the second and third shots. The murderer was committed to the Tombs to await the action of the grand jury.

The Carlists, under the Cure of Santa Cruz, have taken the town of Irun, in Spain, and massacred 27 prisoners. The Carlists claim that the republican troops raised a white flag and afterward fired upon the Carlists, for which they were shot without mercy.

Albert Bierstadt, the artist, while going from San Francisco recently on a sketching trip, was overturned in the stagecoach and had one of his legs badly bruised. The driver, who was drunk, was killed by the accident.

The Universalists see signs of the approach of the millennium in the fact that so many of the evangelical churches are willing to fraternize with them.

The most unique mass meeting ever held was one of boys in New York, on Friday, to obtain space on which to play base ball.

A lady of Greeley, Colorado Territory, has abandoned the needle for the plow, and, according to a Western paper, has done plain sowing to the extent of eighteen acres of wheat. She had formerly been accustomed to sowing tares.

Peace Commissioner Meacham, who was shot with Canby, will never recover his sight.

Three fish peddlers got on a lark in Milburne, L. I., recently, and wrecked a liquor store, on leaving which they stole a double-barrelled gun. One of the party then attempted to smash the gun by striking the locks against a tree, when both barrels were discharged and his bowels blown to pieces. Rum and gunpowder make a dangerous mixture.

The extensive woolen mills at Hyde Park, Mass., were burned Saturday morning, and 400 persons thrown out of employment. Loss $300,000; insurance $400,000.

GOING UP.—It is not generally known, but it is nevertheless a fact, that the State of Georgia has some twenty condemned criminals, all of whom are expected to hang before the 4th of July next. So grand an opportunity for the installation of the national hangman that some of our exchanges are calling for! It would be an excellent idea to lump the Modocs with the Georgian candidates, appoint some dead politician to hang them, and then give him a foreign mission for it.—Cin Chron.

State News.

One Gus Peabody, who six years ago escaped from the Ipswich (Mass.) house of correction, has recently been captured at Derry, where he was farming and sent back.

One of the interminable "flowage cases" was settled on Friday by the purchase of a flowed farm by the Lake Company for about $10,000.

A building in Manchester, owned by the Amoskeag Company and occupied by a harness factory and a belting and hose factory, took fire spontaneously from a load of twine in the upper story, Friday evening, and was burned to the ground. Insured.

The New Hampshire Editors and Printers' Association have accepted an invitation from Lancaster to visit that vicinity, this summer. The principal points of interest to be visited will be Lancaster, Colebrook, Dixville Notch, and Connecticut Lake. The excursion will start on Monday, July 7. Honorary members will be included this year.

The Modocs.

On the 5th inst., Gen. Davis was preparing evidence to prove the identity of the Modoc murderers, intending to hang eight or ten of the leaders, when he received a dispatch from Washington to hold them subject to decision there and probable court martial at the camp. The delay causes great dissatisfaction among the citizens and in camp, and is calculated to create a wrong impression among the surrounding tribes who are disaffected.

News has reached New York that Hooker Jim and Steamboat Frank made a successful scout Thursday by co-operating with the Oregon volunteers. They trailed three warriors and five squaws to Timber Mountain, and assisted in making the capture.

One of the captives is Black Jim. He is a Modoc who has bullied the settlers of that region for two or three years, and committed cruel murders. The Oregonians regard him with special hatred. Only five or six of the Modoc warriors are now missing.

SOME SINGULAR STICKS.—The clery of England seems to have a bottomless capacity for getting themselves into scrapes. A Rev. Dr. Hodgins has been summoned by his clerk for "spitting in his face on Sunday evening just outside of the church door." Mr. Steward, a Liverpool rector, is at odds with his vestry for putting up an obnoxious cross, and at a vestry meeting there was almost a riot. The Vicar of Laudulph, owing to disagreements, finds his congregation reduced to three, and has been publicly told by one of his recalcitrant flock that "he talked nonsense," which wasn't a handsome thing for a sheep to say to his shepard. When this congregation of Laudulph met on Easter Monday there was a row about matters and things in general, and especially concerning the sacramental wine. The vicar declared that not enough had been provided for the celebration of the Eucharist. The church warden pointedly responded that as only two persons had communicated during the past year, and he had sent a whole bottle to the vestry, he thought there must have been quite enough and to spare. The response of the vicar is not reported, but he must have been in a most unclerical passion.

ARE ADVERTISEMENTS EVER READ? In the course of a spicy article, answering this question, the Mobile Register says:

If any man affects to believe that advertisements are not read, let him advertise that he wants to buy a dog, for instance. If he is not furnished with every variety of animated sausage this morning before breakfast, and besides with one or two sound grounds for suits against him for assault, we will break our golden rule and—deadhead his advertisement. And it is fair to infer that any man who wants to sell a dog also wishes to buy something with the proceeds of his canine venture. And so up to the man who wishes to sell his cargo of coffee that he may buy a cargo of Western produce.

—The Essex statesman is not famed for his reverence of men and things, and the following little anecdote, which has not yet, we believe, appeared in print, affords additional proof of his readiness to get off a witty retort, no matter who may suffer by it. In a lobby altercation during the last session of Congress a Western member, somewhat famed for his eccentricities and lack of intellectual endowments, denounced Mr. Butler for his action concerning the back pay business. "Sir," said he excitedly, "you have only two ideas, one is to make money no matter how, and the other is to keep it." "Sir," replied Mr. Butler calmly, "granting your statement to be true, I am still your superior, for you have no ideas at all, and the reason is that no one has ever been able to fold up an idea this enough to poke it into that old crack in your head."

—The Milwaukee police thought that they found a dead man in the streets the other night, and laid him out in the Morgue with a wet cloth over his face. While they were waiting for the coroner the corpse walked off in disgust, and they want a corpse so badly now that it is not considered safe to ask about him at the police station.

WELL'S GRAND DISTRIBUTION.—The committed, after drawing nearly one hundred and fifty thousand dollars have decided to postpone the drawing until July 1st, 1873. This will positively be the last postponement. W. B. Lord, Agent.

FOREIGN INDORSEMENT OF THE STANDARD TONIC OF AMERICA.—There seems to be no limit to the celebrity of Hostetter's Bitters. Every year the demand for it increases and the territorial area of its popularity expands. It has long been the standard tonic, and an approved remedy for epidemic disease in the Republics of South and Central America, in Brazil and the West Indies and the British Colonies on this continent. More recently its merits have been appreciated at the antipodes, and it is now shipped in large quantities to Australia and Tasmania. The reason why it is making such extraordinary headway in remote regions as well as in America, are very simple and lie in a nutshell. It is a medicine suited to all peoples, all climates and all ordinary disorders and disabilities. It prevents and cures malarious diseases, relieves indigestion, braces the nerves, improves the appetite, clears the brain, regulates the liver, arrests intermittent fever, strengthens the physique and invigorates the constitution.

DON'T SLIGHT YOUR TEETH.—Remember that upon their labor, the health of the stomach depends. Keep them perfect, and, in order to do so, manipulate them with a brush dipped in the fragrant SOZODONT, once or twice a day.

PROPOSALS FOR MATERIALS TO BE SUPPLIED TO THE NAVY YARDS UNDER THE COGNIZANCE OF THE BUREAU OF EQUIPMENT AND RECRUITING.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF EQUIPMENT AND RECRUITING,
Washington, D. C., May 26, 1873.

SEALED PROPOSALS to furnish Materials for the Navy for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1874, will be received at this Bureau until 10 o'clock A. M., of the 23d June next, at which time the proposals will be opened.

The proposals must be addressed to the "Chief of the Bureau of Equipment and Recruiting, Navy Department, Washington," and must be indorsed: "Proposals for Materials for the Navy," that they may be distinguished from ordinary business letters.

To prevent confusion and facilitate the opening of the bids, parties bidding for supplies at several yards will enclose their bids in separate envelopes, each indorsed with the name of the yard for which the bid is made.

Printed schedules for such class as parties deal in and intend to bid for, together with instructions to bidders, giving the forms of proposal, of guarantee, and of certificate of guarantors, with printed forms of offer, will be furnished to such persons as desire to bid, on application to the Commandants of the respective Navy Yards, and those of all the yards on application to the Bureau.

The Commandant of each Navy Yard, and the Purchasing Paymaster for each Station, will have a copy of the schedules of the other yards, for examination only, in order that persons who intend to bid may judge whether it is desirable to make application for any of the classes of those yards.

The proposals must be for the whole of a class, but the Department reserves the right to reduce the whole class, should the interest of the Government require it, before the award of the cobtract. All applications for information, or for the examination of samples, must be made to the Commandants of the respective yards.

Bids or offers will be received only from parties who are bona fide dealers in, or manufacturers of, the articles they offer to furnish. The guarantors must be certified by the Collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which they reside.

The contract will be awarded to the person who makes the lowest bid and gives the guarantee required by law, the Navy Department, however, reserving the right to reject the lowest bid, or any which it may deem exorbitant, or which may not be to the interest of the Government.

Under the provisions of the second section of the act approved March 3, 1863, the offer of any person who, as principal or surety, has not filled any previous contract, will not be received.

Sureties in the full amount will be required to sign the contract, and their responsibility must be certified to the satisfaction of the Navy Department.

As additional security twenty per centum will be withheld from the amount of the bills until the contracts shall have been completed, and eighty per centum of the amount of each bill approved in triplicate by the Commandants of the respective yards, will be paid by the Paymaster of the station designated in the contract, or, if none is specified, by the Paymaster of the station nearest the yard where the goods are delivered, within ten days after the warrant for the same shall have been passed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The classes of this Bureau are numbered and designated as follows:

No 1, Flax Canvas, &c.
No 2, Cotton Canvas, &c.
No. 3, Cotton Hammocks, Bag and Cot Stuff.
No. 4, Iron and Steel.
No. 5, Galley Iron.

MARSTON & FREEMAN.

Fourth of July.

The citizens' committee held a special meeting, Friday evening, Col. Wm. H. Sise in the chair. The subject of paying $500 to the City Guards as recommended by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, was laid on the table. The communication from Col. Wm. Beals & Son was referred to committee on decorations.

Messrs. Chas. H. Mendum, E. A. Tilton and Alfred Stavers were appointed a committee to communicate with the teachers regarding the floral display, and reported that the teachers would meet and send in a report at the next meeting.

Mr. D. Webster Barnabee, for the committee on promenade concert, recommended that seats be provided in the tent for the accommodation of the ladies. The subject was referred to the committee on lumber.

Mr. William R. Boardman, from the committee on tents, reported that arrangements had been made with Mr. R. M. Yale for two large and two small tents, and the committee were authorized to employ four men to protect the tents in the day time, it being understood that the Independent Battalion will protect them at night.

It was voted that the general committee act as escort and reception committee on the 3d, 4th and 5th of July, and that the citizens be invited to assemble and march with them to Frenchman's Lane on those days.

The committee then adjourned to Thursday evening.

Mr. Wm. R. Preston being unable to perform the duties of chairman of the committee on decorations, his resignation was accepted at a meeting held Friday evening. Mr. Gardner M. Goodrich was chosen chairman.

The chairman was authorized to confer with Capt. Thornton, U. S. N., relative to procuring bunting.

It was voted to decorate Frenchman's Lane, where the returning Sons are to disembark from the cars, with flags and streamers.

Sub-committees on decoration of tents and city buildings were appointed as follows:—

On tents, Messrs. Samuel Dodge, D. Webster Barnabee, James H. Dow, Henry H. Ham, Jr., E. A. Tilton, Dr. James R. May.

On city building, Messrs. Chas. A. Shannon, Alfred Stavers, Henry C. Walker, Clarence O. Walker, John S. Rand, John H. Locke.

The decoration committee will meet again next Monday evening.

The Coming Celebration.

We find the following notice in the Boston Daily Globe of Saturday, and as it will interest nearly all of our readers, we copy it entire:

The Association of the Sons of Portsmouth resident in Boston and vicinity has arranged to attend the Celebration at Portsmouth on the 4th of July next, as follows: Tickets good on any train from July 1st to 4th, inclusive, to go, and from the 4th to the 7th, inclusive, to return, will be for sale at the Eastern Railroad Passenger Agency, 134 Washington street, from June 15th to July 3d, at $2 each for the round trip. A Special Train will leave Boston on July 4th, at 7 A. M. precisely, stopping at "Frenchman's Lane," where the procession will be formed. All who wish to go in this train must register their intention on purchasing their tickets. A Special Train will leave to return at 10.30 P. M. Sons residing in other towns are cordially invited to join with us. Further information will be given on application to the Secretary, 135 Washington street.

The Concert To-Night,

Vocal and instrumental, needs no introduction and but little recommendation from us. It will doubtless be one of the most interesting and enjoyable entertainments ever given here. Most of the leading musicians in the city are engaged in it, and the programme will not lack the spice of variety, at any rate. Besides the old music, there will be solos, duetts, quartetts, glees, &c. The chorus, including Harlow's Orchestra, will be a grand one; and some of our best artists will be found among the soloists. The low price of tickets ought to fill the Temple, even without the object,—the benefit of the Portsmouth Music Society, which is in fact a public benefit. The programme, printed in ye olden style, is a choice morceau.

A Good Job Well Done.

Nearly nine years ago, on the 27th of October, 1864, Mr. Edwin B. Prime, then serving as a volunteer in the Union army, received a rifle bullet in his head, and carried it there until last Friday, when it was transferred from his head to a paper box—a transfer as gratifying to Mr. Prime as it is creditable to the professional skill of the operating surgeon. At the time he was wounded Mr. Prime was a member of Company G., 10th Regt. N. H. Volunteers, then engaged in the second battle of Fair Oaks under Gen. Gilman Marston; and the bullet (fired from the flank) struck him in the left temple as he was kneeling and aiming, and lodged near the angle of the jaws, knocking him over, though he was afterwards fortunately able to take himself from the field. Since that time he has had no use of his jaws, and has subsisted entirely on chopped or liquid food; and though many surgeons have at different times examined his head none of them (until Thursday) have discovered the bullet.

For some time past Mr. Prime has been employed as messenger in the office of Capt. English, executive officer at the Navy Yard; and on Thursday last his face was inspected by Surgeon Frederick E. Potter, U. S. N., at present attached to the receiving ship Sabine, who at once gratified Mr. Prime with the assurance that the bullet was stuck in the bone behind his upper jaw, and should be removed. On Friday, Dr. Potter made his promise good by extracting the ball from its nine years' resting place, taking it out from the inside of Mr. Prime's mouth without cutting, an operation the delicacy of which will be apparent when we state that the teeth were firmly clinched together, as they had been ever since Fair Oaks. The surgeon, after removing the bullet, wedged the jaws apart for a little way, and has no doubt he will be able to restore Mr. Prime's chewing gear to serviceable working condition, after allowing time for the cavity made by the bullet to become partially healed. The patient devoured a bit of ham for breakfast on Saturday, just to see how it would seem to chew something once more, and found it a very pleasant experiment.

The bullet is an ugly-looking affair and weighs nearly an ounce and a quarter,—probably an English Enfield bullet. A piece had been dug out of one side of it by contact with the bone when it entered, but the detached piece was found and removed by Dr. Potter and Mr. Prime congratulates himself that that lead mine is worked out.

Laconics.

Representatives from this city to the Legislature are placed upon the standing committees of the House as follows: on national affairs, Jackson; on railroads, Hatch; on State prison, Tibbetts; on finance, Annable; on towns and parishes, Kent (chairman;) on division of towns, Broughton; on insane asylum, Marcy; on retrenchment and reform, Marston; on reform school, Whidden.

Col. Hackett on Saturday sold twenty-five shares in the First National Bank, at $143 1-2 per share, and three shares in the National Mechanics & Traders' Bank, at $134 per share. Mr. J. Albert Walker was the purchaser.

Morning Chronicle.

USE OF A RECEIPT.—In a city not many thousand miles from Milwaukee there lives a lawyer, crafty, subtle, and cute as a fox. An Indian of the Choctaw tribe, Kiser by name, owed him some money. The lawyer had waited long for the tin. His patience at last gave way, and he threatened the Indian with lawsuits, processes, and executions. The poor Choctaw got scared, and finally brought the money to his creditor. He waited for the lawyer to give him a receipt.

"What are you waiting for?" said the lawyer.

"Receipt," said the Indian.

"A receipt?" said the lawyer, "a receipt! What do you know about a receipt? Can you understand the nature of a receipt? Tell me the use of one, and I will give it to you."

The Indian looked at him a moment, and then said:

"S'pose may be me die; me go to heben; me find de gate locked; me see de Apostle Peter; he says, 'Kiser, what do you want?' Me say, 'Want to get in.' He say 'you good man?' Me say, 'Yes.' Her say, 'You pay Mr. A that money?' What me do? I hab no receipt. Hab to hunt all ober hell to find you."

He got his receipt.

WATER AS A PEACE MAKER.—Some time since two young men named Prater and Dayton, both boarding on Atwater street, had a falling out about a young lady, and have ever since been particularly savage toward each other. Prater heard that his whilom friend had said that he was going to maul him, and so he started out and found him at the railroad elevator, just going out for a sail. He leaped into the boat and attacked Dayton, and both tumbled in the water.

Hardly a word was spoken, but the two men fought fiercely, and both went down fighting and came up fighting, grasping each other with one hand and striking with the other. The other parties in the boat attempted to separate the combatants, but could not. At length Prater, who was the weaker of the two, became so exhausted that he relaxed his grip and went down. Dayton did not hesitate to go after him, and he caught him by the hair, rose with him, and held him up until both were pulled in. Prater was about as near dead as a live man could be, and was in bed and quite ill last evening.

The late foes have become friends, thanks to the generous dose of cold water.—Detroit Free Press.

A LITTLE LATE.—In Detroit the other day a resident of the Seventh ward wrung Dan. Rice's hand and asked: "Is this old Dan?" "It is," replied Daniel, pleasantly. "I'm powerful glad to see you," continued the Seventh Warder; "we had an arrival at our house last night, and we are going to call it Dan Rice." Dan's countenance fell at once, and in a solemn whisper he said: "I'm sorry, but you are a little late. I've shaken hands with forty-eight men this morning who had named babies after me, and my last five dollar bill has been paid out." The game used to work on Dan., but he found out that most of the "arrivals" were girls, and he shut down on presents years ago.

—A lady who works nicely in straw undertook some time ago to make a summer hat for her husband out of the sherry-cobbler straws used by him last year. She has already made fifty hats out of them, with a large sheaf to spare, and thinks of setting up a store.

IRON in the BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, DROPSY, HUMORS,

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes the Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested, and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhoea, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

SEWING MACHINE SALES FOR 1872.

BY comparison of Statistics from sworn returns of the sales of Sewing Machines for 1871 and 1872, it shows that the

"DOMESTIC"

SEWING MACHINE CO.'s sales have increased over 375 per cent., while no other Co.'s sales have increased over 36 per cent., proving the great popularity of the "DOMESTIC."

Annexed are the percentage of gain, of the leading makers:

Domestic Sewing Machine Co.,	gain	375 per cent
Wheeler & Wilson "	"	36 "
Singer "	"	23 "
Grover & Baker "	"	5 "
Weed "	"	8 "
Wilcox & Gibbs "	"	12 "
Wilson "	"	8 "

Other Machines Co.'s' sales show a loss over the year before.

If the increase in sales be any criterion of merit, the "DOMESTIC" bears the palm.

The "DOMESTIC" works so easy, it is working itself into every family.

The "DOMESTIC" runs so light, it is distancing, all competitors. It only asks a few days trial.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs, No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON, After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Portsmouth Savings Bank.

President, WILLIAM SIMES,

Treasurer, J. F. SHORES.

Deposits, $1,930,378.46.

The Treasurer would ask the attention of the Depositors to these notices.

1st, In July next, the regular Five Years Extra Dividend will be declared.

2, From the 3d day of July to the 20th day of August, the books will be in the hands of a committee to examine the accounts and cast the Dividends thereon, during which time no Withdrawals can be made; therefore, the treasurer requests all depositors needing money during that interval to withdraw it on the 1st, 2nd, or 3d of July, as they can do it on those days without affecting the dividends.

3d. Deposits will be received as usual, while the books are in the hands of the Committee.

4th, The regular and extra dividends can be added to the Depositors' books after the 20th day of August and can then be withdrawn, if so desired; but if allowed to remain, the interest on those dividends will be cast from the 1st day of July.

5th, This bank pays to its Depositors interest semi-annually at the rate of Five per cent. per annum free of all taxes, and that interest compounds every six months.

6th, Interest on new deposits commences on the first day of each and every month, and all deposits made on the first three days of each month draw interest from the first day of that month.

SPRING TIME.

Sonoma Wine Bitters

are the BEST to use to counteract the debilitating effects of SPRING and early SUMMER. They are MILD AND PLEASANT IN THEIR EFFECTS, and no change in diet is needed.

EVERYBODY CAN TAKE THEM:

Man, Woman or Child!

They are made with PURE, SOFT, MILD WINE, and choice Plants and Roots, are Delicious to the Taste and Delightful in Aroma, while the strong, fiery spirit, so prominent in most other Bitters, is lacking.

SONOMA WINE BITTERS

have been used for years, not only in the United States but in the British Provinces, West Coast of South America, Sandwich Islands, the East and West Indias, and Austria, and are recognized as the Most Palatable, Healthy and Appetizing Bitters in the market.

Sonoma Wine Bitters

are Medicinal and Invigorating, cleansing the blood, and giving a healthy tone to the entire system. Ladies and Children will find therein a most agreeable Tonic. Try them, and you will use no other.

Sole everywhere by Druggists and Grocers.

STEPHEN D. SCRIGGINS,

No. 15 FLEET St. (up stairs), Portsmouth, House, Sign and Carriage Painter, GLAZIER AND PAPER HANGER.

The Chronicle.

Among the Isles of Shoals.

In a series of papers published not many years ago, Herman Melville made the world acquainted with the "Encantadas," or Enchanted Islands, which he describes as lying directly under the equator, off the coast of South America, and of which he says: "It is to be doubted whether any spot of earth can, in desolateness, furnish a parallel to this group." But their dark volcanic crags and melancholy beaches can hardly seem more desolate than do the low bleached rocks of the Isles of Shoals to eyes that behold them for the first time. Very sad they look, stern, bleak, and unpromising, yet are they enchanted islands in a better sense of the world than are the great Gallipagos of which Mr. Melville discourses so delightfully.

There is a strange charm about them, an indescribable influence in their atmosphere, hardly to be explained, but universally acknowledged. People forget the hurry and worry and fret of life after living there awhile, and to an imaginative mind, all things become dreamy as they were to the lotus-eaters, to whom

"The gushing of the wave
Far, far away did seem to mourn and rave
On alien shores."

The eternal sound of the sea on every side has a tendency to wear away the edge of human thought and perception; sharp lines become blurred and softened like a sketch in charcoal; nothing appeals to the mind with the same distinctness as on the mainland, amid the rush and stir of people and things, and the excitements of social life. This was strikingly illustrated during the late war, which, while it wrung the heart of the whole country, and stirred the blood of every man, woman and child on the continent, left the handful of human beings on these lonely rocks almost untouched. The echoes of woe and terror were so faint and far, they seemed to lose their significance among the many-voiced waters they crossed, and reached at last the indifferent ears they sought with no more force than a spent wave.

Nine miles of the Atlantic Ocean intervene between these islands and the nearest point of the coast of New Hampshire; but from this nearest point the coast-line recedes gradually in dim and dimmer distance, to Cape Ann, in Massachusetts, twenty-one miles away at the south-west, and to Cape Neddock in Maine, sixteen miles distant in the northeast (in clear weather another cape is faintly distinguishable beyond this,) and about one-third of the great horizon is filled by this beautiful, undulating line of land, which, under the touch of atmosphere change, is almost as plastic as the clouds, and wear a new aspect with every turn of wind and weather.

Swept by every wind that blows, and beaten by the bitter brine for unknown ages, well may the Isles of Shoals be barren, bleak, and bare. At first sight nothing can be more rough and inhospitable than they appear. The incessant influence of wind and sun, rain, snow, frost, and spray, have so bleached the tops of the rocks, that they look hoary as if with age, though in the summer-time a gracious greenness of vegetation breaks here and there the stern outlines, and softens somewhat their rugged aspect. Yet so forbidding are their shores, it seems scarcely worth while to land upon them,—more heaps of tumbling granite in the wide and lonely sea,—when all the smiling, "sapphire spangled marriage-ring" of the land" lies ready to woo the voyager back again, and welcome his returning prow with pleasant sights and sounds and scents that the wild waste of water never know. But to the human creature who has eyes that will see and ears that will hear, nature appeals with such a novel charm, that the luxuriant beauty of the land is half forgotten before one is aware. Its sweet gardens, full of color and perfume, its rich woods and softly swelling hills, its placid waters, and fields and flowery meadows, are no longer dear and desirable; for the wonderful sound of the sea dulls the memory of all past impressions, and seems to fulfill and satisfy all present needs. Landing for the first time, the stranger is struck only by the sadness of the place,—the vast loneliness; for there are not even trees to whisper with familiar voices,—nothing but sky and sea and rocks. But the very wildness and desolation reveal a strange beauty to him. Let him wait till evening comes,

With sunset purple soothing all the waste, and he will find himself slowly succumbing to the subtile charm of that sea atmosphere. He sleeps with all the waves of the Atlantic murmuring in his ears, and wakes to the freshness of a summer morning; and it seems as if morning were made for the first time. For the world is like a new-blown rose, and in the heart of it he stands, with only the caressing music of the water to break the utter silence, unless, perhaps, a song-sparrow pours out a blissful warble like an embodied joy. The sea is rosy, and the sky; the line of land is radient; the scattered sails glow with the delicious color that touches so tenderly the bare, bleak rocks.

These are lovelier than the sky of sea or distant sails, or graceful gulls' wings reddened with the dawn; nothing takes color so beautifully as the bleached granite; and shadows are delicate, and the fine, hard outlines are glorified and softened beneath the fresh first blush of sunrise. All things are speckless and spotless; there is no dust, no noise, nothing but peace in the sweet air and on the quiet sea. The day goes on; the rose changes to yellow gold, the gold to clear, white daylight and the sea to sparkling again. A breeze ripples the surface, and wherever it touches the color deepens. A seine-boat passes, with the tawny net heaped in the stern, and the scarlet shirts of the rowers brilliant against the blue. Pleasant is their voices come across the water, breaking the stillness. The fishing-boats steal to and fro, silent, with glittering sails; the gulls wheel lazily; the far-off coasters glide rapidly along the horizon; the mirage steals down the coast-line, and seems to remove it leagues away. And what if it were to slip down the slope of the world and disappear entirely? You think, in a half-dream, you would not care. Many troubles, cares, perplexities, vexations, lurk behind that far, faint line for you. Why should you be bothered any more?

Let us alone. Time driveth onward fast,
And in a little while our lips are dumb
Let us alone. What matter if we go
Adrift on the waves, with their lulling murmur, do their work, and you are snoozed into repose and transient forgetfulness.

Washington Correspondence.

The Hamburg of Civil Service—Another Credit Mobilier—Patterson In.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 7.

I notice in your paper last week a statement from Sheridan, taken from the Indianapolis Journal, as to how he obtained the information which enabled him to make a successful campaign at Winchester, Va. After the war was over Sheridan had a fine gold watch and all the other fixings thereto belonging purchased and presented to Miss Wright, and also placed on file with Gen. Sherman a letter giving the same facts you published, which procured Miss Wright an appointment in his Bureau. That is the same case you had a statement about last winter, as barred out of an appointment by the Civil Service rules. She married and left the Treasury, but when some adverse fortune overtook her, wanted to come back to her old work, for which experience had tested her ability. The Civil Service rules barred her out, and the old General has not ceased to swear at them ever since.

It is said they have been modified in some way, so as to be more acceptable and not make all the appointments come from the District of Columbia, where everybody keeps crammed ready to be examined. Every thing is dull here during the absence of Congress, when there is nothing but routine life.

A ripple of excitement has just been started over a suit brought by the executors of Huntington's estate to recover from the Metropolitan Paving Company of which he was Treasurer, the profit due the estate from contracts with the Board of Public Works, which are alleged to be four hundred thousand dollars. It is a kind of Credit Mobilier affair, and comes out in the same way, by a suit in court. Rumor puts our Ex-New Hampshire Senator, who was Chairman of the District Committee in the Senate, as one of the parties, and the foremost investigator of Credit Mobilier and some fourteen members of Congress with the Board of Public Works and a few friendly outside parties, as composing the company. Half of the members of the House Committee on the district of Columbia are among those said to be stockholders. That fact makes the verdict of that committee very much like that of the jury who had the hams and shoulders of the hog the culprit stole. As the Board of Public Works are government officers, and a large portion of the money they used was furnished by Congress, it is probable there will be another investigation. It is reported that $20,000 has been offered to compromise and stop the suit. Among the excuses said to be given for lack of profits, was, that they had to help the District of Columbia committee members get re-nominated and re-elected in order to protect the company. That may account for the presence of the Board of Public Works at Concord last June. Eldridge, the democratic member from Wisconsin, cast heavily, as it was necessary to have him to counteract Roosevelt. It is notorious that these Congressmen said to be stockholders, have "got along well, considering their expenses." EXE.

—A gentleman who has just arrived here from Iowa, very much blown of course, from the effects of the late tornado, states that the people out there have taken to papering their chickens and other poultry to prevent the feathers from being blown off them by future tornadoes.

Readables.

The Pittsfield, Mass., Sun says: "One of Payne's hackmen, with four persons inside, had a bullet put through the back window in Taylor's bridge, during the darkness of last Wednesday night." What a commodious hackman—and how nice to have back windows in the bridges.

Kroungkaigh is the way they spell a popular game in Western Missouri.

Mr. Eastman of Clarinda, Ia., was choked to death by having forced into his throat a cork he was trying to draw from a demijohn of ale with his teeth. Moral: Always carry a corkscrew.

Joe Jefferson is fishing in Minnesota.

A Pittsburgh coroner makes no charge where he sits on a young man who parted his hair in the middle. He says that his personal satisfaction is enough without the fee.

A boy of seventeen has lately married a girl of twelve in Jackson, Tenn.

The Attorney-General of the United States has rendered an opinion on the question of the trial of certain of the Modocs by a military commission, and his conclusion is that such of the Indians as are charged with offences against the recognized rules of war may be so tried. A trial commission will be organized without delay.

A Methodist Church in Iowa has the stars and stripes painted on its steeple.

"Calf's Head," remarked the waiter, quite innocent of any equivocal intent, but when they asked what the calf said he very unreasonably took umbrage and declined further conversation.

The Seneca (Kan.) Courier prints this kind of a queer item:

"BORN,

May 20, 1873, to Miss Ida Smart, Centralia, a son."

The healthiest class in Massachusetts is said to be the fishermen. They live on fish, pork, potatoes and hard bread. Fresh meat but rarely.

Thousands of persons who have stood aghast at the remarkable performances of Lulu, a "female trapezist," at Niblo's Theatre in New York, will be more surprised still at the statement that she is a well-formed and pretty-faced man, who has succeeded in palming himself off as a young woman. He is an excellent personator of a woman's part in athletic sports. Great success has attended Lulu's performances in both this country and the old world. Some years ago a young man named Omar Kingsley, succeeded, under the name of Ella Zoyara, in imposing on the public as a circus rider. He dressed as a young woman, and turned many young men's heads. Barney Williams, the actor, presented her with a diamond bracelet. The deception was exploded at last, when Ella ran away with Sallie, the daughter of the circus rider Strickland, and they were married, went to housekeeping, and set up a cradle. It is probable that Lulu is another Ella.

It is confidently believed that, with the abolition of the franking privilege, July 1st, the post office department will begin at once to pay its entire expenses.

A federal republic was definitely proclaimed by the Spanish constituent Cortes, Sunday, by an almost unanimous vote, and the announcement of a new ministry is expected at once.

It is now the fashion in Paris, at receptions, for ladies to sit in the centre of a room, back to back, on a large ottoman, and on sofas against the walls; the gentlemen stand and walk around the bee-hive. Of course no position can be more effective for the display of dress.

Theodore Webb, of Norwich, Conn., was drawn into the machinery of a steam elevator. He had presence of mind to throw up his arms so that his two coats were drawn off and disappeared in the gearing, while he escaped.

The most recent suggestion for a substitute for the gallows in cases of capital punishment, which we have seen, is that death by electricity is more simple and less objectional. According to this plan, the condemned should be placed in a chair and fastened in a secure manner. A wire should connect his body to a battery of suitable power, and then, at the appointed moment, the fatal shock should be given. In other words, the convict should be struck by lightning. The New York correspondent of the Troy Times thinks, however, that repulsive as the gallows may generally appear, most convicts would prefer it to the mysterious and irresistible operation of electricity, and hence it is doubtful if any such change be established.

A party of men in Louisville were disputing about the weight of a mule. One of them, who was reputed to be a good judge of live stock, got behind the mule and was measuring his quarters, when something in the animal appeared to loosen. The man gave it as his opinion that if the mule was as heavy before as he was behind, he must weigh not far from 47,000 pounds.

Professor Plantamour, who prophesied that the world was to be burned up a few months ago, is now in Paris. He desires to read a paper before the academy to prove the sun's heat, and that we shall be all frozen to death about 2011.

Mrs. Schiera and Mrs. Boddy, whose husbands were killed by Steamboat Frank and Hooker Jim, arrived at Tule Lake camp after the Modocs were captured and went for Frank and Jim with pistol and knife. Gen. Davis interfered and saved their lives.

State News.

A child of John Prince, of Kingston, two and a half years old, was fatally burned during the temporary absence of its mother, about two weeks since. It survived several days in great agony.

Evans, the Northwood murderer, now in the New Hampshire State Prison for killing his niece, Georgiana Lovering, still stoutly protests his innocence of that and all other crimes laid to his charge. When first taken to the prison he asked the warden for the privilege of praying and groaning. The warden told him he might pray in secret unceasingly, but no shouting or groaning would be permitted. Evans professes to believe that he will not be hanged. He tells the warden that his so-called "confession" was put in his mouth, and that he is the victim of a conspiracy, a much abused man, whom the Lord will not permit to be hanged.

The number of prisoners committed to the county jail in this city for the year ending May 1st, 1873, was 55, all but one having been discharged.

A lad named John Donnelly, in the employ of Faulkner & Colony, Keene, caught his hand in the picker, Wednesday afternoon, crushing it so severely as to require amputation necessary at the wrist.

The body of George Page, who was drowned at Thornton's Ferry in October, was found at Nashua, Sunday, in the Merrimac River.

A Manchester canary bird had the misfortune to break his leg above the upper joint so that it could not be set, and a surgeon amputated the member at the breast. The bird rapidly recovered, and is now hopping about on his one leg, singing as gaily as ever.

The oldest dwelling-house in Atkinson, known as the "Joseph Richards House," was destroyed by fire recently. Supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. Loss about $1000.

The brickmaking business is soon to be one of the big manufacturing interests of Rochester. There are now six yards, all owned by live business men, who have commenced with a determination to make them a success. One man proposes to make from 2,500,000 to 3,000,000 this season.

From nine Jersey cows, three of which are three years old, and four only two, Mr. C. M. Noyes, of Litchfield, sold, in the month of May, $123.72 worth of milk.

Jonathan Smith, for some years editor of the Coos Republican, has retired from the charge of that paper and entered upon the study of the law.

Alexandra Palace, London, was destroyed by fire on Monday.

A DELICATE PIECE OF WORK.—The Treasury experts have finished the work of restoring the securities of the Pemberton Savings Bank of Franklin, Penn., which were thrown into the fire by the insane cashier. Of the $140,000 in government bonds all were identified; of the $60,000 in railroad and municipal bonds all were restored; of the $150,000 in notes and bills receivable, all were restored or made good by the parties interested. The only loss of the bank has been two or three thousand dollars in currency. When received at the Treasury the whole mass appeared to be ashes and charred remnants of paper. The experts were Mrs. Davis, Miss Patterson and Miss Schrimer. The time occupied was about five weeks of clear days, the work being of such a delicate nature that it could not be prosecuted in cloudy weather.

—"Hitching posts are such a rarity in Chicago," writes the editor of the Danbury News, "that when an Eastern man comes across one he sits down and cries. People here fasten horses by a strap to an iron weight which is left on the sidewalk, and which occupies a prominent position in a runaway. When a Chicago man sees a runaway horse coming along his street, he doesn't stop to inquire whether it was the result of carelessness or accident. He merely says, 'Heaven protect us!' and crawls under a stoop."

—All the paper for the money issued by the Government is manufactured on a 62-inch Fourdrinier machine, at the Glen Mills, near West Chester, Penn. Short pieces of red silk are mixed with the pulp in the engine, and the finished stuff is conducted to the wire without passing through any screens, which might retain the silk threads. By an arrangement above the wire cloth, a shower of short pieces of fine blue silk thread is dropped in streaks upon the paper while it is forming. The upper side, on which the blue silk is dropped, is the one used for the face of the notes, and, from the manner in which the threads are applied, must show them more distinctly than the lower or reverse side, although they are imbedded deeply enough to remain fixed. The mill is guarded by officers night and day to prevent the abstraction of any of the paper.

WELL'S GRAND DISTRIBUTION.—The committee, after drawing nearly one hundred and fifty thousand dollars have decided to postpone the drawing until July 1st, 1873. This will positively be the last postponement W. B. Lord, Agent.

FOREIGN INDORSEMENT OF THE STANDARD TONIC OF AMERICA.—There seems to be no limit to the celebrity of Hostetter's Bitters. Every year the demand for it increases and the territorial area of its popularity expands. It has long been the standard tonic, and an approved remedy for epidemic disease in the Republics of South and Central America, in Brazil and the West Indies and the British Colonies on this continent. More recently its merits have been appreciated at the antipodes, and it is now shipped in large quantities to Australia and Tasmania. The reason why it is making such extraordinary headway in remote regions as well as in America, are very simple and lie in a nutshell. It is a medicine suited to all peoples, all climates and all ordinary disorders and disabilities. It prevents and cures malarious diseases, relieves indigestion, braces the nerves, improves the appetite, clears the brain, regulates the liver, arrests intermittent fever, strengthens the physique and invigorates the constitution.

DON'T SLIGHT YOUR TEETH.—Remember that upon their labor, the health of the stomach depends. Keep them perfect, and, in order to do so, manipulate them with a brush dipped in the fragrant SOZODONT, once or twice a day.

IF YOU WISH A BOTTLE OF THE BEST BITTERS in the market, ask your grocer or druggist for the "SONOMA WINE BITTERS," put up by Jas. Dingley & Co., Boston. These are claimed as superior to any other bitters for spring and summer use, and have been tested for years.

MARSTON & FREEMAN.

Convenient for a Bon-Fire.

As the ruins of the Mechanics' reading room building have been put up at auction in vain, no bid being received, the best way to get rid of the building will be to give permission to the boys about town to use it for the annual bonfire on Market Square on the night of the 3d of July. They would make clean work of it and save the owners the trouble of hiring it taken down and carted off.

"Nearer to Thee."

Several years ago when the question was agitated to annex the town of York to Elliot, one of the residents of York voted to have it annexed to Kittery, giving as a reason that he would be nearer to Portsmouth.

Sulphur Shower.

After the shower on Friday evening, when the lightning was so blue, there was observed on the surface of water in cisterns and vessels holding rain water, a heavy coating of sulphur.

Laconics.

We are informed that the three masted schooner Ruth T. Carlisle, of Philadelphia, when making this harbor with a cargo of coal, in a thick fog, found Odiorne's Point with her forefoot, but was fortunate enough to get off unharmed and came up to the wharf on Saturday. It was a lucky escape, for Odiorne's Point is no pleasant place for a vessel to stick upon.

The Annual report of the County Commissioners and Treasurer of our County of Rockingham, is just issued, and copies may be had on application to any of the County Officers, or at the City Rooms in Portsmouth.

Chief Engineer Marston of the Fire Department on Monday received a letter from Mr. Wm. A. Constantine, clerk of Torrent Engine Co. 2, of Laconia, asking if positions in the line on the 4th of July will be assigned that company and Torrent Engine Co. No. 9, of Fisherville, should they visit this city. The letter says the Laconia company numbers sixty members and the Fisherville company forty, that both companies are uniformed, and that if they visit this city they propose to bring a good band and pay all their expenses.

A patent has been granted to S. M. Thompson of this city for a machine for repairing pottery stock.

Ambitious Young America, determined to commence celebrating the anniversary of the nation's birth in season, has already commenced making our streets resound with the cheerful note of the soul-stirring cracker; but the City Marshal and police are determined to bottle up the boys' exuberant patriotism until the fourth proximo, as the law directs. Three boys were arrested and placed in durance vile on Monday, for firing cannon-crackers in the streets after having been warned; and all future offenders will be rigidly dealt with. Imps will please to take notice, and govern themselves accordingly.

A very heavy peal of thunder, during the shower of Friday evening, occasioned considerable speculation as to where the lightning had struck. We are informed that a schooner laying at anchor in the "lower cove," near Kittery Point, was in the way of that particular flash of lightning, and accordingly got hit and considerably damaged by it. We have not learned the schooner's name.

By the annual report of the County Commissioners, we learn that the cost of the inquest on the body of Capt. Robert Norton, killed by the Seabrook accident, was $191.16. The county debt is $115,927, having been reduced $24,609.88 the past year. The County Commissioners drew for services for the year the sum of $1520 25. For printing, Charles Marseilles was paid $557.50, Lewis W. Brewster $126.50, Morrill & Silsby $50.12, Thayer & Guppy 28.50, S. S. Learned $14. Marston & Freeman $12. Mr. Frank D. Pollard, one of the commissioners, receives $1000 as Superintendent of the county house. There were 142 inmates on the 1st of May, 106 having been committed during the year.

On Thursday evening, a novel and interesting concert with a double Quartet and three Pianos will be given by Mr. T. P. Moses, with his pianos players and singers, and assistance of the DeRochement Family, a quartet. There will be a rush for tickets—go early—fill the house, let the forthcoming "Sons" learn how highly they are to be complimented in the compositions to be seen in the programme of this concert.

JUBAL.

Col. Hackett sells by auction to-day at 10 o'clock a nice lot of furniture, &c., at No. 57 State street.

The War department having acquired a title to the site of Jerry's fort, at Newcastle, building operations will at once be begun under General Duane, whose force of workmen will occupy quarters at Fort Constitution.

Kittery has changed the supervision of her highways from the district system, and has elected three road commissioners, in the hope that some of the roads in town which are fearfully and wonderfully made, may be improved.

The Pullman train for North Conway will be put on the Eastern railroad, next week.

Mr. Henry R. Beal, of the firm of Hogg, Brown & Taylor, is going to Europe next week. Mr. Beal is a native of Portsmouth. S. R. Niles and family, of Boston, sailed for Europe last week.

The trial of Wagner was to commence at Alfred, Me., at two o'clock, Monday afternoon, a panel of 75 jurors being present. The Boston Journal's reporter has a long preliminary account of the murder in which we find as many errors as correct statements.

—To drive away ants. If they are married aunts, borrow some money of their husbands. If they are single, let 'em take care of the baby for the afternoon, while your wife goes to a matinee.

Morning Chronicle.

The good King Solomon was a very wise man, with one exception—he was too fond of the ladies. When a man carries his admiration for the sex to the point of marrying seven hundred wives he may be said to have gone a trifle too far. Solomon's namesake, who keeps a grocery store in New York, also errs on the side of excessive affection. His feelings so ran away with him last week that he insisted upon kissing a pretty little English lass against her will, and contrary to all the usages of polite society, bit her during the operation. To be sure there is a precedent in point in the case of the monkey who

* * * married the baboon's sister,
Smacked his lips, and then he kissed her—
Kissed so hard he raised a blister,
And she set up a yell—

but it may justly be urged that in the case of Solomon natural selection had progressed too far for the rule in Monkey vs. Baboon's Sister to be recognized by the Court as obtaining in this case. So Solomon, when brought before Justice Bixby, apologized to the girl, and was bound over in the sum of $500 to the Court of General Sessions. The proceedings on the private writ of sci. fa., issued by Mrs. Solomon, are not yet reported.—Cin. Chron.

The following story is told to illustrate the strictness with which the Cunard steamship line is managed. The captain of one of their New York ships having lately married, asked leave to take his wife with him on one voyage. This was granted, but on going to take command when the ship was ready for sea, he found one of his brother captains on board, from whom he learned that though the company had no objections to his taking his wife to America, they were not willing to trust him with the ship too.

IRON in the BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, DROPSY, HUMORS,

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes the Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested, and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

SEWING MACHINE SALES

FOR 1872.

BY comparison of Statistics from sworn returns of the sales of Sewing Machines for 1871 and 1872, it shows that the

"DOMESTIC"

SEWING MACHINE Co.'s sales have increased over 375 per cent., while other Co.'s sales have increased over 36 per cent., proving the great popularity of the "DOMESTIC."

Annexed are the percentage of gain, of the leading makers:

Domestic Sewing Machine Co.,	gain	375	per cent
Wheeler & Wilson	"	36	"
Singer	"	23	"
Grover & Baker	"	5	"
Weed	"	3	"
Wilcox & Gibbs	"	12	"
Willcox	"	3	"

Other Machines Co.'s' sales show a loss over the year before.

If the increase in sales be any criterion of merit, the "DOMESTIC" bears the palm.

The "DOMESTIC" works so easy, it is working itself into every family.

The "DOMESTIC" runs so light, it is distancing all competitors. It only asks a few days trial.

The "DOMESTIC" is recommended by the Medical Faculty.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Also, Reissues, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made to determine the novelty and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases at as very reasonable charges.

JOHN TAGGART."

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Portsmouth Savings Bank.

President, WILLIAM SIMES,

Treasurer, J. F. SHORES.

Deposits, $1,930,378.46.

The Treasurer would ask the attention of the Depositors to these notices.

1st, In July next, the regular Five Years Extra Dividend will be declared.

2, From the 3d day of July to the 20th day of August, the books will be in the hands of a committee to examine the accounts and cast the Dividends thereon, during which time no Withdrawals can be made; therefore, the treasurer requests all depositors needing money during that interval to withdraw it on the 1st, 2nd, or 3d of July, as they can do it on those days without affecting the dividends.

3d. Deposits will be received as usual, while the books are in the hands of the Committee.

4th, The regular and extra dividends can be added to the Depositors' books after the 20th day of August and can then be withdrawn, if so desired; but if allowed to remain, the interest on those dividends will be cast from the 1st day of July.

5th, This bank pays to its Depositors interest semi-annually at the rate of Five per cent. peannum free of all taxes, and that interest compounds every six months.

6th, Interest on new deposits commences on the first day of each and every month, and all deposits made on the first three days of each month draw interest from the first day of that month.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

Jurubeba Blood Purifier,

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

Dr. Wells' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

GLAZIER AND PAPER HANGER.

The Chronicle.

BORES.—Everybody has heard of the Lexington (Mo.) Caucasian, and its wonderful Pat. Donan, the great blatherskite of blood-and-thunder rebellion. Here is a set of resolutions which he has just proposed to the Missouri Editorial Association, in solemn convention, and which were adopted after lively debate:

"Resolved by the Missouri Editorial Association—1. That a newspaper office is a business establishment by which editors and printers must make a living. 2. That a man has the same right to walk into a grocery store and order a barrel of sugar or a sack of coffee, or into a law office and demand a legal opinion from its occupants, or into an undertaker's and request a coffin, without expecting to pay for their respective wares or services, as into a newspaper office and demand the use of its brains and muscle and type without a thought of recompense. 3. That hereafter all personal or political matter having for its object the promotion of individual fortunes or ambition, shall be treated exactly as other business matter, and charged, at the option of publishers, as editorial advertising. 4. That dead-beating—political, personal, and commercial—on the Missouri press is "played out." 5. That any editor or publisher who fails to carry out these resolutions in the letter and spirit shall cease to be regarded as a member of this Association."

Donan has but half done his work. There is no mention of the man who looks over your exchanges for the paper from Demdbore; of the individual who published the Kingapore Times for fourteen years, sir, and who desires to converse with you on the Eastern question, during the busiest hours of the day; of the individual who is going to spend the summer at the watering-places, and who will be very happy to oblige you with a letter or two each week, describing the manners and customs of the natives, and does not care for a money compensation—nothing but railway passes; of the editor of the Cosbocton Bird o' Freedom, who, intent upon a "personal," gives you his views on the state of the Nation generally, while your proofs are awaiting examination; in fact, of the thousand and one bores of the profession, who are a trifle worse than the "beats." But then, in Missouri, the species is running out because of sudden and unnatural deaths.—Cin. Chron.

KEEP YOUR GIRLS HOME NIGHTS.—I have a word to say to good, hard-working mothers, who don't know half that goes on in this world—mothers that bake, boil, wash, iron, scrub all day, and go to bed dead-tired, glad that their daughters are young yet, and can enjoy themselves.

Do you know where your girls go in the evening?

"Oh, yes," you say; "to see some young friends; to spend the evening with Betsey and Jane and Fanny." You think so: but are you sure? Other people are sure of their daughters, and if you will take the trouble to investigate, you will find, perhaps that Sally spends her time after dark in running the streets.

It is a fact, as any one with the ordinary power of observation can discover, that the daughters of respectable parents in ordinary ranks of life, who are not watched by their elders, flock to the streets nowadays, and are discreditably bold in their manners; that they even "flirt," as it is called, and allow strange young men to speak to them and offer them refreshments, and that each girl keeps the secret of the other, that she in turn may keep hers. In this country the poor man's daughter should be as much a lady as the daughter of a millionaire. At least she should be well-mannered, pure and honest, as we are proud to say, most of them are.

The mere contact with boldness sullies purity. A bad companion has more influence than a good one, and boldness and bad company throng the city's streets at eventide. Keep your girls out of them.

If she has a legitimate invitation out, know all about her escort, or make her father or brother take care of her on the way to and from the house to which she is to go. If she has no escort and no male relative, it might be best to go and fetch her yourself.

Never let her contract a habit of staying all night with her girl friends. It is an idle sort sort of way anyhow, and takes her out of your control.

If you have been lax in your discipline your girl may pout a little at first, and find home somewhat dull; but if she lives to be a woman, and marry, she will thank you from the bottom of her soul, as she looks back upon the sad fate of those girls whose mothers had not prudence or authority enough to keep them at home of nights.—Aunt Polly, in Ledger.

—"To what degree," asks an "inquiring friend" of Editor Beecher, "may a person at the present day be ignorant without being guilty?" "That depends on the person," replies Henry Ward; "some people are born with a genius for ignorance."

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 11, 1873.

The Modocs.

In an interview between General Davis, Captain Jack and Schonchin, Jack is reported as saying that he was incited to hostility by Allen David, chief of the Klamaths. Orders have been issued for a march of a formidable body of troops through Klamath county to intimidate the Indians there.

A party of Modoc prisoners, seventeen in number, were attacked on their way from Fairchild's ranche to Boyle's camp, Saturday, their escort overpowered, and a general massacre of the captives began. Before the bloody work could be completed, however the murderers were put to flight by the arrival of a detachment of troops, only four warriors being killed and a squaw wounded. It is supposed that the Oregon volunteers perpetrated the outrage.

Readables.

The New York Court of Appeals, by a unanimous opinion, grants a new trial to Stokes.

A letter from Walla Walla, Washington Territory, of the 20th ult., states that since the Modoc affair the Indians in that vicinity have been quite impertinent. A party of five recently attacked an old settler, who repulsed them, aided materially by a daughter of 18 (who wielded a hatchet with terrible effect), and a young son. All five of the Indians were badly wounded and fled. This event had a salutary effect.

During a heavy storm in Nebraska, the camp of a military detachment in Blackwood Creek was flooded and six cavalry men and twenty-four horses were drowned.

One of the victims of the Washington street fire was a heavy sufferer by the fire in November. His spirits were then very much depressed, but his friends assisted him and he resumed business. Since the burning of the Globe Theatre he has become a raving maniac and has been taken to an insane asylum.

While Leo Hudson was lying ill at St. Louis she called a favorite pet dog to her. It attempted to jump upon the bed, as usual, but fell back upon the floor and broke its neck. This, in connection with the death of her beautiful horse, "Black Bess," was believed by her to be an omen of fatality, and partly from the effects of this melancholy impression she died.

Walworth has been indicted for murdering his father, in New York.

ELOQUENT PROFANITY OF A STEAMBOAT MATE.—All was bustle at the dock when I got there. The boat was taking on its freight, and about thirty lively negroes and one very excited and awfully profane white man was doing the business. That white man was a study. He was the mate of the vessel, and what he didn't know about rhetoric could be held on the point of a knife-blade by a nervous man. The thirty negroes had all they could well attend to to keep up with his new oaths and roll on the casks. Without any cessation they bobbed from the boat to the shore, and from the shore back to the boat, and all the while that Mississippi elocutionist danced around and swore. When I got on the boat I sat down on my baggage and watched that man.

Being a resident of New England I thought I knew something of wickedness, but I was mistaken. The negroes were uniformly dressed in pants, shirt, and hat. Some of the hats were ornamented with different colored ribbons; others again contained but a simple brass plate—the trademark of a retired fruit can. Beauty unadorned is adorned the most. They were driven like sheep, first to the shore, then back to the boat. The least hesitation, the slightest misstep, was noted by the orator and promptly incorporated into his discourse. He couldn't have been more familiar were they his own fathers, which it is not likely they were.

After getting through at the dock the boat moved up to the coal yard. The coal was brought on in boxes with handles at each end. Each box contained 2 1-2 bushels, and was carried by two men. Six hundred bushels were thus taken on. The same amount of bustle and vehemence occurred in this transaction. The men sweat like April, and appeared to be ready to drop at every trip, but the mate hurled tonics at them and kept them up. When his throat got tired he used it in that whole soled way peculiar to the Mississippi boatman.

The negroes receive $1 a day and their victuals. I should think they would go to some city and get into a store.—Bailey's Letter to the Danbury Newsman.

—"If Captain Jack or rather General Jack, has a son, is he General Jackson?" is a conundrum which the Chicago Evening Post propounds.

State Officers Nominated.

CONCORD, June 10th.

At a caucus of the republican members of the Legislature, this evening, the following named gentlemen were unanimously nominated as candidates for the respective offices named; Secretary of State, Benjamin F. Prescott, of Epping; State Treasurer, Solon A. Carter, of Keene; State Printer, Edward A. Jenks, of the Concord Statesman; Commissary General, Charles F. Montgomery, of Strafford. The election takes place to-morrow (Wednesday) at 3 o'clock. KENT.

MINORITY REPRESENTATION. — Hon. Joseph Medill has written a letter to the President of the Ohio Constitutional Convention in reply to an inquiry as to whether the Illinois system of minority has worked satisfactorily. He answers in the affirmative, and asserts that the new system commends itself as more democratic than the old. The whole mass of the people are now represented in the popular branch, instead of a mere majority as formerly. Every voter whether a democrat or republican, has now the man of his choice in the Assembly to represent him. Neither party is now unrepresented in any district. The minority is no longer practically disfranchised, as was previously the case. The vote of the majority is not impaired or disturbed. The stronger party at the polls have control of the House, but the weaker one is represented in proportion to its strength. The unjust monopoly of representation is broken. Every democratic district elected two democrats and one republican, and every republican district two republicans and one democrat to the House.

The exception to this rule only occurred when a candidate of the stronger party was unpopular, or that of the weaker party the fitter man to such a degree as to constrain enough of his opponents to vote for him to elect him. No party advantage was gained from these exceptional cases, because they were as numerous on one side as the other to gainer and loser balancing each other.

Mr. Medill also calls marked attention to the fact that, taken as a whole, the so-called "minority members" were the ablest men. Several of the strongest and most conspicuous members were sent to the Assembly by the "plumping" vote of the minority, showing that the weaker party, as a rule, were more careful and conscientious in making selections of representatives than the majority side. This result was predicted by the friends of the new system when advocating its adoption before the people, but was hooted at as wholly improbable by its opponents, who now confess that error and admit its verification.

A USEFUL RAILROAD DEVICE. Everybody who has traveled by rail has felt the need of some better mode of announcing the stations than the uncertain or indistinct shout of the brakeman at the door. The Providence, Hartford and Fishkill Road uses an excellent, and at the same time inexpensive, arrangement, that exactly meets the difficulty. A box, some thirty inches long, twelve deep and eight wide, is fastened up at the end of each car high enough to be seen by every passenger in it. This box, which is of wood corresponding with the interior fittings of the car, is furnished with a long piece of muslin, in width just the length of the interior of the box, and is mounted on two rollers after the manner of a panorama. Across this muslin in plain legible letters, are painted the names of every station on the road, of which names one at a time is visible to the occupants of the car through a glazed slot or window in the front of the box. Immediately on leaving a station a brakeman enters, and by means of a crank which projects from the side of the box turns the rollers until the name of the next station at which the train will stop, appears at the slot—in which position it is left until said station is reached and passed. The motion of the crank rings a loud gong-bell and the attention of the passengers is thereby called to the change.

Another writ de lunatic inquirendo has been issued in the case of George Francis Train. And yet all the world knows that if poor George is sane, all the rest of us are howling maniacs.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

—Mr. Elizur Wright proposes that there shall be a revised common school edition of the Bible, from which edition everything shall be left out to which a good citizen of any or no religious creed could object.

—A devotee of Bacchus was overheard thus addressing his hat, which had fallen from his head: "If I pick you up, I fall; if I fall, you will not pick me up. Then I leave you;" and he staggered proudly away.

—Justin McCarthy once remarked, in speaking of American lecturers, that Wendell Phillips was a model orator, while John B. Gough was only a buffoon. We consider the remarks very just in McCarthy.

—Aquafortis will explode as well as nitro glycerine and grindstones. Out of his remaining eye Mr. Waxtel of Garnett, Kansas, looks a sad assent.

—What is the difference between a tenant and the son of a widow? The one has to pay rents, the other has not two parents.

The Polaris Investigation.

Notwithstanding the secrecy with which the Secretary of the Navy is conducting the examination of the Polaris survivors, the Washington Chronicle says it has leaked out during the investigation that Captain Buddington was the cause of the failure of the expedition, and with him rests the responsibility of having jeopardized the lives of Tyson, Meyers, the Esquimaux party and eight others. Shortly after the death of Captain Hall, when all discipline on the ship became lax and each happened to work on his own hook, he became intoxicated, and with pistol in hand drove the floe-office party from the ship, giving them a quantity of provisions, and then deliberately deserted them.

The investigation is conducted in a large boat-house, with closed doors, the Tallapoosa having left with the Esquimaux families of Joe and Hans on board for the cooler climate of Maine.

WELL'S GRAND DISTRIBUTION.—The committee, after drawing nearly one hundred and fifty thousand dollars have decided to postpone the drawing until July 1st, 1873. This will positively be the last postponement W. B. Lord, Agent.

FOR LOSS OF APPETITE, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Depression of Spirits and General Debility, in their various forms, FERRO-PHOSPHORATED ELIXIR OF CALISAYA made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York, and sold by all druggists, is the best tonic. As a stimulant tonic for patients recovering from fever or other sickness, it has no equal. If taken during the season it prevents fever and ague and other intermittent fevers.

NATIVE PEARL VERSUS PORCELAIN.—Dentist's ware is a poor substitute for Nature. Let those who so believe, use the SOZODONT, which, if daily applied, will prevent all necessity for false teeth by keeping the real ones sound and healthy.

FOR BREAKFAST, LUNCHEON, OR REFRESHMENT after a late evening, Walter Baker & Co's Cocoa requires but one trial to establish it as the most desirable beverage. Since 1780, their headquarters have been in Boston, but their popular goods may be had of any grocer in the land.

POISONING THE SICK.—There never was a specialty in medicine that was not pirated. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is no exception to the general rule. Fraud fellows in the track of the Great Vegetable Restorative as it makes the circle of the world, and offers its pernicious imitations to the sick at every turn, anxious to drench the public with their trash. The imitators and counterfeiters offer it by the gallon, the barrel, the hogshead, as by the bottle. Beware of this deluge of abominations. Bear in mind that the true article is sold in bottles only, and the impress of genuineness is to be found upon the glass itself as well as upon the finely engraved government stamp and the elegant label. The great vegetable tonic prevents and cures all bilious disorders and complaints of the digestive organs and the nervous system, maladies upon which the vile imitations produce no more effect than the Pope's Bull upon the comet.

Tarrant's Seltzer Aperient.

Murder in the First Degree is generally brought to light, but thousands of quiet murders, of which the world never hears, are committed by the administration of improper medicines. The dyspeptic, the bilious, the fever-ridden, the rheumatic, are too often poisoned with deadly drugs, when the persistent use of with proper precautions as to diet and regimen, would inevitably have worked a speedy and thorough cure. In kidney diseases, bowel complaints, fevers, nervous paroxysms, and all other ailments that reduce the strength and vital power of the system, sustain, refresh, purify, cleanse and regulate it with this inviolable saline remedy. Sold by all Druggists.

MARSTON & FREEMAN.

Death of Mrs. Woodbury.

Mrs. Levi Woodbury, widow of the ate Ex-Gov. Woodbury, died at her residence in this city on Monday, after a short illness, at the age of 75 years. Mrs. Woodbury was a lady of education and refinement, and being endowed with a fine form and face together with a pleasant social temperament, she was, in earlier life, the charm of the aristocratic circle in which she moved. The prominent political positions which her husband held at various times, brought her in contact with some of the best minds of which our country can boast, and the signal grace and ease with which she presided at the receptions and levees of the early times when Munroe and Jackson administered the affairs of our government, proves her to have been a valuable aid to her husband in the discharge of the duties appertaining to official life. Of late years Mrs. Woodbury has sought the retirement of her beautiful suburban residence in this city, where she breathed her last.

In 1869, Mrs. E. T. Ellet published a book entitled "The Court Circles of the Republic," illustrated with portraits engraved on steel. The work is "admiring and affectionately inscribed to Mrs. Levi Woodbury, whose influence in Court circles has ever been so gracious, refining and beneficent, and whose beautiful home life is a blessing to all who know her."

We copy a sketch of our deceased townswoman from the work:

Another lady whose social influence was abiding, was the wife of Hon. Levi Woodbury of New Hampshire. Her father was Hon. Asa Clapp of Portland, Maine; her mother was a descendant of the ancient family of De Quincey. Carefully educated, with fine natural parts, Miss Clapp came into society with more than ordinary eclat. Her uncommon personal charms, united to polished manners, grace and kindliness, attracted every one. When yet a schoolgirl, she was called on, in the absence of her mother from home, to preside at the reception of President Monroe and suite at her father's mansion, and won encomiums for her good taste and graceful deportment.

After their marriage, Judge and Mrs. Woodbury settled in that delightful old town, Portsmouth, for two centuries the capital of the Province, and subsequently the sovereign State of New Hampshire; and retaining more of that high tone and social elevation which clings naturally around an old capital, than is often found on this continent. In the autumn succeeding his marriage Judge Woodbury was elected Governor of the State, and entered on a long career of political life. The graceful ease with which his young wife presided at the executive mansion, threw a charm over the usual stiffness of official intercourse.

When his term had expired, Governor Woodbury was elected Senator in Congress; and a large part of his time was thenceforward necessarily spent in Washington. Mrs. Woodbury accompanied him, and entered metropolitan society. History lingers on those days: the standard of statesmanship was high; the old school polish still existed. The Senate and the House held a body of brilliant men, whose acquirements and wit set off their solid merit; and who exercised on the public mind a potent influence, not surpassed by any succeeding generation of public men.

It was then the usage for members of Congress who were agreeable to each other, to form themselves and families into "messes," having a table in the boarding-house or hotel where they lived. In this way friendship was cemented or formed, and many of the messes acquired a special reputation from the talents and polish of the associates. Often has Mrs. Woodbury related casual anecdotes, or bonmots, of some of the messes to which she and her husband belonged in Washington at that time. And it seemed like another age, to hear the brilliant Verplanck, the great conversationist Tazewell, the metaphysical Calhoun, the eccentric Randolph, and his no less distinguished rival Burgess, sparkle and flash as freshly as if they were of to-day. On the breaking up of President Jackson's first cabinet, Mr. Woodbury was invited to a seat, as Secretary of the Navy, and removed to Washington; continuing through General Jackson's and Mr. Van Buren's Presidential terms in the Cabinet, but after one or two years, as Secretary of the Treasury.

General Jackson frequently made informal visits to the family of Secretary Woodbury, and showed the kindliness of his heart by the pleasure he took in chatting with the children; winning their affection as truly as he had the devotion and respect of their parents. Mrs. Woodbury sustained her social duties with unyielding patience. It is easy to say, she was popular, but it is not enough; her house was delightful for its social reunions. The private receptions for friends were most agreeable, and no events were ever permitted to interfere with them. In those unpretending weekly soirees the fascination of her manners and the charm of her conversation were most conspicuous and appreciated. They were not political, and the guests were not confined to those in public life; artists and men of merit always found there a kindly welcome.

One of the journals of that time, says: "If, as has been said, some are born to command, Mrs. Woodbury seems born to please. Portland may justly feel pride in the recollection that she is a native of that city." Another writes, speaking of those gathered at the Secretary's: "The foreign legations were there too, with their embroidered coats, and I could not but feel proud as an American, when, glittering in their stars and badges, they approached the fair hostess, that so splendid a specimen of American beauty, amiability and politeness should welcome and receive them in this land of Republicanism."

At the close of Mr. Van Buren's administration, Mr. Woodbury again entered the Senate. In 1844, Mr. and Mrs. Woodbury and family were present on board the man-of-war Princeton, when the accidental bursting of the 12-inch "big gun" buried Secretaries Upshur and Gilmer, Commodore Kennon, Mr. Maxy, and several other gentlemen into eternity, besides wounding many, including Senator Benton. Fortunately, Mrs. Woodbury and daughters, although invited to take a position near the gun as it was about to be fired, in order to witness the ricochet of the shot on the water, declined doing so and escaped unhurt.

In 1845, her husband was appointed to the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States, which seat he held until his death in 1851; at that time he was a prominent candidate for the Presidency. During this long association with Washington society, and amid the rancor arising from party strife, Mrs. Woodbury never indulged in its bitterness; the arrows of her wit were never dipped in gall. She possessed a cultivated taste for modern classics, and was especially familiar with the writings of the most gifted women of France, England and America. She had also that eloquence du billet, formerly so much admired, and her letters to her friends were of that pointed and piquant style, of which Madame de Sevigne is considered the founder.

The loss of her husband was a serious blow; but Mrs. Woodbury was left surrounded with affectionate children, for whom the duties of life were still to be performed. She had four daughters, whose gifted minds and personal advantages made them eminently successful in society. The eldest child, Charles, is a lawyer, lately United States Attorney for Massachusetts. Her daughter Mary married Hon. Montgomery Blair, Postmaster General under President Lincoln. Frances married Archibald H. Lowery of New York; Virginia, Hon. G. V. Fox, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, and subsequently the Special Envoy to the Emperor of Russia, with the congratulatory resolutions of Congress on his escape from assassination. The youngest, much celebrated as a belle, Miss Ellen, is still unmarried.

Mrs. Woodbury was never ambitious of social distinction; neither her cultivated tastes, nor the attractions of court life abroad, were able to tempt her across the ocean. It was because of her objections, that her husband refused the mission to Spain, tendered him in 1831, by General Jackson; and again in 1845, the mission to England offered him by President Polk. A true American matron, the love of home duties were strongest in her heart, and it required but little exercise of her powers of abnegation to refuse what many fair ladies would have deemed a golden opportunity to breath the atmosphere of court, and gaze on royalty at advantage.

Wearied with formal society, she embraced the opportunity, as her children were settled for life, to withdraw herself more and more into the domestic circle; and to sympathize with, and see the great world of society through them. Visiting them in the winter, and having them cluster around her in the summer, at her own lovely home, her life glides harmoniously along; her eyes are bright, her form erect, and her step as elastic as in youth. She takes exercise on foot and in the saddle. The ready repartee springs as gaily as of yore to her lips, and the young love to draw around one who has neither lost her power to please, nor her quiet enjoyment of social intercourse.

Influenced by a sense of duty in the daily walk of life, love and respect gather around her from neighbors, family, friends and Christ's poor. She was ever free from envy; possessing intelligence and benevolence. In the symmetry of her character, no marked contrasts strike the observer. It would be difficult to analyze the qualities to which Mrs. Woodbury owed her remarkable success and popularity. Esteemed as she was and is, for a thousand virtues and accomplishments, by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances, and all her acquaintances must be her friends, noted for the union of personal charms with solid judgment, perfect taste, and the graceful ease acquired by constant association with the best society, there is something more that constitutes the subtle attraction for which she is distinguished.

It is partly her invariable calmness and the moderation of her nature, inspiring confidence; partly her generous consideration at all times for others. She is a lovely study for all who appreciate the highest and gentlest qualities of womanhood. But though we cannot say in what the spell consists, it will be well for all women to emulate the virtues of such a character.

The Wagner Trial.

Before empanelling the jury, Monday, Judge Burrows said if they had formed an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the prisoner, but are unprejudiced and willing to be governed by the testimony to be given, they were competent to act as jurors. He proposed the following questions to each juror:—

Have you formed or expressed any opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the prisoner?

Do you feel any bias or prejudice for or against the prisoner?

Have you any conscientious scruples or opinion respecting capital punishment, which would prevent you from rendering an impartial verdict according to the evidence?

Are you related or connected either with the deceased or the prisoner by blood or marriage, in or within the degree of second cousin?

Of the seventy jurors summoned, thirty were drawn; three were challenged by the prisoner's counsel, and fifteen had formed and expressed opinions and were set aside as incompetent.

The jury selected are, Ivory C. Hatch, foreman, Isaac Eaton, George A. Twombley, Horace Piper, Levi G. Hanson, Nashum Tarbox, Benajah Hall, Charles Whitney, William Beanal, Robert Littlefield, Isaac Libbey and Calvin Stevens. The empanelling was finished in less than two hours.

On Tuesday, City Marshal Johnson left this city for Alfred with some of the witnesses for the government. It is understood that there are about eighteen witnesses for the State.

On Tuesday, Attorney General Yeaton opened for the prosecution, Max Fischacher, Esq., replying for the defense. The latter desired the jury to visit Smuttynose island, but Judge Barrows refused the motion, as he failed to discern the necessity of such a step.

The counsel for the State proceeded to put in as evidence documentary evidence on the question of jurisdiction. Several historical works were objected to as being legal evidence, and much argument ensued.

Laconics.

Slack water in the aqueduct logs now-a-days. If the water supply is insufficient now, when the weather is cool and the ground full of water, what shall we do when Summer weather sets in and a "dry spell" comes along!

The U. S. S. Monongohela was taken out of the floating dock at the Navy Yard on Tuesday, and the Nantasket (or what is left of her) floated in to take her place. The latter is to be broken up. The tugs Portfire and Mayflower will be taken up as soon as the dock is clear for them.

About three weeks ago, lightning struck a tree near the Woodbury mansion and tore a hole in the ground, excavating several bushels of earth, and causing a leak in the aqueduct near by. Mr. Oliver Ayers being sent for had a log taken up which had been down but a short time. The lightning had passed down the roots of the tree and into the log, making three distinct cracks, into which the bark of the log had sunk and been caught fast.

The Press says that some one at Saco threw a stone at the Friday morning train from Portland over the Eastern road. It smashed the window of the Pullman parlor car, and came near hitting a gentleman on the head.

Travelers will be pleased to learn that the P. S. & P. depot in Portland is undergoing repairs and that the waiting rooms are being put in respectable condition under the management of the new superintendent, Mr. Batchelder.

It is reported that the Eastern Railroad will permanently occupy the Lowell Railroad station in Boston in a short time, the Eastern road using the eastern half, and the Lowell corporation the western.

The City Solicitor has rendered a decision that the firemen who were discharged from service by the ordinance reorganizing the fire department, are not entitled to pay after April 1st, although the ordinance was passed nearly a month afterward. The decision may be according to law, but is not according to common sense or honesty.

At a meeting of Steam Fire Engine Co. No. 2, Monday evening, it was voted to accept the invitation to parade on the Fourth of July and assist in the reception of the Sons. A prominent position in the procession will be assigned them.

Schooner Fred Reed, Pendleton, from Bangor for Boston, arrived in the lower harbor June 9th, leaking badly, and having lost part of deck load.

The graduates of the Boys' High School met at Mendum's Hall, Tuesday evening, for the purpose of taking preliminary steps towards forming a permanent Association. Mr. Charles A. Hazlett was chosen temporary chairman and Mr. Arthur Walker secretary. Messrs. Stephen W. Clark, Clarence O. Walker and Edward C. Matthews were chosen a committee to draft a constitution and by-laws. Mr. Aurin M. Payson and the chairman were added to the committee. A suggestion that the graduates of the Girls' High School be invited to unite with the Association, was favorably considered. The meeting adjourned to this evening at half past seven o'clock, at the same place. All former members of the Boys' High School are invited to be present.

At the meeting of the citizens' committee, Tuesday evening, on motion of Mr. Charles H. Mendum, it was voted to dispense with fireworks on the 4th of July, after an animated discussion. It was then voted to hire two bands to play on Market and Haymarket squares during the evening of the 4th.

Representative Kent introduced a bill in the House, Tuesday, fixing the time of closing the polls in this city. The bill was read twice and referred to the Judiciary committee.

FOR SALE.

A Double BRICK HOUSE, a BRICK BARN, LARGE GROUNDS and GARDEN. The house is one of the BEST, built on a rock, one of the FINEST LOCATIONS in Portsmouth, on Islington street, opposite Summer Street, suitable for either Business or Private residence; as Business is advancing in that direction, the property will soon be valuable. Apply to W. H. HACKETT in Portsmouth, or to JULIAN ALLEN, 192 Water St., New York city. eodmay20tf

For Sale.

THAT Delightful sea-side resort known as the

WOODMAN COTTAGE,

At Newcastle, N. H., is for sale. The Farm contains more than FIFTY ACRES OF LAND; and is bounded on the East for three hundred yards by the Atlantic Ocean.

The House is within a stone's throw of the surf, NEW, ELEVATED and COMMODIOUS; one and a half stories high, containing TEN rooms and surmounted by a first class weather proof observatory and surrounded by a piazza, from which the whole sea coast from Boon Island Light to Plum Island, including the Isles of Shoals are to be seen. In fact this property is situated nearer the famous Shoals than any other on the main land, and possesses the same advantages for BATHING, FISHING and the enjoyment of the sea air, while it is accessible at all times over good roads.

The Barn and out-buildings are in good repair.

No. 47 Congress St. Portsmouth N. H.

MORSE & ILSLEY'S,

IRON in the BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, DROPSY, HUMORS,

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes the Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to leave the character of an alterant, an easily digested, and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, imparting strength, vigor, and new life to all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been charged by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women: and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

SEWING MACHINE SALES

FOR 1872.

BY comparison of Statistics from sworn returns of the sales of Sewing Machines for 1871 and 1872, it shows that the

"DOMESTIC"

SEWING MACHINE Co.'s sales have increased over 375 per cent., while no other Co.'s sales have increased over 56 per cent., proving the great popularity of the "DOMESTIC."

Annexed are the percentage of gain, of the leading makers:

Domestic Sewing Machine Co.,	gain	375	per cent
Wheeler & Wilson	"	56	"
Singer	"	23	"
Grover & Baker	"	5	"
Weed	"	8	"
Wilcox & Gibbs	"	12	"
Wilson	"	8	"

Other Machines Co.'s' sales show a loss over the year before.

If the increase in sales be any criterion of merit, the "DOMESTIC" bears the palm.

The "DOMESTIC" works so easy, it is working itself into every family.

The "DOMESTIC" runs so light, it is distancing all competitors. It only asks a few days trial.

The "DOMESTIC" is recommend by the Medical Faculty.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,
No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Also, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to ascertain the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by transmitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability in his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. SPECIAL NOTICE.

Portsmouth Savings Bank.

President, WILLIAM SIMES,
Treasurer, J. F. SHORES,
Deposits, $1,930,378.46.

The Treasurer would ask the attention of the Depositors to these notices.

1st, In July next, the regular Five Years Extra Dividend will be declared.

2, From the 3d day of July to the 20th day of August, the books will be in the hands of a committee to examine the accounts and cast the Dividends thereon, during which time no Withdrawals can be made; therefore, the treasurer requests all depositors needing money during that interval to withdraw it on the 1st, 2nd, or 3d of July, as they can do it on those days without affecting the dividends.

3d. Deposits will be received as usual, while the books are in the hands of the Committee.

4th, The regular and extra dividends can be added to the Depositors' books after the 20th day of August and can then be withdrawn, if so desired; but if allowed to remain, the interest on those dividends will be cast from the 1st day of July.

5th, This bank pays to its Depositors interest semi-annually at the rate of Five per cent. per annum free of all taxes, and that interest compounds every six months.

6th, Interest on new deposits commences on the first day of each and every month, and all deposits made on the first three days of each month draw interest from the first day of that month.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

Jurubeba Blood Purifier,

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

Dr. Wells' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

The Chronicle.

Truthful James to the Editor.

(TRENTA, 1873.)

Which it is not my style
To produce needless pain
By statements that rile,
Or that go 'gin the grain,
But here's Captain Jack still a livin', and Nye has no skelp on his brain!

On that Caucasian head
There is no crown of hair.
It has gone; it has fled!
And Echo says "where?"
And I asks, "Is this Nation a White Man's, and is generally things on the square?"

She was known in the camp
As "Nye's other squaw,"
And folks of that stamp
Has no rights in the Law,
But is treacherous, sinful and slimy, as Nye might her well known before.

But she said that she knew
Where the Injins was hid,
And the statement was true,
For it seemed that she did;
Since she led William where he was covered by seventeen Modocs, and—slid!

Then they reached for his hair;
But Nye sez, "By the Law
Of Nations, forbear!
I surrenders—no more;
And I looks to be treated, you hear me?—as a pris'ner, a pris'ner of war!"

But Captain Jack rose
And he sez, "It's too thin.
Such statements as those
It's too late to begin.
There's a Modoc indictment agin you, O, Paleface, and you're goin' in!

You stole Schonchin's squaw
In the year 'sixty-two;
It was in 'sixty-four
That Long Jack you went through
And you burned Nasty Jim's ranchería and his wives, and his pappooses too.

This gun in my hand,
Was sold me by you
'Gainst the law of the land,
And I prove it is true!"
And he buried his face in his blanket and wept as he hid it from view.

"But you're tried and condemned
And skelping's your doom;"
And he paused and he hemmed—
But why this reason?
He was skelped 'gainst the custom of nations, and cut off like a rose in its bloom.

So I asks without guile,
And I trusts not in vain,
If this is the style
That is goin' to obtain—
If here's Captain Jack still a livin', and Nye with no skelp on his brain?

IRON in the BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, DROPSY, HUMORS!

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes the Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ill," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women: and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

JAMES C. BROWN, DEPUTY SHERIFF. Office No. 30 Market Street.

The Daily Chronicle,

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JUNE 12, 1873.

The Stokes Case.

In its eagerness to avenge the murder of that highly moral public benefactor, James Fisk, Jr., the New York public and the press at large sustained the outrageous ruling of the Judge who presided over the last trial of Edward S. Stokes, with great unanimity and untoward zeal. Sufficient was it for the anxious desirers for a hanging, that Stokes was convicted and sentenced, even though the law be stretched. Judge Boardman's refusal of a stay of proceedings was applauded as calculating to bring another murderer to the scaffold as soon as possible, Gould and his followers fearing that the law might deprive them of the satisfaction of securing the death of the man, who by the use of the pistol, had, perchance, ruined some of their well formed schemes of speculation.

Murderers have their rights at law as well as other criminals. It was a new dispensation that evolved the absurd doctrine that a man must be considered guilty till he should prove himself innocent! Yet such was the practical ruling of the Judge who presided at the Stokes trial. The hanging of Stokes or any other person is of far less importance than the principle involved. It is conceded that Stokes killed Fisk, and if a jury of twelve men could not decide to convict him of murder on the direct testimony offered, it appears like a desperate attempt to cause them to do so by this extra-judicial decision. The fact that he was followed beyond the limit of law leaves a suspicion in the mind of thinking people that Stokes' complaint that money and influence was employed to convict him by outside parties was not without foundation.

Imagine an innocent man in the place of Stokes, convicted on such rulings, and the danger of the decision is at once manifest. Law and justice have heretofore sustained the idea that a person on trial for his life is presumed to be innocent until proved guilty. To hang Stokes on such outrageous ruling is as fiendish as was the massacre of the Modocs by the Oregon volunteers while prisoners of war. Even if capital punishment deters crime, a doubtful question, its application outside of the law is inexcusable.

The decision of the Court of Appeals granting Stokes a new trial was unanimously given, Judges Grover and Rappallo delivering written opinions, which were concurred in by the other Judges. The charge is held to be erroneous on the point that the law presumes murder from the fact of killing, and calls on the prisoner to mitigate or justify; also that there were errors in excluding proof of threats by the deceased to kill the prisoner; also an error in permitting Mrs. Morse to contradict Jennie Turner in a collateral matter called out in the cross-examination,—as to whether she left Mrs. Morse's against her wish and because detectives were said to be after her soon after the homicide. Other points were discussed, but these are the principal ones.

This decision is in accordance with the predictions of the most eminent New York lawyers. A reaction favors Stokes as the victim of a conspiracy nearly successful. In the light of recent developments, the vengeance seekers seem to have overstepped the mark in their desire to hang Stokes, who might possibly have been convicted of the Fisk murder without a resort to illegal measures, in which case he would have long ago been in his grave, but now will probably emerge from the Tombs on bail and on a second trial stand a better chance of acquittal of or securing his liberty through a disagreement of the jury.

The Legislature.

On the 8th, the President announced the Senate committees. Senator Brown of this district is chairman of the committee on agriculture and manufactures, and is a member of the committees on railroads, military affairs, and finance. Senator Burns is chairman of the judiciary committee, and Senator Foster is chairman of the committee on railroads.

In the House, Mr. Sulloway presented a remonstrance from Nathaniel Wiggin against the right of James P. Tilton of Greenland to a seat in the House.

Mr. Langdon of Plymouth introduced a bill to amend Sec. 8, Chap. 105, Gen. Statutes, taxing male dogs $5, and female dogs $7 each. Referred to committee on agriculture.

Petitions were presented and referred to a special committee, for a law allowing women to vote in district school meetings.

A petition of 200 persons of Keene for a city charter was received.

The following petitions were referred to the railroad committee:—

By Mr. Pike of Wakefield—Petition of John W. Sanborn and 14 others of Wakefield; by Mr. Hayes of Somersworth—of Jeremiah Lord and 26 others of Somersworth; by Mr. Brown of Ossipee—of Geo. B. Silas and 22 others of Ossipee; by Mr. Mason of Dover—of B. F. Rackley and 148 others, of Dover; by Mr. Plumer of Wilton—of A. F. Kidder and 17 others of Milton; by Mr. Milliken of Freedom—of G. L. Towle and 20 others of Freedom; by Mr. Pike of Brookfield—of David Brackett and 45 others of Brookfield and Wakefield; by Mr. Townsend of Dover—of W. S. Perkins and 27 others of Dover; by Mr. Annable of Portsmouth—of A. W. Ham and 37 others of Portsmouth; by Mr. Broughton of Portsmouth—of A. S. Pickering and 27 others of Portsmouth; by Mr. Whidden of Portsmouth—of James S. Pierce and 37 others; by Mr. Marston of Portsmouth—of Henry Amazeen and 28 others; by Mr. Marcy of Portsmouth—of Geo. L. Treadwell and 46 others; by Mr. Jackson of Portsmouth—of E. H. Winchester and 37 others; by Mr. Tebbetts of Portsmouth—of W. O. Morrison and 35 others; by Mr. Kent of Portsmouth—of Ichabod Goodwin and 37 others; by Mr. Meserve of Bartlett—of A. D. Meserve and 32 others; by Mr. Nute of Ossipee—of Joseph Q. Roire and 18 others; by Mr. Libbey of Wolfeborough—of B. F. Stuart and 27 others, severally praying that the Portsmouth Great Falls & Conway Railroad may be authorized to connect with the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad.

The following bill was introduced by Mr. Kent of Portsmouth, read twice and referred to the committee on judiciary:—

An act fixing the time of closing the polls in the City of Portsmouth.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened.

That at all elections held in the City of Portsmouth for the choosing of State or Municipal officers, the polls shall close at six o'clock in the afternoon, after which time no ballot shall be taken, received or placed in the ballot box.

SECTION 2. As soon as a declaration of the votes shall have been made at any election, it shall be the duty of the clerk of each Ward to take possession of all the ballots counted and preserve them in the same condition in which they were at the declaration, together with the memorandum from which the Moderator made the declaration, and any memorandum or figures made by any officer who aided in sorting or counting the ballots; and preserve the same in some safe place under his lock and key, for ninety days after such election, subject during the time to such examination or re-count in such manner and at such time as the Mayor and Aldermen may order.

Mr. White of Wakefield introduced a bill authorizing the Portsmouth, Great Falls and Conway Railroad to connect with the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad. Referred to the railroad committee.

Mr. Murphy of Dover introduced a bill for the appointment of a State Board of Assessors.

Mr. Meserve of Albany introduced a bill incorporating the Bartlett & Albany Railroad.

A bill was introduced incorporating the Epping Savings Bank, also a bill in addition to the act incorporating the Howard Benevolent Society.

On Wednesday, a bill was introduced providing for a marginal railroad in Portsmouth.

THE SENATORIAL DISTRICTS.—At the last election there were cast for Senator in District No. 1, 4477 votes; in District No. 2, 5511 votes; in District No. 7, 4328 votes; in District No. 11, 6453 votes; in District No. 12, 7695 votes.

So that while the Honorable Senator from No. 7 represents 4328 voters, the one from No. 12, has a constituency of 7695. But Senators are regarded by the constitution as representing property rather than polls, it being provided that "the Legislature shall from time to time divide the State into twelve districts, and in making this division they shall govern themselves by the proportion of direct taxes paid by the said districts."

From the last apportionment we find that District No. 3 pays on each thousand dollars of the State tax, nearly $110, or one-ninth; Districts Nos. 11 and 12 pay about $80 each, not quite one-twelfth; and the others range all the way from one-ninth downward.

The present Senatorial districts were formed many years ago and at the time of their formation they may each, as far as was practicable, have contained one-twelfth of the valuation of the State; but the changes of the last decade have left them notoriously unequal, both in wealth and population, and to-day they are far from filling the requirements of the constitution, and do not in any sense afford "equal representation."

Again, while some districts are compact and convenient, others are without form or comeliness. No. 11 stretches from Sanbornton up the Northern Railroad and Connecticut River to Orford and up the Montreal road to Romney, forming a flat-iron within which any part is difficult of access to every other.

No. 8 reaches from Wilmot to Sharon and is all length without breadth or thickness. Other districts were apparently formed of "what was left" and are shapeless.

These facts and figures at once suggest that a reconstruction of the Senatorial districts of the State is demanded and if the Constitution is not to be amended and the number of Senators increased, thereby of course rendering the formation of new districts necessary, the Legislature should turn its attention to reorganizing the twelve old ones.—Manchester Mirror.

An explosion of fire-damp has occurred in the Henry Clay colliery, near Shamokin, Pa. At last accounts eleven miners had been taken out, eight of whom were dead, and between fifteen and twenty-five were still in the mine.

Two brothers have been suffocated in a gasometer at Eastport, and a third was taken out in a dangerous condition.

State News.

In Nottingham, a few days since, the house of Zebulon Kenniston was burned to the ground, together with all its contents.

Some time ago a minister in Wilton left home for an absence of two weeks, and preparing for his absence shut a fine calf up in the barn-yard, with half a barrel of swill, thinking that would afford sufficient sustenance for the two weeks! When he came home he was considerably astonished to find the calf dead.

According to the last census there were 124,979 persons who were born in New Hampshire, living in other States when that enumeration was made, and there were in this State 46,280 who were born in other States. Of the number leaving this State, 44,035 went to Massachusetts, 15,682 to Vermont, 12,497 to New York, 12,366 to Maine, 5,907 to Wisconsin, 4,111 to Ohio, 7,865 to Iowa, 2,252 to California.

MIRAMBO IS DEAD.—The San Francisco News Letter rejoices in the death of Mirambo, a mighty prince of central Africa. We can bear, it says, with despots who observe the decencies of life; but a tyrant who dresses himself in a single banana leaf, and even on Sundays wears only one ring through his nose, cannot be countenanced conscientiously. A monarch who would take the trousers sent from missionary-inspired ladies of Aberdeen, split them in half, fill them with sand and make a war-club of each leg, cannot be forgiven on the ground of mere eccentricity. Mirambo had a habit of shoving his crown suddenly under his son when the prince went to sit down, so that the spikes would make him screech. The father enjoyed this joke as much as if he had been brought up and educated on a comic journal.

WELL'S GRAND DISTRIBUTION.—The committee, after drawing nearly one hundred and fifty thousand dollars have decided to postpone the drawing until July 1st, 1873. This will positively be the last postponement. W. B. Lowd, Agent.

NATIVE PEARL VERSUS PORCELAIN.—Dentist's ware is a poor substitute for Nature. Let those who so believe, use the SOZODONT, which, if daily applied, will prevent all necessity for false teeth by keeping the real ones sound and healthy.

POISONING THE SICK.—There never was a specialty in medicine that was not pirated. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is no exception to the general rule. Fraud follows in the track of the Great Vegetable Restorative as it makes the circle of the world, and offers its pernicious imitations to the sick at every turn, anxious to drench the public with their trash. The imitators and counterfeiters offer it by the gallon, the barrel, the hogshead, as by the bottle. Beware of this deluge of abominations. Bear in mind that the true article is sold in bottles only, and the impress of genuineness is to be found upon the glass itself as well as upon the finely engraved government stamp and the elegant label. The great vegetable tonic prevents and cures all bilious disorders and complaints of the digestive organs and the nervous system, maladies upon which the vile imitations produce no more effect than the Pope's Bull upon the comet.

MARSTON & FREEMAN.

The New York Sons

Have published the following circular, which shows that full preparations are completed for their return home:—

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE "Society of the Sons and Daughters of the City of Portsmouth resident in New York and Brooklyn"

Have the pleasure of submitting to you "as far as practicable, the Programme of the Festivals to be held at the Old Homestead upon the coming Reunion; and, also, the Reports of the various Sub-Committees of the Society upon all matters relating to it, and the action of the Executive Committee thereon.

The arrangements at Portsmouth for the Celebration of the 250th Anniversary of its settlement, and the Second Reunion of all the Sons and Daughters of old Strawberry Bank, are now nearly completed. The City Government has made a very liberal appropriation, energetic Committees are zealously and wisely at work; the whole people are opening hearts and homes to make the occasion a great joy to all. The hospitalities commence on the morning of the 3d with an informal Reception, at (probably) Frenchman's Lane, of the New York Delegation, at 10 o'clock, escorting it to the Rockingham House, the Head-Quarters of the Board of Officers and Chief Marshal. At 7 P. M., there will be given upon Haymarket Square an Evening Concert by the Band of our Delegation. At 9 P. M., a Reception at the Rockingham, by the New Yorkers. On the morning of the 4th, at about 10 o'clock, there will take place the formal reception of all the guests of the City, at Frenchman's Lane, when there will be formed a Grand Procession, marching over the old-time route to the Tents erected for Collation, Oration, Poem, and general speeches. The City is to be very beautifully decorated by street arches and festooning. The Military, Civic, Industrial and Floral displays will be all that the occasion and the proverbial taste of the loved ones at home may suggest or require. At 5.30 P. M., a Regatta, in which are entered the Naval Boats (through the courtesy of Commodore J. S. Howell), the numerous boats of the employes of the Navy Yard, and several professional four and six-oared clubs and single sculls. At 8 P. M., a Grand Union Promenade Concert will be given in the tents, in which there will be joined the famous Bands of Downing, Gilmore, Brown, and others.

The Finance Committee have to report, that from the beginning they have believed the contributions should be apportioned in such a manner, that while the more fortunate should be looked to as pioneers in amount and promptness of subscriptions, the occasion was the right and privilege of all, each giving what in their own judgment they thought consistent with the object and their interests. They are gratified in stating that they have been met, without exception, with a warm and generous response, obtaining already an amount nearly adequate to the probable expenditures necessary to a good showing of the New York Sons. The Committee have in their calls met most of the Portsmouth men and women, now resident in New York and Brooklyn, and it is their belief that every Son and Daughter will honor themselves and their native City, by participating in this delightful festivity.

The Music Committee submit, that in accordance with instructions, received propositions from five of the leading regimental Bands in this City and Brooklyn, and, with due regard to quality and cost, have recommended the contracting with D. L. Downing's Ninth Regiment Band, of forty pieces, for the period of three and one-half days. The Band will join the Delegation upon its starting from New York, and the Committee are certain that their superb music, during the afternoon and evening, will most happily inaugurate the Festivals of the Reunion for the New Yorkers at 4 P. M., of July 2d.

The Committee on Badges, Banners, &c., herewith report that they have given their attention to the particular work assigned them, and have caused to be made various specimens of Badges, any one of which would be very fitting and beautiful. They also offer a recommendation as to the procuring of Flags to be used in the Procession.

The Transportation Committee have waited upon the Officers of all of the routes, boat and rail, between New York and Boston, and, after full and careful consideration, have obtained from the Narragansett S. S. Co., (Fall River,) the especial use of the elegant Steamer Newport. Leaving New York on the afternoon of the 2d of July, at 4 o'clock, our party will arrive at Fall River at 4 A. M. on the 3d, and will proceed to Boston on special train, arriving about 6 o'clock. Arrangements are made for the very comfortable conveyance of the Ladies of the Delegation from the Old Colony to the Eastern Depot. Measures are in hand to provide at some suitable place a good Breakfast. The Committee submit, that in their judgment they have secured in all respects, greater comfort and pleasure by this arrangement, than could possibly be obtained by any other route, or upon any other boat on this route; and they confidently believe that the spirit of the occasion will be better maintained, and the objects of the excursion more satisfactorily accomplished, if the entire Delegation, both ladies and gentlemen, take passage upon the Steamer Newport, and upon the 8.30 Express Train of the 3d, from Boston. Tickets for the round trip (from New York to Portsmouth and return, holding good from July 2d to July 20th inclusive,) may be obtained at a cost of $7.00, after June 15, of Messrs. Sam. J. Nowell, 63 Worth street, Geo. J. Laighton, 45 Chambers St., John L. Salter, 57 Worth St., New York City; and of Henry S. Lambert, 10 Pineapple St., Brooklyn. In order that the Committee may complete their arrangements in detail with the Companies, it is imperatively necessary that they be immediately advised how many tickets each will require for self, family, or friends. The Staterooms upon the Newport for this trip will be one and two dollars, according to size; the Supper will be furnished by the Boat, a la carte, and both will be, as usual, an extra charge. The Breakfast at Boston, on the 3d, though provided by the Committee, will be paid for by individuals who may partake of it, at a cost not exceeding 75 cents.

The Executive Committee have accepted and adopted the foregoing Reports, and they very earnestly repeat the requests—First, that the Delegation go intact from New York to Portsmouth; second, that each person receiving this Circular give prompt reply to Sam. J. Nowell, Esq., Treasurer, No. 63 Worth St., enabling the various Committees to properly provide Transportation, Staterooms, Badges and Subsistence.

For the Committee,
ARCHIBALD A. PETERSON,
President.

New York, June 7th, 1873.

A Son Abroad.

The Milwaukee Journal of Commerce thus refers to a son of Portsmouth, resident in that city, recently chosen to a position on the Milwaukee Board of Public Works:

As for Mr. Winslow A. Nowell, he is a fair type of the class of energetic, public spirited young business men who now manage nearly all the great private enterprises of Milwaukee, and who, fortunately for Milwaukee, seem to be just now disposed to take a hand in public affairs. He is, in short, precisely such a man as we have frequently described as the fit guardian of the public interests in this important stage of Milwaukee's development.

Concert.

Mr. Moses' concert with a double quartet and three pianos announced for this evening, we have reason to believe, will elicit the public interest and be crowned with success in its performance, and we hope with a full and appreciative audience, giving just countenance to the enterprise of a Portsmouth Son, than whom no other is more industrious and deserving. The entirely new feature of three pianos being played on simultaneously, expressing original compositions composed in view of the great festival of the Sons and Daughters at Portsmouth, July 4th, 1873, together with other attractions and the easy and equal price of tickets, should make the accommodations of the house too small for the applicants for tickets. A CITIZEN.

Laconics.

A deputy sheriff of York County, Me., residing in Kittery, informs us that the peace and quiet of that village was considerably disturbed last Sunday afternoon and evening by the conduct of three parties of young men from this city, who raced and ran the horses they were driving up and down the road, yelling like savages (or silly fools) the while, thereby greatly scandalizing the staid citizens of the Navy Yard village and putting our city to an open shame. The officer says another such humilating exhibition of disgraceful folly and rowdyism will occasion the summary arrest of somebody, and from what we know of him we advise the young roysterers to go somewhere else the next time they want to run horses and yell on a Sunday, or they will find themselves brought up with a round turn.

The ladies of the Methodist Society will hold a Festival at their chapel on Daniel street, this evening. Refreshments will be served and a good time is expected. Admission 15 cts.

At a meeting of the directors of the Young People's Union, Tuesday evening it was voted that the Rooms be closed until October; except that the library wil be open for the two next Saturday evenings, to receive the books now out. Members having books out will please return them at once. The officers are well satisfied with the success of the Union this season, and hope to reopen in the fall with renewed attractions and fresh plans of usefulness.

Poor little insipid Billy, who is anxious to convince his friends that he knows nothing, very naturally favors repudiation of the trifling bills due the firemen from April 1st to the date of their discharge, and spreads himself exceedingly thin over the fact that we advocate the payment of honest debts.

Mr. Joseph H. Gardiner received a telegram on Wednesday, stating that his son William H. Gardiner, had been accidentally shot in the abdomen. Young Gardiner was at Dartmouth college and his father started immediately for Hanover.

Assistant Engineer William B. Ballie, U. S. N., has reported for duty at the navy yard.

Messrs. Critchley & Whalley have taken the job to erect two gasometers for Tiffany & Son, at the navy yard. Each of these structures is to be eight feet high; one of them is to be 20 feet in diameter, with a capacity of 2500 cubic feet, and the other 29 feet in diameter, and to hold 5000 feet.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Levi Woodbury took place at the homestead on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Drs. Bingham and Lambert officiating. Few persons attended the funeral besides the immediate family.

At the Wagner murder trial, Wednesday, James Lee testiged that Wagner told him two weeks before the murders, that if he could get a boat he would go to the Shoals, where he could get money enough. Waldemar Ingelbredsen testified that Wagner told him he was "bound to have money in three months, if I murder for it." Mrs. Hontvet also testified, identifying Wagner as the murderer.

Mr. Moses' unique concert comes off this evening, the double quartet assisting. A citizen desires us to ask the members of the quartet to repeat the "Soldiers' Farewell" and "not bear down hard" on the word "dying."

Fourth of July.

At the regular meeting of the citizens' committee, Tuesday evening, Mr. A. M. Payson, from the school teachers, reported that with proper exertions some 200 children would engage in the floral festivities at the Academy. Mr. Buzzell made a report calculated to throw cold water on the affair. The committee voted to admit all children participating to the collation and promenade concert.

The committee on promenade concert were authorized to print 3000 admission tickets.

Voted, that a salute be fired at Frenchman's Lane on the arrival of the Boston Sons.

The chairmen of the sub-committees were appointed committee on badges.

Adjourned for one week.

S. B. Breed Engine Co. of Lynn have notified the citizens' committee that they have employed the American Brass Band of Providence, and propose to visit Portsmouth on the 4th. They ask to be assigned to a position in the procession and agree to pay their own expenses.

The Knights of Pythias of this city have voted to receive an organization of 250 who propose to visit Portsmouth on the 4th.

S. F. Engine Co., Kearsarge No. 3, have challenged Steam Fire Engine Co. Dupont No. 3 of the Navy Yard to a trial of engines in Portsmouth on the morning of the 4th of July, for a stake of $200.

HEAD QUARTERS OF CHIEF MARSHAL.
"RECEPTION OF SONS JULY 4, 1873"
General Order No. 1.

Capt. J. Albert Sanborn is hereby announced as Chief of Staff for the Chief Marshal, and will be obeyed and respected accordingly.

All military and civic organizations intending to participate in the procession are requested to report at once, in writing, to the Chief of Staff.

By order of
WM. H. SISE,
Chief Marshal.
Chas. A. Hazlett, Aide.

Portsmouth, N. H., June 10, 1873.

—There arrived in Louisville a few days ago, on foot all the way from Mississippi, a venerable sick negro, who had trudged all the weary distance thither to obtain hospital treatment, and was accompanied by a small brown dog. When told that he must give up his dog before he could go to the City Hospital, the old man took the dog in his arms, and, with the tears running down his face, replied that the dog was the best friend he had in the world, and that he would rather die from want in thestreets with his dog Tim, than live in comfort without him. This exhibition of affection was irresistible, and Esquire Pat Joyce, the commissioner, gave him a permit to enter the hospital and to carry his dog with him, at the same time giving him money to buy a muzzle, in order that that the dog might enjoy the limits of the hospital grounds.

SEWING MACHINE SALES

FOR 1872.

BY comparison of Statistics from sworn returns of the sales of Sewing Machines for 1871 and 1872, it shows that the

"DOMESTIC"

SEWING MACHINE CO.'s sales have increased over 375 per cent. while no other Co.'s sales have increased over 36 per cent., proving the great popularity of the "DOMESTIC."

Annexed are the percentage of gain, of the leading makers:

Domestic Sewing Machine Co.,	gain 375	per cent
Wheeler & Wilson	" 36	"
Singer	" 23	"
Grover & Baker	" 5	"
Weed	" 8	"
Wilcox & Gibbs	" 12	"
Wilson	" 8	"

Other Machines Co.'s' sales show a loss over the year before.

If the increase in sales be any criterion of merit, the "DOMESTIC" bears the palm.

The "DOMESTIC" works so easy, it is working itself into every family.

The "DOMESTIC" runs so light, it is distancing all competitors. It only asks a few days trial.

The "DOMESTIC" is recommend by the Medical Faculty.

Portsmouth Savings Bank.

President, WILLIAM SIMES,
Treasurer, J. F. SHORES.

Deposits, $1,930,378.46.

The Treasurer would ask the attention of the Depositors to these notices.

1st, In July next, the regular Five Years Extra Dividend will be declared.

2. From the 3d day of July to the 20th day of August, the books will be in the hands of a committee to examine the accounts and cast the Dividends thereon, during which time no Withdrawals can be made; therefore, the treasurer requests all depositors needing money during that interval to withdraw it on the 1st, 2nd, or 3d of July, as they can do it on those days without affecting the dividends.

3d. Deposits will be received as usual, while the books are in the hands of the Committee.

4th. The regular and extra dividends can be added to the Depositors' books after the 20th day of August and can then be withdrawn, if so desired; but if allowed to remain, the interest on those dividends will be cast from the 1st day of July.

5th. This bank pays to its Depositors interest semi-annually at the rate of Five per cent. per annum free of all taxes, and that interest compounds every six months.

6th. Interest on new deposits commences on the first day of each and every month, and all deposits made on the first three days of each month draw interest from the first day of that month.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

Jurubeba Blood Purifier,

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from stagnation and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

Dr. Wells'

EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

Sonoma Wine Bitters

are the BEST to use to counteract the debilitating effects of SPRING and early SUMMER. They are MILD AND PLEASANT IN THEIR EFFECTS, and no change in diet is needed.

EVERYBODY CAN TAKE THEM:

Man, Woman or Child!

They are made with PURE, SOFT, MILD WINE, and choice Plants and Roots, are Delicious to the Taste and Delightful in Aroma, while the strong, fiery spirit, so prominent in most other Bitters, is lacking.

SONOMA WINE BITTERS

have been used for years, not only in the United States but in the British Provinces, West Coast of South America, Sandwich Islands, the East and West Indies, and Austria, and are recognized as the Most Palatable, Healthy and Appetizing Bitters in the market.

Sonoma Wine Bitters

are Medicinal and Invigorating, cleansing the blood, and giving a healthy tone to the entire system. Ladies and Children will find therein a most agreeable Tonic. Try them, and you will use no other.

The Chronicle.

"WHOSE CARDS?"—They tell a pretty good story of some fellows who "got up a little game" on the Boston & Maine Railroad, a few days since, the sequel to which proved a practical joke.

It seems that Dash wanted to play a game of "all fours," but he had no cards; neither had any of the party. But Dash wanted to play; so he walked forward to the baggage car and sends the apple-boy, or peanut-boy into the smoking car in order to give one or all of the three individuals left behind a chance to invest fifty cents in "a deck" before he got fairly to his seat, Dash keeping near enough to see that the cards were left on the marble table. But, it chanced that the boy, in a hurry to go through the train, did not stop to collect his pay, thinking there was time enough to return for it.

Well, the game went on, and the cars sped onward till the conductor announced Bradford, etc., when all but Dash left the train, and the boy had not yet come for his pay. Just as the last one of the three was leaving the door, Dash shouted, "Whose cards are these?"

"Deuced if I know," was the reply, and Dash was left in possession of the "deck."

Suffice it, that before Dash got very far to the eastward the boy called for his pay, and, of couse, Dash paid the little bill.

Advice to Dash: Next time walk right along and "chip in" and the chances are that you may not pay alone. Haverhill Bulletin.

OBITUARY OF A WESTERN EDITOR.—Ye editor sat in his ricketty chair, as worried as worried could be, for ye devil was grinning before him there, and "copy" ye devil sayed he.

Oh, ye editor grabbed his big quill pen, and it scattered ye ink so free, that his manuscript looked like a war map, when—"Take this" to the devil spake he.

He scribbled and scratched through the live-long day, no rest or refreshment had he; for the devil kept constantly coming that way, and howling for more "cop-ee."

Day after day he scissored and wrote, a saving the whole countree; while ye devil kept piping his single note, "A little more outside cop-ee!"

And when ye boys in ye news-room hear the sound of unequal fray, the voice of a blow and blasphemous word, "He's raising the devil!" say they.

And oft when a man with a grievance came in, ye editor man to see, he'd turn his back with a word of sin—"Go talk to ye devil," sayed he.

And ever and oft, when a "proof" of his work ye proprietor wanted to see, "Ye proof shall be shown by my personal clerk; you must go to ye devil," said he.

And thus he was destined through all of his life, by this spirit tormented to be; in hunger and poverty, sorrow and strife, always close to ye devil was he.

Ye editor died * * * But ye devil lived on! And the force of life's habits we see: for ye editor's breath no sooner was gone, than straight to ye devil went he.

BORN IN THE FAR NORTH.—An incident of interest is related in connection with the Polaris Arctic Expedition. There are at Washington, among the survivors of that vessel, beside Jo and Hanna and their adopted daughter, another Esquimaux by the name of Hans Christien, with his wife and four children. He was taken on board the Polaris after she reached Disco, with his wife and three children. While the vessel was in winter quarters the fourth child was born. The birth having taken place on a United States vessel, under the national flag, the child is an American citizen. It was born 100 miles further north than any habitation of men is known to exist, and, with reason, is believed to have had its birth-place in a higher latitude than any other living human being. This fact, and the wonder that it survived the perils of drifting floe during a long Arctic Winter, will make it the object of universal attention when Secretary Robeson's investigation has advanced far enough so that he shall deem it prudent to permit it to leave the Frolic.

—A boy eleven years old, named Ned Baker, who lives with his aunt on Macomb street, Detroit, can simulate death so successfully as to deceive any one but an expert. For a small compensation he will stretch out on the floor, cease to breath, apparently, grow white in the face, affect the rigidity of a corpse, and his pulses become so feeble that the beating can only be detected by a practical finger. He recently went through his performance in a saloon on Woodbridge street, and so much like genuine death was his counterfeit, that the men who put him up to the trick became greatly frightened, and bribed him to come out of his trance. His breathing was so faint that it could not be felt on the hand or cheek, and hardly dimmed the glass held down to his lips. The boy says that the performance does not injure his health, and he can make himself so near head that it is only by great mental effort that he throws off the lethargy.

The Wagner Trial.

During the confinement of Louis H. F. Wagner in Alfred jail, he has endeavored to appear excessively religious but on seeing City Marshal Johnson and the other witnesses from this city, he swore roundly. While the prisoner has been on trial, the court room has been densely crowded, and a painful interest was shown as Mrs. Hontvet, the survivor of the terrible tragedy, plainly gave her account of that fearful night's experience and identified Wagner as the murderer of her sisters.

The witnesses examined on Wednesday were Dr. John W. Parsons, Waldemar Ingebredsen, James Lee, Lars Nelson, Mary S. Hontvet, John C. Hontvet, Charles H. Johnson, Charles E. Campbell, Sarah E. Campbell, Israel Fletcher, Charles S. Place, James Burke, Joshua Frizzell, George Amazeen, Joseph Amazeen, Anna Carlton, John Lyons, Alonzo Green and Ann Elizabeth Johnson.

Mrs. Hontvet testified as follows:—

Am wife of John C. Hontvet. Was sister to Karen Christenson. Evan is my brother. Have lived on Smutty Nose five years. Was at home the day before the murder. My husband left in the morning, with Matthew Hontvet, John's brother, and Evan. I saw my husband the next morning after, at about ten o'clock. At nine o'clock that night Anethe, Karen and me were on the island; no others. Went to bed at about ten o'clock. I slept in the bedroom in the western part of the house. I and Anethe slept together. Karen slept on the lounge in the kitchen. The bedroom door was left open that night. I did not haul the curtains down. It was a pleasant night. The house was not fastened. The lock broke some time before. Karen was undressed. There was a clock in the room over the lounge. [Counsel objected to the statements of the murdered woman, but they were admitted as part of res gestæ.] Karen said, "John scared me, John scared me." The clock had fallen down and stopped at seven minutes past one. She next hallooed, "John has killed me. John has killed me." I jumped up to open my bedroom door. Could not open it. It was fast. He kept on striking Karen. She fell down on the floor under the table. When the door was open I looked and saw a tall man. I took hold of Karen to pull her into my room. He struck me twice. I held the door. Told Karen to jump out of the window. She said, "I can't, I'm so tired." I told Anethe to jump out of the window and run away. Anethe opened the window and jumped out. I told her to run. She said, "I can't; I can't." The man tried to get into my bedroom three times. He then went out and Anethe cried out, "Louis! Louis!" and a good many times. He could lay his elbow on the window. That man was Louis Wagner. He went and got the axe. Anethe saw him coming with a great big axe. She cried out "Louis!" Louis!" He struck her once on the head. She fell. He then struck her twice. He next went back. I jumped out of the window. Told Karen to come. She said, "I can't." I run as fast as I can. I ran down to the hen house. Little dog followed. I ran down to the landing place. Did not find boat. I looked at the house and saw that he had a light there. I went out on the island. I heard my sister halloo again. The moon was most down. Sat behind the rocks and stayed until a half an hour after sunrise. I had an axe on the island. Two days before I used this axe at the well, and left it at my door. Had known Louis for a year and a half. He boarded seven months with me last summer. He left about November. He had the big room in the easterly end of the house. Kept his clothes in the little bedroom. Karen visited us while he boarded there. Karen had a piece of silver. I saw it in October or November. It was a half dollar. She kept it in her purse. I saw that purse the afternoon before she was killed. She had copper money. I gave her ten cents. She put a white button in her purse that afternoon. Anethe took the button from my basket and gave it to Karen. Have similar buttons with me. I got these in my sewing basket. [Buttons produced.] I have a night-dress with similar buttons on it. Six of this kind and an odd one. Karen had some small pieces of silver; some about the size of a five-cent piece. Have never been on that island since. Saw a traveling-bag belonging to Karen two or three weeks after the murder at Johnson's in Portsmouth. The lock was broken.

Cross-examined—Can't tell what dress this man had on. He had on short clothes. Saw him once in that room. I had my back toward him when he struck me. He had on a dark hat; a short hat with a wide rim. Did not see his face. Did not speak to him.

Joshua Frizzell of Newcastle testified to seeing Wagner, on the morning the murder was discovered, having known him by sight before. George and Joseph Amazeen testified to seeing Wagner on the bridge at the same time, and identified the clothes he wore.

Anna Carlton testified that she saw Wagner that morning at Newcastle, going towards Portsmouth. His overalls were wet and icy. Had seen him before on Water street in Portsmouth, where he resided before her marriage.

John Lyons testified that he spoke with Wagner that morning on the bridge. He wore rubber boots.

Alonzo Green testified to seeing him near Liberty Bridge, Portsmouth, about quarter past seven oclock that morning.

Ann Elizabeth Johnson testified as follows:

Live on Water street, Portsmouth. Am the wife of Matthew Johnson, and keep boarders. Louis Wagner boarded with us in February and March last. He did not sleep in the house on the night of March 5th. Did not see him after tea. Saw him the next morning, about half-past seven, coming in the back gate. Said I, "Louis, where did you come from? Hontvet was looking for you last night to halt trawls." He said: "Part of the time I was baiting, and part of the time I was asleep." He went up stairs, washed, and came to breakfast. Asked it I didn't hear him come in. I said, "No; your bed was not rumbled." He replied, "I slept on the lounge from 3 to 5." I said, "Hontvet was there, and he did not see you." Heard him tell Matthew he never left so bad in his life. Husband said he had better take composition. Wagner said it wasn't that kind of sickness; he had got into trouble and was afraid he would be taken. She identified the clothing already described and produced as Wagner's and worn by him that morning.

Old Time Chronicles, No. 78.

Play House Controversy in Portsmouth.—It was in 1762. Portsmouth then had a population of 4,400, or so. Benning Wentworth was the Provincial Governor. An effort was made to establish a Play House, as it was then called, for theatrical entertainments. Nothing of the kind existed then in the Province, and the feeling of the people was decidedly against it. So a petition signed by 40 men of Portsmouth, was sent to the Governor and Council, urging that such plays be not allowed, as the tendency would be to engender idleness and disippation. Among these petitioners are the following names, afterwards well know in town: Sherburn, Penhallow, March, Beck, Hatch, Brewster and Shannon. The date of this petition is not given, but it was probably early in June, 1762.

But the Play House had friends and a counter petition was sent to the Governor, signed by 45. The petitioners stated that no obscene or immoral plays were insended, but such as tended to influence the mind and inform the judgment in things proper to be known in civil and well regulated society. This was dated June 3, 1762. Among the names are Wentworth, Wendell, Livermore, Atkinson, Pierce and Stavers.

Upon this, opposers came forward in force. A petition signed by 183 set forth that it was a time of distress in consequence of a famine; that taxes could not be collected in the year; that it would carry away what little silver and gold there was in town; be injurious to morals; and as the poor imitate the rich every servant would turn player. This petition was signed first by the five Selectmen, John Langdon, A. Clarkson, John Dennett, Saml. Penhallow, Wm. Knight. The following names among families afterward prominent appear:—Sheaffe, Hale, Salter, Sherburne, Ham, Moses, Akerman, Miller, Shores, Nutter, Havey, Beck and Mendum.

The Provincial Assembly added the force of its remonstrance, as the next day, June 5, it passed an address to the Governor, requesting him to deny the request for a Play House. Many reasons were given, among them the distress in consequence of the famine; corrupting the morals of the young; the expense of the Indian war; that there was already a complaint of pleasure and idleness and that plays would "inflaim" that temper, &c.

We have no record of the result, but in all probability the Play House was not granted at that time. Many then in opposition to theatres seemed to think with Pollock, who lived later, that "The drama might have taught morals, but it never did."

Murder by a Dog.—The Portland Argus relates the following instance of "dogicide:" A large Newfoundland dog of the female persuasion, belonging to a gentleman living near Black Cove, was pestered by a dog of small proportions. After standing the annoyance for some time the big dog turned deliberately round, took the little dog by the nape of the neck, and carryiog him down to the water held him underneath. This proceeding was witnessed by a number of persons, who threw stones in hopes of making the canine murderer let up, but of no use, and the victim was held under the water until drowned.

—An editor in Fredericksburg, Va., was asked by a stranger, "If it was possible that little town kept up four newspapers;" and the reply was, "No, it takes four newspapers to keep up the town."

The Legislature.

On Wednesday, the House voted that the three papers furnished to each member should be the Monitor, Patriot and People.

In convention, balloted for Secretary of State, with the following result:

Whole number of votes	316

Isaac N. Bloodgett (dem.) had	122
Benjamin F. Prescott (rep.) had	194

—and was elected.

The convention proceeded to ballot for a State Treasurer with the following result:

Whole number of votes cast,	323
Necessary to a choice,	162
Geo. W. M. Pitman (dem.) had	130
Solon A. Carter (rep.) had	193

—and was elected.

The election of a State Printer was next proceeded with, resulting as follows:

Whole number of votes cast,	318
Necessary to a choice,	160
Scattering,	3
James M. Campbell (dem.) had	125
Edward A Jenks, (rep.) had	192

—and was elected.

The convention then balloted for Commissary General, with the following result:

Whole number of votes cast,	3
Necessary to a choice,	2
Chas. F. Montgomery (rep.) had	3

—and was elected, and the convention arose.

On Thursday, Mr. Bickford of Newcastle gave notice of a bill to amendment to the act to authorize the construction of a bridge over Little Harbor river.

State News.

The Concord correspondent of the Boston Traveller suggests that Col. Daniel Hall of Dover is likely to be a formidable candidate for Governor. We object. The people of this district propose to send him to Congress.

When the patrons of Ed. Fernald, of the Great Falls Journal, want their advertisements changed, he changes them from one column to another.

Readables.

When an Oshkosh (Wis.) editor runs away with another man's wife, the man goes around and discontinues the paper; whereat the La Crosse Liberal Democrat observes that "some people get mad and stop their paper for almost nothing." True, too true.

A lady returning from an unprofitable visit to church declared that "when she saw the shawls of those Smiths, and then thought of the things her own poor girls had to wear, if it wasn't for the consolation of religion she did not know what she should do."

A game of base ball in Cranston, Iowa, was interrupted in a singular manner. A cow caught the ball on its bounding way and swallowed it.

Mr. Thomas J. Sheehan of this city on the 31st of December last procured a general accident policy for $2000 for $10, and ten dollars per week benefit in case of disability. On the 7th of January, he slipped and broke his leg, from which accident he was disabled twenty weeks; and Messrs. Morse & Ilsley, agents for the Travellers Life and Accident Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., have paid him without trouble or expense the sum of $200. Mr. Sheehan believes in accident insurance for himself and recommends it to others.

Walworth's trial will commence on the 23d.

On Thursday, Mary A. Johnson, Frederick Moore, Catherine Brown, Emma Jane Miller and Thomas Wier testified. Catherine Brown of Boston testified that Wagner went to her house on the day of the murder, fell asleep and looked as if he lost all his friends.

Emma Jane Miller testified that she lived with the Browns. She asked Wagner on his arrival, "What makes you look so pale and thin?" Said he: "I am just after murdering two sailors coming to New York. The mate put me in a boat. I had to run away and came to Boston. I have had my whiskers shaved so the officers may not know me. I want to murder another girl, Nellie Mahoney, and then I am going to leave the country."

To the Point.—The farmers of Illinois would make bad politicians, as they do not seem to have the knack of drawing resolutions so that they can have various interpretations. At least the farmers of Carroll county in that State, in convention assembled, showed an utter lack of education in this regard, as witness the following resolution:

Resolved, That the increase of Congressional salaries, in these hard times, is an internal outrage upon the working people of the country.

Business Notices.

Well's Grand Distribution.—The committee, after drawing nearly one hundred and fifty thousand dollars have decided to postpone the drawing until July 1st, 1873. This will positively be the last postponement W. B. Lord, Agent.

P. O. C. W.—Only the choicest of pure, old California Wine is used in making the popular "Sonoma Wine Bitters." Ladies and children find these Bitters especially palatable and beneficial. Sold by all druggists and grocers. Jas. Dingley & Co., Boston, sole proprietors.

Native Pearl Versus Porcelain.—Dentist's wear as a poor substitute for Nature. Let those who so believe, use the Sozodont, which, if daily applied, will prevent all necessity for false teeth by keeping the real ones sound and healthy.

Poisoning the Sick.—There never was a specialty in medicine that was not pirated. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is no exception to the general rule. Fraud follows in the track of the Great Vegetable Restorative as it makes the circle of the world, and offers its pernicious imitations to the sick at every turn, anxious to drench the public with their trash. The imitators and counterfeiters offer it by the gallon, the barrel, the hogshead, as by the bottle. Beware of this deluge of abominations. Bear in mind that the true article is sold in bottles only, and the impress of a gentleman's head is found upon the glass itself as well as upon the finely engraved government stamp and the elegant label. The great vegetable tonic prevents and cures all bilious disorders and complaints of the digestive organs and the nervous system, maladies upon which the vile imitations produce no more effect than the Pope's Bull upon the comet.

MARSTON & FREEMAN.

Those Fireworks.

We have hesitated to publicly express our regrets that the citizens' committee at their last meeting chose to strike out of the programme for the Fourth the appropriation for fireworks, as one of the editors of the CHRONICLE opposed the motion in the committee, and it might be thought we were personally interested; but there is such a universal dissatisfaction among our citizens and appeals to us as publishers of a newspaper to urge a reconsideration of the vote, that we cannot do otherwise than refer to the subject. Those who desired to strike out the fireworks, we are assured did so because as property owners they feared a fire. As it was the intention to display them out of the compact part, all danger of fire would have been avoided. As it is, the effect will be to endanger property to a greater extent, as in default of any regular display of fireworks scores of individuals intend to have displays on their own premises.

Were the city authorities to prohibit these private displays more dissatisfaction would be caused. It seems rather late to wait until next Tuesday to secure a reconsideration of the vote, although we hear that a remonstrance against the action of the committee would be signed by hundreds of citizens, if circulated. The best thing for those desiring fireworks to do would be to raise $500 by subscription. This, however, would seem too much to ask, inasmuch as it is understood that the entire expenses of the reception of the Sons will probably fall below the amount appropriated by the City Councils. Those who have favored fireworks have done so understandingly, foreseeing that on the evening of the 4th, all who desire will not be able to attend the promenade concert, and should be amused in some other way. If the intention of those who carried the motion was to save the paltry sum of $500 to the city and let 10,000 people wander about the streets listlessly, while 5000 more fortunate ones are enjoying themselves at the tents, it was inexcusable; if the supporters of the motion thought the music of two bands would satisfy the community in place of fireworks, they have been greatly mistaken. The motion adopted was carried by only four votes when but fourteen votes were cast, the committee consisting of about 150 members. Those who advocated the display of fireworks did so, not because they expected to witness it, as other duties would prevent, but that in the good time coming there should be no disagreeable remembrance that anything had been left undone to please all who choose to visit Portsmouth on the Fourth, and our own citizens, thousands of whom cannot be admitted to the promenade concert. We think it is the unanimous desire of our citizens that no one shall retire on the night of the 4th disappointed, and that no visitor shall leave the city feeling that those having charge of the programme of the day have paid more attention to their own comfort than to the pleasure of the thousands who look to them for proper attention.

Fourth of July.

The auditing committee hold their final meeting for the approval of estimates, at the office of Hon. William H. Y. Hackett, on Saturday evening at eight o'clock. The chairmen of the committees on decorations, printing, badges, tents and location of tents, industrial procession and salutes are requested to be present to report estimates and explain them.

In response to a request by Ex-Gov. Goodwin, chairman of the citizens' committee, Commodore J. C. Howell has kindly granted permission for the marine guard at this naval station to act as escort at the coming reception.

Mr. Charles E. Buzzell, of the committee of teachers, wishes us to say that if his report at the meeting of the citizens' committee tended to "throw cold water" on the proposed floral display, such was not his intention, his idea being that too much must not be expected of the children. Mr. Buzzell has been earnestly engaged in favoring the measure, canvassing the schools and urging teachers and scholars to take part in the reception of the Sons. Since the vote of the committee admitting these scholars to the collation and promenade concert was announced, quite a number of scholars in addition to those already reported have decided to join the movement. Mr. Buzzell reports that he expects some 300 to 350 scholars to take part in the floral festivities. This promises to be one of the best features of the reception.

All the ladies of the general committee are requested to meet with the collation committee at the Common Council room this (Friday) evening at half past seven o'clock.

Apprentice Wanted.

We want a young man to learn the printing business. He must be between the ages of thirteen and seventeen. One who does not know an end quad from a shooting stick preferred. Willingness to play second fiddle to the foreman, as well as ourself, for a few years, an indispensable qualification. He is not to have more than three sweet-hearts, nor more than ten corner-lounging associates. No objection to his using tobacco, cigars or pipe, provided the "old soldiers" and ashes are kept off our table and out of the cases. If consistent with his finer feelings, we would respectfully venture the suggestion that he leave us at least one third of our exchanges, that we may look over them, when at leisure. Must not use more than one quire of letter paper or a package of envelopes weekly in corresponding with his friends and acquaintances. Will be required to furnish his own postage stamps. We furnish water, soap and towels. Will be expected to be at the office in time to get hungry before dinner. To return and be ditto before supper. If we entrust him with a key to the office door, it is hoped that he will spare our feelings and the feelings of the tenants who occupy the room beneath us, by bringing only a dozen of his associates into the composing room at any one time after night. Some regard should also be paid to the number of gas jets which are lighted on such occasions. We admit that the Republican office presents an attractive appearance when under a full head of light; and at the same time we are painfully aware of the fact the indices of the meter attract the attention of the gas company even to a greater extent than the light attracts custom. Loafing in the office on the Sabbath is positively prohibited. If ten hours a day for six days in the week is not a sufficient length of time for our new comer to spend in the office, we will accommodate him with a few hours extra work of night. Printers' ink is not poisonous when applied outwardly; therefore, the candidate for typographical honors need not feel the least uneasiness should he, during a brief stay, soil his hands with it. Emery paper, cotton waste and oil are excellent for cleaning the polished parts of a printing press, as we shall show our apprentice at brief intervals. A sponge saturated with benzole is capital for removing ink from the rollers, as will be discovered from time to to time. A broom is used in our office at half-past five o'clock each afternoon. Type dropped on the floor must be picked up at once. Twenty stoops frequently save twenty cents. An experienced job printer will attend to all orders in that line. It will be entirely unnecessary, therefore, for our novice to undertaed that branch at first—and more particularly the printing of his own name and that of his trio of sweethearts, for which purposes the ornamental type and gold bronze are generally made to suffer. If there is a young man anywhere in the city—or out of it either—who is willing to conform to these rules, can read manuscript and write a fair hand, and who is really desirous of acquiring a first-class trade—one at which he can secure employment in every city and nearly every town on the continent—we shall be pleased to confer with him. —Maysville (Ky.) Republican.

A youngster desiring to learn the trade in accordance with the above suggestions can be accommodated at this office by calling immediately.

Laconics.

Neal's marine railway at Kittery is a great convenience to the small craft frequenting the harbor, and from the amount of patronage it receives we fancy it must pay. There is a vessel of some kind on the ways most of the time; the steamer Appledore occupied them last week, and a schooner was taken up as soon as the Appledore was slipped off.

The accident to Mr. William H. Gardiner at Hanover was a singular affair. He was in bed in his own room and a fellow student was cleaning a pistol in an adjoining room, when it was accidentally discharged, the ball passing through the partition and into the abdomen of young Gardiner. A letter from the President of Dartmouth college gives hope of his recovery.

On and after July 1st, senders of letters and papers will need apothecary scales on which to weigh postal packages.

Steamer Appledore will commence her daily trips to the Shoals on the 20th, under command of Capt. Ed. Baker.

The strawberry Festival held by the Methodist Society at their chapel on Daniel street last evening was well attended. A festival will be held this evening at the same place, where strawberries, ice-cream, &c., can be had in abundance. Admission 15 cts.

What is Home without an Organ?

And what will an Organ now be, without a copy of DITSON & CO'S new, delightful, complete collection of Reed Organ Music, called the ORGAN AT HOME!

Every Organ needs it! The Organ at Home! Best collection for Reed Organs! Two hundred not difficult pieces so organized that no dull music is in them: the organ, smooth, legato style used, but as an organ at Home should be cheerful, light and staccato music is not excluded. At present The Organ in a Home is often silent, for home music is not provided for it. Here is home-like, easy, familiar, new music, at home in every nation, in fact all kinds by whom everybody considers the best composers.

The publishers take pride and pleasure in presenting such a superior book to the public, and believe it worthy to be at Home in every family. Price, Boards, $2.50; Cloth, $3.00; Full gilt $4.00.

SEWING MACHINE SALES

FOR 1872.

BY comparison of Statistics from sworn returns of the sales of Sewing Machines for 1871 and 1872, it shows that the

"DOMESTIC"

SEWING MACHINE CO.'S sales have increased over 375 per cent. while no other Co.'s sales have increased over 36 per cent., proving the great popularity of the "DOMESTIC."

The following are the percentage of gain, of the leading makers:

Domestic Sewing Machine Co.,	gain	375	per cent
Wheeler & Wilson	"	36	"
Singer	"	23	"
Grover & Baker	"	6	"
Weed	"	8	"
Wilcox & Gibbs	"	12	"
Wilson	"	8	"

Other Machines Co.'s sales show a loss over the year before.

If the increase in sales be any criterion of merit, the "DOMESTIC" bears the palm.

The "DOMESTIC" works so easy, it is working itself into every family.

The "DOMESTIC" runs so light, it is distancing all competitors. It only asks a few days trial.

The "DOMESTIC" is recommend by the Medical Faculty.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Portsmouth Savings Bank.

President, WILLIAM SIMES,
Treasurer, J. F. SHORES.

Deposits, $1,930,378.46.

The Treasurer would ask the attention of the Depositors to these notices.

1st, In July next, the regular Five Years Extra Dividend will be declared.

2, From the 3d day of July to the 20th day of August, the books will be in the hands of a committee to examine the accounts and cast the Dividends thereon, during which time no Withdrawals can be made; therefore, the treasurer requests all depositors needing money during that interval to withdraw it on the 1st, 2nd, or 3d of July, as they can do it on those days without affecting the dividends.

3d. Deposits will be received as usual, while the books are in the hands of the Committee.

4th, The regular and extra dividends can be added to the Depositors' books after the 20th day of August and can then be withdrawn, if so desired; but if allowed to remain, the interest on those dividends will be cast from the 1st day of July.

5th, This bank pays to its Depositors interest semi-annually at the rate of Five per cent. per annum free of all taxes, and that interest compounds every six months.

6th, Interest on new deposits commences on the first day of each and every month, and all deposits made on the first three days of each month draw interest from the first day of that month.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs, NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their application in a form secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases for at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

Jurubeba Blood Purifier,

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and predisposition to bilious derangement.

Dr. Wells' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole list of medicinal plants.

ARTIFICIAL BUTTER.—A company has been organized in New York with a capital of $500,000 for the manufacture of butter. It is claimed that the butter is genuine, the means of producing it being alone artificial; in other words, the discoverer affirms that the article is not merely butyrous, but in every respect the complete and perfect thing, as agreeable, nutritious and usable as the best Orange county butter. A gentleman of recognized ability as a chemist is the fortunate introducer of this new wonder. Several persons of wealth have bought stock, and in a week or two the manufacture will be conducted on a very large scale. The temporary offices of the Gleo Margarine Manufacturing Company, as the corporation is called, are at 40 Broadway, and their manufactory in Fortyfifth street. Arrangements have been made for securing better accommodations in Fiftieth street, and very soon the market will be fully supplied with the new product. At present the demand for the article is so great that it is beyond the capacity of the company to supply it. The profits are expected to be over 100 per cent.

As this city-made Orange county butter is used in many of the most fashionable hotels and restaurants, both for cooking and for the table, it may be interesting to the readers of this paper to learn something of the method in which it is made. In the first place, agents are employed to visit the slaughter-houses and to buy up all the beef fat usually styled as suet. This suet is carted to the butter factory and cleansed. Then it is put into ordinary meat choppers and minced fine. It is afterwards placed in a boiler with as much water; in bulk as itself. A steam pipe is introduced among the particles of suet, and they are melted. The refuse of membrane goes to the bottom of the water, the oily substance floats and is removed. This latter consists of butter matter and stearine. A temperature of eighty degrees melts the former and leaves the stearine at the bottom. The butter matter or cream is drawn off; then about thirteen per cent of fresh milk is added and the necessary salt, and the whole is churned for ten minutes. The result is Orange county butter at about one-half the usual cost.

The stearine is sold at twelve cents per pound to the candle maker, and the refuse at seven cents per pound to the manufacturer of food for cattle.

All the leading steamship lines between here and Europe are to be supplied this summer with the newly invented butter. In taste and appearance it is precisely similar to the finest country butter; made from the milk of live cows. Several of the leading men in the butter trade have purchased stock, as have also many of the presidents of the steamship lines and the proprietors of the leading city hotels. Prof. R. Ogden Doremus has testified to the success of this method of butter manufacture, and prophesies great prosperity for the new corporation. Prof. Paraf, the discoverer, expects that the new product will drive live cow butter out of the market altogether. The few unscientific outsiders who are acquainted with the facts now first made public, regard the whole thing with amazement. It seems extremely odd to them that the same carcass which furnishes fresh steak for breakfast should also supply the Orange county butter, which they spread upon their accompanying hot rolls.

THRILLING CIRCUMSTANCE.—Late on Tuesday afternoon, those on the street opposite Eagle Hotel were struck dumb with terror on seeing Flora Stratton, a young miss of some four years of age, walk out of a window just above the top of the balcony which stretches across the third story of the hotel, stand on the slanting roof, thirty-five feet above the street, shout to some of her little friends on the street and throw paper pellets at them, apparently having no apprehension whatever of the perilous position she occupied. Adults who saw the child were wise enough not to shout to her, or in any way try to attract her attention, and one gentleman ran into the hotel and told the clerk, Mr. John F. Byron, what was going on above. Mr. Byron ran up stairs, quietly entered the room from the window of which Miss Stratton had gone out on the roof of the balcony, and managed to seize and drag her inwards before she discovered him. The little one had seized the opportunity to perform her perilous feat while her mother was absent in an adjoining room. The child's escape from death by a fall from the narrow balcony roof was providential. Had any accident befallen "little Sunshine," as the child is fondly called, there would have been many sincere mourners.—Concord Patriot.

SATURDAY, JUNE 14, 1873.

The Wagner Trial.

On Thursday afternoon, W. Currier of Boston, testified to the arrest of Wagner on North street. A search was made and a silver half dollar, coppers, buttons and a ring were found in his possession, which were produced and identified. Wagner had no beard on; looked newly shaved. James Haley, jr., the officer who made the arrest, testified to the contradictory statements of Wagner as to his then recent whereabouts, and identified the half-dollar by a mark he made at the time of the arrest. William Gallagher, another officer, corroborated the testimony of the last two witnesses and stated that Wagner told Marshal Johnson of Portsmouth that he hadn't been to the Shoals since Christmas.

Jacob Toldtman, a dealer in boots and shoes at 39 Fleet street, Boston, testified that he had known Wagner six years, that he came into his shop in March last and while there said, "I have seen a woman lay as still as that boot." He wore overalls and a white hat. He took off the overalls and put a pair of new pants on over his old ones. Left some old clothes there. Gave my wife some silver.

William H. Jellison of Portsmouth testified:—

Was a police officer in March. Saw large blisters on the palm of Wagner's hand and blood blisters on his thumbs. Wagner said the blisters were caused by hauling trawls. Next day he told Hontvet he did it sculling. Wagner cried and said: "If I had not gone to Boston they would not have thought I did this thing." When Mrs. Hontvet saw him she said: "Louis, you murdered my sisters." He answered: "No, Mary, I didn't."

Judson P. Randall testified that he had known Wagner two years. He told witness he felt as bad as though he did it. Thomas Entwistle, assistant marshal of Portsmouth, testified to finding a white shirt in a privy vault at Johnson's, which was afterward given to County-attorney Yeaton. Sheriff Edmund Warren and Ivory Lord testified to Wagner's conflicting statements about the white shirt. He told Lord: "If they have found a bloody shirt at Johnson's it is not mine, for I wore none then." Levi Manson of Portsmouth described and identified a red lead pencil he had seen Wagner have. Witness said he never saw any other red pencil. Emil Ingelbredson identified the pencil shown the last witness as the one found in Hontvet's entry at Smuttynose the day after the murder.

Horace Chase, a physician of Boston, testified:—

Have practiced ten years. Graduated at Berlin, Germany. Have devoted several years to the study and analysis of blood. Witness then gave a description of the blood of mammalia, fishes, birds, etc. He testified to his chemical examination of the blood upon the pieces of Wagner's overalls, jacket and shirt. Examined eleven pieces. On all of these detected corpuscles of blood, either of fishes, fowls, or reptiles. The direct and cross-examination of this witness occupied two hours, and attracted close attention. It will be remembered that he was an expert in the Alley trial in Boston.

On Friday, Deputy Sheriff Durgin, who has had Wagner in charge during the trial, testified: Wagner said to me Tuesday noon as we were taking him to the jail: "— — them; all they want of me is my life, and they can have it if they want it, without making all this fuss about it." He said it wasn't worth anything to him.

I asked him why he thought they wanted his life. He said somebody was guilty and they took him because he was a stranger.

The Government rested its case at this point and the court adjourned until afternoon, when Mr. Max Fischacher was to make the opening argument for the defence.

During Tuesday night a prisoner at the jail filed a bar off of his cell window, but it was fortunately discovered in time to prevent his liberating the other prisoners, which it is said he could easily have done by getting on the outside and picking the locks of the jail, which are said to be of a very simple character. Wagner could have been liberated very easily, as his cell is the first from the outer door.

State News.

A barn in Chester belonging to Frank Spofford was recently set on fire by a young child and burned, together with a ton of hay, wagon, sleigh, and two calves.

It is understood that the next fair of the New Hampshire Agricultural Society will be held either in Manchester or at Plymouth. The citizens of Plymouth are making strong efforts to have the fair located there.

Arraignment of Walworth.

Frank H. Walworth was brought from the Tombs to the Court of Oyer and Terminer Wednesday morning, and was there arraigned before Chief Justice Ingraham for the wilful murder of Mansfield T. Walworth, his father. Frank H. Walworth is not by any means the distinguished looking young man that one of his proud descent would naturally be expected to be. Neither is he of that passionate, fire-eating, chivalrous, fanatical bearing which the perpetrator of the crime for which he is indicted would indicate. He is, in fact, nothing more in appearance than a very ordinary schoolboy or clerk of his age.

Walworth sat between his counsel, ex-Judges Beach and Fullerton, and ex-District Attorney Garvin. He was dressed in a plain black frock coat, which he wore tightly buttoned, dark tweed trowsers, blue and white check scarf, and white crush felt hat, which he used as a fan. His features are prominent but not characteristic. He wears his thick fair hair combed back behind his ears. It is not sufficiently long to give its wearer the classic look of the Shakespearean poet, nor even the wierd look of the ideal free lover. His brown eyes are naturally small, and are made to look more so by the habit of closing them, which he in common with most weak sighted persons indulge. They are deep set and clear, but owing to the closing habit, do not impress one as penetrating or denoting genius of any kind. In a word, while very peculiar looking, Mr. Frank H. Walworth is not a man of distinguished appearance, and he has no pretensions to the "glass of fashion" character so well acted in the same theatre by his distinguished predecessor, Mr. Edward S. Stokes. When the Court crier intoned the conventional and not very impressive "hear ye, hear ye," the prisoner regarded him for a moment with half closed eyes. Then he turned an attentive ear and bent forward to catch the senseless jargon as if he had never heard the like before, and thought it might have a very serious influence on his fate. Then the District Attorney presented the indictment against him. The clerk read it and asked for the prisoner's plea. His counsel whispered to him to stand up, and he stood, looking blankly from the Judge to the Clerk, and then at his counsel. Ex-District Attorney Garvin entered the plea of not guilty. His Counsel told the prisoner to sit down, and he did so with an air that plainly said: "ye may dispose of the matter as ye see fit; ye appear to know how the thing is to be done, and I'm sure I don't."

It is almost certain that the trial will commence on Monday two weeks, before Judge Davis in the Court of Oyer and Terminer. The defence will be what is known in medico-legal phraseology as "emotional insanity." It means a brief fit of insanity which comes on without the least warning of any kind, and lasts just long enough for the patient to fix his man. Then it disappears as quickly as it came without leaving the faintest trace of its presence behind. It was invented for the special use of jurymen who want to acquit a man who is a murderer beyond the shadow of the frailest doubt. To meet this defence, ex-Surgeon General Hammond has been retained by the prosecution and has already made two examinations of the prisoner's mental condition. His professsonal opinion, of course, is that Frank H. Walworth was not any more insane when he shot his father than a man must necessarily be to commit such a crime. The defence are prepared to prove by six times as many criminal insane medical experts that he was as crazy as the original loon upon the eventful occasion of the parricide.

—A candidate in Adams County, Pa., makes the following liberal offer to the voters of that section: "I have obtained an exclusive right from the President of the United States for an improvement on the washing machine. If I am elected, this I give to the county of Adams, for every one to make, use, and sell as they see proper. I ask for this your votes."

—An exquisite lady inquired at a dry goods store in Lewiston, Me., for a piece of goods of the "slumbering shade." The clerk replied that he had none in the store, but he believed there were several pieces snoring at the depot.

There is a street, now and then, one side of which is in one town and the other in another. But we have improved upon that; in our new avenue from State street to Dock square one side of it is Devonshire street and the other Wilson's Lane.—Boston Transcript.

Readables.

Julia M. Holmes writes as follows: The intimate friend and confidante of Mrs. Helen Hardin Walworth, I know the terrible facts which led to this fearful tragedy—facts which I shrink from revealing out of regard for her delicate reserve—facts so appalling and unendurable they must make a perfect revulsion in public sentiment when they come to be divulged (as they must in the course of the trial,) and simple justice demands that editors should be careful not to poison the public mind with a mass of testimony gathered in haste from unreliable sources.

The Russian column invading Khiva has had two engagements with the Khivans, one on the 27th of April and one on the 11th of May. The Russians were successful in both.

Francis O'Neil threw his wife out of a four-story window in New York on Thursday. She will die.

A man named Fields killed his wife and two children, at Hamilton, Ontario while drunk. Two homicides are reported at New York.

Editor Dingley's nomination for Governor by the Maine republicans is a foregone conclusion. Serves him right.

The Eastern and Maine Central Railroads on Monday next are to run as one line, under the general management of the Eastern Railroad. The divisions of interests in the business and profits are five-ninths for the Eastern and four-ninths for the Maine Central. This new arrangement will secure to the Eastern road superior advantages as regards through business. With its splendid equipment and general enterprise, the whole line between Boston and Bangor will be run all the more satisfactorily. It is again stated on good authority that ere long the European and North American road will be included in the same arrangement, and all three be comprised into one through line to St. John.

The bill to authorize the Eastern Railroad Company to construct a freight track and take freight lands in Charlestown, passed both branches of the Massachusetts Legislature. The bill authorizes the company to take about a hundred acres of land in Charlestown, including the land now occupied by the Massachusetts State Prison, and will give them greatly enlarged facilities for the transaction of their increasing freight business.

The original intention of extinguishing the Modocs as a tribe will be adhered to by the government. It is now the design of the Interior Department to so distribute upon different reservations such of the Modocs as are not criminally punished, that the tribal identity of the tribe will be lost.

There creeps out in several of the Kansas papers a fellow-feeling for Pomeroy, as his trial approaches, which, according to the Harrisburg State Journal, looks as if they had been assisted to start a national bank.

The Portland Press says it is announced that Col. F. E. Shaw of Paris, editor and proprietor of the Oxford Democrat, is hereafter to be associated with C. A. Lord, Esq., in the management of the Christian Mirror. We heartily concur in the remarks of the Press, that Col. Shaw makes the Democrat one of the best papers in the State—indeed a first class local paper. Success to the Colonel in his new field of labor.

Business Notices.

WELL'S GRAND DISTRIBUTION.—The committee, after drawing nearly one hundred and fifty thousand dollars have decided to postpone the drawing until July 1st, 1873. This will positively be the last postpoucment W. B. Lowd, Agent.

THE LASSITUDE induced by approaching warm weather is best overcome by a pure, mild tonic, such as is offered in the "PORONA WINE BITTERS." Messrs. Jas. Dingley & Co., Boston, who prepare this delightful stimulant, guarantee its entire purity. Sold everywhere by druggists and grocers.

FOR LOSS OF APPETITE, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Depression of Spirits and General Debility, in their various forms, FERRO-PHOSPHORATED ELIXIR OF CALISYA made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York, and sold by all druggists, is the best tonic. As a stimulant tonic for patients recovering from fever or other sickness, it has no equal. If taken during the season it prevents fever and ague and other intermittent fevers. 1j10

$150,000 GIVEN AWAY the present year to the people of America by Dr. R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, New York, in his little memorandum books, amounting to over two hundred and fifty tons in weight and the paper for which costs about $125,000. This the Doctor is enabled to do by reason of the superior merits of his Family Medicines, which yearly and rapidly increase in popularity, their sale now reaching over half a million dollars' worth for the year, and exceeding that of any other medicines manufactured for general sale, as shown by the amount of United States Revenue stamps purchased for stamping them. 685

MARSTON & FREEMAN.

City Councils.

Alderman Trefethen and the editorial corps were absent from the meeting of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, and the Board took advantage of their opportunity to enjoy themselves without danger of criticism. After routine business, during which it was voted to widen the highway between the houses of Mr. Charles H. Mendum, on Middle street, and Mrs. Smith, on Lafayette road, the subject of widening Fleet street once more came up. Hon. William H. Y. Hackett appeared before the Board in behalf of the petitions for widening. Alderman Sise, chairman of the committee on streets, reported favorably to the scheme, when Alderman Spinney, the other member of the committee, arose and calmly stated that he had not been consulted and did not concur. While the matter was under consideration, Alderman Sise, from the same committee, reported in favor of widening the street at a cost not to exceed $5000. Again Alderman Spinney arose and announced that he had not been consulted and did not concur. He had said that the widening should not cost more than $4000. Alderman Sise replied that he would amend the report, inserting $4000 in place of $5000, as the report of the committee. Solemnly taking the floor again, Alderman Spinney announced that he "had not been consulted and did not concur."

Here Alderman Hayes made a motion that the chairman of the street committee be removed and some other Alderman be appointed in his place who could concur with Alderman Spinney. The motion was seconded' but the question was not pressed. Alderman Sise said he could not go to the Navy Yard to find Alderman Spinney every time he was needed. Aldermen Sise and Wilson also exchanged a few compliments regarding the proposed widening, the former desiring the widening to be done on the east side and the latter on the west. The committee on streets were discharged from further consideration of the subject and it was voted that the petitioners have leave to withdraw, yeas, Aldermen Wilson, Spinney, Davis and Lefavour—4; nays, Aldermen Garrett, Sise and Hayes—3.

A motion that the City do not widen Fleet street to the width of forty feet was negatived, yeas Garrett, Sise and Hayes; nays, Wilson, Spinney, Davis and Lefavour. Aldermen Sise moved to widen the street to forty feet. Alderman Wilson moved to amend by adding the words "on the west side." Alderman Sise moved to amend the amendment by striking out the word "west" and inserting the word "east." Aleerman Sise's amendment was rejected, 3 to 4; Ald. Wilson's amendment was rejected, 3 to 4, Ald. Davis voting against it. Ald. Sises original motion was then defeated, 3 to 4.

Voted to notify the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad to build a bridge over the track on the Freeman's point road.

Voted that the Mayor and Alderman Sise be a committee to invite Gov. Straw and staff to visit Portsmouth on the 4th of July.

Voted that a police officer be stationed at the South cemetery on Sundays until Oct. 1st.

Voted to pay Dr. Whittier's bill with the exception of about $16 charged for visits to ascertain whether small-pox existed.

Voted that the city subscribe for two copies of Prof. Whitefield's views of Portsmouth, at $5 each.

The Common Council voted to concur in adoption of the amendments as proposed by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen to the annual appropriation bill.

The committee on 2d reading of bills reported back the bill entitled "An Ordinance in amendment of Ordinance No. 104."—(This bill fixes salary of street Commissioner and pay of teams employed on streets.)

Said bill was laid on the table for one week.

Spiritualistic.

Prof. E. Whipple of Ohio will lecture at Mendum's Hall, Congress Street, on Sunday afternoon and evening at the usual hour. Subject for the afternoon, "Antiquity and destiny of the Races." Evening, "The future of America." The public are cordially invited.

These will be the closing lectures of the season. Meetings to be resumed again early in the autumn.

Prof. Whipple's lecture at Glenbeulah, last Tuesday evening, on "The Destiny of the Races," was one of great interest, both in matter, treatment and delivery. The Professor is unpretentious in style, but a fluent talker, a profound thinker, and challenges the attention of his audience almost in spite of themselves.—Sheboygan (Wis.) Democrat.

THE ROCKINGHAM CONFERENCE of Congregationalist churches held its annual meeting on the 10th and 11th of June, at Greenland.

Rev. J. A. Stearns was Moderator, Rev. E. Robie Secretary and Rev. A. B. Peabody, Asst. Secretary.

The services commenced with a prayer meeting, and then an excellent sermon by Rev. D. Bremner of East Derry.

At 2 1-2 P. M., Rev. E. C. Cogswell reported upon the state of the churches. They (that sent in reports) have contributed for benevolent causes $3240, and some of the wealthiest churches made no report.

Rev. J. C. White then read a well written essay upon the duties of the churches to children.

Rev. Carlos Martyn addressed the conference upon "What the church is to do about amusements?" taking extreme ground in opposition to the customs of the Pilgrim Fathers. Some of his positions were not accepted by speakers that followed him.

In the evening, Rev. S. Byington, in an interesting essay, discussed the question, "How may the Laity help the Ministry?" He was followed by Rev. J. Chapman, with extempore remarks.

Wednesday, Rev. C. Perry read an article upon promoting an interest in the devotional meeting, Rev. Geo. E. Street upon Liturgical Services in Congregational churches, and Rev. J. H. Stearns upon contributions in the sanctuary as acts of religious worship. All these topics were freely discussed by members of the conference.

The last sermon, "The greatest of these is charity," was by Rev. S. Bowker, lately of Raymond. The ministers and delegates from different parts of the county seemed happy to become acquainted with the people of Greenland, and many will long remember the kind attentions they received there.

J. C.

An interesting side meeting was called by Mrs. Helen C. Knight, to form an auxiliary to the Woman's Board of Missions, which was fully attended, and the organization was matured so far as could be at the time. It is to be composed of local societies throughout the country.

Gymnastics.

Messrs. Editors:—Next to the P. & D. Railroad, another Aqueduct Co. and a public Hall, Portsmouth needs a Gymnasium. We don't expect the city to furnish one, but there are many young men (and women too, for that matter) dying for the want of exercise. If there was a law compelling men of sedentary habits to spend an hour every day in active physical exercise, mortality would decrease and there would be a perceptible change in the physique of the young men and women of our age. We don't expect the gentler sex to devote so much time to gymnastic exercise as the men, because their time is very nearly taken up in applying cosmetics, arranging their hair a-la Pompadour, changing the "hang" of their pannier, studying a style of gait, or in some other laudable manner; but still, if the dear creatures would manage to steal away from these vocations, if for a short time only, every day, it would be of physical benefit to them and at the same time give encouragement to the enterprise and aid a good cause.

We learn that a paper is soon to be circulated for the purpose of obtaining the signatures of those who are willing to contribute the sum of one dollar apiece to start an institution of the kind alluded to, and we have good reason to believe that it will meet with a generous recognition. At least one hundred names must be secured and there are five times that number who need the physical development that may be obtained in a good gymnasium.

Laconics.

The wall near the main gateway of the South cemetery is surmounted by loafers of both sexes every pleasant Sunday afternoon. Just think of a female sitting on a wall staring and being stared at; chewing gum and expectorating at regular intervals! Yet we have these creatures even in Portsmouth. Now we propose that if these young damsels or their comrades, be they male or female, don't know what belongs to decency and have become lost to all self-respect, our police should make a Sunday trip to the cemetery about three or four in the afternoon and hint in a plain manner to these illmannered bipeds they had better clear the wall and move along. We have alluded to this nuisance before and shall again if such half civilized habits continue to be tolerated. PEDESTRIAN.

The auditing committee meet at the office of Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, this evening at eight o'clock.

All joiners and laborers willing to help construct arches on Market street two hours each day, are requested to notify Mr. Hiram C. Locke, at No. 14 Market street.

The residents on Islington street are delighted by the appearance of the street sprinkler as far west as Dover street, and when Mr. Balch presents his claims against the persons enjoying the benefits of his enterprise, we hope all will respond freely.

Lumber is being hauled daily to the tent ground on Middle street, where Mr. A. W. Odiorne will commence laying the floor with a large gang of joiners and laborers on Monday morning. The tents will arrive and be erected on Monday, June 30th. Every committee is diligently at work carrying out the programme determined on.

The cost of the recent repairs on steamer Dearborn was $181.50, this amount being thought necessary to put the engine in suitable order—to remain in the house.

The Junior Base Ball Club of Boston have signified their desire to come to this city on the Fourth to play a match game.

William Lloyd Garrison will soon deliver a temperance lecture in this city before the Temperance organization.

Joseph C. Perkins, Esq., landlord of the National House, has purchased for $6000 the house on Vaughan Street, recently occupied by the late Capt. Prince Harding.

Mr. Moses' concert on Thurdsay evening drew the largest audience we have seen in the Temple for months, and we were glad to see it, for Mr. Moses has deserved well of the people of Portsmouth. The concert passed off very nicely, the somewhat long programme of twenty-one numbers being got through at about 10 o'clock.

The boy Emerson, who was assaulted at Candia by the Fitts boy, has so far recovered as to be able to visit his sister in Great Falls. He will not be disfigured badly by the axe. The Fitts boy is at the Insane Asylum, and his mind is said to be of a character never before noticed at that institution. He is perfectly contented.

Mayor Marvin and Alderman Sise visited Manchester on Friday and invited Gov. Straw and staff to visit Portsmouth and be the guests of the city on the 4th of July. The Governor accepted the invitation, and rooms have been engaged for the party at the Rockingham House.

The new steamship Major, which has been purchased in New York to run between this city and the Oceanic Hotel at Star Island (Isles of Shoals,) will commence her trips about July 1st.

Trout and pickerel seem to be abundant this season. Dr. N. B. Colman of Portsmouth, on a visit to friends in this State, informs us that a party of three, consisting of Prof. Wilson, a student connected with the Seminary, and himself, visited a pond in the vicinity of Kent's Hill, yesterday, and in a very few hours captured fifty splendid pickerel. A photo of the trio, "taken on the spot," will be a happy reminder to the party, of a season of rare enjoyment, and would delight any disciple of old Izaak. Their successful haul was a source of considerable surprise at the institution, and may be attributed to the piscatorial skill of the student, and familiarity with the locality visited.—Lewiston Journal.

THE UNION CONCERT on Monday evening was a fine affair, and certainly one of the best local entertainments given here for a long while. The rendering of ancient harmony and other pieces by chorus and orchestra, was grand and inspiriting; while "ye worldely songs" were well given. The Apollo Club (of twelve gentlemen) made their first appearance, and did themselves considerable credit, especially in the "Soldier's Farewell."

The deRochemont family sang a duet and quartet, sweetly and pleasantly. Misses Bufford, Remick and Susie Ham rendered their several songs and duets with care and good effect. Miss Bufford's difficult selection was well executed, and Miss Ham never sang better. "Olde Uncle Joe's" "If I was young as I used to be," in costume, was the Joe-k of the evening. The orchestral selections (Harlow's) were very fine; and the Piano accompaniment nicely played by Miss Plummer, as usual; while Mr. Pearson again showed his skill as a conductor, in securing so creditable a result from the chorus.—Journal.

What is Home without an Organ?

And what will an Organ now be, without a copy of DITSON & CO'S new, delightful, complete collection of Reed Organ Music, called the ORGAN AT HOME!

Every Organ needs it! The Organ at Home! Best collection for Reed Organs! Two hundred not difficult pieces so organized that no dull music is in them: the organ, smooth, legato style used, but as an organ at Home should be cheerful, light and staccato music is not excluded. At present the Organ in a Home is often silent, for Home music is not provided for it. Here is home-like, easy, familiar, new music, at home in every nation, in fact all kinds by whom everybody considers the best composers.

The publishers take pride and pleasure in presenting such a superior book to the public, and believe it worth, to be at Home in every family. Price, Boards, $2.50; Cloth, $3.00; Full gilt $4.00.

SEWING MACHINE SALES

FOR 1872.

BY comparison of Statistics from sworn returns of the sales of Sewing Machines for 1871 and 1872, it shows that the

"DOMESTIC"

SEWING MACHINE Co.'s sales have increased over 375 per cent., while no other Co.'s sales have increased over 36 per cent., proving the great popularity of the "DOMESTIC."

Annexed are the percentage of gain, of the leading makers:

Domestic Sewing Machine Co.,	gain	375	per cent
Wheeler & Wilson	"	" 36	"
Singer	"	" 23	"
Grover & Baker	"	" 5	"
Weed	"	" 8	"
Wilcox & Gibbs	"	" 12	"
Wilson	"	" 5	"

Other Machines Co.'s' sales show a loss over the year before.

If the increase in sales be any criterion of merit, the "DOMESTIC" bears the palm.

The "DOMESTIC" works so easy, it is working itself into every family.

The "DOMESTIC" runs so light, it is distancing all competitors. It only asks a few days trial.

The "DOMESTIC" is recommend by the Medical Faculty.

Portsmouth Savings Bank.

President, WILLIAM SIMES,
Treasurer, J. F. SHORES.

Deposits, $1,930,378.46.

The Treasurer would ask the attention of the Depositors to these notices.

1st, In July next, the regular Five Years Extra Dividend will be declared.

2, From the 31 day of July to the 20th day of August, the books will be in the hands of a committee to examine the accounts and cast the Dividends thereon, during which time no Withdrawals can be made; therefore, the treasurer requests all depositors needing money during that interval to withdraw it on the 1st, 2nd, or 31 of July, as they can do it on those days without affecting the dividends.

3d. Deposits will be received as usual, while the books are in the hands of the Committee.

4th, The regular and extra dividends can be added to the Depositors' books after the 20th day of August and can then be withdrawn, if so desired; but if allowed to remain, the interest on those dividends will be cast from the 1st day of July.

5th, This bank pays to its Depositors interest semi-annually at the rate of Five per cent. per annum free of all taxes, and that interest compounds every six months.

6th, Interest on new deposits commences on the first day of each and every month, and all deposits made on the first three days of each month draw interest from the first day of that month.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay thereof are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

Jurubeba Blood Purifier,

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down"... during Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

Dr. Wells'

EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND DEBILITATED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

COLLECTING FARES IN HORSE CARS. A new system of collecting fares in horse cars has been introduced in Dublin, which seems to make it impossible for conductors to divide profits with the stockholders—unbeknown to the stockholders. (This is a mild way of speaking of the "knock down" system.) The new plan is this: Each conductor is supplied with checks numbering, say, from 1 to 10,000. These he must return or pay for at the end of each month. Passengers on paying their fare receive one of these checks from the conductor. As an inducement to take them, a certain number of prizes varying in amount from one shilling to ten pounds are paid by the company at the end of every month to the holders of the checks having numbers corresponding to the numbers drawn on the days appointed. Thus it becomes the interest of every passenger to take a check in hopes of a prize, and the company will in consequence be likely to get pay for every passenger. But this is not all the advantage of the new system. These checks being kept by passengers from one day to a month are made valuable as advertising mediums, and more than enough will be gained in this way to suffice for the cost of the tickets, and the payment of the monthly prizes. This plan is the invention of Mr. Wm. Anderson, the bookkeeper of the Dublin company.—Boston Daily News.

LOONS.—And here the loons congregate in spring and autumn. These birds seem to me the most human and at the same time the most demoniac of their kind. I learned to imitate their different cries; they are wonderful! At one time the loon language was so familiar that I could almost always summon a considerable flock by going down to the water and assuming the neighborly and conversational tone which they generally use. After calling a few minutes, first a far-off voice responded, then other voices answered him and when this was kept up a while, half a dozen birds would come sailing in. It was the most delightful little party imaginable; so comical were they, so entertaining, that it was impossible not to laugh aloud,—and they could laugh too, in a way which chilled the marrow of one's bones. They always laugh, when shot at, if they are missed; as the Shoalers say, "They laugh like a warrior." But their long, wild melancholy cry before a storm is the most awful note I ever heard from a bird. It is so sad, so hopeless,—a clear, high shriek, shaken as it drops into silence, into broken notes that vibrate in the ear like a shudder of sound. They invariably utter this cry before a storm.—Mrs. Thaxter's "Among the Isles of Shoals."

IRON in the BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, DROPSY, HUMORS,

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes the Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills" simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women: and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

The Wagner Trial.

On Friday afternoon, Max Fischacher, Esq., consumed somewhat more than an hour in presenting the case of his client, during which, at times, the accused was deeply affected and shed tears freely. Louis Wagner then told his story as follows:—

I am 28 years of age. I have been seven years in this country. I boarded eight weeks with Johnson. I was nine or ten months with Hontvet on "Smutty Nose." Before that, on board a vessel. I first heard of the murder from a Boston officer. The day before I was at Johnson's. I was on the wharf at four o'clock. Hontvet came alongside with a schooner and asked the price of fish. I told him I didn't know. He said he had 1600 to 1800 weight. I asked him if he was going to the Shoals that night. He answered "Yes." I told him a new man wanted to go with him. He said he had no room in the forecastle. Was going to bait trawls then. Hontvet spoke to a man named Fletcher. Found that the bait was coming at eleven that night. He asked me "would I bait trawls for him." Said I would if not employed somewhere else. I asked him had he made it pay fishing. He said "Yes, about $600." Asked him if he calculated to buy a bigger vessel. Said he tried to but could not make money enough; that he had house full of women and as fast as he made money they used it for grub. Went to Johnson's and had supper at six. At about a quarter past went again to the wharf. Met Hontvet. He told me it was too bad he hadn't bait; that it was a pleasant night, with a fair breeze over the islands. Went again to Johnson's; then to a fish store. Skinned my knuckles pulling boxes off a fish team. Walked up town. At about 7:10 got a glass of ale. Then went to the wharf. Another man asked me to bait trawls. Went on board his vessel, baited about 900 hooks. Remained on board till past ten. Went up town and had half an hour's walk on the street to warm my feet. Went into a saloon a few minutes. Had two glasses of ale. Began feeling bad. Walking home stopped on Court street about half an hour, heaving up. Walked up street to pump. It was slippery. I fell down and hurt my left knee. My head felt badly and I laid down. Then dropped asleep. I woke up cold with my feet frozen. I managed to walk down Court through Liberty street. Went into Johnson's. The back door was open. Went into the kitchen. A bed was in the middle of the room. It was dark. Then went into the bar-room. There was no light there. Then saw two lights in the front shop. Saw Hontvet and another man baiting trawls. Did not speak to him. Dropped asleep on the sofa. When I woke it again at about [illegible]. No light then. Woke. Walked out doors. Went down to the wharf. Sat about half an hour. Then went to the navy-yard steam landing, up Daniel street and down State street, down to the wharf. It was then about quarter to seven. Hontvet's vessel was gone. Saw two vessels drifting down the river; the tide was setting out. Remained there a few minutes. Then went into Johnson's back gate. Saw Mrs. Johnson. She said: "Louis, where have you been last night?" I said: "Baiting trawls part of the night, and part the night was asleep." Went into the kitchen. Saw Kenison and Moore. Kenison asked me where I had been. Gave him the same answer. Went into the bar-room. Looked at the time. It was twelve minutes past seven. Went up stairs and took off my jumper and washed. Then went to breakfast. Had no appetite; did not eat; felt sick. Then went to my bedroom and pulled off my white shirt. It was dirty. Saw Johnson in the bar-room. He said: "There's one lost sheep. Where was you last night, Louis?" Told him "baiting trawls," and took a little beer. Told him I was home from three to five asleep; that I saw Hontvet in the shop baiting trawls; that I felt bad. Then I walked out to Liberty bridge and back to Johnson's. Saw three men coming from Newcastle. Knew one, a cooper. Went into the house and put an overcoat on. Johnson asked "what's up, Louis?" I said: "I feel awful bad." Told Mary alone, "I feel awful bad; never felt so bad before. Feel as when as something was going to happen." Her mother says: "Louis has been drunk last night." I said: "No, I had a little beer, but was not drunk." Kissed Mary and kissed her mother. Done so every morning. Left the house and went to a baker's. Got some ale and a piece of pie. He gave me in change a three cent piece, and ten coppers. Went to the depot. Calculated to go to Boston that week, so went on that train, ten minutes past nine. Walked out to Charlestown bridge, and then back. Got shaved and my hair cut. Gave forty cents to the barber. He gave me back five coppers. Went to a Dutch store and bought some clothes with two five dollar bills. Went into a shoemaker's. Had known him seven years. Told him I came from Portsmouth, had lost a vessel and clothes, and came to Boston to get work. He said: "Louis, you stop in Boston, pick out a girl with a plenty of money and get married." Told him I wasn't in a hurry; had a girl at home; had had her for six years; had heard no news about her during the last two years; perhaps she was dead. Pulled new pants (overalls) on him. Bought cigars. Drawed coppers out of my pocket. Among them was a silver half-dollar and a five-cent piece. Gave the small piece to his wife.

Wagner's evidence was continued on Saturday. He gave an account of what he did in Boston after he left the shoe store to the time of his arrest, mentioning the minor details. His story agreed in general particulars with what has already appeared in evidence. He denied that a conversation took place with the girl in No. 295 North street, as was sworn to by the girl, but his account of what happened in Mrs. Brown's house agreed. He denied making any statement to the bootmaker about seeing a woman as still as a shoe. He had his motive for having his beard shaved. Was because he knew people in Boston, and thought it would make him look a little neater. His beard was only three weeks' growth. He gave the particulars of his arrest just as the officers did. When he came into the police station Marshal Johnson said, "That is the man we want." I answered, "that is the man you want but it is the wrong man." He asked me where the tall hat I had on the night before at the Isles of Shoals was. I told him I never wore a tall hat in my life, and had not been on the Isle of Shoals; he said the woman saw me; I asked him, what woman; he said Mrs. Hontvet; he told me he had the whiskers in his pocket I had shaved; I told him to let me see them; he did not do it; he told me he had seen the baker where I bought bread that night, and I had told him that I was going to the Isles of Shoals; I told him to put that baker before me; he said I would soon see him. Wagner related the circumstances of being brought to Portsmouth and of being conveyed through the crowd to the station; Hontvet came to the station and said to me, "Damn you, you murdered my wife's sisters;" said I, "John, you are mistaken;" said he, "Damn you, you killed my wife's sisters;" said I "John, I hope you will find the right man;" said he, "I have got the right man. Hanging is too good for you; you ought to be cut to pieces and put on fish hooks." He asked me where that tall hat I had on that night at the Isles of Shoals was; I told him I had no tall hat: Evan Christenson wanted him to ask me if I could not get the money without killing the women; I told him I did not steal the money, but thought if I had wanted to I could have got it without killing the women; he showed me a pocket book and said you took a ten dollar bill out of that; his brother held up another and said you took five dollars from that; I said you are mistaken: some other men came and saw me; I was then crying; one asked what I was crying for; I said I felt bad to think people thought I was a murderer: two people [illegible] and one said I was the man he saw at Newcastle bridge; the other said I was not the same man, because that man had big whiskers; at South Berwick I stated that the man who was going to testify that fact was possessed of office; Entwistle said they would do all they could for me if I would say I did it; that I should say that I was drunk when I did it; I told him I would rather die innocent than take my liberty as a murderer; he said, "Louis there is too surc proof again-t you; they are going to hang you; but if you say you did it in drunkenness, they will give you six or eight years;" I told him that I would suffer, and that one who had saved me twice would save me again; I meant God; I once fell overboard and was nearly drowned; (Wagner here burst into tears) another time I fell into the hold and was crippled; I told him God had saved me that time, and would save me again.

Prisoner then told what Mrs. Hontvet said to him at Portsmouth. While testifying to this he looked her full in the face, as she sat opposite to him in court. At the same time Mary Johnson asked me where the shirt was I had on; I told her it was up stairs in my clothes bag; she said she had been through my clothes bag and could not find a shirt there; during the time I was being taken to the depot, while the crowd were throwing rocks at me, I turned and saw John Hontvet close to me with a brick in his hand, which he threw and hit the policeman; at Saco I was told a white shirt was found with blood; I told him there could be no blood on my white shirt and not on the under clothes, and showed him my under clothes; I told Mr. Yeaton when we were at Saco that I would like a counsel, but at the examination at Berwick I had no counsel; I never told Hontvet, Waldimar Ingerbredson or anybody that I would have money if I murdered for it; I was not on Smutty Nose Island during March; the last time I was on Smutty Nose Island was three weeks before Christmas, to take ballast. I never had any difficulty with any of the Hontvet family; they were always kind to me and were the only friends I had.

Wagner accounted for the blisters on his hands by saying that a few days before the murder occurred, he was sculling a boat with his left hand and throwing trawls with the right. He tied a handkerchief around the bar of the prisoners' stand, put a stick through and showed the motion of the oar in his hand which would cause the blister. A few days afterward he pricked it with a needle to open it and slapped the blood on his clothes. He identified his boots, saying all the boots in the store where he purchased his had tops like those he wore; his shirt, which he changed, he said he had not since seen; he described the shirt he changed very minutely; he was shown the shirt found in the vault, examined it and said it was not his; the wristbands were tied around his wrist and found too small for him.

There was immediately a sensation in court, but the sheriff insisted on silence, and the counsel for the Government tried again, and managed to pull the ends of the wristbands together round his wrist, but the edge of the band would not more than just touch.

The interest in the case increases daily.

State News.

About one o'clock Thursday afternoon a fire broke out in the extensive woolen mill of Edward Brierly, at Milton Mills, which with all its contents was entirely destroyed. The loss is estimated at from $75,000 to $100,000, on which there is an insurance of about $25,000. The fire caught in the upper story among some waste.

The aquarium car, which left Charlestown, with about $30,000 worth of propagating fish with which it was intended to stock the rivers of California, fell through a trestle-work into Elkhorn River, near Omaha, and was completely wrecked. The United States commissioner of fisheries has directed the immediate fitting out of another aquarium car.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayward, of Canterbury, who were legally divorced about a year ago, have been remarried, and are spending their second honeymoon.

Dr. Mary E. Walker secured no pension. Her demand was grounded on weak eyes, but it was shown that they never weakened in the face of the enemy. She had excellent eyes throughout the war, and the authorities concluded that if they had weakened since, they had done it on their own responsibility.

George Faulkner, of Dublin, used to sit a whole night with a solitary strawberry at the bottom of his glass, over which he used generally to pour four bottles of claret, doing it, he would say, "because a doctor recommended it for its cooling qualities."

The Saturday Express gratifies a public curiosity by saying that the Boston Herald establishment is this year taxed for $600,000. Some twenty odd years ago John A. French, George W. Harmon, Frank Adams and Samuel K. Head ran the Herald and got so hard up that they mortgaged the whole concern to John M. Barnard for $600, and he was compelled to take possession. He ran it several years and sold it to Edwin C. Bailey for $2,000. Mr. Bailey made a fortune out of it, and three or four years ago sold it to five of his employers for $250,000. One of the firm (George G. Bailey) was bought out by Pulsifer for $70,000 about two years since. Another partner (Justin Andrews) sold to Pulsifer last spring for $100,000. R. M. Pulsifer now owns three-fifths and Edward H. Haskell and Charles Andrews one-fifth each of the Herald, which is considered the best-paying newspaper in the United States.

The report of the Secretary of the Navy will show that jealousy and intrigue prevailed on the Polaris. The day she sailed, Captain Hall found that Buddington opposed him, and when the Polaris reached the farthest point north, with everything favorable in prospect, Buddington refused to go farther, when Captain Hall became discouraged, and Buddington, after Captain's Hall's death, was constantly drunk.

The Oregon volunteers deny that the massacre of the Modocs was committed by any of their number.

MARSTON & FREEMAN.

A Rejoinder.

Messrs. Editors:—I was glad to read a suggestion in your issue of Saturday relating to the necessity of a Gymnasium. Yet I think your correspondent was rather sarcastic on us poor females; and I would like to ask him if he ever devotes any time to the arrangement of his toilet, or wonders how he will impress the opposite sex by his style of dress or personnel. I would like to ask him how many hours he ever wasted in a barber's shop getting his hair dressed or dyed or his whiskers colored? I'll bet a cent that if ,, has got any hair on his face some barber is enriching himself about 125 cents a month at the expense of the brilliant and facile pen wielder. He and the rest of his sex had better look at home before they undertake to go abroad in their reformatory operations.

This has nothing to do with a Gymnasium, however, which I for one, heartily endorse, and if started will show your correspondent that I can lift as much above my head or hold as heavy a weight at arm's length as he can. So let him come on if he dares to.

To DAILY CHRONICLE.

My son is considered out of danger. Shall bring him home next week.

JOSEPH H. GARDINER.

KITTERY POINT AS A SHIPPING PORT.—It may seem to the public that Kittery manifests an unusual interest in the proposed extension of the Eastern road, and that the facts may be more clearly understood we will state that the facilities afforded at Kittery Point, for an extensive maritime trade, are second to no port on the coast of Maine, its harbor being accessible at all seasons of the year. If the Eastern road will extend its track to Kittery Point, serious obstacles can be overcome, and an avenue opened for an extensive freighting through New Hampshire and the northwest section of Maine; the result of which will add incalculable value, both to the road and the town. The question then presents itself, shall Kittery fail to present her advantages to one or the other of the avenues of transportation between Boston and Portland? If the Eastern road shall fail to take this matter into consideration, shall not sufficient inducement be held out to the Boston & Maine?

In the event of Kittery Point becoming an important shipping port, it will be but a return to what it once was in the days of Pepperrell and others.—Portland State.

Laconics.

Saturday morning, June 14, a white frost was observed in some localities in the outskirts of the city. Overcoats at mid-day were not uncomfortable to the wearers thereof; while at the present date of writing—Sunday evening—so warm is the weather that a linen suit is desirable. With such sudden and great changes, much care should be observed in regard to clothing and diet, remembering that an avoidance of disease is better than curing it.

The decayed hull of the U. S. S. Nantasket has been hauled on the ways at the navy yard, and the work of breaking her up has been commenced. On Saturday the steamers Mayflower and Speedwell, and the navy yard anchor boy, were taken into the floating dock to have their bottoms overhauled.

The conference of Congregational churches in Rockingham county, held at Greenland last week, passed a protest against the running of Sunday passenger trains over the Boston and Maine Railroad, under the name of "milk trains," and appointed a committee to present their protest to the management of the road.

While a boy was filling a can in the cellar of the Franklin House, Saturday evening, a paraffine can took fire. Mr. Thomas Lawley, clerk of the House, prevented a more extended conflagration by throwing the can up into the yard. An alarm brought out the firemen, but Assistant Engineer Hiram C. Locke extinguished the flames with dirt. Mr. Lawley's presence of mind and prompt action were most commendable.

The members of the decoration committee are requested to meet at the Council room this (Monday) evening at 7:30.

STOKES OUT OF DANGER.—Edward S. Stokes has been removed from the condemned cell in Murderer's Row to his old quarters. The ban has been lifted; friends are allowed to visit and cheer him. He sees his counsel in the prisoner's parlor as of old, and stands before the Courts as if he had not been tried at all. Judge Davis has proved himself the ablest jurist on the bench. Of all the Supreme Court Judges he was the only one who saw, in the long list of exceptions, one or two points that entitled the prisoner to a new trial. When the General Term heard the exceptions argued, he sat silent, having given his opinion in granting Stokes a stay of proceedings. The entire Bench differed from him, and but for his pluck and individual independence Stokes would have been hung long ago. The unanimous decision of the Court of Appeals sustaining Judge Davis is a tall feather in his cap. When the exceptions were first published, the opinion of the best lawyers was that some of the exceptions were fatal, and that Stokes would have a new trial. Men of the first ability in the city do not hesitate to say that under the decision that grants Stokes a new trial, testimony can be introduced, that will make a conviction impossible. If Stokes had not foolishly quarreled with John Graham, he would not have been convicted on the last trial, for Graham has never lost a case of that kind yet. There is a great deal of new matter, especially on the threats of Col. Fisk to shoot Stokes. For instance: A leading clergyman told me that months before the shooting he was in conversation with Stokes in the cars. Stokes was greatly excited, and told the clergyman that he dare not go out nights through fear of assassination. He went armed, he said, and intended to sell his life as dearly as possible. He mentioned the character of the threats, and acted like a man whose life hung on the merest thread. The woman who picked up the pistol in the Grand Central, whom the prosecution would not produce, and whom the defence could not find, is now known, and she will be produced on the new trial, and this will change very greatly the features of the case.—Burleigh.

THE FAMOUS WATKINS GLEN, located at Watkins, Schuyler Co., N. Y., which has become one of the most popular Summer Resorts in the United States, and is annually visited by tens of thousands of people from all sections of the country, will—with its two Mountain Houses—be open this season, for visitors, on or before the 1st of June. The entire glen property has recently been purchased by John J. Lytle & Co., of Philadelphia, who have made many important improvements — nearly all the staircases, bridges and railings having been renewed—and the Glen is in a much better and safer condition than ever before. These gentlemen will personally supervise and manage the Glen, and its Summer Hotels, during the season of 1873, and spare no time or expense in endeavoring to make it an attractive and pleasant place of resort for the public. The Watkins Glen — manifold as are its scenic charms—is by no means the only feature of interest pertaining to the romantic surroundings of the village from which it takes its name. Seneca Lake, one of the most beautiful sheets of water in the world, with the magnificent views which the highlands around it afford, Hector Falls, two and a half miles north of Watkins on the east shore of the Lake, and Havana Glen, which has been visited for several years past by great numbers of people, are well worthy the attention of tourists, and will be hailed with delight by all students and admirers of Nature.

ANOTHER TRAGEDY.—Henry Jewett, a young man of twenty-five, was desirous of making Miss Ella Wood, of Hudson, in this State, his wife; but she rejected his offers of marriage, to which her parents were also opposed. On Saturday morning Jewett visited her father's house, and attempted to kill her by shooting her in the head with a revolver, the bullet striking her just over the eye and lodging under the skin. He then went to the yard and attempted to shoot the girl's father, but the latter grappled with him and frustrated his attempt, on which Jewett put the pistol to his own head and fired, inflicting a wound which will probably prove fatal. There is hope, that Miss Wood will recover.

DR. OLDSTYLE'S VIEWS.—The building of sheet-iron churches with kitchens attached, the rush for popular parsons and the extraordinary sensational devices of fairs, theatres and raffles nowadays resorted to for the lightening of church taxes rather than the enlightening of the brethren, lead the venerable Dr. Oldstyle to predict that it will not be long before notes like the following will be read from the desk: "This evening, at eight o'clock, the reverend and beloved pastor of the church of the Holy Pyrotechnics will wheel the wheelbarrow and cook stove, lately presented him by a devoted people, down a tight wire, from gallery to pulpit, on reaching which he will turn three backward aerial summersaults and stand on his head, for the support of the gospel. Let all sinners be present and contribute of their substance."

SEWING MACHINE SALES FOR 1872.

BY comparison of Statistics from sworn returns of the Sewing Machine for 1871 and 1872, it shows that the

"DOMESTIC"

SEWING MACHINE CO.'s sales have increased over 375 per cent. while no other Co.'s sales have increased over 36 per cent., proving the great popularity of the "DOMESTIC."

Annexed are the percentage of gain, of the leading makes:

Domestic Sewing Machine Co.,	gain	375	per cent
Wheeler & Wilson	"	36	"
Singer	"	23	"
Grover & Baker	"	7	"
Weed	"	8	"
Wilcox & Gibbs	"	12	"
Wilson	"	8	"

Other Machines Co.'s' sales show a loss over the year before.

If the increase in sales be any criterion of merit, the "DOMESTIC" bears the palm.

The "DOMESTIC" works so easy, it is working itself into every family.

The "DOMESTIC" runs so light, it is distancing all competitors. It only asks a few days trial.

The "DOMESTIC" is recommend by the Medical Faculty.

Portsmouth Savings Bank.

President, WILLIAM SIMES,

Treasurer, J. F. SHORES.

Deposits, $1,930,378.46.

The Treasurer would ask the attention of the Depositors to these notices.

1st, In July next, the regular Five Years Extra Dividend will be declared.

2, From the 3d day of July to the 20th day of August, the books will be in the hands of a committee to examine the accounts and cast the Dividends thereon, during which time no Withdrawals can be made; therefore, the treasurer requests all depositors needing money during that interval to withdraw it on the 1st, 2nd, or 3d of July, as they can do it on those days without affecting the dividends.

3d. Deposits will be received as usual, while the books are in the hands of the Committee.

4th, The regular and extra dividends can be added to the Depositors' books after the 20th day of August and can then be withdrawn, if so desired; but if allowed to remain, the interest on those dividends will be cast from the 1st day of July.

5th, This bank pays to its Depositors interest semi-annually at the rate of Five per cent. per annum free of all taxes, and that interest compounds every six months.

6th, Interest on new deposits commences on the first day of each and every month, and all deposits made on the first three days of each month draw interest from the first day of that month.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of invention, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him, to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

BIXBY'S BEST SHOE BLACKING

Two Gems for Household Use.

THE GREAT SOUTH-AMERICAN

Jurubeba Blood Purifier,

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the Stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

Dr. Wells'

EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

The "Salary Grab."

The following are the Joint Resolutions now before the Legislature, relating to the action of Congress in increasing the salaries of its members:

Resolved &c., That the action of the Congress of the United States, in increasing the salaries of its own members for services during the last two years substantially fifty per cent., deserves the indignant reprobation of every honest citizen, as an outrage wholly unjustifiable on any other ground than would justify a clerk, cashier, or other servant of any individual or corporation, entrusted with the funds of his employer, in appropriating the same to his own use because he had the power to do so.

Resolved, That the action of Congress, in increasing the future compensation of its members from five thousand to seven thousand per annum, while a less flagrant outrage upon justice and decency than the increase of their own pay for past services, was wholly unwarranted and uncalled for, and should be immediately and unconditionally repealed.

Resolved, That the present condition of the country, overburdened with debt and taxation, demands of the National Legislature the most rigid economy in their appropriations, and of every department of the government the utmost fidelity in the collection and disbursement of the national revenues.

The resolutions were introduced by representative Cooper, (republican,) of Croydon.

"D. H." PRIVILEGES.—The St. Louis Globe, upon the subject of privileges accorded to newspapers, well says:—

We appreciate the evil, but we have no remedy to propose. When the minister who lives on the line of the railroad ceases to ask for a half fare ticket on account of his "sacred calling;" when high-toned legislators and congressmen cease to beg passes over the road on which the public pays their fare; when judges of civil courts and municipal officers refuse to accept favors privately from those who may come before them officially; when the managers of the theatres will pay for the notices they expect; when friendship for a newspaper will not be counted as a justification for carrying off a copy every morning; then will the Press march boldly to the front and lay on the altar of its country's needs the following cherished privileges, to wit:—the right to enter a theatre at those performances when no one else will enter; the right to accompany an excursion where all the rest enjoy themselves while the weary reporter makes a list of their names, and, generally, all right title and interest whatever in unsalable books, unreadable magazines, impracticable clothes hooks, reversible pie boards, combination corkscrew-and-night-keys, and all the rubbish which thrusts itself into the office of a newspaper, only asking in exchange a notice of about 95 per cent. off from what we charge our business supporters. The tendency to take whatever can be had for nothing is offset by the reluctance to give for nothing anything which has any value, and the battle between these two instincts promises to be a long and doubtful one. But when the good cause triumphs and every man pays his way as he goes, the newspaper will be a richer institution than it now is.

A WISE PROVISION.—The resolution introduced in the House, by Mr. Kent of Portsmouth, requiring the printing of all bills in amendment of statute laws, the passage of which is advised by the report of a committee, and which was subsequently amended so as to include all bills amending existing public laws, and then adopted, will prove advantageous in every way. It effectually stops hasty, ill-considered legislation, and no member need hereafter "vote in the dark" on any measure brought before the House. The provision is one so eminently practical and useful, facilitating, at the same time that it checks crude and ill-advised legislation, the wonder is that it was not long ago adoped. Mr. Kent is entitled to praise for the handsome manner in which he presented and secured the adoption of the resolution.—Monitor.

BOLTERS.—Some of the men-folks behaved rather shabbily in Providence at the recent election. Mrs. Sarah E. H. Doyle received the unanimous nomination of a large primary meeting of Republicans in the fifth ward for school committeeman, and it was expected her name would be borne of course on the ticket at the polls; but when it was distributed it was found the tricky politicians who had the printing of the ballots had substituted the name of one John W. Angell for that of Mrs. Doyle, and he was elected by a small majority, though the indignation at the fraud was quite general. We should think Mr. Angell would be ashamed to sit with gentlemen in considering the morals and instruction of youth after such an elevation to position.—Boston Commonwealth.

Readables.

A gentleman near Vineland, Wisconsin, entered into an orchard to steal some apples while his friend, who sat on the fence and remonstrated, fell off and broke his neck. There appears to be in this incident a useful lesson for the young.

A young woman, away out in Missouri, a candidate for future membership in Congress without doubt, before eloping with her sweetheart, interviewed her father's bureau-drawer, in the absence of the pater, voted herself an increase of back pay to the amount of $1,000, all there was—and adjourned to the arms of her lover.

The late John Carpenter of Marquette, Mich., knocked the ashes out of his pipe upon the head of a keg of blasting powder.

Evidence of the design of the New York criminal authorities to put Stokes on his third trial soon is seen in the arrest and detention of five of the principal witnesses who have hitherto testified against him. Two of them are the hall-boys in the Grand Central hotel.

Peace Commissioner Meacham will probably return to California to testify as to Captain Jack shooting Gen. Canby. The Modoc chief denies that he was the assassin, but Meacham declares that he was the first to fire a shot, which was the signal to the others to join in the massacre. If Jack and his confederates are sentenced to be hung, the Peace Commissioners and their friends deny that they intend to appeal to the President to disapprove the sentence. Meacham still shows the wound where Shacknasty Jim attempted to scalp him.

The Navy Department has finally determined to spare no reasonable expense to learn of the whereabouts of the missing Polaris and the portion of the officers and crew which were left on board of her when she was separated from those landed on the ice floe. In addition to the Juniata, which will sail next week from New York for the Danish settlements along the Greenland coast, another vessel will be fitted out for a regular Arctic voyage and will sail from New York about the middle of July. As the Polaris was only twenty days in reaching Disco, no time will be lost in the open weather which prevails in that region in August. The mission of the Juniata will be more particularly to visit the Danish settlements, and especially the upper one, where Capt. Hall in August, 1871, purchased his sledges and dogs, to learn from the natives any later tidings from the Polaris. Letters to the Danish authorities will be given the commander of the Juniata, requesting them to co-operate in the search and communicate with the Esquimaux on the more northern portion of Greenland. The officers and crew who were saved are quite unanimous in their opinion that the Polaris has not been crushed by the ice.

English sparrows will not eat Yankee worms, if there be hair on them, and but few of our insects; ergo, they are not what they are cracked up to be; besides, they drive away better birds.

The Bostons were "whitewashed" for the first time on Saturday, the Athletics scoring three to their nothing.

The murderer Lusignani, lately hung in New Jersey, has some native wit, if he did part his hair in the middle. Just before he was led out to execution one of the priests said: "I would willingly be in your place; you will be in heaven soon." "Well, take my place," said the prisoner; "I will get under the bed."

A party of lynchers in Wetzel county, West Virginia, killed a robber and his wife, Wednesday morning.

Negotiations are in progress for a removal of the Kickapoos and other troublesome Indians along the Texas border to a reservation in the United States. It is affirmed that the depredations in Sonora are committed not by Indians from Arizona but by Mexican Apaches.

The testimony of the members of the Polaris' company, taken at the Washington investigation and soon to published, shows that Captain Hall died a natural death and that the separation of those on the iceflow was accidental.

Judge Rice has resigned the presidency of the Maine Central Railroad, and ex-Governor A. P. Morrill has been elected to the position. Charles F. Hatch, Esq., has been chosen general manager of the road. Judge Rice will at once assume the duties of President of the Northern Pacific, to which office he has been elected.

Move Horrors.

By the sinking of a boat and capsizing of another, at Calais, Vt., on Sunday, a party of twenty to thirty young people were thrown overboard. A dozen were rescued in an insensible condition and five others were drowned.

Almon Gordon, wife and child, were found murdered in their beds in Thorndike, eighteen miles from Belfast, Me., Monday afternoon.

How Abraham Lincoln was Saved from a Duel.—Strangely enough, the murder of Mansfield T. Walworth by his son, recalls the story of Abraham Lincoln's duel. The mother of Frank Walworth is the daughter of Col. John J. Hardin, who saved Mr. Lincoln from the remorse which would have overshadowed his life if he had killed General Shields. Colonel Hardin was a prominent Whig politician, and was esteemed "the bravest man in Illinois." He was killed at the battle of Buena Vista, and his death fairly earned the distinction which his admiring friends had given him while living. Mr. Lincoln was his intimate friend, and both men were gifted with a large sense of humor, which they turned to a very good account:

The hostile meeting between Mr. Lincoln and General Shields was brought about in this way: A witty young lady wrote a communication for one of the Springfield papers, in which there were several passages which the General was pleased to consider as personally offensive. He was a testy Irishman, who had a great deal of troublesome dignity, and could never appreciate a joke at his own expense. He forthwith went to the newspaper office and demanded the name of the correspondent, and this being refused, he gave the editor three days in which to make up his mind, either to refer him to the writer or to take a whipping himself. The poor man was greatly distressed. He did not like to be guilty of the ungallant act of betraying his lady correspondent, and he did not care to have a fight with General Shields, who was a much stronger man. In this dilemma he came to Mr. Lincoln and told him of his trouble. The lawyer took the matter into consideration, but he could think of no stratagem for the relief of his friend. At last he said to him, "When Shields comes around with his club tell him that Abe Lincoln wrote that letter." The editor acted upon the suggestion, and when the irate politician appeared ready to carry his threat into execution, he was politely requested to call upon Abraham Lincoln for satisfaction.

This put a new face on the matter. General Shields knew better than to come fooling about Mr. Lincoln with his cane. He was at that time a great, long-armed, muscular fellow, good natured, but resolute, and when the occasion demanded he could deal such blows with his fists as made his antagonists think that rail-splitting was his pastime. If he had been attacked by Gen. Shields, and had supposed that it would add anything to the humor of the fight, he would have bent his assailant over his knee and administered punishment after the manner of conscientious mothers. But after all his threatening and blustering Gen. Shields could not back out

Our street pumps are not all in good working order, and it would be well for the pump committee to look into the matter and have them fixed prior to the coming Fourth. When we remember the inadequate supply of water from the Aqueduct it makes us feel a little nervous in anticipating the extra demand that will be created Fourth of July week by the influx of from three to five thousand visitors. Is there any solicitude in this direction on the part of the managers of the water monopoly?

Prof. E. Whitefield has completed one of his sketches of Portsmouth, and placed it on exhibition at Mr. Foster's Book Store on Congress street for two days, previous to its being sent to Boston to be lithographed. This view is taken from the head of Mt. Vernon street and is a perfect sketch of the city as seen from that point.

We hear complaints, much too frequently, of ladies being insulted and of other disgracefel exhibitions of low-lived rowdyism, on the South Mill Bridge, evenings. We believe in encouraging a worthy ambition in young men, and will assist any such who may aspire to win notoriety as leaders of gangs of street loafers, to the extent of our ability, by publishing their names in full in our columns, when handed to us by responsible and reputable parties who may be cognizant of their acts.

The Wagner Trial.

On Monday, Wagner's direct examination was proceeded with; he explained the manner in which he got the copper pennies found in his pocket; some he got at the baker's in Portsmouth, some in Boston; he said, I saw no buttons in the money the time it was taken from me; the saloon where I got my beer, after baiting trawls, was on Congress street, 200 yards from the post office; I begged the officers to let me go and show them the people and the place, but they would not do it; don't know the name of the person who kept the saloon; don't know the name of the schooner or its master on which I baited trawls that night. It was lying between Pier wharf and the wharves down the river; one of the fishermen paid me; when he paid me he stood on the wharf; I bought the rubber boots last winter at Portsmouth; the size is eleven; there were two hundred there of the same size, and I informed the officers in Boston where my old clothes were.

Witness then was briefly cross examined. Among other statements he testified; I don't think I ever saw the man who paid me for baiting the trawls; he paid me in advance; none of my shirts were made to order; I bought two of them in Boston and two in Prussia; they were not alike in size on the wristband; never complained of poverty; I had enough to pay my board; I kept some money to buy clothes; I owed about $10 to Mrs. Johnson; the reason I lay down on the lounge was because I felt sickly, and was afraid I would have to heave up, and another reason was because I was cold, and went there to see if it was not warm.

Wagner bore his examination well, not contradicting any of his former statements, and appearing at ease.

Henry Hunnefelt of Portsmouth testified: knew Louis Wagner three weeks before the murder; Wagner hauled fishing gear for another man, and blistered his hand; I remember he borrowed a needle of David Burke.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., is a wide awake, original place, even for keen, go-ahead New England. This not prominent town has hit upon an original and praiseworthy manner of celebrating the coming Fourth of July. The live patriotic little municipality invites descendants of the sons and daughters of Portsmouth, all over the land, to come to the home of their fathers on the next anniversary of our national independence. Abundant entertainment is offered to the scattered scions of the old Granite State. Among other attractions is held out excellent music, the orchestras engaged including that of P. Coliseum Gilmore's band, led by the great man himself. An entertainment like this, combined with genealogical devotion, should fairly throng Portsmouth, N. H., on the coming Fourth of July, and this method of celebrating Independence day night, with much good taste, be imitated in many other towns of the old thirteen States.—Phila. Enquirer.

COWS THAT LOVE MUSIC.—In going to Florida a Northern farmer must bid farewell to milk and butter. Three thousand quarts of milk a day may be produced in the whole State, but I doubt it. I can never forget the face of a Northerner who became aware of this fact in Jacksonville. He had paid several thousand dollars for the exclusive right of peddling a patent churn in the State. "My God, sir," he said, "what an ass I have been. There are not a hundred pounds of butter made in Florida in a year." And he was right. There is no grass for the cows. Their best pasture land appears to be in the St. John's river. A kind of coarse grass, or lichen, grows beneath the water, for which they have a great liking. I noticed a dozen cows standing belly deep in the river in front of Mrs. Stowe's; face with their heads under water. They were feeding upon water grass. I found but one place in Eastern Florida where I could procure a glass of fresh milk. That is in the residence of Judge Paine in this place. His cows roam the savannas and pine wilderness, and eat the stiff wire grass that grows upon the borders of the swamps. The cattle are wild, but are susceptible to the charm of music. They are only got to the house by singing to them. Morning and night young Tom Paine, the Judge's son, rides to the woods on a marsh pony, and rolls out over the wet prairie the notes of some mournful song like Way down the Mississippi floating.

The cows listen, and begin to gather about the musician. Tom's voice is sweet and powerful. When the kine are in line he begins to urge them home, but there are no roads nor fences and he must keep up his singing, for the instant he stops the cows break like a New York audience at the close of an opera. The cattle appear to have acquired a taste for music, as it requires a good singer to drive them home from the pasture in lower Florida.

In Enfield there is a cat who gave birth a few days, since to a family of five kittens, four of which are grown together, something after the manner of the Siamese Twins! At last accounts there were alive and doing well.

"What is Home without an Organ?

And what will an Organ now be, without a copy of DITSON & CO'S new, delightful, complete collection of Reed Organ Music, called the ORGAN AT HOME!

Every Organ needs it! The Organ at Home! Best collection for Reed organs! Two hundred not difficult pieces so organized that no dull music is in them: the organ, smooth, legato style used, but as an organ at Home should be cheerful, light and staccato music is not excluded. At present the Organ in a Home is often silent, for home music is not provided for it. Here is home-like, easy, familiar, new music, at home in every nation, in fact all kinds by whom everybody considers the best composers.

The publishers take pride and pleasure in presenting such a superior book to the public, and believe it worthy to be at Home in every family. Price, Boards, $2.50; Cloth, $3.00; Full gilt $4.00.

SEWING MACHINE SALES

FOR 1872.

BY comparison of Statistics from sworn returns of the sales of Sewing Machines for 1871 and 1872, it shows that the

"DOMESTIC"

SEWING MACHINE CO.'s sales have increased over 375 per cent. while no other Co.'s sales have increased over 36 per cent., proving the great popularity of the "DOMESTIC."

Annexed are the percentage of gain, of the leading makers:

Domestic Sewing Machine Co.,	gain 375 per cent
Wheeler & Wilson "	" 36	"
Singer "	" 23	"
Grover & Baker "	" 8	"
Weed "	" 6	"
Wilcox & Gibbs "	" 12	"
Wilson "	" 5	"

Other Machines Co.'s' sales show a loss over the year before.

If the increase in sales be any criterion of merit, the "DOMESTIC" bears the palm.

The "DOMESTIC" works so easy, it is working itself into every family.

The "DOMESTIC" runs so light, it is distancing all competitors. It only asks a few days trial.

The "DOMESTIC" is recommend by the Medical Faculty.

Portsmouth Savings Bank.

President, WILLIAM SIMES,
Treasurer, J. F. SHORES.
Deposits, $1,930,378.46.

The Treasurer would ask the attention of the Depositors to these notices.

1st. In July next, the regular Five Years Extra Dividend will be declared.

2. From the 3d day of July to the 20th day of August, the books will be in the hands of a committee to examine the accounts and cast the Dividends thereon, during which time no Withdrawals can be made; therefore, the treasurer requests all depositors needing money during that interval to withdraw it on the 1st, 2nd, or 3d of July, as they can do it on those days without affecting the dividends.

3d. Deposits will be received as usual, while the books are in the hands of the Committee.

4th. The regular and extra dividends can be added to the Depositors' books after the 20th day of August and can then be withdrawn, if so desired; but if allowed to remain, the interest on those dividends will be cast from the 1st day of July.

5th. This bank pays to its Depositors interest semi-annually at the rate of Five per cent. per annum free of all taxes, and that interest compounds every six months.

6th. Interest on new deposits commences on the first day of each and every month, and all deposits made on the first three days of each month draw interest from the first day of that month.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. S. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges.

JOHN TAGGART."

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

Jurubeba Blood Purifier,

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

Dr. Wells'

EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

SPRING TIME!

Sonoma Wine Bitters

are the BEST to use to counteract the debilitating effects of SPRING and early SUMMER. They are MILD AND PLEASANT IN THEIR EFFECTS, and no change in diet is needed.

EVERYBODY CAN TAKE THEM:

Man, Woman or Child!

They are made with PURE, SOFT, MILD WINE, and choice Plants and Roots, are Delicious to the Taste and Delightful in Aroma, while the strong, fiery spirit, so prominent in most other Bitters, is lacking.

SONOMA WINE BITTERS

have been used for years, not only in the United States but in the British Provinces, West Coast of South America, Sandwich Islands, the East and West Indias, and Austria, and are recognized as the Most Palatable, Healthy and Appetizing Bitters in the market.

Sonoma Wine Bitters

are Medicinal and Invigorating, cleansing the blood, and giving a healthy tone to the entire system. Ladies and Children will find therein a most agreeable Tonic. Try them, and you will use no other.

HOW THE TEMPERANCE DAMAGE LAW WORKED IN OHIO.—A rum seller in Akron, whom I will call Hi Church, because he was "high" most of the time, had been sued several times for damage done by his rum on citizens of the town. One man came out drunk and smashed in a big glass window. He was too poor to pay for it, and the owner came against Church. A boy about 15 got drunk and let a horse run away with him, breaking his arm. His father made Church pay the damage. A mechanic got drunk and was killed on the railroad track; and his wife sued Church for $2000 and got it. A farmer got drunk and was burned in his barn on the hay. His son sued Church and recovered. Church got sick of paying out so much money for personal and property damages. It ate up all the rumseller's profits. Still, he acknowledged the law to be a statute, and that it made him responsible for all the damage done by his rum. He used to argue, also, that sometimes his rum did people good, and then he said he ought to receive something back. One day Lawyer Thompson got to drinking. Thompson was mean, like 'most all lawyers, and when he died of the delirium tremens there wasn't much mourning in Akron. There wasn't anybody who cared enough for Thompson to sue Church for damage done. So, one day, Church went before the court himself. "What does Mr. Church want?" asked the justice. "I tell yer what, jedge," commenced the rumseller, "when my rum killed that thar mechanic Johnson and Farmer Mason, I cum down like a man. I paid the damage and squared up like a Christian—now didn't I, jedge?" "Yes, you paid the damage. Mr. Church; but what then?" "Wall, jedge, my rum did a good deal to 'rds killin' Lawyer Thompson now, and it 'pears ter me when I kill a lawyer I kinder ought ter get a rebate?"—Eli Perkins in the Graphic.

SOMNAMBULISM.—Belshazzar Smith had a very bad and very dangerous habit of walking in his sleep. His family feared that during some one of his somnambulistic saunterings he would charge out of the window and kill himself; so they persuaded him to sleep with his little brother William, and to tie one end of a rope round his body and the other end round the waist of little William. The first night after this arrangement was made Belshazzar dreamed that a burglar was pursuing him with a dagger. So he crept over to William's side of the bed, stepped out on the floor and slid under the bed. He stayed there awhile fast asleep; and then, his nightmare having changed, he emerged upon the other side of the bed, and under the cover in his old place. The rope, it will be observed, was beneath the bed, and it was pulled taut, too. Early in the morning, Belshazzar, about half awake, scrouged over against William. To his surprise the movement jerked William clear out of bed. Belshazzar leaped out to ascertain the cause of the phenomenon, and at the time his brother disappeared under the bed. Belshazzar, hardly yet awake, was scared, and he dived beneath the bedstead; as he did so he heard William skirmishing across the blankets above his head. Once more he rushed out just in time to perceive William glide over the other side. Belshazzar then became sufficiently conscious to feel the rope pulling him. He comprehended the situation at once, and disengaged himself. And perhaps little William was not mad! He was in the hospital undergoing repairs for about three weeks, and when he came out had a strange desire to sleep alone. Belshazzar anchors himself now to an anvil.

—An old gentleman went one day with his gun to shoot partridges, accompanied by his son. Before they approached the ground where they expected to find the game, the gun was charged with a severe load; and when the old gentleman discovered one of the birds, he took a rest and blazed away, expecting to see the game fall, of course; but not so did it happen, for the gun kicked with so much force as to knock him over. The old man got up, and, while rubbing the sparks out of his eyes, inquired of his son, "Alphy, did I point the right end of the gun at the birds?"

—The late Dr. Marshall Hall of England said, "If I were seriously ill of consumption, I would live out doors day and night, except in rainy weather or mid-winter; then I would sleep in an unplastered log house. Physic has no nutriment, gasping for air cannot cure you, monkey capers in a gymnasium cannot cure you, and stimulants cannot cure. What consumptives want is air, not physic—pure air, not medicated air—plenty of meat and bread."

CONSOLATION.—The Washington Chronicle declares that Benedict Arnold could not again be a patriot, nor could Judas be a Christian. This must be a sad thought for both Arnold and Judas; but, then, they have ample consolation in the thought that they never can be the editor of the Washington Chronicle.—Cour.-Jour.

Readables.

A farmer went out of a store in Detroit, leaving his dog behind, and the clerks got an oyster can and a string and thought they would have a little fun. The dog smelt snuff, and, after taking a mutton chop out of one young man's leg, went through a ten-dollar pane of glass with extraordinary facility. The clerks figure: "Four clerks into ten dollars' worth of glass, twenty shillings each."

Lord Chief Justice Cockburn has made a joke. A Mrs. Jury, being examined as a witness in the Tichborne case, stated that she had had eleven children, whereupon his Honor observed he had always understood it took twelve to make a jury. England is still echoing the laugh which convulsed the Court.

Reports to the contrary notwithstanding, Thomas Nast will return to New York early next autumn, and resume his labors on Harper's Weekly. Instead of being very poor, as has been represented, he is said to be worth over $100,000.

A few days ago a stranger, while drunk in Memphis, had his whiskers shaved off, and was put in the station house. Next morning the man did not know himself, for he had not shaved for fifteen years. His whiskers were very long, and he did not recollect that a tonsorial artist had applied the razor to his face the day previous. He is now on the eve of insanity, because he is unable to identify his own physiognomy.

Miss Maggie Weiss of Bull's Ferry, N. Y., having grown tired of expostulating with the owner of the goats that daily devastated her garden, procured a rifle and kept up a constant fire till every goat of them was defunct. The owner of the animals threatened to shoot Maggie, and she had him arrested.

Rear Admiral Pennock, U. S. N., in his official report of his visit to the Sandwich Islands, states that the cession of Pearl river harbor would give us possession of the island of Oahu.

A brother of Almon M. Gordon, who with his wife and infant daughter was murdered on Monday morning near Belfast, Me., has been arrested on suspicion of being the murderer. It is believed some property affairs furnished the motive for the deed. The murders were committed with an axe, and a little son of Mr. Gordon's was also wounded but may recover. The house was then set on fire, but a hired man living on the place was aroused by the boy's cries, and extinguished the flames.

Joe Woods (colored) of Rutherford county, Tenn., was hung by lynchers on Sunday for rape and murder.

On Sunday forenoon a train on the Norwich & Worcester railroad was thrown from the track near Dayville, Conn., by a tie placed across the rails. The train was wrecked and the engineer and fireman badly injured, the latter fatally. Three men who were seen near the scene of the outrage, half drunk, about the time the train passed, have been arrested.

An Illinois woman named Mrs. York recently died, after confessing that she had at different times poisoned her husband, her son-in-law and daughter, and three other persons, six in all. Her last essay was to poison her son, but by a fortunate mistake she swallowed the poison she had prepared herself. We are willing to believe in eternal punishment, for that woman's especial benefit.

Westboro', Mass., was in flames Tuesday morning, and assistance was sent from Worcester by a special train.

The Ohio liberal republicans having decided to preserve an independent organization, a patriotic citizen tenders them for a place of meeting a commodious rat-hole. He says they can never fill it.

A young man who recently sent to a paper a poem in which occurs the expression, "Her voice was like a nightingale," is informed that it was not accepted, the idea being too evidently stolen from "I dream I dwelt in marble halls." Two "nights in jail" would be better for him than one.

Mr. Carpenter, of Marquette, Mich., had not the slightest idea he was about to create an atmospherical disturbance when he knocked the ashes out of his pipe on the head of a powder keg.

Says the Springfield (Mass.) Republican: "Mr. Reuben E. Fenton has been expressing opinions on politics again—a circumstance going to bear out the theory that the ghosts of the wicked departed are condemned to linger about the scene of their crimes."

Trinity church, New York, was entered Sunday night by thieves, who stole the rector's shoes and a new suit of clothes, and robbed the poor boxes.

State News.

A Concord man who had been fishing forget to remove the box of worms from his pocket on returning home. During the night the cover got off the box somehow, and when he awoke the first thing that met his vision was mud worms wriggling over the floor, the table, and his clothes which were deposited on a chair near the bed. The gentleman had forgotten all about his box of bait, and was horrified at the thought of delirium tremens. He pinched himself and resorted to various other expedients to drive away the horrid vision, till suddenly the truth dawned upon him.

Charles H. Campbell, of Charlestown, Mass., and William Cochran of Francestown, have been held for trial in Manchester, on two charges of horse-stealing.

A lad named Holmes, 14 years old, was drowned at Marlow on Sunday, while bathing.

A petition for a charter for a new gas company for Manchester will be presented to the legislature in a few days. The present gas company has been very successful, though their gas has been supplied to consumers at a very reasonable rate.

Willard Putney, a night watchman employed by the Northern railroad at Concord, was arrested on Monday for stealing about $1500 in cash from the corporation, and the money recovered. In Putney's house was found an immense quantity of stolen material, consisting of car seats, tops of euchre tables, upholstery material, tin dishes, lumber, wood, old junk,—in short, a nondescript lot of stuff, much of which must have been stolen merely for the sake of stealing, as it is worthless.

A Bit of Romance.—About a year ago one of the steamships sailing from East Boston to Liverpool took aboard a gentleman and his daughter, who intended to travel over the greater part of Europe. A few days after debarkation, the gentleman was found dead in his room, at a hotel in the north of England, having been attacked by disease of the heart. So the young lady was left apparently friendless in a strange land. She desired to bring home the remains of her father, but this could not be done by a ship of the Cunard company, their rules forbidding the shipment of a corpse. While wearily waiting at a London hotel for the sailing of a Southampton steamship under different management, the kind hearted landlord offered her to go out to his country home and remain there until sailing day. There were other guests at this country residence, among them a young gentleman who devoted a good part of his time to the entertainment of the American visitor. At last he accompanied her to the steamer, and bidding her good by, handed her a bouquet, in which after sailing she found a note asking permission to write to her. We cannot be expected to know about the correspondence which followed, but we do know that there was a wedding at Concord, N. H., recently, because we read in the Monitor:—

"In this city, June 11, by Rev. J. F. Lovering, Peter D. Carr, Esq., of Liverpool, England, and Helen M. Peverly, daughter of the late James Peverly."

A Wife's Determined Suicide.—A terrible tragedy was enacted this morning at Ainsworth Station, in the town of Hyde Park, about eleven miles from this city. At an early hour, a man and wife, residing at Ainsworth, quarreled. The woman, angered beyond endurance, put on bonnet and shawl, stating as she departed, "Good-by; you will never see me again." She then made her way to the depot, sat calmly down on the steps of the platform, and awaited, apparently without emotion, the arrival of the morning express—a train that did not stop at the depot. It came thundering along at full speed, at the usual hour. The woman arose as she saw the steaming engine, firmly braced herself, and, when the locomotive was but a short distance from the depot, she buried herself upon the track, and was crushed to an unrecognizable mass.—Chicago Post, June 10.

Lewiston Correspondence.

The Reunion—Dingley for Governor—City Expenses—Admirable School System—Valuations—An Injunction.

LEWISTON, June 16.

Messrs Editors:—I suppose the most appropriate subject should be at present the "Return of the Sons," but as these two cities afford but few it any who claim to be Sons of Portsmouth I have to evade the subject wholly. Your correspondent, however, has met and organized, filled all the offices and made complete arrangements and will be present at the "Return" with full ranks.

Full arrangements have been made for the delegates to the Bangor Convention to be holden next Thursday, the 19th, with the Railroads, and delegations will be taken at half fare. Considerable interest is manifested on the part of the delegates from this portion of the State, as we have the strongest man for the nomination, in the State, Mr. Dingley is a popular man and one against whom not a word can be lisped to his discredit. Being a young man, and manager of one of the best daily newspapers in the State, a lawyer by profession, he has a bright and prosperous future. We hope for him the success he deserves.

The annual appropriations made by the City Government for the coming year amount to over $232,000. Fifteen thousand dollars of this sum is for macadamizing the streets, which has proved so acceptable in the past few years. Twenty-five thousand of the appropriation is for schools. A large expenditure of money in this direction, but none too large it judiciously expended. There is some fault found by our citizens at the large salaries paid over to leading teachers. For instance, the salary of the Superintendent teachers of High and Grammar schools is $2000 per annum, each—perhaps rather more than a city of 18,000 inhabitants ought to pay, but the duties are arduous and the men are those fully qualified for the responsibility. I notice some new attentions on the part of your city to the reorganization of its school system. This is a move in the right direction. Within a few years we have entirely abolished the district system, appointed a Superintendent of schools and given him complete supervision, under the general direction of the Committee of all the schools. During the last year we have tried the system of free text books and find it to work admirably. The first cost of introducing books into our schools was about $2500, and the scholars knowing that the property belongs to the city, keep their books better and more children are found to attend school. About $1500 will be required annually to replace those destroyed, and for new scholars.

The assessors have just completed the valuation of the city, which amounts to $12,500,000; number of ratable polls 3025. The valuation exceeds that of last year by some over one million dollars. The valuation of this city in 1860 was $3,500,000; I state this that you may note the advancement in thirteen years.

The city of Auburn is increasing in like proportion, as I understand from the assessors of that city. There are in process of erection in that city some three or four brick shoe manufactories four stories high, and giving employment to many hundred hands. The sale of real estate in Auburn during the present season exceeds all expectation.

The long talked of injunction case in the Lewiston and Auburn Railroad has come off, and the matter is in the hands of Judge Danforth of the Supreme Court, who will give his opinion the present week. H.

Murder.—The record of homicides Monday morning comprised a murder near New Iberia, Louisiana, where two men were killed by negroes; an affair at Indianapolis, Indiana, in which one man shot two others, wounding one mortally; another at Zanesville, Ohio, where a physician fatally shot a married man for riding out with his daughter; and a quarrel between two negros at St. Louis, resulting in the murder of one and the suicide of the murderer. Two murders were committed in New York, Sunday evening, a young man killing his wife on the street and one man stabbing another to death in a barroom.

DEATHS.

In Chelsea, June 9, Albert L. Moulton, son of Jocob A. and Emma O. Moulton, aged one year.

Weep not for the babe!
Be thy sorrows suppressed;
Weep not for the babe.
It has gone to its rest.
'Twas a sweet little flower,
Too tender to stay
In this world's chilling blast,—
It has withered away.
For Jesus, thy Savior,
With snow-wings on high,
Will guard well the spot
Where our darling doth lie.

Well's Grand Distribution.—The committee, after drawing nearly one hundred and fifty thousand dollars have decided to postpone the drawing until July 1st, 1873. This will positively be the last postponement W. B. Lord, Agent.

For Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Depression of Spirits and General Debility, in their various forms, Ferro-Prosphorated Elixir of Calisya made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York, and sold by all druggists, is the best tonic. As a stimulant tonic for patients recovering from fever or other sickness, it has no equal. If taken during the season it prevents fever and ague and other intermittent fevers. ul10

A Reinforcement Demanded.—When the stomach gives to wilt under the effects of the first "heavy cold," it is obvious that it ought to be reinforced and sustained by wholesome stimulation. To resort to the adulterated liquors of commerce in such a crisis, as too many do, is the height of infatuated folly. All such stimulants leave a sting. After the first effect has passed away, that sting is felt. The reaction is terrible. The prostration of body and mind which ensues is more complete than before. But the operation of a medical tonic like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in which extracts of the purest medicinal roots and herbs are blended with the spirituous essence of rye, pure and undefiled, is very different. No unpleasant reaction follows its use. It is a permanent, a perpetual invigorant, and there is no phase of debility, indigestion, biliousness, nervousness or intermittent fever which it will not speedily cure.

Teeth like orient pearls set in cushions of rose;
A breath like the perfume the toilet bestows;
These are charms to win hearts, when all other charms fade,
But they can't be preserved without Sozodont's aid.

Mr Levi L. Goodrich, of Kittery, was badly jarred while engaged in piling timber on the navy yard, Tuesday morning, by a fall of some twelve or fourteen feet from the timber pile to the ground, occasioned by the slipping of a cant-bar with which he was at work. He was insensible when taken up, and was conveyed to the yard hospital, but recovered sufficiently to be taken home in a short time. It is feared he is injured internally.

The committee on 4th of July regatta advertise in another column a list of prizes to be contended for by boats of different classes, with the course to be pulled over and the general rules for the races. There are fast boats enough, and sturdy and skillful oarsmen enough, on the river, to make a good show in each class; and we expect to see a series of well contested races, and good time made in each.

Persons desiring to secure appropriate and pleasing souvenirs of old Strewberry Bank for their friends among the returning Sons and Daughters to carry away when they leave the city for their distant homes after the grand reunion next month, will do well to inspect the stock of stereoscopic views offered for sale by Davis Brothers, at their photographic gallery on Pleasant street. These views comprise scenes in Portsmouth, Rye, at the Shoals, the navy yard, the near coast of Maine and other places, and are taken in the best style of the photographic art, for the Davises keep squarely up with all the improvements in their business; and each scene is taken from just the point to present the most pleasing picture. Thousands of their "Views in Portsmouth and Vicinity" will be scattered about the country within the next two months.

Ladies (and gentlemen who won't enter saloons for their beverages, if any such gentlemen there are) will find the neat and new confectionery store of Mr. James N. Tarlton, on Pleasant street, just the place to go for a drink of cool soda during this warm weather. Mr. Tarlton also draws ginger ale and the delicious Ottawa beer (we never tasted Ottawa beer, but we know people who have,) from the same fountain. Of confectionery he has always on hand a full stock of the goods of the best manufacturers; and of fruits, tropical and domestic, a full supply in the season.

Mrs. William P. Jones on Tuesday met with a painful and somewhat singular accident. She slipped while descending a stair and threw out her hand to save herself from falling, and in so doing dislocated her shoulder.

The poll tax in this city this year is $2.45.

The Wagner Trial.

On Monday the defence introduced evidence to show that the court had no jurisdiction over the Isles of Shoals, after which the court adjourned till 2 o'clock, when the examination of witnesses was continued.

Edwin Burke of Portsmouth, son of David Burke, testified that Wagner was on board his father's vessel three weeks before the murder, and borrowed an unthreaded needle. Cross-examined. There was a dory belonging to the vessel which was stolen the evening of March 5 from Pickering street wharf; on being returned the thole pins were worn a quarter of an inch. Louis Wagner had been with witness in that dory at that place.

Peter Johnson testified that he was with Louis Wagner in the schooner when Wagner borrowed the needle. Witness did not know what use Wagner made of the needle.

Stephen A Preble of Portsmouth testified: Am a hair dresser; I remember the time of the Isle of Shoals murder; on the morning of the 6th I shaved a man within two or three inches as high as Wagner, thick set, with light hat and black band, a monkey jacket, a plush vest, red and yellow mixed; he was reading a paper upside down; we called "next" four times; he jumped up as it aroused from deep thought; when he paid me he took out a lot of silver and a two dollar bill; this was nine or a quarter past nine o'clock, March 6. I saw Wagner March 7 in his cell; he looked enough like Wagner to have been his brother; I was called to identify him.

Harrison Berry of Portsmouth, testified that on the night of March 5th was on pier wharf at Randall & Caswell's; it was then as late as between 12 and 1; went there at 6:30. I was baiting trawls. The evidence of this witness was introduced to prove that Wagner's statement that he saw him that night in that place was true.

Timothy H. Chellis of Portsmouth testified: I was in business at Portsmouth the night of March 5; know Louis Wagner; saw him at 7:30 or a little later that night in my shop. He called for some ale.

Wm M. Tenyer testified that he was present when Mrs. Hontvet accused Wagner of the crime; she asked him where the tall hat was he wore that night; don't recollect the reply. [It will be remembered that in the evidence heretofore published the man who was seen crossing Newcastle bridge was described as having worn a low, round crowned, black-banded hat;] at the interview in the Marshal's office, Mrs. Hontvet said to him, "You killed my sisters;" he replied, "Mary, I did not; you know I would not hurt any of you; I have always treated you kindly and have done all I could do." She accused him again, and he was about to reply to her when the Marshal told him to keep still and wait till he was called upon.

James F. Babcock, an analytical chemist in the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, testified concerning distinguishing different kinds of blood from one another when dry.

On Tuesday, Dr. John W. Parsons testified that he found twenty-two wounds on Karen Christenson, and that such wounds could have been made by a person of not great muscular powers.

Richard D. Philbrook and Jesse Getchell, of Kittery, and Stephen F. Shaw, of Rochester, testified, but nothing material was elicited.

Reuben H. Ricker of Portsmouth testified that he was never present at an interview between Mrs. Hontvet and Wagner.

C. Wesley Rand, George H. Fernald and John S. Rand, police officers of Portsmouth, testified that they passed the Court street pump at the time Wagner says he was there, and saw no one.

Thomas Entwistle, assistant marshal of Portsmouth, said he had previously denied the truth of Wagner's statement in relation to his being urged to confess, and did not care to change his former testimony. This closed the evidence for both sides, and after a recess Hon. R. P. Tapley delivered the closing argument for the defence.

—A rural Southerner who came all the way to the jubilee dressed in a straw hat and a chunk of cornbread, says he still believes in old Jeff. Davis, and, although he failed to capture the United States, he has proved his military capacity by taking in Capt. Jack on the fly. This intelligent fire-eater made an addition to his wardrobe of a palm-leaf fan and departed on his return to the Sunny South.—Chicago Post.

SEWING MACHINE SALES

FOR 1872.

BY comparison of Statistics from sworn returns of the sales of Sewing Machines for 1871 and 1872, it shows that the

"DOMESTIC"

SEWING MACHINE Co.'s sales have increased over 375 per cent., while no other Co.'s sales have increased over 36 per cent., proving the great popularity of the "DOMESTIC."

Annexed are the percentage of gain, of the leading makers:

Domestic Sewing Machine Co.,	gain 375	per cent
Wheeler & Wilson	" 36	"
Singer	" 23	"
Grover & Baker	" 5	"
Weed	" 3	"
Wilcox & Gibbs	" 12	"
Wilson	" 8	"

Other Machines Co.'s' sales show a loss over the year before.

If the increase in sales be any criterion of merit, the "DOMESTIC" bears the palm.

The "DOMESTIC" works so easy, it is working itself into every family.

The "DOMESTIC" runs so light, it is distancing all competitors. It only asks a few days trial.

The "DOMESTIC" is recommend by the Medical Faculty.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Portsmouth Savings Bank.

President, WILLIAM SIMES,
Treasurer, J. F. SHORES.
Deposits, $1,930,378.46.

The Treasurer would ask the attention of the Depositors to those notice.

1st, In July next, the regular Five Years Extra Dividend will be declared.

2, From the 3d day of July to the 20th day of August, the books will be in the hands of a committee to examine the accounts and cast the Dividends thereon, during which time no Withdrawals can be made; therefore, the treasurer requests all depositors needing money during that interval to withdraw it on the 1st, 2nd, or 3d of July, as they can do it on those days without affecting the dividends.

3d. Deposits will be received as usual, while the books are in the hands of the Committee.

4th, The regular and extra dividends can be added to the Depositors' books after the 20th day of August and can then be withdrawn, if so desired; but if allowed to remain, the interest on those dividends will be cast from the 1st day of July.

5th, This bank pays to its Depositors interest semi-annually at the rate of Five per cent. per annum free of all taxes, and that interest compounds every six months.

6th, Interest on new deposits commences on the first day of each and every month, and all deposits made on the first three days of each month draw interest from the first day of that month.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,
NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their application in form to secure to them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability in his pursuits leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

BIXBY'S BEST SHOE BLACKING

Two Gems for Household Use.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

Jurubeba Blood Purifier,

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

Dr. Wells'

EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DIOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

THE STORY OF RODGERS.—One of our family papers preaches a strong temperance sermon, by simply telling the story of a woman, who, after struggling with the preternatural strength of a loving wife and mother for years against the demon of drink that possessed her husband, conquered it, and made him once more a freeman. In his last illness brandy was prescribed, which he was strong enough to use only as a medicine; but after his death she "turned to it in her grief, and died, not many months later, a hopeless, helpless drunkard."

Let us tell a companion story as true as this but of as different a complexion as daylight to night. A few years ago on any sunny morning a heap of filthy rags might be seen stretched on some of the bales of a paper warehouse in a neighboring city, with a strong smell of stale tobacco and whisky hanging about it. Turning it over (which you could do as though it were a log, any time after 10 o'clock in the morning,) you would find the swollen, purple face of what had once been a handsome young man, but there was but little hope that the bleared eyes or thick tongue would give an intelligent answer. The porters passing by would push him aside, but not roughly. The time was when he had been a jolly, generous young fellow and a favorite in the office. "Young Rodgers;" some one would give his history in five minutes: "Taken to rum—no chance—poor devil. Stokes (the proprietor) could not turn him out to starve, so still gave him a nominal salary and suffered him to hang about the house lest he should take to worse courses than drinking." There were hints, too, of a widowed mother, away off in the country, who had been dependent on him, and a sweet-heart, a pretty, clinging little girl, both of whom long ago he had abandoned. But there was nothing to be done. The end, through the usual horrors of delirium tremens, was apparently not far off.

One day, as Rodgers was creeping to the nearest bar for his morning bitters, a man whom he barely knew by sight, took him by the elbow and walked with him into a quieter street. "They tell me you are Richard Rodger's son," he said "Dick Rodgers was the only friend I had for years, and for his sake I'd like to save his boy. Are you willing for me to try?" "Oh, you can try," muttered the lad with an imbecile laugh. This nameless friend, nothing daunted, took him to a chamber in his own house and put him to bed. There he and his son kept watch and guarded this poor wretch for months, like a prisoner, keeping liquor from him, and trying to supply it by medical treatment. A physician he employed, but was not able to pay for a nurse. Any one who had to deal with a victim of mania-a-potu can guess how difficult and loathsome a task he had set himself. Ungrateful enough it was at first, for Rodgers struggled against his tormentors with the ferocity of—just what he was—a starving animal. As reason began to return and his unnatural strength to vanish, he would beg them in his intervals of reason not to fail him, but to work out the experiment either in success or death. "It is my last chance, he would cry; "for God's sake be patient." This friend, with his son, did work it out through all the foul, unmentionable details, and the end was not death, but success.

"How soon," asked a friend of Rodgers, afterward, "were you trusted alone?" "Not for two years," he answered, laughing, "I was out of jail, but in jail bounds. Do you remember that lank, muscular young fellow who had a desk beside me in the office? He took it with the condition that he could leave it at night to dog me night and day, to my meals and to my bed. That was the son of the man who saved me. He was taken from a lucrative situation in order that he might become my jailor. God bless him! How I used to curse him! 'Can't you trust my honor? I would cry. I'm not convinced that your honor has not the consumption,' the Scotch-Irishman would say. 'We'll put no burdens on it until it has regained its health.'"

"Your friend was a wealthy man, no doubt, and so able to give both time and money to your case?" "On the contrary, he is but the owner of a small hat store, and supports his family out of that. He is rich and noble only in the deed and spirit of friendship." All this was years ago. Rodgers is now an honorable and industrious man, married to his old love, with his gray-haired mother by his hearth, bringing to it the perpetual benediction of benignant old age. His friend sells hats makes no speeches nor built of any sort in the world. Nobody has recognized in him a hero. Yet, who for the sake of a dead or living friend would go and do likewise.

A New Railway through a rich country is good property, but when both local and through traffic are assured, its value depends only on management. The Portland and Ogdensburg R. R. passes through a most prosperous agricultural and manufacturing country with no competing outlet; brings the immense freight of the lakes and Canadian railways several hours nearer the ocean at the best harbor on the whole Atlantic, and besides is in good hands.

Quarries now yielding but a local supply of limestone, granite, slate or marble, and forests of lumber, are waiting only for the means of getting to market. The produce and manufactories of this thriving country cannot wait, and are moved by the various indirect and costly routes. Messrs. Fairbanks alone sending 20,000 tons of scales, etc., yearly from St. Johnsbury at a great disadvantage. These same gentlemen who have made name and fortune in this hardy region, are very naturally the chief promoters and managers of the new railway, part of which is now working, and the rest being steadily pushed toward completion. On general principles it is safe to conclude, without going into particulars, that the bonds offered are secure beyond the usual requirements of investors.—Christian at Work.

Readables.

W. H. Jewett, the Hudson assassin, died at eight o'clock on Monday night. He remained insensible from Saturday night to the time of his death. Miss Wood will recover if inflammation does not set in.

The Delaware papers are as much incensed at the acquittal of Dr. West on the ground of self-defense, as those of other States. It is confessed that if West had been a black man and his victim a white, he would have been convicted and hung. The Wilmington Commercial says there is a black man named John Carpenter in the Dover jail, who will be hung on the 27th of this month. His crime is being found under a bed, in a house, and it is assumed that he intended to commit a rape! There are circumstances in his favor which throw a grave doubt on this inference, but John will be hung, as sure as the 27th day of June comes. But in the case of West, where the guilt was undoubted, the verdict was not guilty, West being a white man.

Type-setting may be a condenser. Said a missionary from Savage island, at one of the London anniversaries, last week, "Persons of a literary turn of mind would do well, perhaps, to have a small printing-press in the study, and when they are very anxious to avoid diffuseness of style, just let them 'set' their work up, and if they ever after use two words where one will do, the compositor's task comes easier to them than it does to me."

If young Bennett starts, as it is quite authoritatively said he will, a Herald in London, and conducts it, as of course he will, after the manner of his New York journal, our English cousins will learn a thing or two of journalism. Correspondents fell as the new paper will appear on the 1st of January next. Whatever may be thought or said of the New York Herald, it is undoubtedly the greatest newspaper in the world.

State News.

Col. George W. Stevens of Laconia, a leading lawyer in that part of the State, was taken to the asylum for the insane, Tuesday afternoon. His mental condition for some time has been impaired and growing worse.

WONDERS OF THE SEA.—The Philadelphia Ledger says:—A book recently published in London, entitled "The Depths of the Sea," gives an account of the general results of the dredging cruises of two vessels belonging to the British navy, during the summers of 1868, 1869 and 1870, under the scientific direction of Dr. W. B. Carpenter, J. Gwyn Jeffreys and Dr. Wyville Thomson. These are well-known names in the scientific world, and the results of their observations may be taken with confidence. Yet the discoveries made are as wonderful as that sea story of Gulnare, in the Arabian Nights. A London reviewer thus summarizes some of its wonders: "The nether darkness of the ocean, then, so far from being a lifeless waste, teems almost everywhere with creatures not only more fantastic, but larger than their shallow water cousins. The paddler about rock-pools and tide-sands at watering places will learn from this book that, far away at sea, are found sea-monsters far bigger, as well as far uglier and far more beautiful than were ever transferred to an aquarium. To give two instances, the caprella, or 'phantom shrimp,' which may be found on seaweed, sitting upright like a monkey, holding on by his hind claws, and, with ghastly grimaces, mesmerizing all passers by with his forceclaws, sits upon sponges a mile or two deep in the darkness—there, however, not a quarter of an inch, but three inches long. The nymphons, sea spiders, also crawl out from under stones, and who, having no body to speak of, carry their stomach, for economy of space, packed in long branches up the inside of each leg, are found in the depths of the Arctic Sea, not as in shallow water, half an inch, but two feet in diameter."

—These two lines complete the column.

Massachusetts and Woman Suffrage.

BY MRS. A. W. H. HOWARD.

You have duly noticed the defeat for this year, in the Massachusetts House, of the proposed constitutional amendment in favor of female-suffrage by a vote of 143 against 82, the largest on both sides that has ever been given, which shows that the apathy of public opinion, which has been the worst foe to the cause, is giving way to pronounced convictions. I hail the change with delight. Since there is every argument in favor and none against, the right of woman to vote, fair discussion, logic and common sense will soon prevail over mere ridicule and assertion.

I confess I was somewhat shocked during the progress of the debate, which I duly followed very carefully. The Boston members were, with a few honorable exceptions, on the negative side, and I never under any circumstance listened to such "twaddle" as made up their statements and counter-statements. We were told the claim that the ballot was an educator was false, since it only took twenty-four seconds, not quite a half-minute, to deposit one. Nothing could be gained in so short a time. But it appeared that, if nothing could be gained, everything could be lost, for we were told that during those twenty-four seconds the domestic machinery would be thrown entirely out of gear, and our husbands, in consequence of such prolonged neglect, would become the most pitiable of men and the most wretched of dyspeptics. We were told that we must not vote because we could not fight; also that we must not vote because we should fight. We were told we must not vote because if we did, the increase of children in families would cease. We were also told that we must not vote because while we were at the polls, babies, like the sands of the seashore, innumerable, would be left crying at home, and their wailings would fill the land.

The question of the breaking-up of families, and the failure of babies in consequence of political opinions or differences between husbands and wives, deserves the most careful consideration; it is best to face the subject. If worse come to worst, and husbands and wives separate on such grounds, it becomes important to inquire—first, who is to blame; second, were there any children before or after such separation; and third, what kind of children were they, since the old adage, "The mother makes the man," is only a commonplace rendering of Napoleon's oft-quoted declaration to Madame Campan, "We must have mothers."

In 1701 a clergyman of the established church of England, the first man who wrote in favor of William of Orange as successor to James II., observed that his wife, a very beautiful and accomplished woman, to whom he was tenderly attached, and with whom he had lived in delightful harmony for eleven years, did not respond when he prayed for the king. "Why do you not say Amen, when I pray for his majesty?" he inquired. "Because," she calmly replied, "I do not believe the Prince of Orange to be king!" In that case," returned the unbending Orangeman, "we must part."

It does not appear that the wife, a conscientious, fair-minded woman, who was willing to give the liberty she exacted, made any effort to turn him from his purpose; she seems to have had as strong belief in the sincerity of his convictions of duty as she had in her own. Accordingly the reverend gentleman went up to London and remained a year, leaving several children with the care of the parish and parsonage to his wife. At the end of that time William of Orange died, and, as the lady could respond with a hearty "Amen" to prayers for Queen Anne, the husband and wife were reunited. Among the nineteen children of the beautiful, strong-minded loyalist, and the inflexible, scholarly revolutionist, were John and Charles Wesley. These names, with their records, are strong and pure enough to convince the most timid of conservatives that political differences between husbands and wives do not inevitably diminish the number or impair the quality of children.—Commonwealth.

SUICIDE IN PRISON.—About sixteen months ago, three persons were found murdered in a house of bad repute at Windsor Locks, Connecticut, and one David Scott, and his half brother named Chevert,, Canadians, were arrested, tried and sentenced to imprisonment for life for the crime. On Saturday forenoon, Scott, who had been complaining in the morning, and who had been left in his cell, was found dead, he having hanged himself with a cord tied to the grating of the cell door. The prisoner's behavior since his incarceration has been excellent, and he had always declared his innocence, which a great many appear to have believed. Scott had threatened to kill himself, but of late had been in better spirits.

CUCUMBERS.—The Gardener's Monthly says no one who has not tried it can have any idea of the luxurious growth of a cucumber when trained to a stake, which has a set of stubby side branches left along its length; and the crop on some the writer saw so trained was enormous. By this plan the vines occupy less ground, and it is the natural habit of the cucumber to climb instead of trailing on the ground. This is a hint worth remembering, especially by those who have small gardens.

OVERWHELMING UNITED STATES TROOPS.—Capt. Alex. Moore, of the Third United States Cavalry, has made a special report to General Ord, commanding the Department of the Platte, of the disastrous freshet on the night of May 31, by which six of his men were drowned, while he was on a scout from Fort McPherson, Nebraska, with one guide, one wagon master, five teamsters, and fifty-five enlisted men of Company F, Third Cavalry, for the purpose of patroling the Republican Valley. He says:

About 9 P. M. a terrible freshet, without any apparent cause, swept down the valley, carrying everything before it. Men, tents, horses and army wagons were swept along like corks. For five days previous we had no rain, and where this water came from so suddenly I cannot yet understand. The valley of Blackwood is about forty-five miles long, and about one mile to one and a half wide. This entire stretch of country was one raging torrent, at least from six to seven feet deep; and how any man or horse escaped is marvelous. The only thing, indeed, that prevented total destruction was the fact that my camp was surrounded by a belt of timber on three sides, and as the men were swept off by the current, they were enabled to save themselves by catching the limbs of trees.

When day broke on the morning of the 1st of June, it showed almost all life men of my company on the tops of trees, without any covering except remnants of underclothes, and beneath them the torrent still raging. After the lapse of a few hours the water began to fall, and a few men who could swim got to the hills. Afterward the others, myself among the number, were got off by life lines and various other means. Up to this time nothing was to be seen of what had been my camp except the top of an army wagon which had stuck to a log on the ground, and on this wagon were collected eleven men, who were thus saved from a watery grave. The settlers at the mouth of the Blackwood lost almost all their stock and property. The stock, however, was almost all recovered when the flood went down. Six men of my company were drowned, and twenty-six horses lost. I remained at the scene of the disaster four days, and recovered five of the bodies of the men and all of the equipments of the command. The men were almost destitute of clothing and rations, and worked laboriously for four days recovering the bodies and property without a murmur.

A CINCINNATI ELOPEMENT.—A young and loving Cincinnati couple, to whose aspirations the traditional stern parent was an obstacle, resolved, on a recent Sabbath, to circumvent the old gentleman and consummate their plighted troth. They had been all-in-all to each other for two years, but their love had been so unostentatious that the fair one's mother allowed them to associate, without dreaming of such a denouement. The young man called for her on the day appointed to go to church, but after the service, instead of taking her home again, he took her to the house of a clergyman and married her; this done, the happy couple sought the retirement of a quiet boarding house, to await the progress of events. The bride's parents became somewhat uneasy at her absence and search was made far into the night, but without avail. The father couldn't be induced to believe that his daughter had eloped—not until he met her, next morning, with her new-made husband, walking to his place of business. There was a look of quiet happiness about the couple that was unmistakable; he saw the worst at once. The bride's younger sister, who was with the old gentleman, rushed at once into her sister's arms; a "fellow feeling" made them kind and they kissed and tenderly embraced after their 18 hours of dreary separation. The father also embraced his son-in-law, but in a different manner; he hung on his neck, but with the evident intention of strangling him. It was a question whether he would not exterminate him on the spot but his wind gave out and he finally desisted, and, taking the disobedient daughter in tow, started for home. Arrived there she was informed that she was a prisoner; they shut her up in her chamber and took away all her wardrobe, save her night clothes, to make her confinement more secure. Through two long, weary days she wept, but at midnight of the second a gentle tap at her window aroused her, and she could hardly repress a cry of delight. Her husband was there and she was ready to go in an instant. The attenuated condition of her wardrobe was something they had not contemplated, and the situation was embarrassing, but escape she must at all hazards. He bore her gently down the ladder, and then, barefooted as she was in her conspicuous but rather cool and insufficient costume, he led her half a mile to his home. Next day, the old man came to his senses, saw the futility of opposition and blessed them, acknowledging that he liked their pluck.

PERIL OF RAILROAD TRAVELING.—A few days since, says the Toledo Commercial, as a passenger train bound eastward over the Michigan Southern Division of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway was between Hinsdale and this city, quite an excitement was created in the ladies' car, as follows: Upon one side of the car, and sitting alone, was a German of Teutonic proportions, while upon the other side sat a tall, dark-complexioned, full whiskered American. The car was well filled, and the tall gentleman, desiring a little fresh air, raised the window next the seat occupied by him, but was requested by his German fellow-passenger to "Put that window down right away, quick!" The request was complied with at once, and the tall gentleman moved to the rear of the car, and raised another window, where his German friend immediately left his seat and requested that the second window be also closed. "No!" said our American; "I have complied with your request once, and having left your neighborhood, can see no justice in your demand." Upon receiving the above reply, the German returned to his seat, and taking therefrom a revolver, to the utter astonishment of all, and causing no little surprise among the ladies, placed the weapon in his pocket with the remark, "I'll shoot that d—d Yankee if he don't shut that window." The tall, dark man noticed the movement and heard the remark, and after the German had again taken his seat, walked down the aisle of the car, approached the German from behind, and placed his left arm (a la garrote) around his neck, with his right hand drew out the pistol, and placing it in his own pocket, quietly resumed his seat, to the no small amusement of the other occupants of the car. When the conductor came around our tall friend gave him the revolver, with the request that it be returned to his German friend upon their arrival at Toledo, provided he had cooled down.

WELLS'S GRAND DISTRIBUTION.—The committee, after drawing nearly one hundred and fifty thousand dollars have decided to postpone the drawing until July 1st, 1873. This will positively be the last postponement W. B. Lowd, Agent.

FOR LOSS OF APPETITE, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Depression of Spirits and General Debility, in their various forms, FERRO-PHOSPHORATED ELIXIR of CALISYA made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York, and sold by all druggists, is the best tonic. As a stimulant tonic for patients recovering from fever or other sickness, it has no equal. If taken during the season it prevents fever and ague and other intermittent fevers. jJ10

A REINFORCEMENT DEMANDED.—When the system begins to wilt under the effects of the first "heated term," it is obvious that it ought to be reinforced and sustained by wholesome stimulation. To resort to the adulterated liquors of commerce in such a crisis, is too many die, is the height of infatuated folly. All such fiery stimulants have a sting. After the first effect has passed away, that sting is felt. The reaction is terrible. The prostration of body and mind which ensues is more complete than before. But the operation of a medical tonic like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, in which extracts of the purest medial roots and herbs are blended with the spirituous essence of rye, pure and undefiled, is very different. No unpleasant reaction follows its use. It is a permanent, a perpetual invigorant, and there is no phase of debility, indigestion, biliousness, nervousness or intermittent fever which it will not speedily cure.

MARSTON & FREEMAN.

News From Abroad.

A Baltimorean sends us a circular, headed "Farewell, Beautiful Baltimore" and signed by Albert Colby & Sons, Portland, Me., in which the following historical gems are prominent:

If you want to grow healthy and happy and fat—if you want to live to be one hundred years old—If you want an earthly foretaste of the sweet peace and joy of Heaven, spend your Summer months in Portland, Maine. Portland has the best harbor of any city on the continent of America, and when you tire of gazing upon the blue waters of the broad Atlantic at the east of the city, turn your face westward and the White Mountains are plainly in view.

The tallest peaks of the White Mountains are in New Hampshire, but their base extends far into the State of Maine.

The waters of the White Mountains flow through the rivers of Maine (Saco and Androscoggin,) into the ocean. The State of New Hampshire having no seaport, depends upon Portland for access to the great highway of nations.

It has been incorrectly stated in some school books that Portsmouth is the only seaport in New Hampshire, but this is a mistake. New Hampshire has no seaport, and what is sometimes called Portsmouth Navy Yard, is located in Kittery, Maine.

Laconics.

A man with a hand organ and a monkey won the hearts of all the small boys in town, Tuesday. If, Darwin says, (we don't know that Darwin says any thing of the kind, but it is fashionable to charge him with saying all sorts of things,) organ-grinders are but monkeys in an advanced stage of development, we regret from the bottom of our heart that one monkey didn't stop developing years ago, before he got big enough to bring his little brother under our window, and grind out misery from a suicide-inducer.

Mr. Joshua Vaughan, a Portsmouth baker, during the last three years has not failed to make his weekly trip through Stratham with his bread-cart, nor varied an hour in passing a given point in his route.

The work on the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad is rapidly pushing ahead. The foundations of the bridge across the Cocheco are being laid by steam-derricks. It will be about 475 feet long, and the track will be nearly 50 feet from the water. The whole will rest upon two abutments and two piers, all of granite, and showing good workmanship. The culverts, which are substantially built, are nearly all in, the job having been forwarded during the winter by a contractor who pushed matters. There will be eight or ten of these between Dover and the Point. The formidable ledge, of several hundred yards in length, which opposed the workmen near Sawyer's Mills, has been nearly all removed, and there is no one of the heaviest fills but is more than half completed. Three steam pile-drivers are in use on the long bridge across the Piscataqua, and it is expected that August will show at least the semblance of a bridge there. The whole line will be ready for the rails the coming autumn.

Mr. Charles Manent of this city has received the appointment of quarterman Iron Plater in Constructor's Department at the Navy Yard. He displaces no one, as the gang has increased to such an extent as to require additional oversight.

An elderly lady, a boarder at the Rockingham House, fell on the stone steps in front of the hotel on Tuesday evening, and broke her arm.

Fourth of July.

At a meeting of the citizens' committee, Tuesday evening, the vote striking the fireworks from the Fourth of July programme was reconsidered and Hon. M. Bufford, Alfred Stavers and Gardner M. Goodrich were appointed committee on fireworks.

The arrangements for the grand reunion of the Sons are nearly completed, and every committee is diligently at work perfecting them. On Wednesday, Col. E. R. Goodrich and Mr. Samuel J. Nowell, of the New York Sons, arrived here to confer with the various committees and to make final arrangements. Mayor Marvin and the chairmen of the sub-committees met them at the Rockingham House and every apparent contingency was provided for, that things may run smoothly on the Fourth. In the evening, the ladies and gentlemen of the promenade concert committee met the committee from New York at the Rockingham and arranged the details for the concert. Everything goes on swimmingly and nothing but work is necessary to make the reunion a great success.

There will be a meeting of the decoration committee at the City rooms this evening at 7.30. All persons intending to erect arches and all willing to assist in decorating are invited to be present.

Wagner Convicted.

The examination of witnesses in the Wagner trial was completed Tuesday, and the closing arguments were begun, Judge Tapley, for the defence, occupying five hours.

On Wednesday, Attorney General H. M. Plaisted made the closing argument for the State.—an able effort; the court then (at quarter to one o'clock) adjourned to half past two, when the Judge charged the jury and the case was given into their hands. At quarter past 8 o'clock in the evening a telegram was received in this city announcing that the jury had rendered a verdict of "guilty of murder in the first degree."

The Legislature.

In the House, Monday, Mr. Bell of Exeter introduced a bill restricting the veto power of Mayors of cities so that it shall apply only to laying out highways.

Mr. Kent of Portsmouth introduced a bill amending the Portsmouth school act, allowing the committee to maintain only one high school in lieu of two.

Mr. Jackson of Portsmouth introduced a bill to enable the Portsmouth Gas Co. to extend its wharf ten feet further into the Piscataqua river.

The legislature is working hard, but from present indications there will be a longer session than was at first supposed. More railroad bills are coming in, over some of which there will be a warm contest, and the republicans propose to introduce a bill redistricting the senatorial districts, which will be bitterly opposed by the democratic members.

On Tuesday, Mr. Kent introduced a bill incorporating the Ladies' Humane Society of Portsmouth.

Mr. Marston introduced a bill to incorporate the Washingtonian House of New Hampshire.

Miss Susan B. Anthony has been convicted of illegal voting.

What is Home without an Organ?

And what will an Organ now be, without a copy of DITSON & CO'S new, delightful, complete collection of Reed Organ Music, called the ORGAN AT HOME!

Every Organ needs it! The Organ at Home! Best collection for Reed Organs! Two hundred not difficult pieces so organized that no dull music is in them: the organ, smooth, legato style used, but as an organ at Home should be cheerful, light and staccato music is not excluded. At present The Organ in a Home is often silent, for home music is not provided for it. Here is home-like, easy, familiar, new music, at home in every nation, in fact all kinds by whom everybody considers the best composers.

The publishers take pride and pleasure in presenting such a superior book to the public, and believe it worthy to be at Home in every family. Price, Boards, $1.50; Cloth, $3.00; Full gilt $4.00.

Portsmouth Savings Bank.

President, WILLIAM SIMES,

Treasurer, J. F. SHORES.

Deposits, $1,930,378.46.

The Treasurer would ask the attention of the Depositors to these notices.

1st, In July next, the regular Five Years Extra Dividend will be declared.

2, From the 3d day of July to the 20th day of August, the books will be in the hands of a committee to examine the accounts and cast the Dividends thereon, during which time no Withdrawals can be made; therefore, the treasurer requests all depositors needing money during that interval to withdraw it on the 1st, 2nd, or 3d of July, as they can do it on those days without affecting the dividends.

3d. Deposits will be received as usual, while the books are in the hands of the Committee.

4th, The regular and extra dividends can be added to the Depositors' books after the 20th day of August and can then be withdrawn, if so desired; but if allowed to remain, the interest on those dividends will be cast from the 1st day of July.

5th, This bank pays to its Depositors interest semi-annually at the rate of Five per cent. per annum free of all taxes, and that interest compounds every six months.

6th, Interest on new deposits commences on the first day of each and every month, and all deposits made on the first three days of each month draw interest from the first day of that month.

SEWING MACHINE SALES

FOR 1872.

BY comparison of Statistics from sworn returns of the sales of Sewing Machines for 1871 and 1872, it shows that the

"DOMESTIC"

SEWING MACHINE CO.'s sales have increased over 373 per cent., while no other Co.'s sales have increased over 36 per cent., proving the great popularity of the "DOMESTIC."

Annexed are the percentage of gain, of the leading makers:

Domestic Sewing Machine Co.,	gain	373	per cent
Wheeler & Wilson	"	36	"
Singer	"	23	"
Grover & Baker	"	5	"
Weed	"	8	"
Wilcox & Gibbs	"	12	"
Wilson	"	8	"

Other Machines Co.'s' sales show a loss over the year before.

If the increase in sales be any criterion of merit, the "DOMESTIC" bears the palm.

The "DOMESTIC" works so easy, it is working itself into every family.

The "DOMESTIC" runs so light, it is distancing all competitors. It only asks a few days trial.

The "DOMESTIC" is recommend by the Medical Faculty.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for the office executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and said and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges.
JOHN TAGGART."

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

Jurubeba Blood Purifier,

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and renover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

Dr. Wells'

EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

The Blaze on the Heart.

Then good-bye, Joe; you've gone, I'm told,
Away to the far-off West;
And the old folks say, and the Deacon too,
They're sure it's all for the best,
For the cursed dram-shop spoiled you, Joe
And I never could be your wife;
Yet I'm 'most afeared, in spite of myself,
I'll love you all my life.
Day and night,
Night and day,
Ever in sight,
Never away,
Joe, dear Joe!

I often think of the days of old,
When we tapped the maple-tree,
And you swore the sap wasn't half as sweet
As the kiss you stole from me.
I think of the walks through the hemlock woods
To the meetin'-house with you;
But the stars, somehow, don't shine so bright,
And the sky don't seem so blue.
Day and night,
Night and day,
Ever in sight,
Joe, dear Joe!

The blaze you made on the juniper-tree
Long years will wear away,
But the blaze you've left on my heart will last
Till age has turned me grey.
For I can't forget; when I shut my eyes,
You are sure to come to view,
Till I kinder wish for an endless sleep,
One last, long dream of you.
Day and night,
Night and night,
Ever in sight,
Never away,
Joe, dear Joe!

DEAN RICHMOND AND HIS SON.—Dean Richmond had a son whose habits and character were not entirely in accord with his father's wishes. He would not hold a pen behind his ear nor perch himself upon a stool poring over the book in the office, nor did he exhibit any of the qualifications for a successful bull or a bear upon the stock market. The father lost confidence in the son, and so strong became his dissatisfaction that he eventually ostracised him. He was allowed to labor and shift for his own means of support. He became a conductor upon his father's railway. Mr. Richmond told him that the least infraction of the rules of the company would insure his immediately removal, and especially was he warned against allowing any person, whether a friend or not, to ride without showing a ticket or a pass, or paying the necessary fare. He had been employed in this capacity for some time and there had been no complaints, when, one day, Dean Richmond himself became a passenger upon his son's train. The conductor, while collecting fares, came to the old railway magnate, when the following dialogue occurred:

"Ticket, sir!"

"Tickets? Get out! I am the President of this road. I don't buy tickets."

"That makes no difference. It's against orders for me to allow anybody to ride without he pays his fare, presents a ticket or shows a pass. Come, hurry up."

"Well sir you know who I am, and you know that I am entitled to ride on this road free. I could make out a pass, but I haven't any blanks. You go on. It is all right."

"See here, old gentleman, it makes no difference who you are; give me a ticket, show me a pass, pay your fare, or get off this train!"

"Humph! young man, you are getting mighty arbitrary. If you don't go on about your business I'll have you discharged."

The young conductor made no reply, but gave a vigorous pull upon the bell-rope. As the train checked its speed, and the father saw that he was about to be treated like any other passenger, and was really liable to be set down beside the track midway between stations, he pulled his wallet and paid his fare. This little episode gave him a new insight into his son's character, and he forthwith commenced casting about for some business occupation for him. The two, while on a western trip, came to Dubuque, and the father purchased the elevator for the son and gave his check for the requisite amount to carry on the business.

PUT NONE BUT IRISHMEN ON GUARD. The New York city democracy are beginning to organize for a campaign this fall, and express great confidence of regaining the power they used so badly. Looking around for an issue, some of the leaders have come to the conclusion that anti-know-nothingism and justice to the foreign-born element—justice meaning the largest share of the offices—will answer, and they are already denouncing Mayor Havemeyer for what they term his exclusiveness. The fact seems to be that the old gentleman did not inquire into the nativity of any of the persons he nominated for office, but Ireland is not so largely represented on the salary lists as in the days when Boss Tweed ruled and robbed.

FRIDAY, JUNE 20, 1873.

The Wagner Trial.

On the opening of the court in the Wagner murder trial, Wednesday forenoon, Attorney-General Plaisted made his closing argument for the prosecution, as follows;—

May it please Your Honor and Gentlemen of the Jury:—I congratulate you that this protracted and painful investigation draws to a close—protracted because of the numerous circumstances attending this atrocious crime, and painful because of the murder of two defenceless women, and because it is possible that man should do such a deed. How stands the case at this hour? Not a single material contradiction of the government witnesses. All supports each, each supports all, consistent from beginning to end, uncontradicted except by that one person. The able and astute counsel stood before you six hours, and I beg you to reflect that he commented not once upon the testimony of a single one of the defendant's witnesses. An attempt was made by this man to throw suspicion upon John Hontvet, and by one who claims protection from the Most High. I shall spend no time on this question of jurisdiction; that is a matter of law and for the court. I shall advert but for a moment to the name of the deceased. The testimony of her husband is the best evidence. He says his wife's name was Anethe Mathea Christenson. I pass now to the main points in this case. On the 5th of March Anethe M. Christenson was alive. On the morning of the 6th she was dead—brutally murdered. This is admitted by the defence. Do you ask of me a definition of murder in the first degree? You have it in the evidence before you, and it there was a higher crime known to man this would be such a crime. I pass to the second point in the indictment; that is, that this woman was murdered by the prisoner at the bar. These women had not an enemy in the world. What motive could suggest such a crime? The irresistible conclusion is, the money in that house. Who could possibly go to that unpretending house of a fisherman for money and commit this horrible offence—but one who knew money was there? No stranger did this deed. No deadly weapon was used there but Hontvet's axe. Did not the author of this crime know that no man was there; that Hontvet was gone that fatal night? Wagner tells you that Hontvet had brought Evan Christenson with him and that he [Wagner] knew these men were to be in Portsmouth that night. Three propositions are established then by this evidence: Money was the motive; no stranger did it; the murderer came from Portsmouth. First, then, does not the rifling of the pocketbooks and trunks in that house prove the motive? Louis Wagner had lived in that family seven months. He knew money was there. Hontvet had told him he had realized five or six hundred dollars from fishing. Wagner had said at times before this that he must have money if he had to murder for it. This evidence was not introduced to prejudice your minds against the prisoner, but to show you the motive. Every crime has a motive. Here then is the cause of this crime. So much for the motive. What next?

With these malignant thoughts in his mind this man meets John C. Hontvet on the afternoon of the fifth and asked him three several times if he was going back to the island that night. He made certain that those three women would be defenceless and alone that night upon that lonely island. The night was clear, the moon shining bright the tide was favorable. Everything he found prepared for him. All he needed was a boat. He found it—the boat of Mr. Burke at the wharf where this man had been in it. This circumstance leads to the very door of the truth. If Louis Wagner took that boat he had the opportunity to commit this crime. That boat conveyed the murderer on his fearful mission. If Louis Wagner was not in that boat where was he? He tells you he had baited trawls two hours that night on board a schooner, whose name he does not know; was paid in advance by an entire stranger; saw no one on board during those two hours; that he went and got two glasses of ale; but the men of that saloon are not to be found. Would you believe this story against this cloud of witnesses, independent of, but corroborating each other. He says he lay at the pump. Who saw him? Officers patrolling that street saw no one there. [Counsel proceeded to comment upon Wagner's account of his going to Johnson's 'afterwards.] • Wagner says he lay on that lounge, coming in at the back door. Mrs. Johnson says she bolted that door that night and unbolted the bolt in the morning. Mary says she held the light for her mother to bolt it. Kennison says he came in at half past twelve and found the door bolted. Can any reliance be placed upon human testimony? Is this testimony impeached? Yes, by a man on trial for his life. Will you believe him? Where then is this prisoner's alibi. If Wagner was not in Portsmouth that night where was he? [Counsel reviewed the testimony of Mrs. Johnson, Kennison and Moore as to Wagner's appearance that morning after the murder.] Where had he been? Green saw him south of Liberty bridge between Johnson's house and Newcastle. Mrs. Carlton saw him on Newcastle Island. The learned counsel for the defence did not see fit to comment upon Mrs. Carlton's testimony; nay, gentlemen, did not cross-examined her. He knew she told the truth and he dared not cross-examine her. She knew him; had known him before; had seen him in Portsmouth several times. [He read her testimony.] That woman knew what he had on; saw that brown jacket with red border; overalls wet. Was not that man Louis Wagner? She saw him a little before seven. He got to Johnson's at about half-past seven. About two miles out of Portsmouth is the third bridge, on Newcastle Island. Lyons saw this man near there. [Reviews Lyons' testimony.] Now, gentlemen, we come to to the testimony of three men at the bridge. [Counsel carefully goes over this.] After crossing did he turn and help them across as they had helped him? No; he was in a hurry. He immediately struck out for Portsmouth. Did these men know him? Frizzell knew him before. Wagner admits that he knew Frizzell.

The learned counsel for the prisoner recognized that here was the decisive point where the battle must be fought, and victory lost or won. At this decisive point he tried his powers of cross-examination on this little cooper and acknowledged his defeat when at the end he threw down his pen. Not another witness was cross-examined on that Newcastle route. Did not they tell the truth? Each of them alone and apart from the other described Wagner's appearance as he saw it. [The attorney-general next reviewed the testimony of the two men, Campbell and Fletcher, who saw him on Newcastle island and at the graveyard and on the millpond, and then traced Wagner between Campbell's house and the "Devil's Den," the point near which the dory was found.] Can there be any doubt in your minds, gentlemen, that the man Mrs. Carlton saw coming from the direction of the "Devil's Den" was the same who crossed Newcastle bridge and reached Mrs. Johnson's at half-past seven that morning? How came he on Newcastle? By water. Didn't he land from that boat found by Place near the "Devil's Den" floating with the tide? Can you doubt it? No other conclusion can be arrived at. He was in that boat. That tell-tale boat is in this case. It was stolen the night before. Wagner knew the boat; had been in that very boat. This from the defendant's witnesses. Truth will be consistent. Wagner used that boat to go to Smutty Nose on his fearful errand. No human being can be found who saw him that night in Portsmouth. He reaches that island and stealthily enters that unbarred, that unfastened house, occupied by these innocent, defenceless women, in search of plunder. He fastens that bedroom door where sleep Mrs. Hontvet and Anethe. In his search he stumbles upon Karen sleeping upon that lounge. He is surprised. The money is almost within his grasp. What must he do? Money he must have if he had to murder. This was his disposition and he acted accordingly. [The attorney-general here pictured vividly the struggles between Wagner and the three women.] Anethe jumps out of the window. Presently she hears the cry "Louis, Louis, Louis," many times. He struck her down and hacked her body. The demon was in him. Mrs. Hontvet fled through the window and to the rocks, where she remained until morning.

Then this fiend in human shape returned into the house, continues his deadly work and murders Karen. He drags Anethe into the house by her feet, not daring to touch her bloody head. What anguish possesses his soul because he cannot find Mrs. Hontvet, bring her to that house, murder her and burn the house! Mrs. Hontvet could not be found. He dared not burn that house. This would light his bloody way and reveal to the islanders the escaped woman. Mrs. Hontvet says that man was Louis Wagner. Anethe had heard the name of John in the house, but in that full moonlight she saw his face, changed her mind and called him "Louis." Did she not know him? Why did she not call him John? She knew it was Louis. Mrs. Hontvet, the only survivor of that terrible night, says it was Louis, and we have as it were, the testimony of one from the grave that it was Louis. Gentlemen, need I go further? Here is the testimony of two witnesses—the living and the dead—that Louis Wagner was upon that island that night. These witnesses are corroborated all the way through the evidence. He dared not touch the foreign silver. This would aid in his discovery. He then goes straight to the well, uncurbed, such as a stranger would not know; gets water; washes his bloody hands; wipes them with the towels; leaves this lonely island and returns to Portsmouth. Mrs. Hontvet is corroborated by all those who saw him all the way up, on Newcastle Island bridge and at Johnson's. [Counsel then traced Wagner's doings and sayings in Portsmouth] He takes the first train for Boston; goes to a barber's; gets his hair cut and his whiskers shaved, and then to the Dutch clothing store and buys new clothes. Was all this accidental? New hat, new clothes, new shoes. What means all this? He said to the Dutch shoemaker, "I saw one woman lay as still as that shoe;" and the Miller girl, "I'm just after murdering two New York sailors." These two expressions come from the same guilty consciousness—betray the burden of his mind. Is not this the same man, morally and physically, whom we have followed all along? He goes in and out, walks up stairs and down. There is no rest for his feet. It is a positive relief when the officer puts his hand upon his shoulder. He does not ask the officer what he wants. He knows what he wants. [Next the articles found upon Wagner were described.] Does that half-dollar look pocket-worn for four years past? Karen had a half-dollar. One little agate button in Karen's pocket-book the afternoon of the 5th; one little agate button in the pocket of the prisoner the next evening. Three five-dollar bills, taken from the house that night; three five-dollar bills in the prisoner's hands next day. Coppers taken from Karen; coppers in Wagner's pocket. There was blood upon his clothes. Dr. Chase testified to it; Professor Babcock admitted it could be detected. Were not those bloody towels and water used to wash off this blood? Then, gentlemen, there's that bloody shirt. Wasn't there a motive for its concealment? They say it's too small. Would his counsel have dared the experiment of trying the wristband had he not known it was too small? Wagner says he had no two shirts alike in size. We only want justice done, the violated law vindicated, and society secured. Never shall it be said of me, that I am doing anything more than my duty as a prosecuting officer. We do not seek a victim. [The power of circumstantial evidence was next commented upon.]

Men do not murder in daylight. They do their bloody deeds in the stillness and security of the night. Nor do they take along with them the witnesses of their bloody work. Are we to have no security because it is said that this is all circumstantial evidence? We have nothing to do with possibilities, but with reasonable doubts, — doubts of reasonable men. Where is the reasonable doubt of guilt in this case? Find it if you can. It is for you, gentlemen, to decide. Consider it well; weigh it carefully; and may the God of all wisdom guide you, and lead your minds to a righteous conclusion.

The argument occupied three hours and a half, and at its conclusion the court adjourned.

At half past four P. M. the jury retired, the audience remaining in the court-room during their deliberations, and in fifty-five minutes returned to their seats, and amid the oppressive silence of the multitude, with the prisoner and jurors face to face, the foreman distintly pronounced the fatal words: "Guilty of murder in the first degree." The prisoner's face grew slightly flushed, but otherwise he remained unchanged. The case will go to the full court upon the rulings of the Judge upon the question of jurisdiction, exceptions having been taken thereto.

On his way back to jail Wagner said he "felt a d—d sight better than he did before dinner."

The following very strange story is told in a dispatch to a Boston paper:

Mrs Hontvet last evening gave a gentleman a bundle, telling him that he might give it to Wagner. She said that it was his "character" which he left at her house. On being opened it was found to contain a dirk and a slungshot.

Editorial Excursion.

The programme for the Summer excursion is as follows:—

Monday, July 7—Rendezvous at Lancaster, and hold business meeting at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Tuesday, July 8—Proceed by rail and coach to West Stewartstown, dining at Stratford. (Stage ride about 22 miles.)

Wednesday, July 9—Visit Connecticut Lake via Hall's and Indian Streams, dining at the Lake House, and taking a trip on the steamer "Honest John," and returning to Colebrook via Clarksville and Stewartstown, South Hill. (Stage ride about 40 miles.)

Thursday, July 10—Visit Dixville Notch, picnicking en route, and returning at night to Colebrook. (Stage ride out and returning, about 20 miles.)

Friday, July 11—Return to Lancaster in season for the morning trains for any section of the State, from that point, if desirable. The party, however, is expected to visit "Waumbeck House," Jefferson, seven miles distant (where one of the finest views of Mount Washington is obtained,) dining there, and returning to Lancaster in season to take the afternoon train for "Pemigewasset House," Plymouth, or the "Twin Mountain," "Crawford," and "Mount Washington" houses, White Mountains, reaching either of these points the same evening.

Tickets will be good from July 7th to July 14th, inclusive.

The stage fares to Lake Connecticut and Dixville will be $4, each person, the round trip. Hotel rates, and mountain stage fares, at reduced prices.

State News.

Keene was visited on Monday afternoon by a terrible shower of hail and rain, with a tornado that uprooted large trees and toppled over many chimneys.

Readables.

The republicans of Maine nominated Hon. Nelson Dingley, Jr., editor of the Lewiston Journal, for Governor, on Thursday. Dingley had 816, Stone 211, Kent 170; scattering 6, as we learn by a dispatch from Mr. Samuel A. James.

The little Gordon boy at Thorndike, Me., son of the murdered man and woman, is likely to recover. He says his "Uncle John" struck him on the head with an axe.

Henry Scott (colored), was found hanging to a lamp-post in Jersey City on Tuesday morning, and cut down just in time to save his life. He says he was seized by four men while passing through the street and suspended to the post.

FOR LOSS OF APPETITE, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Depression of Spirits and General Debility, in their various forms, FERRO-PHOSPHORATED ELIXIR OF CALISYA made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York, and sold by all druggists, is the best tonic. As a stimulant tonic for patients recovering from fever or other sickness, it has no equal. If taken during the season it prevents fever and ague and other intermittent fevers. tJ10

A REINFORCEMENT DEMANDED.—When the system begins to wilt under the effects of the first "heated term," it is obvious that it ought to be reinforced and sustained by wholesome stimulation. To resort to the adulterated liquors of commerce in such a crisis, as too many do, is the height of infatuated folly. All such fiery stimulants have a sting. After the first effect has passed away, that sting is felt. The reaction is terrible. The prostration of body and mind which ensues is more complete than before. But the operation of a medical tonic like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, in which extracts of the rarest vegetable roots and herbs are blended with the spirituous essence of rye, pure and undefiled, is very different. No unpleasant reaction follows its use. It is a permanent, a perpetual invigorant, and there is no phase of debility, indigestion, biliousness, nervousness or intermittent fever which it will not speedily cure.

Teeth like orient pearls set in cushions of rose;

The Verdict

Of the jury in the Wagner case was an agreeable surprise to many persons in this vicinity—an agreeable surprise, because, while few if any had any doubts as to Wagner's guilt, many did anticipate an acquittal or at least a disagreement of the jury. This idea must have been born of apprehension as to what might take place rather than of any reasonable feeling as to what should be the result of the trial; for except Wagner's own statement there was absolutely nothing, that we could see, advanced by the defence to break down the government evidence, and Wagner's long yarn contained intrinsic evidence that it was only a yarn and not a true statement of facts.

For instance, he could remember distinctly where he was at any given moment during the night of the murders, how many glasses of beer he drank, whom he saw and what they were doing,—he could recall everything to his memory with marvellous minuteness, with the exception of the names of the vessel on which he worked and the man who employed him; on these points, of more vital moment to him than aught else, he was profoundly ignorant! Then he was too ill to bait trawls for Mr. Hontvet in a comfortable room, but was able to bait trawls for a man whose name even he did not know, on the exposed deck of a schooner. And of all the people whom he saw during the night, not one saw him, the nearest approach to corroborative evidence which he could produce coming from Timothy H. Chellis, who said Wagner was in his saloon at about half past 7 o'clock, to get beer, while Wagner's story was that he drank beer somewhere in that vicinity at a late hour of the night.

The defence urged that the recognition of Wagner by the women at the Shoals was a case of "mistaken identity." Taking this view of the case, and accepting as true Wagner's statement that he had not been on Smuttynose Island since Christmas, it would have been little less than a miracle for Mrs. Hontvet, miles away from this city on a desolate island, and amid all the accumulated horrors of the night when she saw her two sisters butchered, to have denounced as the murderer perhaps the only fisherman in the city who could not next morning have produced at least one witness as to his whereabouts at some time during the night. At that time the fishing business was brisk; Wagner was known to many persons as a fisherman; and when Mrs. Hontvet, on the morning of the murders and in entire ignorance of what had been transpiring on the main land, proclaimed Wagner the murderer of her sisters, the chances were a thousand to one that if he had been in this city all night, as he subsequently claimed, he would be able to prove it by abundant testimony.

Wagner stated that he "begged the officers to let me go and show them the people and the place" where he got his beer after baiting trawls, and was refused; and the counsel for the defence incorporated in his final plea the following, which a paper in this city could not forbear copying, as it contained a fling at the Portsmouth police:

The Portsmouth Marshal and his satellites took Wagner out of his cell daily and lied to him; telling him they had garments they had not, and if he would confess he should only have a few years of confinement. * * He begged them to load him down with chains and take him where he could show the place he bought his beer. They could exhibit him in the office, but could not grant him that request.

That Wagner lied in regard to his asking to be taken anywhere is patent to those who saw him in the police station, guarded by the entire police force that he might not be lynched by the infurious crowd of fishermen who surrounded the place; and that the police gave him every possible chance to prove his innocence was shown by the fact that when he said he bought beer at five cents a glass in a saloon on the left-hand side of Congress street, a hundred yards from the North Church, the City Marshal at once brought in Messrs. Tibbetts and Freeman, who keep the only saloons in the designated locality, but neither of those gentlemen recognized him or were recognized by him, nor do either of them sell beer at five cents per glass. Judge Tapley, the murderer's counsel, must have known that his professional zeal was leading him to throw undeserved censure on our police, when he sneered that "they could exhibit him (Wagner) in the office but could not grant him that request," for he could not be unaware that the aid of "federal bayonets" in the hands of United States marines from the navy yard had been invoked to save the murderer from the mob when he was brought to this city from Boston, and that when he was taken to the depot to be sent to Portland, though the movement was kept secret as possible, the entire police force, armed with clubs and openly displayed revolvers, was insufficient to protect him from mob fury, both prisoner and police receiving blows from missiles. The prisoner's counsel made the best defence they could with no material whatever to work on; but the public were satisfied of Wagner's guilt and are satisfied with his conviction.

High School Association.

Mercantile Hall was well filled Wednesday evening with the graduates and members of the High Schools of this city. The meeting was called to order by the chairman, C. A. Hazlett. The following officers were elected:

Pres., Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett.

Vice Pres. Jas. T. Fields, Boston; Sam'l J. Nowell, New York; Rev. E. A. Rand, So Boston; Mrs. Chas. C. Akerman, Miss Virginia Bufford, Portsmouth.

Rec. Sec., Willis G. Myers, Portsmouth.

Cor. Secs., Miss Mary W. Harrat, Louise B. Rand, Portsmouth.

Directors, C. A. Hazlett, C. O. Walker, Geo. W. Marston, Miss Lizzie S. Pray, Miss Georgie Hill.

A committee was appointed to notify Mr. Hackett of his election and request his presence in the Hall. On the return of the committee with the President elect, he accepted the position in a very pleasant speech referring at length to his connection with the High School as a teacher, just half a century ago. It is proposed to have a reunion of the graduates at the tent on the afternoon of July 5th. The audience will be entertained with music and speeches.

The meeting adjourned to Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

At a meeting held Thursday. Miss Lizzie S. Pray was chosen President of the Board of Directors.

Fourth of July.

The route of the procession on the Fourth of July will be from Frenchman's Lane, down Islington, Congress to Market, Deer, Vaughan, Congress, Market Square and Pleasant street, cross South Mill Bridge, countermarch on Brown's hill, to Water, State, Cabot, Middle, down Middle to Court, Pleasant, State, up Middle to Tent on Wibird's Hill.

The New York committee have secured the use of Haymarket Square and will erect three arches, one at each outlet of the Square, under the superintendence of Mr. B. F. Webster. If practicable a large flag-staff will be raised in centre of the Square, from the head of which lines of signal flags will be run, and festoons of bunting. A large triangular platform is building for the New York band on the night of the 3d, to be used or not as the New Yorkers may determine, on the 4th. This has been agreed upon after a thorough understanding with the committees and the Chief Marshal, and upon assurances that the procession will pass through the Square en route to the tent. The New Yorkers have shown in the management of the affairs of their own delegation, and in the conference with our committees just the genius necessary to make our Reunion a grand success. It is no meagre compliment to our citizens, that the New Yorkers should give to us so much of themselves and their fine music upon the 3d, 4th and 5th; and the taste and liberality in the floral tribute at Haymarket Square, we are sure will find abundant acknowledgement in our greeting to them as they grace our streets and tents. We hope that the residents of the Square will recognize the neat decoration, and respond by making their residences as attractive as the New Yorkers will the Square.

There will be a meeting of the decoration committee at the Court House this evening at 7.30. All persons intending to erect arches and all willing to assist in decorating are invited to be present, ladies especially.

Meeting of the citizens' general committee at Council room this evening at eight o'clock.

Laconics.

The Aldermen refused to accept a report suspending City Messenger Hidden for two months, at their meeting last evening; neither would they accept a report discharging him.

The "House of Blazes," on Hanover street, smoked badly on Thursday morning; a fire alarm was given, the fire department rallied and officer Entwistle with an extinguisher, and the two soda fountains, put out the flames. Fire probably incendiary; loss 16 2-3 cents: insured. During the day the inmates of the old den, comprising Peletiah Moulton and wife, Richard Kinsley, Mary Happony and Jerry Murphy, were taken to the station house; and Moulton and Murphy were sent to Brentwood for two months each by Judge Page. The others will be attended to to-day.

An address has been presented in the legislature for the removal of all the democratic State officials, including County Solicitor Frink of Greenland and Judge Page of Portsmouth.

U. S. Steamer Plymouth arrived at New York on Thursday and was immediately ordered to this naval station for repairs.

Prof. Whitefield's view of Portsmouth, on exhibition at Foster's book store, will remain there to-day only. Look at it.

There are 28 schooners and one brig lying at our wharves, having cargoes of Southern pine, foreign and domestic coal, lime, moulding sand, &c. Twelve schooners came up the river on Thursday.

Two suicides occurred in St. Johnsonville, N. Y., on the 17th. It appears that a physician named A. D. Wheelock, a married man, was paying attention to Miss Ruth Smith. The parents of the lady objected to his conduct on the ground that he was not divorced. For some reason unknown, proceedings for a divorce having commenced, Miss Smith took arsenic and died, and the doctor on learning the fact took a dose of morphine, and also expired.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Portsmouth Savings Bank.

President, WILLIAM SIMES,

Treasurer, J. F. SHORES.

Deposits, $1,930,378.46.

The Treasurer would ask the attention of the Depositors to those notices.

1st, In July next, the regular Five Years Extra Dividend will be declared.

2, From the 3d day of July to the 20th day of August, the books will be in the hands of a committee to examine the accounts and cast the Dividends thereon, during which time no Withdrawals can be made; therefore, the treasurer requests all depositors needing money during that interval to withdraw it on the 1st, 2nd, or 3d of July, as they can do it on those days without affecting the dividends.

3d. Deposits will be received as usual, while the books are in the hands of the Committee.

4th, The regular and extra dividends can be added to the Depositors' books after the 20th day of August and can then be withdrawn, if so desired; but if allowed to remain, the interest on those dividends will be cast from the 1st day of July.

5th, This bank pays to its Depositors interest semi-annually at the rate of Five per cent. per annum free of all taxes, and that interest compounds every six months.

6th, Interest on new deposits commences on the first day of each and every month, and all deposits made on the first three days of each month draw interest from the first day of that month.

SEWING MACHINE SALES

FOR 1872.

BY comparison of Statistics from sworn returns of the sales of Sewing Machines for 1871 and 1872, it shows that the

"DOMESTIC"

SEWING MACHINE CO.'s sales have increased over 375 per cent., while no other Co.'s sales have increased over 36 per cent., proving the great popularity of the "DOMESTIC."

Annexed are the percentage of gain, of the leading makers:

Domestic Sewing Machine Co.,	gain	375	per cent
Wheeler & Wilson	"	36	"
Singer	"	23	"
Grover & Baker	"	5	"
Weed	"	8	"
Wilcox & Gibbs	"	12	"
Wilson	"	3	"

Other Machines Co.'s' sales show a loss over the year before.

If the increase in sales be any criterion of merit, the "DOMESTIC" bears the palm.

The "DOMESTIC" works so easy, it is working itself into every family.

The "DOMESTIC" runs so light, it is distancing all competitors. It only asks a few days trial.

The "DOMESTIC" is recommend by the Medical Faculty.

SINGER SEWING MACHINE

Still Triumphant.

SOLD IN 1872

219,758.

These celebrated Machines are sold by

J. J. FESSENDEN,

No. 12 VAUGHAN ST.

The only authorized agent for Portsmouth and vicinity.

Purchasers will find it to their advantage to call and examine this machine that has stood the best for years and has constantly outstripped all its competitors, before buying the machines which are crowded into their houses. By so doing they can understand the reason why the Singer Co., have sold over

1,000,000 Machines.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers and drawings executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal opinions and advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

Jurubeba Blood Purifier,

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

Dr. Wells'

EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

THE GUBERNATORIAL CAMPAIGN.—We publish an account of a meeting of the friends of Gen. Butler held at the Revere House in Boston last Friday, June 13. After the company, which numbered about sixty, had partaken of a sumptuous repast, General Butler was called up by a toast, and made a speech in which he defended his course on the Salary bill, and announced himself a candidate for the office of Governor. He denied being the author of the Salary bill, but boldly defended it on the ground of justice. He showed most conclusively that the same principle had been adopted twice before in adjusting the salaries of members of Congress, and that in those cases the "back pay" had been taken readily enough by Senators Sumner and Wilson and by Representative (now Gov.) Washburn. Now these Senators are seized with a sudden and spasmodic virtue, and refuse to take their back pay. He thus effectually pricked the bubble of popular clamor against the salary bill, by showing up the previous course of some of the men who now denounce it.

One of the significant features of this meeting was the presence of Dr. Geo. B. Loring, which proves conclusively that he is not to be numbered among the gubernatorial candidates this year, and will support Gen. Butler. Among the notables present were Collector Russell, Judge Sawyer, Marshal Usher, Major Babson, Hon. N. W. Harmon, Gen. Foster and Majors Nichols and Wisterex.

With his meeting the gubernatorial campaign opens on the part of the friends of General Butler, for whom we predict a grand success. As regards the Salary Bill which the enemies of Gen. Butler hoped and professed to believe would prove to be the headstone of his political grave, we think, when the facts are all known, that the opinion of both press and public will undergo a change which will be in Gen. Butler's favor. We think further that all reflecting men, unbiased and unprejudiced, honestly believe, that, striking the balance between the present and the past payments to Congressmen with the adjustment of mileage, there is small difference, and consequently this back pay business is only the club used to "kill off" those whom artful politicians hope to kill. Every voter who can dive beneath the surface knows that the salary bill comparatively robs the government of only a tithe where speculative projects have filched millions from the treasury. Besides, every sane man who is "posted" knows that $7,500 is none too much to support an M. C. in Washington.

But we are not making argument for Gen. Butler. He can, and will make his own. Leaving all else behind, the Commonwealth has asked for an executive, and still asks for that power at its head; and we believe the nominating convention will endorse the known and anticipated wishes of the people.—Haverhill Bulletin.

IRON in the BLOOD.

DYSPEPSIA, DEBILITY, DROPSY, HUMORS

PERUVIAN SYRUP

Makes the Weak Strong.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ill," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been charged by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures to strong, healthy, and happy men and women: and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.

Readables.

Lewiston has a physician who drives curious boys from his office and blue jays from his martin roost, by means of electricity. The wires are laid on the floor of his office and along the ridge-pole of the martin house. It is amusing to witness an operation.

At East Hartford a toad was discovered some time ago near a bee hive actually at work catching and eating bees. The owner of the bees, with characteristic kindness of heart, tenderly picked up the creature and carried him half a mile away. The next morning that identical toad was back again at the old stand, actively at work as before. He again took him up, carried him a long mile away, and dropped him. But in twenty-four hours he was back again, reducing the number of bees as successfully as ever. The toad was marked.

Burlington, Iowa, had a $400,000 fire on the 19th.

From the full report of the testimony of Capt. Tyson and his men, it seems that Captain Hall's death resulted from natural disease, without fault on the part of any one during his illness, and that the separation of the vessel from the party on the ice floe was purely accidental.

It is rumored that Col. Don Piatt has resigned his connection with the Washington Capital, and he made a "good thing out of it"—$25,000—by so doing. In other words, it is said the stockholders induced him to resign, by purchasing his share at his own price for the purpose of changing the tenor of its editorial conduct.

"The old, old story told again at five o'clock in the morning," is all well enough for milk maids and other rural damsels, but the idea of a fashionable wedding at that exceedingly young hour is a little startling. Not enough so, however, to deter Mr. Knowlton, the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, and Miss Riddle of the former city, from fixing upon it as the hour of their union at Washington, recently.

The yellow fever, which has broken out in Brooklyn, is of the most malignant type. The health board is using every means in their power to prevent the spread of the disease, but only a thorough and efficient and salutary regime can stay the impending pestilence.

Admiral Pennock has made a report part to the Navy Department, in which he presents some new views in regard to the Sandwich Islands. He thinks there is danger of the encroachment of foreign powers on Hawaiian territory, prejudicial to the interest of the United States. This danger resides in the probable bankruptcy of the present government, and the consequent necessity of a foreign loan. There is a party in the islands who favor a reciprocity treaty with the United States, and would cede Pearl river and harbor in return.

Hon. William Williams, of Indiana, has disposed of his "back pay." He has been boarding with an excellent lady for some thirty years, and having ever been handsomely treated by her, and at cheap rates, he has turned over the whole sum to her. The lady's name is Mrs. William Williams.

A Washington dispatch says "the important discovery has just been made that all the secret archives of the War Department, pertaining to what is known as the confidential history of the late war have been stolen.

The World trusts that the Granges will not "interfere with the democratic party," and the Chicago Times, from the midst of the Granges, responds that there is no democratic party left in the West to be interfered with.

The Great Eastern is laying the new Atlantic cable.

Miss Susan B. Anthony has been fined $100 for voting illegally.

The Biddeford Journal thinks Wagner's story was altogether too thin.

The open polar sea laid down by Kane and Hayes is found to be in reality a sound of considerable expansion of Kennedy channel to the northward, and broken by Lady Franklin Bay on the west, and on the east by a large inlet, 20 miles wide at the opening, and certainly extending far inland.

In compliance with the urgent solicitation of the patrons of the Fall River Line, who express a desire to have the Sunday connection by boat and rail between New York and Boston via Newport and Fall River resumed during the summer months, and to better accommodate shippers of fruit and parties having horses and carriages to be forwarded to Newport, the steamers Bristol and Providence will make Sunday trips on the following dates, viz: June 22 and 29; July 6, 13, 20 and 27; August 3, 10, 17, 24 and 31. Music appropriate to the day will be rendered by Hall's celebrated bands and orchestras.

State News.

Edward Harvey, of Concord, was drowned in the Merrimac river, Thursday afternoon, while bathing. His age was 18 years.

Edwin Doolittle of Keene was drowned on Wednesday evening in Goose Pond by the upsetting of a boat.

Both branches of the legislature have passed a bill amending the statutes so that money deposited in savings banks outside of the State shall be taxed the same as money at interest.

The directors of the Warner and Kearsarge Mountain Road Company have contracted with James Creigh of Quebec to build the first section of the road from the summit of the mountain, being about two miles in length, to be completed by the first of September next. The remainder of the road, being about 1 1-4 mile, will probably be completed by that date by other parties, whose proposals the managers have under consideration. By the middle of September it is hoped the road will be open to the public.

The State agricultural fair will be held at Plymouth on the 30th of September, October, 1, 2 and 3.

The editor of the Rochester Courier, a member of the legislature, writes that the Boston & Maine Railroad is making no fight against the charter for the Dover & Great Falls Railroad, "and it looks as though they were paving the way for consolidation."

Dover should support a daily paper, and Joshua L. Foster, who once made the democratic hand-organ in this city a readable sheet, is determined to give Dover people an opportunity of sustaining one. Foster's Daily Democrat was first issued June 18th, is well printed and looks as if it might thrive.

In Marlow, on Sunday, a boy named Holmes, aged 14, was drowned while bathing.

In Alstead recently, a six year old boy, son of Henry Anderson, was playing with the sawdust of a circular saw, when he fell against the saw, which cut his scalp from ear to ear and penetrated to the skull, but not sufficiently to injure the brain. He was not seriously hurt.

Several cases of swindling on the part of two overseers at the Amoskeag mills in Manchester were brought to light within a few days. It was their practice in making up the pay-roll of the operatives employed under them to allow them much more than they earned. The money thus fraudulently obtained was divided between the overseers and the operatives concerned in the trick.

The New Hampshire Christian Association holds its eleventh annual meeting at Milford, June 25 and 26. The convention sermon will be preached by Rev. R. R. Shippen, secretary of the American Unitarian Association, on Wednesday. On Thursday, the election of officers will be followed by an essay from William H. Hackett of Portsmouth, upon a question suggested by the directors at a recent meeting. On the same day, commemorative mention will be made of the late Chief-Justice Bellows, one of the originators of the Association, the resolutions to be offered by Rev. Mr. DeNormandie of Portsmouth. An essay will also be read by Rev. George M. Rice of Dublin, on Thursday.

A New Planet.

The discovery of a ninth planet in our solar system has been announced by Prof. Watson of Michigan, to the Smithsonian Institute at Washington.

Such a discovery is naturally and at any time, of great interest and importance to all astronomers; but there are circumstances connected with this and the one by Le Verrier in 1846, which give them both a peculiar interest, as being a full verification of a prediction or rather the positive declaration of Andrew J. Davis, made in 1846, six months prior to the announcement of Le Verrier's discovery in this country. In this declaration this youthful clairvoyant asserted an eighth and ninth planet as belonging to our system, and confidently and minutely describing the eighth as follows:—

"Like Uranus," (the then last discovered member of the system,) it has its satellites. Its density is four-fifths of that of water, and its atmosphere is exceedingly rare, containing but little oxygen, but is mostly composed of fluroine and nitrogen. No organic constitution that exists upon the earth, could there exist alive for one moment. The human eye would be a useless organ, for the light there is of such a nature as to render its darkness, even at the darkest period, several hundred degrees lighter than the light which the earth receives from the sun!"

Now astronomers or scientists have recently ascertained through the spectroscope, that the light of the outer planets far transcends that of the inner ones, though so much nearer the supposed only source of light to our system.

Thus we have a perfect confirmation of that uneducated boy's statements as to this existence of the two unknown planets and the intensity of their light. [See Revelations by A. J. Davis, 8th Am. Ed. p. 167.]

When this work was first published in New York, it created much excitement and caused many animated newspaper discussions as to its genuineness. The most noticeable was that in the Tribune, between George Bush and Taylor Lewis, both Professors in the University of New York. The same has been preserved in a recent work by Davis, entitled, "Memoranda of Persons and Events." Prof. Bush, in his article, avowed his perfect confidence in the truthfulness of young Davis, his limited education and his entire deficiency in scientific knowledge, and unfamiliarity with books of any kind; and also in the integrity of the scribe or amanuensis, and in the magnetizer, for he (Bush) had assisted at many of the lectures, and had listened to the utterances of the unconscious seer and speaker, and had attested the verity of the records, by his signature to the scribe's manuscript. In the Tribune article, he spoke of the book as a most wonderful production, and one that would excite the wonderment of its readers, not only by the character and condition of its author but also by the numerous novel and truthful scientific principles touching mind and matter, nature and nature's laws,—embracing a greater variety of topics and a broader and more searching mode of treating them, than any other work except the Bible.

To this, Prof. Taylor, the leader of the God-in-the-constitution movement, replied, declaring the whole work a "gross imposture, abounding not simply in philosophic skepticism, but in the lowest and most liberal infidelity of the school of Tom Paine, an authority whence a large part of it was evidently derived, and that every christian man having the lowest kind of belief in the Bible, who happened to have the volume, should throw it immediately into the fire." In another place he alludded, in a contemptuous manner, to the fact that Davis "had even undertaken to predict discoveries in astronomy." This was undoubtedly a direct allusion to what Davis had said about the eighth and ninth planets, before their discovery. But now that their existence has been satisfactorily ascertained, and the prediction by Davis so fully verified, we hope the Professor, in his eagerness to amend, (or as we say to impair,) the constitution, will not forget to notice the fact, and withdraw some of his ex cathedra dogmatism, about the infidelity and imposture of the work, and the incompetency of clairvoyance to make scientific discoveries.

DANGEROUS EXIT.—At Boston, Thursday, fire was discovered in the second story of a sewing machine repair shop in Province court, and communicated to the only stairway. As the building is four stories high, with a large wooden top and every part occupied, there was no escape but by the windows. There was a fall leading from a crane in the upper story, and down these ropes J. Smith and E. Whitton slid from the third story. Miss Annie Quinn, Miss Currin and a young girl and a pressman employed by W. E. Clayton in the upper story, with Thomas Ward, a lapidary, occupying a room on the same floor, got out of a rear window and worked along the gutter till over a shed-roof some fifteen feet below. Down upon this they dropped, and then jumped to other sheds below. The feat was dangerous, but they escaped uninjured. The fire spread with rapidity through the machine shop and in the stairway and entry, but it was soon under control and then extinguished, without its having gone down into the basement, and only slight burning in the third story.

The Legislature.

On Wednesday, Speaker Emery announced the following committee on Temperance:—Messrs. Bell of Exeter, Marcy of Portsmouth, Folsom of Rochester, Fletcher of New Durham, Cook of Giford, Drake of New Hampton, Libby of Wolfeboro', Mason of Effingham, Preston of New Ipswich, McQuestion of Nashua, Cogswell of Concord, Robertson of Warner, Woodward of Keene, Weatherby of Swanzey, Colby of Claremont, Converse of Newport, Colby of Bristol, James of Thornton, Congdon of Lancaster, and Gray of Jefferson.

FOR LOSS OF APPETITE, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Depression of Spirits and General Debility, in their various forms, FERRO-PHOSPHORATED ELIXIR of CALISYA made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York, and sold by all druggists, is the best tonic. As a stimulant tonic for patients recovering from fever or other sickness, it has no equal. If taken during the season it prevents fever and ague and other intermittent fevers. jl0

DIED SUDDENLY OF HEART DISEASE.—How common is the announcement. Thousands are suddenly swept into eternity by this fatal malady. This disease generally has its origin in impure blood, filled with irritating, poisonous materials, which, circulating through the heart, irritate its delicate tissues. Though the irritation may at first be slight, producing a little palpitation or irregular action, yet by and by the disease becomes firmly seated, and inflammation, or hypertrophy, or thickening of the lining of the membrane or of the valves is produced. How wise to give early attention to a case of this kind. Unnatural throbbing or pain in the region of the heart should admonish one that all is not right, and if you would preserve it from further disease, you must help it to beat rightly by the use of such a remedy as shall remove the cause of the trouble. Use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery before the disease has become too seated, and it will by its great blood purifying and wonderful regulating properties, effect a perfect cure. It contains medicinal properties which act specifically upon the tissues of the heart, bringing about a healthy action. Sold by all first-class Druggists. 686

City Council.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, a communication was received from J. E. Colcord, Secretary of the citizens' general committee, notifying the Board of the choice of Henry M. Clark as Treasurer of the auditing committee.

The officers of the Independent Battalion were appointed special police.

The Board voted to invite the Governor's Council, Secretary Robeson and Congressman Small to be guests of the city on the 4th of July.

Alderman Spinney, from the joint special committee to investigate charges against City Messenger Hidden for disrespect to Mayor Marvin, presented a report signed by himself and Councilman John A. George, two of the joint committee of five. The report recommended the suspension of the City Messenger from duty for two months. Mr. Spinney said this was a majority report, adopted by the vote of the three members of the committee from the Council. Aldermen Sise and Wilson insisted on the necessity of the report being signed by a majority of the committee.

Alderman Spinney stated that he signed the report as chairman of the committee, and referred to Cushing's Manual as his guide. After discussion, during which Alderman Davis stated that it seemed an inconvenient time to dispense with the services of a City Messenger, and favored direct action sustaining Mr. Hidden or discharging him, Mayor Marvin asked Alderman Lefavour, a member of the committee who was not in favor of suspension, if he would sign the report in order to make it a report of the majority of the committee. Mr. Lefavour did so and then the question came upon the acceptance of the report.

Alderman Sise desired the report recommitted, favoring a reprimand rather than suspension.

A vote being had on the acceptance of the report, the Mayor declared it carried. Alderman Wilson called for the yeas and nays, which resulted in the non-acceptance of the report, Aldermen Lefavour, Spinney and Trefethen voting yea, and Aldermen Wilson, Davis, Garrett and Sise voting nay.

The Board immediately proceeded to other business.

The citizens' general committee were authorized to obstruct the streets for building arches, &c.

The Chief Marshal of the 4th of July procession was granted the use of the Collector's room on evenings until after the 4th of July.

Alderman Spinney, for himself and Alderman Lefavour, reported orally as a minority of the joint committee on investigation, recommending that the City Messenger be discharged. The Board refused to accept the report, without a division, and as Aldermen Sise, Garrett and Wilson left their seats and travelled homeward, the session of the Board came to an untimely end. For further particulars see small bill.

An Excellent Change.

Colonel William H. Hackett of Portsmouth has been appointed clerk of the United States circuit court for the district of New Hampshire, vice Albert R. Hatch, Esq., resigned. The knowing ones say that Hatch placed his resignation in the hands of Judge Clifford (as he could not hold the position of clerk of the circuit court and be a representative to the legislature at the same time,) and was to have it returned to him or be reappointed after the legislature should adjourn. Judges Clark and Shepley, however, did not countenance such a proceeding, chose not to help such a bitter opponent of the republican party evade the President's order; and the consequence is that Col. Hackett takes the office. The republicans of Portsmouth are especially pleased at Hatch's discomfiture, as they love him —intensely.

Who Shall It Be?

The Concord correspondent of the Boston Traveller mentions among the names prominently discussed in connection with the next Republican nomination for Governor of New Hampshire, that of Col. Daniel Hall of this city, and adds that should he allow his name to be used, as he is strongly urged to do, he would prove a very formidable candidate, possessing as he does every requisite for the position.

To this the Portsmouth CHRONICLE objects, for the reason that the people of this District propose to send the Colonel to Congress.

We are ready for either movement, believing that Col. Hall would adorn either position, but on the whole go in with the CHRONICLE in favor of having a straightforward, reliable Representative at Washington—one who can be trusted every time, and whose ability is unquestioned.—Dover Enquirer.

Col. Hall for Congressman and Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett for Governor would be about the strongest nominations the republicans could make to bring out their strength in the first Congressional district. Say you not so, gentlemen of the Enquires.

Wagner's Opportunity.

On Tuesday morning, says the Biddeford Times, when Deputies Durgin and Stillings went to bring forth Wagner he remarked to them:—

"You think you have me here all safe and sound, but I have no desire to escape, for if I desired to do so I could go out any time. Even if I were convicted I would not attempt to break jail, for if the people want my life let them take it here in Alfred."

The Deputy Sheriff remarked to Wagner that there was no danger of his escaping, for he had been assured by Sheriff Warren that the cell where Wagner was confined was perfectly secure. "Well," says Wagner, "you just step around the corner and I will meet you there in two minutes." The officers evidently thought they would humor the man and so stepped out of the alley and round the corner to another passage way. Our readers may judge of the surprise which was depicted upon the countenances of the officers, when, as one of them expressed himself to us, Wagner in just about one minute came out of his cell and around into the alley where they were standing!

This proves that had Wagner been disposed he could have walked from jail and perhaps now be roaming at liberty. It is said that only the night previous to this affair, the door leading from the main corridor to the jailor's rooms were left open, and it would have been an easy matter for Wagner to have passed out of his cell to these rooms, and by drooping one of the windows been a free man under heaven's blue vault.

Deputy Sheriff Durgin informs us that every lock in the jail can be picked with a rye straw.

Referring to the verdict in the Wagner case, the Boston Advertiser says:

We see a very high degree of probability in the case made by the government, but not that infallible and inevitable certainty on which alone we should be content to see a man hanged.

Steamer Appledore, Capt. Baker, commenced running to the Shoals on Friday.

There will be a meeting of the decoration committee at the Court House this evening at 7.30. All persons intending to erect arches and all willing to assist in decorating are invited to be present, ladies especially.

Company B. of the Independent Battalion, Capt. John Ritchie, appeared in full uniform, on Thursday evening, for a street drill; the company consists of 40 fine looking young men, and performed the drill as if it was done by machinery. The Captain is a thorough drill-master and means that this Company shall be A. No. 1.

Aaron Young, Esq., is performing for the present the duties of deputy collector of internal revenue, and may be found at the internal revenue office at the custom house.

A committee of ladies, who have learned that the citizens' committee do not propose to arch Market street, desire us to earnestly request the attendance of all ladies and gentlemen in favor of arching that street, at the Court House this evening at eight o'clock. The ladies think that with proper effort the street may be handsomely arched. Let all attend.

The proposed removal of Solicitor Frink and Judge Page is not at all popular among the republicans of Portsmouth.

The July Galaxy contains an article of great interest as a reminiscence of the past, by Thurlow Weed. Lafayette made his second visit to this country about forty years after the close of the Revolutionary War, in which he had taken so gallant a part. He stood next to Washington in the affection of our people, and was received with a degree of affection which we can now hardly conceive. A brilliant company of our most distinguished men accompanied him on his trip from New York to Albany, which occupied about a week. Mr. Weed and one other editor represented the press of the country, and this article is a vivid description of all that occurred.
